Please Look at This.

RYE, N.H., Feb. 26, 1846. "I hereby certify that my mother has had a very bad stomach for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—as it affected her hands very much. As a large portion of her time has been spent in the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrup, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief until she received one half dozen of twelve bottles of Dr. SWETT'S PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure There is no question in my mind but she would be affected more than three years ago. No other medicines can equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold a very large number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by its use I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.

I have for several years been afflicted with dizziness at my stomach, loss of appetite, and other symptoms of a bad stomach. I commenced to use Dr. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.

From ELDER I CHESLEY, Lee, Nov. 1, 1841

DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to some physicians, but could not succeed to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has enjoyed her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease it was intended for. I. CHESLEY.

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not benefited by the use of the medicine. DR. SWEETT, No. 7 High street, Portsmouth, N. H. promptly attended to. mav26

HIGHLY IMPORTANT TO UNFORTUNATE FEMALES!

DR BRISCOE'S FEMALE PILLS are unsurpassed by virtue in correcting irregularity all complaints, of whatever nature, incident to females. Be continues, with his usual success, to medicate and treat Female Complaints, Obstructions, Engorgements, Leucorrhœa, Whites, General Debility, &c., and suppression of all kinds; also and a blooming, soft and healthy skin and complexion.

Nature, Symptoms, Treatment, and Cure of Cancer, Tumors, Ulcers, Scrofula, Erysipelas, Tetter or Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ring Worm, Cancer or Cancerous, Tumors, Sore Eyes, Female Diseases, as Retention, Irregularity, Suppression, Whites, Sterility, also Syphilis or Venereal Diseases, for Complaints, and Heart Disease. Try AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, and see for yourself the surprising activity with which it cleanses the blood and cures these disorders.

During past years the public have been misled by large bottles, pretending to give a quart of Extract of Sarsaparilla, for one dollar. Most of these have been made upon the sick, for they not only contain little, if any, Sarsaparilla, but often no curative properties whatever. Hence, bitter disappointment has followed the use of the various extracts of Sarsaparilla, which flood the market, until the name itself has become synonymous with imposition and cheat. Still we call this compound "Sarsaparilla," and hope to supply such a remedy as shall rescue the name from the load of obloquy which rests upon it. We think we have prepared for believers in the virtue which are irresistible by the ordinary run of the diseases it is intended to cure. We can only assure the sick, that we offer them the best article which we know how to produce, and we are reason to believe it is by far the most effectual purifier of the blood yet discovered by any body.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL is so universally known to surpass every other remedy for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease, that it is useless here to recount the evidence of its virtues. The world knows them.

Prepared by J. C. AYER & Co., Lowell, Mass, and sold by Sweetser Hutchings, Thacher, W. R. Preston, David Kimball, and all druggists.

THE WIDOW'S PURCHASE.

Tradition has handed down a rather amusing auction incident that transpired in Weymouth some fifty years ago. A veteran sea captain of that ancient town having paid the debt of nature, day was appointed by his administrator for the sale of his goods and chattels. A large number of the neighbors, male and female, attended the occasion, and among others a widow, whose weeds concealed a rather prepossessing person. She had seen nearly fifty summers, but time had laid his touch so lightly upon her, that she might pass for a maid of thirty. Her husband, who had been from his youth a sailor, had fallen a victim to the perils of the sea; and since his death she had led a lonely life, the sole occupant of a neat rural cottage which he left her.

One article after another was sold, until the auctioneer, to close up the sale, offered a lot of canvas that had been stowed away under a shed. The widow, for what particular reason we are unable to say, began bidding for it, but not without competition. Two or three others stepped up and began to examine it. Pulling it open they discovered a tarpaulin hat, and as they paused from surprise a voice saluted them from the heap of canvas, with—

"What are you after, overhauling this craft, you land lubbers?"

All present stood amazed, but the auctioneer soon recovered from his astonishment, and being something of a wag, brought down the hammer, exclaiming with a comical smile, "The widow ——— has the lot for one dollar!"

The laugh that followed, and the widow's confusion, as she saw a sailor emerging from beneath the canvas, may readily be imagined. The gallant tar jumped upon his feet, and inquired who had bought him.

"The widow ———," replied the auctioneer, convulsed with laughter.

"Bless my good luck," continued Jack, "I am just the fellow to be her slave"

The widow, striving in vain to conceal her embarrassment, hurried out of the crowd, and made the best of her way home. The sailor stood gazing after her and watched her course, until he saw her enter her own humble cottage. Then turning to the auctioneer, he inquired:

What freight is there here for the widow? Just load it upon this craft; shiver my timbers if I don't land it safe at her door."

The articles which the widow had bought were accordingly gathered up, and the sailor with them upon his shoulders, trudged off. He did land his load safely, as he promised; then catching a glimpse of the widow, as she looked wonderingly at him through the window, he doffed his tarpaulin respectfully to her, and departed. The widow hardly knew whether to regard his conduct simply as the rash impulse of a sailor's humor, or as indictive of a preconcerted scheme. She felt relieved to see him depart; still she had a lurking curiosity to know something more about him. On his return from the widow's a crowd gathered around the tar, when, in answer to numerous questions put to him, he stated that he was a stranger in the place, that while passing by he had been informed that an old sea captain's effects were to be sold, and this induced him to attend the sale; that finally, when it was getting late in the afternoon, he discovered the heap of old canvas in a back shed and resolved to take up his lodgings in it for the night, little thinking it was to be overhauled and sold.

After this explanation he was beset with invitations from different members of the group, and finally accepted the proffered hospitality of a fellow sailor for the night. Next morning he called at the widow's betimes and inquired whether she had any services for him to perform that day,

"You bought me fairly," said he, "and I am ready to do your bidding. Besides, out of respect to a shipmate, who perished before my eyes in a storm at sea, and who left a widow somewhere in this quarter, I am bound to do a favor to every widow I meet with."

This allusion to an old shipmate, excited in the bosom of the lonely woman a desire to hear his story. She invited him in, and, after questioning him a few minits ascertained that the shipmate of whom he had spoken was no other than her own lamented husband. Her interest in him from that moment rapidly increased. In compliance with her entreaties he stopped to dine with her, and the day was far spent before he left her house. He remained in the village and spent a portion of each day at the widow's. It was soon announced that preparations were making for a wedding; and a few weeks after the stranger sailor became the widow's husband. Although she had purchased him, she never imposed any servile burdens upon him.—Quincy Patriot.

— The correspondent of the New York Evening Post, who was with Sherman in his march through South Carolina, says that Lee's evacuation of Virginia was probably included in Sherman's calculation of contingencies, for he heard him repeat, near Columbia, the following, which he had heard him say before at Savannah and on the march thence:

"If Lee is a soldier of genius he will transfer his army from Richmond to Raleigh or Columbia; if he is a man simply of detail, he will remain where he is, and his speedy defeat is sure."

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

SATURDAY, MARCH 25, 1865.

THE REBELLION.

The Navy Department has details of the expedition up the Mattox Creek, Va., by which a quantity of tobacco, guns and ammunition was destroyed. The work was done by boats' crews—all colored men but two—and they had a sharp fight with the rebels,who outnumbered them two to one.

Three distinct reports of Sherman's progress in North Carolina appear in Friday morning's papers. One of them is that Sherman appeared before Raleigh on Saturday last, and after getting his guns in position, demanded Johnston to surrender, with what result is not known. Number two is, that the two armies met in battle near Raleigh, and that the rebels were badly whipped. A third report—this one from rebel sources—is that Sherman's advance was checked on Sunday last, by Johnston, near Bentonville, a station on the railroad between Goldsboro' and Raleigh. This rebel report states that Sherman, falling back and being reinforced, "apparently resumed the offensive." If the rebel report contains any truth, it would seem to confirm the reported evacuation of Goldsboro', and show that Johnston means to make a stand at Raleigh. The fight at Bentonville, if any took place, must have been with the left wing of Sherman's army, under Gen. Howard. The reported defeat of Johnston was so generally believed in New York Thursday evening that gold went down to 150.

Special dispatches to all the N. Y. papers of Friday morning, all agreed that Johnston's fight was with Gen. Sherman's troops, but claim that it was with the advance of one of the wings of his grand army. World and Herald's despatches say the attack was made on a party sent to destroy the railroad bridge between Goldsborough and Raleigh.

The Richmond Examiner says the conscription of negroes goes on with difficulty. Guards are stationed at every camp, yet the negroes escape. There is a great panic among the blacks, and much reluctance among the whites upon the question of arming the slaves. It also says there are in that city 5000 women and children belonging to men who fled from the rebel conscription to the North. As provisions are scarce, it is proposed to send these people North also.

The Milledgeville (Ga.) Union insists it is time Jeff. Davis and his associates be overhauled. The masses have been fighting, suffering and paying taxes long enough; and if the people of Georgia decide to hold a convention, they will in spite of all the soldiers in the State.

The Montgomery (Ala.) Mail says the depression which is laying hold of the country is sapping its vitals and power, both at home and in the army.

Immense quantities of resin, cotton, pitch and turpentine are piled upon the wharves along the Cape Fear River between Wilmington and Fayetteville, awaiting transportation to the former place. The captures amount to millions of dollars in value.

Rebel deserters are increasing in numbers, and bringing with them their arms and horses, even faster than before. Gen. Grant a few days ago made a requisition of $12,000, with which to pay deserters for their horses and equipments.

The report that Sheridan had started on another raid is contradicted. He is making his way toward the James river.

THE CONDUCT OF GEN. SHERMAN'S SOLDIERS IN NORTH CAROLINA is described by a correspondent of the New York Evening Post to be changed from that displayed while marching through South Carolina. The correspondent says:

I have seen no evidence of plundering; the men keep their ranks closely, and more remarkable yet, not a single column of fire or smoke, which a few days ago marked the positions of heads of columns, could be seen upon the horizon. Our men seem to understand that they are entering a State which has suffered for its Union sentiment, and whose inhabitants would gladly embrace the old flag again could they have the opportunity; which, by the way, we mean to give them, or I am mistaken as to our future campaigns.

GOLD, Friday, 150 1-2 to 145. The Boston Journal discredits the rumor that Sec. McCulloch is doing anything to make gold fall too rapidly, but charges the panic to the operators, and says—"Operators for a fall are just as much mischief makers as those who so diligently inflated the gold bubble. Prices are unduly depressed in order to afford a larger margin for profits when the reaction comes."

— Two schooners full of negroes have arrived at Fortress Monroe from White House, having followed Gen. Sheridan during his recent raid. They were all sent to Hampton, and materials furnished them to build houses.

— A letter from Sherman's army says the men are all feathered out below the knee, from living so constantly on turkeys, chickens, and other game.

AN UP COUNTRY LETTER.—Windsor, Vt., March 20.—My last letter left us on our arrival at the depot in this place, whither we had arrived at the end of fifteen heavy freight cars. If the ride through the deep gorges on the Cheshire road, where cascades, cataracts and waterfalls, executed in alabaster by the drippings over the granite, might have excited the admiration of any city belle with scanty locks, and added much to the zest of the trip by the inward conviction that they were liable at any moment to detach themselves from the rock and give us a sample of an avalanche, by crushing in the top of the car; if that ride was interesting, the ride through the night was not void of interest. Far ahead the engine toiled and snorted, dragging the ponderous train, the glare from its reflector giving a weird light to the mist all around; now almost stopping, now by a mighty effort imparting a renewed speed to the lagging wheels. On through the darkness and mist we moved, the trees waving their arms like warning spectres, and the yawning depth below the bridge over Sugar River in Claremont, rendered almost imperceptible by the atmosphere.

The team awaiting us at the depot took us about three miles from town, over roads where mud and snow struggled fiercely for predominance, to a house where we discovered a verd antique—an old-fashioned Green Mountain farmer. Lulled to sleep by the roar of a passing brook, we awoke in the morning to find a continuation of our drizzly weather. You who love a horse, can conceive of our glorious sense of freedom, as on horseback we dashed through mud and mist into the town. The brooks tumbling in all directions adown the great hills, boiling and seething over their rocky beds, losing themselves under some great arch of ice or snow, and anon emerging far below to eddy around an overhanging clump of trees, or dash tumultuously over a fall; every tree and shrub more sharply limned to the eye by the groundwork of snow; the drift of mist breaking and scattering itself by driving against the crests of the hills, and the constant inconstancy of the road, all contributed to our pleasure.

The town presents quite a number of objects of interest to the stranger. To all who when young have indulged much in yellow-covered literature, the State Prison at once brings recollections of the notorious burglar and bank robber, "Bristol Bill," who was so long confined here. On Mill Brook are the dams and buildings of the Small Arms Manufacturing Co., who are just at present filling a large order for the navy. This company manufactured the famous "Mississippi Rifles," said to have been the best finished government arms ever known previous to this war. Your correspondent "toted" one of those rifles while eating Jeff's hard tack, and can testify that they are a nice weapon, easily kept in order. Higher up stream are Samson's saw and grist mills and forges, whose power is supplied by a dam 50 feet high. The Court House is a fine brick building, the Windsor House another, and a number of fine private residences are scattered through the town.

On Thursday night a heavy rain and a sudden thaw made a raid among the hills, and by Friday a wonderful transformation had taken place. Little rills had become brawling brooks, brooks had become mountain torrents, and the Connecticut river was on the rampage. Just at evening, a bridge between us and the town, which had been damaged by the freshet, was sufficiently repaired to admit the passage of equestrians, of which we availed ourselves, and found on our arrival at Windsor that the day had been one of excitement there. The river was higher than for years, and great fears were felt for the bridges spanning it. The water was within a foot of the flooring, and the great masses of floating ice, as they came down stream, struck with a heavy crash, splintering and tearing the boards from the sides of both bridges, and carrying away much that had been placed under the railroad bridge to strengthen it. So great was the amount of back water, that the lower dam of the Arms Co. scarcely produced a ripple in the water; while over their upper dam and the one at Samson's the water poured in vast volume, filling the air for miles with its thunder. Anxiously the people watched, and just before dusk the waters having subsided a few inches, the bridge was considered saved; but all the while Asautney looked down, as if conscious that nothing could render a change of base necessary for it, and the granite hills of Croydon frowned darkly over the flood that surged around their very feet.

But while this weather has given us sights of beauty and grandeur, it has deprived us of the sweetest of Vermont's sights—the manufacture of maple sugar. Nearly 5000 tons of sugar were made in this State in 1860, which will show the importance of good sugar weather to the farmers hereabouts. As yet but very little has been made, and that was selling on Saturday for the modest price of 36 cents per pound.

The Vermont Journal, published at Windsor, is a large paper in octavo form, and well adopted to the wants of an agricultural community.

I have discovered a good reason why stockings should be called hose, but unfortunately they were so called, long before the reason existed. Just west of Windsor, in Brownsville, is a manufactory for knitting stockings by machinery. As it comes from the machine the result is precisely similar in appearance to hose for fire-engines—a knit woolen tube, long enough for two dozen stockings, marked at intervals with red to indicate where the coil is to be picked apart and the toes knit on, and also where it is to be picked half off and the heel knit in. These two operations are performed by hand, and many are the farm houses where the bundle of hose is received, the picking and knitting performed in odd moments, and the dozens of hose returned, for which about $1 per dozen pair is received.

Vermont will come out of this war with her State debt in a better condition than any other State, most probably, but the taxes paid are further frightful. For instance, Hartland pays a tax of $50 on every $1000. This is better to my mind than saddling posterity with a debt which they were no party in making, and then vaunting our own self-sacrifice, a course too similar to the patriotism exhibited in a willingness to "sacrifice all one's wife's relations to crush this infernal rebellion." ION.

DROP LETTER.—Lexington, March 22. Coming down from Vermont, over the Vermont Central, the Cheshire and the Fitchburg railroads, the extent and damage of the freshet of Thursday night was plainly evident. The bridge of the first named road at Bellows Falls was so damaged as to prevent the passage of trains for several days, and nought but an immense rock which rises up from the water just above the bridge, and against which the descending masses of ice split themselves, prevented the pier in the centre from being carried away. All along the Connecticut were great fields of ice,— the cakes tumbled in chaotic confusion one upon the other, and ranging in size from a hundred feet square down to the tiny crystal, accurately marking the encroachment of the river upon its banks. Great cakes were lodged far up in the branches of trees, or balanced with consummate nicety upon the top of a post or fence. At Keene the waters of the Ashuelot rose two feet higher than ever before known, and serious washes occurred on the Cheshire road near Fitzwilliam.

This sudden disappearance of the snow is a death knell to all hopes for a good sugar year in Vermont; so you will have to content yourselves with the produce of the cane. But while the farmers of that State lose on their sugar, an early spring is very important to them, from the fact that their stock of hay and grain is very low, and a few weeks difference in the time of turning their herds of sheep and cattle out to graze, will prove a great pecuniary gain. ION.

☞ The Commercial Bulletin says the conductors of the leading British newspapers perceiving that the rebels will soon be beaten out of the field unless they can command powerful foreign aid, are laboring diligently to alarm the French Emperor in relation to Mexico. The reports put in circulation that we intend to drive the French out of Mexico when we have subdued the rebels, originated with the agents of the British press in this country, and were taken up in England and dwelt upon with great gravity.

It is evident the British themselves do not wish to interfere in behalf of the rebels, but are exceedingly anxious that France should, and hence the manufacture of reports about what we intend to do in Mexico.

☞ Gov. Bramlette, according to the Louisville Journal, furnished all his slaves with free papers on the 17th inst. This was a commendable act on the part of the Governor, and should be set down as such without curiously asking whether he took time by the forelock and made a merit of necessity. He certainly is one of the sagacious Kentuckians who has seen the shadow, or rather the brightness, coming events have sent ahead to announce their approach to liberate master and bondmen alike.

THE WESTERN FLOODS.—Two square miles of the city of Rochester, N. Y., were entirely covered by the late flood, and the water poured through the streets with such power as to tear up paving stones several feet square and pile them in heaps. The damage is estimated at $2,000,000. The Genessee valley is swept of bridges, buildings, &c., to an alarming extent. The Erie canal is badly damaged.

At Chicago the freshet was regarded as a blessing in disguise. One of the papers says their sluggish river has not had such a thorough cleaning out for many a year, and the accumulated filth of the last decade has been swept away. In fact the flood solved a problem which had occupied the attention of the Board of Public Works, the Commission of Engineers, and the "committee of thirty," for many days and nights. The flood interrupted travel on the Chicago and Great Eastern Railroad for a distance of eight miles near its junction with the Indiana and Salem Railroad.

— On Thursday noon a rail broke on the N. Y. Central railroad, throwing 7 cars down a bank into a ditch filled with water. Two passengers were killed, and 20 or 30 injured.

The property of this Company is located on "Coal Run Creek," Meigs County, State of Ohio, about 10 miles from Athens, containing one hundred and five acres of land. A large number of wells are successfully worked in the vicinity, some of which are paying handsome dividends.—This Company propose to commence operations at once and entertain no doubt that at an early day they will be able to pay a handsome percentage on the investment. The known ability and commercial standing of the officers of this Company afford a sufficient guaranty that the affairs will be conducted in a manner to secure the confidence of those who are disposed to invest in it.

The tract of land adjoining the property of this Company has passed into the hands of capitalists, who have sent out an experienced superintendent to commence operations at once, and their first order for machinery was $15,000. Our property has been examined under instructions from Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, who pronounces the coal, which is in abundance, to be of the best quality, yielding 80 gallons of oil to the ton, and has no doubt, from the location and position of the property, that it will be found valuable in the production of oil. Most companies have to pay very high prices for their coal, all of which we save; oil can be manufactured from the coal upon the property, at a cost not exceeding ten cents per gallon, and it is proposed to commence the manufacture in connection with the sinking of wells. One dollar will buy a share of this stock, which is the par value, and all benefits derived from the lands, either by sales of oil, land or products of any kind, are to be divided among the stockholders, and in addition $200,000 worth of valuable, useful and desirable property will be given to the stockholders, as soon as all the shares are disposed of. The Company adopt this course for the purpose of disposing of their stock at the par value, rather than to sell it, as many companies do, at a subscription price, which is usually one-half. Thus, it will be perceived that every stockholder owning ten shares, for example, will be sure to realize a handsome dividend when the property is divided; a plan which is entirely honorable, and in all respects perfectly legal.

The property to be distributed among the stockholders will be equal to say in the market, and will consist of the following described articles:

$5000 to purchase a HOUSE in Boston or vicinity.
$5000 in U. S. 5-20 BONDS, CERTIFICATES of $500 each.

☞ Some individuals, employed on the Navy Yard, who have recently been drafted in Maine, have claimed exemption, (with what success we have not learned) on the ground that their services could not well be dispensed with in their present relations to the government. Vide Circular from Provost Marshal General Frye a few months since as follows: "Skilled mechanics and operatives employed in the armories, arsenals, and Navy Yards of the United States who shall be drafted, and, on examination, held to service, will not be required to report for duty under such a draft so long as they remain in the aforesaid service, provided the officer in charge shall certify that their labor as mechanics or operatives is necessary for the naval or military service." The original intent of the law was not to exempt every first class mechanic employed on Navy Yards or elsewhere for the the Government; but only so very skillful that their services could not be replaced, thereby depriving the government of the services of the right man in the right place. It would be absurd to suppose that the services of one or two hundred first class carpenters, joiners, or machinists could not be replaced by twice the number of equally well-skilled men glad enough to fill those places. Hence, while it would be policy to retain extra workmen as above, yet to make a wholesale thing of it and exempt all employed on government work would be unjust to those outside.

TEACHERS ABOUND.—In Manchester, the School Committee have elected Mr. Charles M. Barrows of Milton, Mass., as the master of the North Grammar school. Upwards of forty applications were made for this place and ten teachers appeared before the Committee in person, the most of whom impressed them very favorably, making it difficult for them to come to a decision. Several ballots were taken before a choice was made.

—— A girl in Manchester, 15 years old, attending the Academy there, lives two miles from the school. Yet she has been in the habit of walking over and back twice a day, making eight miles in all. During three terms of the school she walked one thousand four hundred and forty miles.—Instead of its being a hardship for her to walk eight miles a day through storm and sunshine, it has probably been of positive benefit to her in many respects.

AN HONEST MAN'S REPUTATION.—Died in Concord, March 19th, at the residence of Nathaniel White, Esq., his son-in-law, where he had been spending several weeks, Mr. JOHN ALDRICH, at the advanced age of eighty years. His obituary notice, by J. H. M. states that he was brought up among the Quakers, and acquired many of the Quaker ideas of religion and worship. He was a man of strict integrity. His statements could always be relied on. His neighbors used to say, "If John Aldrich says so, I'll believe it." They had no fears of deception on his part in the commerce of life. His simple word was as good as a registered deed.

of March 25th contains another appalling list of the dead Union Prisoners, comprising those who died in the hospitals from the 18th of December, the day upon which THE TRIBUNE's correspondents escaped, until all the prisoners of war were removed to Richmond and Wilmington for exchange. There were many unable to obtain admission into the wretched hospitals, who breathed their last in their own quarters, and of whom no memoranda whatever was kept. They go to swell the list of the nameless and unrecorded dead who have cheerfully given up their lives "for our dear country's sake," and whose memories the Republic will ever delight to honor.

The exchanged prisoners who kept and brought through this record, state that The Salisbury Daily Watchman in announcing the escape of THE TRIBUNE's correspondents, pronounced the occurrence very mortifying, inasmuch as they were the most important prisoners in the garrison; but they asserted that they were certain to be brought back within a week, as scouts had been sent out for them and the country alarmed in every direction. As the correspondents hid quietly in sight of the prison until the scouts had gone out, and kept all the time behind them, it was hardly strange that their pursuers could obtain no satisfactory information concerning them!

The last report which reached the prison before the news of their safe arrival in Knoxville, stated very circumstantially that Messrs. Richardson, Browne and Davis had been seen going through the mountains on horseback, armed to the teeth, and accompanied by a deserting Rebel officer, who was also a travelling arsenal. The story probably sprung from the fact that once, while in Wilkes County, North Carolina, they were pursued for a short distance by a member of the Home Guard, who noticed that one of their companions was dressed in Rebel uniform; but who must have been blessed with more than human perceptions if he saw any arms in the whole party.

Price, in wrappers, ready for mailing, 5 cents.

Less than $200,000,000 remain unsold, which will probably be disposed of within the next 60 or 90 days, when the notes will undoubtedly command a premium, as has uniformly been the case on closing the subscriptions to other Loans.

In order that citizens of every town and section of the country may be afforded facilities to take the loan, the National Banks, State Banks, and Private Bankers throughout the country have generally agreed to receive subscriptions at par. SWORD PRESENTATION.

Lieut. Frederick L. Dodge has this week left for the front, bearing with him the good wishes of many friends. Prior to his departure an elegant sword was presented to him, as indicated by the following correspondence:—

PORTSMOUTH, N. H. March 18, 1865.

Lieut. Fred. L. Dodge:—In behalf of a few of your numerous friends in this city it gives me great pleasure to present to you the accompanying Sword, Sash and Belt, as a slight testimonial of their respect and esteem. In asking you to accept this gift I should fall far short of the duty assigned me, did I not express to you their admiration for the patriotism which prompts you to engage in the great struggle which is to vindicate the power of our Government, and, redeeming this nation from the dishonor of the past, make it forever hereafter a nation truly free. It is the abiding faith of your friends that no effort, no zeal, no courage, no self-sacrifice will be lacking on your part to justify their pride and confidence in you, and do credit to the State under whose banner you go to the field. With warmest wishes for your health, and happiness, and safe return, I have the honor to be, sir, very respectfully, your obedient servant, J. B. PEARSON.

For Daniel Hall, Jeremiah F. Hall, Jeremiah C. Tilton, Charles Chesley, J. Horace Kent, J. B. Adams, Wm. S. Plumer, Henry F. Hall, C. C. Melcher, Henry S. Vanderbilt, Fred. A. Fernald, John H. Cheever.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., March 20, 1865.

To I. B. Pearson, Daniel Hall, C. C. Melcher, Henry S. Vanderbilt and others:—

Dear Friends—Accept my many heartfelt thanks for the beautiful Sword, Sash and Belt, of which you have made me the recipient. As your gift evidences, you all truly call you my friends; and when engaged in my country's holy cause in the field, the remembrance of you and that you have faith and confidence in my well-doing, will strengthen my future action; and be assured no earnest effort will be wanting on my part to merit your approbation and the trust you repose in me. My highest duty to my God, my Country and to you, is that this sword be unsheathed only in the cause of Justice, Humanity and the Right, and never sheathed in disgrace or dishonor. Providence granting me a safe return, may my acquaintance and association with each and all of you be resumed. I have the honor to be, very respectfully, your obedient servant,

FRED. L. DODGE,

1st Lieut. Co. I, 18th N. H. Regt. Vols.

We copy the following notice of a former townsman from the Brooklyn (N. Y.) Daily Union:

THE SOLDIERS' AGENCY AT WASHINGTON.—Gov. Fenton, in appointing Col. E. R. Goodrich to this important post, has displayed his usual good judgment. For several years before the war, Col. Goodrich was a resident of Brooklyn. The old members of the Rocky Mountain Club will remember him as one of its most active and efficient members, in 1856.

When the war broke out he gave up business, and donning his uniform participated in the first Bull Run fight, and there joined his fortunes to those of Gen. Burnside, of whom he is a great admirer, and became a member of his staff, as Chief Commissary. This position he held through all the Grand campaigns from Roanoke Island to Petersburg, and its duties at one time extended over the great Potomac army. The labors of Col. Goodrich during the brilliant campaigns of East Tennessee and at the memorable siege of Knoxville have been warmly commended. Through all these he shared the esteem and confidence of his Commanding General and all associated with him. No man knows the wants and needs of the soldier better, no man sympathizes or regards them more, and it is a source of real satisfaction that at last the Washington Agency for aiding the New York soldiers is just what it should be.

REV. EDWARD A. RAND was installed over the church and parish in Amesbury, Mass., on the 2d of March. Sermon, Rev. A. H. Currier, Ashland, Mass.; Ordaining Prayer, Rev. George M. Adams; Charge to Pastor, Rev. Benj. Sawyer, Salisbury; Right Hand of Fellowship, Rev. E. Smith, Lynn, Mass.; Charge to People, Rev. L. Thompson, West Amesbury.

Rev. E. Fitzgerald, of this city, has accepted a call to the pastoral charge of the Universalist Society at Greenpoint, Brooklyn, N. Y.

KITTERY.—At the town meeting on Monday last, the following Republican town officers were chosen, by a vote of about 250 to 70:—Moderator, Joshua H. Sanborn; Town Clerk, Dennis M. Shapleigh; Selectmen, Assessors and Overseers, John Wentworth, Albert Wilson, William W. Lock; Treasurer, Joseph D. Parker; Town Agent, J. H. Sanborn; School Committee, M. F. Wentworth, Calvin L. Hayes; Auditors, Oliver Cutts, D. P. Hutchings.

STRATHAM TOWN MEETING.—Moderator, Zachariah B. French; Town Clerk, George E. Lane; Representative, Greenleaf C. Brown; Selectmen, Richard Scammon, Phineas Merrill, Henry H. Staples; Superintending School Committee, Benj. D. Laighton; Collector, John W. Wiggin.

VALUABLE PROPERTY ON OIL CREEK.—The oil fever is working its way West. There are probably about a dozen companies now represented in Chicago, and their Agents are hard at work advertising and talking up their Stock. Last week, a delegation, from this city visited Oil Creek, and a project is on foot to purchase a piece of land with eight or ten flowing wells on it at a fabulous price. We understand the price named for a sixteenth interest in two and a half acres is $150,000! Only think of it—one million dollars per acre.—Petroleum Recorder.

See the inducements held out in Mr. Harvey's advertisements for investment to the various Petroleum Stocks.

GOVERNMENT CLAIMS.—It will be seen by reference to their advertisement, that Messrs. M. Bufford & Co., are giving attention to the collection of claims against the Government, for naval prize money, army pensions, back pay and bounties.

New York, Oct. 18th, 1862.

This certifies that I have been in the habit of using the Sambuci wine produced by A. Speer in Passaic, N. J., from the Port grape, and have found it an excellent stomachic and fine gentle stimulant and tonic. It is especially useful in cases of great nervous debility in lung and stomach weaknesses.

A. D. WILSON, M. D. 11th street, N. Y.

Morning Chronicle.

ENGLAND AND AMERICA.—The London Times has a remarkable editorial on the relations of the two countries. It says: "Signs of Confederate exhaustion have brought us to that turning point which places us within sight of the final scene and the part we shall be called to play in it, as the Federal Government ma utains a quarrel with England in the shape of claims, which she does not acknowledge. The question we have to address ourselves to, is simply whether they can go to war with us with a fair prospect of success? If they can they certainly will." The Times argues that "the Washington government will show its wisdom by not attacking immediately on the conclusion of peace, but it will be for English statesmen at the proper time to see that a quarrel is not allowed to hang over till it suits American convenience and opportunity."

This reminds us that "the wicked fleeth when no man pursueth." The Times, the privateer builders, the exporters of arms to the rebels,—and the whole tribe of rebel allies in Great Britain, are coming to grief over the rotten Confederacy, and begin to call on rocks and mountains to cover them from what they know they deserve;—but the Yankees are a merciful people, so the rascals need not be too much alarmed.

☞ Some of our coppery papers have copied that part of Jeff. Davis' address to the Confederate Congress in which he tells some truths and some big stories about the peace conference,—probably to make a little capital,—but it is up-hill work. We have just read the whole document for the first time, and we find it dreadfully doleful as to its politics, and dismally submissive in its religion. Alas, poor Jeff!

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1857.

76 State street, opposite Kilby street,
Boston.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed in the most reasonable terms with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents, or inventions; also legal opinions given, rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but from its location offers more advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to any out of which can be offered elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, together with his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

PETROLEUM OIL AGENCY.

The California Petroleum Company

In the Summer of 1864, Professor B. Silliman, Jr., examined this locality, now owned by the CALIFORNIA PETROLEUM CO., the purchase of which he strongly recommended to his friends in New York.

The property covers an area of 18,000 acres in one body, on which several present in fact twenty Natural Wells, some of them the largest size. Artesian Wells can be put down, 25 miles in extent. The Ranch is an old Spanish Grant of four leagues, and perfect title.

WELLS, FARGO & CO. say that "those who wish to invest in this class of security need not hesitate a moment where to place their money;—here is a good, honest, reliable concern—one which is certain to pay well."
Shares $40. Par Value $100.

Rensselaer Petroleum Comp'y.

The property consists of 100 acres, in fee simple, on Two Mile Run, near Oil City—a double lease of the Clapp Farm above Oil City, and four acres in fee simple on Pithole Creek, in the heart of the Oil Regions.
Capital $300,000. Shares $3. Par Value $5.

Sheffield Petroleum Company.

This property consists of 225 acres on the Tionesta Creek—seventy-five acres in the same vicinity. This property is cut through by the ten mile run, a branch of the Tionesta, and the Sudburyth Erie Railroad. This property is considered of great value in the market.
Capital $300,000. Shares $1. Par Value $2.

Everett Oil Company,
OF BOSTON.

The property of this Company consists of 200 acres of land, in fee simple, and two leases as follows: The land is located on Oil Creek near Centreville Depot. The Oil Creek Railroad passes through this land. It has a river front of over one quarter of a mile. It is rich in oil.
Capital $300,000. Subscription price $5.

President Petroleum Company.

A few Shares of this valuable Stock can be had if applied for soon, at the original subscription $3 per Share. It contains 3,400 acres, very valuable in Oil, Coal and Timber.

New York and Newark
PETROLEUM CO.

The property of this Company consists of five parcels of land situated in the very centre of the Celebrated Oil District of Pennsylvania (Venango County), and lays in the immediate vicinity of Oil City, the nearest being two miles and the farthest one mile, and within one-quarter of a mile of Allegheny River, one piece being on that river.—The Company have a twenty years' lease for one-half the Oil.

It is the interest of the Trustees to invest every dollar in sinking Wells and obtaining Oil, and not speculate in stock. HAMILTON E. TOWLE is Engineer and Superintendent of this company.
Capital $500,000. Shares $1.

All the above Stock for sale at the AGENCY,
No. 47 Congress Street, Portsmouth,
where Maps, Drawings and Pamphlets are ready for distribution.

I am fully persuaded that all the above Companies are good, well managed, and must pay good dividends, and are the best investments now in the market.

The properties of this Company consist of 643 acres, principally owned in Fee Simple, of the most desirable Oil Lands, situated mostly in Oil Creek, Penn., upon which there are three wells now down, capable of producing from 100 to 1000 barrels per day when completed, as they are located so near the great producing interests of the Empire, Noble, Sherman and Brady wells, on this noted creek. This Company offer inducements seldom met with. The capital stock is very small for the amount of valuable oil lands the Company possesses. Three engines are already at the wells. Our Agent at Titusville writes us that the well on the McElhany farm has commenced flowing, which places this Company beyond a doubt of success. The Officers of this Company, in placing this property before the New England public, have full confidence that no properties yet offered are superior, or any out of which larger and more certain dividends may at once be expected. Maps and full information given on application to the Treasurer. Subscriptions received by JOS. W. RYE, N.H., Feb. 26, 1865. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her taking out her work, and it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended by the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla and Drs. &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of Dr. SWEETS PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicines can equal Dr. Sweets in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures; but she obtained by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. I can say it is worth its weight in gold."
PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.

I have for several years been afflicted with dizziness at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWEETS PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. THOMAS W. MOWLDY.

From ELDER I CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.

DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Sweetts medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, and not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S SWETT, No. 3 High street, Portsmouth, N. H. promptly attended to. mar26

THE MAGEE
COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber would especially call the attention of the public to the
CELEBRATED AND UNEQUALLED
MAGEE COOK STOVE,
as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling very often.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We invite all those in want of the very best Stove in the market, to examine the

MAGEE COOK.

Also on hand an assortment of the different sizes
—of the—
MAGEE PARLOR STOVE
with and without ovens, which are too well known to need any recommendation.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING
FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pots is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert E. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

NOTES OF FORMER DAYS.

Collected and Collated by UNCLE TOBY.

Henry Sherburne—Thomas Wallingford—North School—Gov. John Wentworth—1767.

Henry Sherburne, Esquire, departed this life on the 30th of March, 1767 in the 58th year of his age. His ancestors were among the early settlers of Portsmouth, and had taken an active part in the management of its concerns. He was educated at Harvard College, where he was graduated in 1728. Soon after his return from College, he engaged in mercantile business, which he pursued to great advantage until his death. Mr. Sherburne was employed through life in many important public offices, in addition to his private business. In 1729, he was appointed Clerk of the Inferior Court of Common Pleas for the province, which office he held about ten years. In 1731, and several years after, he was chosen one of the selectmen, in which capacity he exerted himself to promote the interest of the town. In January, 1745, he was elected one of the representatives of this town to the General Assembly, to which office, he was elected twenty-one years in succession. In 1755, he was chosen Speaker of the House of Representatives, and was successively chosen to fill that chair, until he was promoted to the Council. His majesty's mandamus, which entitled him to a seat at that board, was dated Feb. 21st, 1766. He was elected one of the commissioners at the Congress, which met at Albany, in 1754. In 1765, he received the appointment of a Justice of the Inferior Court of Common Pleas for the province. Through two long and tedious wars with the French and Indians, he acted as one of the committee of war, and was active in procuring all necessary supplies in season for the service. He discharged the duties of these several officers with great punctuality and dispatch. "His natural genius was strong, and his judgment clear;" both were improved by a liberal education and uncommon diligence, which enabled him to accomplish the multiplicity of business, in which he was engaged. For many years he was afflicted with a most distressing asthma, which he bore with Christian fortitude, and resignation. He was constant and zealous in his devotional exercises, and the ministers of the gospel always found a cordial reception at his house.

Thomas Wallingford, Esq., of Somersworth, presented to the town a lot of land at the north end, for the erection of a schoolhouse; which he conveyed by deed duly executed. This donation was gratefully accepted, and the selectmen were directed to have a building erected thereon for the purpose intended by the donor, agreeable to a plan exhibited by a committee. [Now occupied by Bartlett School, which ought to have been called Wallingford School. The old schoolhouse was a good one, for that day.]

Governor John Wentworth arrived at Charleston, in South Carolina, in March; and came from thence by land. He was treated with distinguished marks of attention and respect in every province through which he passed. Several members of his Majesty's Council, and a committee of the General Assembly, escorted by a troop of horses, received him at the province line, and waited upon him to this town. A number of gentlemen from Portsmouth and the neighbouring towns, joined them on the road, and the whole formed a grand cavalcade. At the entrance of King street a regiment of militia, and the independent companies were paraded, who gave him a military salute, as he passed. He alighted at the State-house, and was introduced in to the Council-chamber, where he was attended by the Council and officers of government. The commission appointed him Governor, and Commander in Chief of the province, and a commission from the Lords of Admiralty, appointing him Vice Admiral of the same, were publicly read by the High Sheriff. The Sheriff also published an ordinance of the Governor, directing and requiring all officers of the government, to execute their offices till further orders. The Governor, Council, and gentlemen present, partook of an elegant entertainment, prepared for the occasion. At the close of the day, a procession was formed, which waited upon the Governor to his seat, where they left him to receive, if possible, a more endearing reception from his affectionate family, who had long expected this happy event. The guns of the fort and batteries in town, fired a salute, and the ships displayed their colours. Such ardency and emulation prevailed among all ranks on this occasion, as gave the most promising hopes, that his Excellency's government would be crowned with the most cordial affections of the people, whose happiness and his own were now so intimately blended.

The General Court met in September, and voted the Governor seven hundred pounds, as a salary for the present year; besides an allowance for house-rent. The House were divided on the question of making the salary permanent, and the Speaker decided it in the negative. Gov. Wentworth's salary as Surveyor of the woods was seven hundred pounds a year.

Spanish dollars were estimated at six shillings each.

The Best Ink in the World!
A CHEAP PRODUCT DISCOVERED.
A Substitute for Costly Galls, and a Writing Fluid produced that challenges Competition!
INK POWDERS
TO CARRY IN YOUR POCKET, FROM WHICH TO MAKE INK AT PLEASURE.
THE INK MADE in Three Minutes.
Forty Cents will buy Powder enough to furnish a family for years.
FREEZING DON'T HURT IT.
An accident revealed to a Machinist, in Manchester, N. H., a certain result which by the aid of Chemistry has been used till the most beautiful writing fluid, better than anything imported or home-made, flowing freer, writing easier, handsomer, as lasting as time, not injuring the pen a whit, has been produced.
It is put up in the form of a small powder, stands all climates, good for years, and can be converted into elegant black writing fluid in three minutes.
A company has lately been formed for the manufacture of these Powders, and although the Fluid has been before the public but a few weeks the most astounding testimonials have been received in its favor, all unsolicited. We select a few from the many.
The greatest qualities of these Ink Powders over everything else in the market are:
1st—It makes an ink of a beautiful, glossy, rich color, that every body will be delighted with.
2d—It flows freely, does not mud up, thicken on the pen or corrode it a particle, and never fades, and will endure as long as the paper on which it is used.
3d—Its cheapness baffles all competition. Forty cents will buy enough to fill fifty common bottles that are retailed at ten cents each.
4th—Convenience. Can be carried to the army, to sea, to the mines, to far off countries.
5th—Wipe your pen dry after using it, and a single steel pen will last with this ink till the paper wears the point off. It is as harmless as water.
Testimonials.
MIRROR AND AMERICAN OFFICE,
Manchester, N. H., Jan. 11, 1865.
To the American Ink Company:—I have tried your Ink Powders. They work to a charm. They make perfect ink in three minutes, the best ink I ever saw. It flows most freely, does not gum the pen or corrode it. I have cleared my inkstands of all other kinds of ink. JOHN B. CLARKE.
MELROSE, Mass., Feb. 1, 1865.
American Ink Company:—I wish heartily to thank you for the beautiful Ink which you have given to the public. I have made ink, for eight years past, from Prof. Upe's Recipe, (made of Aleppa Gall, Sulphate Iron and Gum Senegal,) and have sold large quantities of it. Have supplied the schools in this town with it for two years, and every one using it gave it great praise. It is a good Ink, but my occupation is all gone now. Your Ink is the best article of the kind I ever used. This is no puff. Some in my inkstands froze up solid twice and it now flows just freely as the first, and is not changed in the color a single shade. It is a beautiful black; it flows so readily that I can write one-quarter faster with it than with any other Ink. It ought to be introduced into every school in the Union.
Yours truly, J. W. FOLAND.
Washington, D. C., Feb. 4, 1864.
To the American Ink Company: I have tried your Ink Powders, and I think, without any exception, it makes the best writing fluid I ever used. I would not be without. I remain yours,
GEO. H. HOLMES,
Battery M, 1st Mass. H. Artillery.
Kewanee, Henry Co., Illinois, Feb. 20, 1865.
American Ink Company—Gents: Received the Powder that you sent, and in reply that I am pleased with it is true, but does not express what I should like to say. The community have long wanted an Ink Powder that could withstand the effects of freezing and that would not corrode the pen, and several have been produced. Prof. Ure's was an excellent recipe, but was spoiled by freezing. I have frozen this to test it, and find that it is not affected at all.
I have introduced it into my school in this place, and had I a quantity of it, it would find a ready sale. Thanking you in behalf of the community and myself for such a valuable article, I remain, very respectfully, your obedient serv't,
GEO. W. PARKER.
Deering, March 1, 1865.
To the American Ink Company—This is to certify that I have given your Ink Powder a trial, and I am happy to state it works to perfection. It has a superiority over all other Inks within my knowledge. And I would certainly recommend it to the lawyer, the merchant, or any person whose business requires any amount of writing.—It does not corrode, and works as freely after being frozen as before. Respectfully yours,
ALMON M. COREY.
Nashua, N. H., March 13, 1865.
American Ink Company—Gents: The Ink made from the powders you sent me is the best I ever used. There is none of that sticky substance about it that there is to most kinds of ink. It flows freely and works like a charm.
Yours truly, GEORGE W. FLANDERS.
Brookline, N. H., March 13, 1865.
American Ink Company—Gents: I received the Powder you sent me, and I remember of no one all those that have any writing to do, as the best Ink I ever used. I have used J. Moore's Maynard & Noyes', D. J Hinsdale's, and many others, but yours far excels any I ever used.
Yours respectfully, G. E. STILES.

Portsmouth, N. H.

MONDAY, MARCH 27, 1865.

BEFORE AND AFTER.—On the 13th of March, the day before election, the Concord Monitor said:—

The Mirror estimates Smyth's majority at 5000. An enthusiastic "administration paper" in the First District sets the Republican majority in the entire State at 6000, which majority the editor divides equally and impartially between the three Congressional Districts. We have too much faith in the correctness of the published canvass of the State Central Committee to accept such figures. We expect to be able to chronicle a Republican victory throughout the entire State; but we anticipate a considerable reduction from the majority rolled up at the November election. We hope for such a reduction as will warn our party leaders that the people of New Hampshire are not to be trifled with, and that hereafter only good man, nominated by fair means, can command the support of the Republican party.

In another item the Monitor gave the following

CAUTION.—We desire to warn our friends in the First District against being imposed upon by Boston roughs imported by Marston's runners, to play the role of Union soldiers at the polls to-morrow. The names which they will represent are those of loyal men who have died in the service of their country. The First District isn't close. Oh! no!

A third item in the same column read thus:—

CHEEKY.—Gen. Butler's advocacy of Marston's superior claims at the Dover meeting, Saturday night, with Hon. Thomas E. Sawyer and Hon. William F. Estes among the Vice Presidents. The backbone of Sawyer and Estes has been too thoroughly tested and is too well known to give much efficacy to this contemptible dodge. The people know where to find them, and will not be persuaded that they acquiesced in any such little arrangement.

Item number four is as follows:—

The Wolfborough News (the only Republican journal published in Carroll and Belknap counties) declares that Marston's nomination is not fit to be made, and is quite severe on the loyal leaguers of Sandwich, who attempted lately to read the friends of the Independent Union candidate out of the party. Thos. E. Sawyer, it says, is too old a Republican to be crushed out by any of your Joe Wentworths.

The above items were all in one column, and were about all the political matter in the paper. The facts as developed in the election, are a curious commentary on the prediction and wishes expressed by the Monitor.

It wished and expected a reduction of the Union majority. But the Governor's majority is 6000,—and the Congressmen's majority will reach 7000 or more. This "warns the party leaders that our people are not to be"—led into the copperhead ditch.

Of Boston roughs we saw none at the polls that day,—but all the men there, in our sight, behaved very smoothly. It is said there were some roughs in Greenland that day, but they were not imported by Marston's runners, and did not "play the role of Union soldiers," by a long chalk.

"The First District isn't close. Oh! no!" Certainly not very close: 2000 majority on the home vote, and some on the soldiers'.

The "contemptible dodge" did not have "much efficacy," but the people knew where to find their votes, and how to throw them; and they did throw them, to suit themselves, to sustain the government, and according to their best judgment to aid in restoring peace, and establishing liberty and Union, now and forever, one and inseparable.

Previous to the late election in New Hampshire, a Republican paper in that State said, "we desire to warn our friends in the First District against being imposed upon by Boston roughs imported by Marston's runners, to play the part of Union soldiers at the polls to-morrow. The names which they will represent are those of loyal men in the service of their country." How was it—did the "Boston roughs" help make up that 1500 majority.—Boston Post.

The "Republican paper" referred to by the Post was the Concord Monitor. Will the Monitor please to name one town in District Number One in which it is known or believed that "Boston roughs" were imported and voted as above. A loose general statement will not answer. The Post's question is fair and pertinent. If the Monitor knows anything about the matter, let us have it. Portsmouth gave Marston 638 majority—over one-third of it. Marston fell short of the Union ticket 34—while Marcy ran 16 ahead of his ticket, and Sawyer had 22, making 38; and no election in this city was ever more fairly conducted, with better order, or with more carefully and properly recorded check-lists. Our soldiers are as well known as any other voters, and the 22 Sawyer voters are too shrewd and watchful men to see bogus voters and roughs stand in their way, without making a note of it.

In smaller places the matter of putting in imported roughs must be at least as difficult. If it was done, let us know where!

THE REBELLION.

An official dispatch from Gen. Grant, dated City Point, March 23, was received at Washington Friday evening, and reads thus:

Richmond papers are received, the following is from the dispatch:

"It is understood in official circles that no fighting has occurred in North Carolina since Sunday, and from all we can learn, it appears that Sherman has attempted no advances since his check on that day.

"General Hardee's victory on the 15th was a very important one, and as regards the enemy a most bloody affair. General Johnston telegraphs that in that battle the Confederate loss was 450, while that of the enemy was 3800. The fight took place at Averysboro', on Cape Fear river, half way between Raleigh and Fayetteville.

"Gen. Johnston's defeat of the enemy last Sunday, 19th inst., occurred at Bentonsville, near the Neuse river."

"By these facts we are informed that Sherman is pushing towards Raleigh in two columns, the one moving due north from Fayetteville, the other northwest from Newbern. Gen. Hardee fought the former, Gen. Johnston the latter."

U. S. GRANT, Lieut. General.

Several transports have sailed from Washington and Alexandria for Beaufort, N. C., with clothing for General Sherman's army.

The largest squad of rebel deserters yet received here at one time arrived at Washington on Thursday from City Point, numbering 215, including Lieut. J. J. Hilman, 50th Georgia regiment. They came with in the Army of the James, many bringing their muskets, for which they received a liberal price in money.

A Nashville letter of the 17th, announces the departure of Gen. Wilson's grand cavalry expedition on a raid through Alabama, and adds: "The first news we shall hear from them will be from Mobile." The same correspondent says that the Fourth Corps, Gen. Stanley commanding, is now on its way to Knoxville to co-operate with Stoneman's cavalry now pushing through into Western Virginia.

Sixty refugees, who were allowed to come from Fayetteville by permission of Gen. Sherman, have arrived at Washington—armorers from Fayetteville arsenal and families, all in a destitute condition. The men were formerly employed at Harper's Ferry and moved to Fayetteville in 1861, when the machinery of the Harper's Ferry arsenal was taken to that place by rebels. They report that Gen. Sherman's army is encumbered with refugees, there being six hundred with him now who followed him through from Columbia.

The Richmond Whig of the 22d learns that Fitz Hugh Lee's cavalry attacked Sheridan at the White House on the 21st, and severely punished him.

A Louisville, Ky., dispatch says the Sanitary Commission are sending supplies of provisions and clothing to meet the Union prisoners about being exchanged at Vicksburg. The notorious guerrilla Hodge was captured by our scouts near Garnettville, and brought to Louisville. He was severely and perhaps fatally wounded.

Magruder continues to grow worse, with slight probability of recovering.

New Orleans dates of the 19th report the rebels in large force at Alexandria, and strengthening Fort de Russy and Red river.

A report, received in Memphis from Holly Springs, says Mobile was evacuated, and the city, with an immense quantity of war implements, was in our possession.

The Richmond Sentinel of the 23d says Eastern Louisiana is infested with jayhawkers, robbers and murderers. People are found dead by the wayside. Anarchy reigns supreme.

The Tribune's Washington dispatch says it is believed there that Richmond has been evacuated, and only a strong rear guard left to keep up the picket line along Grant's front. It is also rumored that Lee is at the head of the liberated Richmond army, marching in all haste to join with Johnston and so fall upon Sherman.

Raleigh and Richmond papers give confused accounts of alleged rebel victories over Sherman. Like those we used to hear of in Georgia, these in North Carolina do not seem to stop him from advancing north.

The Raleigh Confederate says:

The first battle occurred on the 16th, near the Junction of the Black and South River on the Fayetteville and Goldsboro' Railroad, some 15 miles below Bentonsville, in the vicinity of which place the battle of Sunday occurred.

A Washington dispatch says Lieut. Morgan, of the 21st Wisconsin, an escaped Union prisoner, has arrived there. He left Fayetteville, N. C., on the 16th, the day of the first reported battle, at which time the rear of Sherman's army was crossing the Cape Fear river, moving northward. A skirmish occurred on the 16th, between the 2d division of the 14th corps and a small body of rebels. This is all the fighting reported on that day.

It would appear from the foregoing that the rebels fell back 15 miles after gaining a victory on the 16th, in which the Union loss was a bloody one. It is evident that no decisive battle has been fought.

The Richmond Sentinel of the 23d says "Goldsboro' has been evacuated. At last accounts the enemy had not entered."

— It is said that Barnum's seal doesn't seem to make the impression it did.

☞ In Charleston Harbor, March 17th, the survey steamer Bibb, while sounding the channel off Battery Bee struck a torpedo, which exploded, throwing the bow of the vessel completely out of water, but she sustained no material damage. None of the officers or crew were hurt. A number of torpedoes have been raised, and the search is progressing.

Sec. Welles, Asst. Sec. Fox and Maj. Gen. Anderson are to visit Charleston and raise Sumter's old flag.

Gen. Saxton has his headquarters in Charleston.

Capt. John Rourke, of Mulligan's Irish Brigade, arrived at Hilton Head on the 17th, having escaped from a rebel prison. He left Columbia ten days after Sherman's evacuation, and was five times recaptured.

By Telegraph—Sunday noon.

WAR DEPARTMENT, Washington, March 25.—To Maj. Gen. Dix: The following from Gen. Schofield reports his arrival at and occupation of Goldsboro' on Tuesday, March 21. Signed E. M. Stanton, Sec. of War.

Goldsboro', N. C., March 21st.—To Lieut. Gen. U. S. Grant: I have the honor to report that I occupied Goldsboro' this P. M., with but slight opposition. Gen. Terry's column from Wilmington was at Carson's Depot last night and should be near this place to-night. Sherman's left was engaged with the enemy near Bentonsville on Sunday. Sherman's right was near Mt. Olive on Sunday night—There has been some artillery firing to-day, indicating Sherman's gradual approach towards this place, this being strictly in accordance with his plans. I have no doubt all is well. Signed John M. Schofield, Maj. Gen.

Washington, March 25th, 7 P. M.—To Maj. Gen. Dix: This morning at half-past 4 o'clock, the enemy by a strong and sudden assault captured Fort Steadman; but after a vigorous contest the fort was recaptured, with 1600 prisoners, 2 flags, and all the guns uninjured. Gen. McLaughlin was taken prisoner by the rebels, who also assaulted Fort Haskell, but were repulsed with great loss.

LATER.—Later reports from Gen. Grant show that the operations of our forces this morning were brilliantly successful. The rebel prisoners secured number 2700; the rebels killed and wounded Gen. Grant estimates at not less than 3000. Our loss is estimated at 800: may prove less. Signed E. M. Stanton, Sec. of War.

City Point, Va.—The number of prisoners received by the Provost Marshal is 2200 taken by the 9th corps, and 500 by the 2d corps, and there may be more brought in. The slaughter of the rebels at the point where they entered our lines and in front of it was probably not less than 3000. Our loss is estimated at 900, and may prove less.

☞ The New York Express of Friday evening says, gold took an upward turn this afternoon, reaching 153. Owing to the market having largely oversold in produce and merchandise, lower prices were made. Flour declined twenty to thirty cents, wheat three to five cents, corn one cent, whiskey three to five cents, lard one half cent, cotton five cents, pork $2.50. Several whiskey manufactruers have been fined for illegal production, and one distillery in New York closed. Petroleum declined two or three cents to-day. Sterling exchange is flat at 109 1-4 a 109 1-2.

GOLD, Saturday, 156 1-2 to 154 1-2.—On Friday, the opening price in New York was 150 3-4; lowest 147 1-2; closing at 4:42 P. M., 154. Cash Gold to make deliveries is quite scarce, and 1-8 to 1-4 is paid daily for loans. [Cash gold is gold.—The other kind must the gamblers' promise to pay.] The N. Y. Journal of Commerce of Friday says:

We regret to notice the suspension of Charles Wellins & Co., domestic dry goods commission merchants. Messrs. Henry J. Lyons & Co., bankers and gold operators, have also suspended.

THE PUBLIC cannot fail to be edified with the attemps in various commercial journals to show that the fall in gold should not and will not cause a corresponding fall in commodities. The latter, however, seemed to be unconvinced by the reasoning, and are as shaky as gold itself. Gold has fallen 84 per cent. in 79 days; the greenback dollar was worth in January, 43 3-4 cents in gold, and is now worth 66 2-3 cents; and it would seem that their increased value would be felt in foreign markets for all foreign commodities, purchasable by gold.—Trans.

— Reliable intelligence has been received at Washington, that the Spanish government has refused to allow the rebel pirate Stonewall to make further repairs in the port of Ferrol, or to take on board her armament. This will probably end her career, as she is in no condition to go to sea.

The property of this Company is located on "Coal Run Creek," Meigs County, State of Ohio, about 10 miles from Athens, containing one hundred and five acres of land. A large number of wells are successfully worked in the vicinity, some of which are paying handsome dividends.—This Company propose to commence operations at once, and entertain no doubt that at an early day they will be able to pay a handsome percentage on the investment. The known ability and commercial standing of the officers of this Company afford a sufficient guaranty that the affairs will be conducted in a manner to secure the confidence of those who are disposed to invest in it.

The tract of land adjoining the property of this Company has passed into the hands of capitalists, who have sent out an experienced superintendent to commence operations at once, and their first order for machinery was $15,00.0. Our property has been examined under instructions from Dr A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, who pronounce the coal, which is in abundance, to be of the best quality, yielding 80 gallons of oil to the ton, and has no doubt, from the location and position of the property, that it will be found valuable in the production of oil. Most companies have to pay very high prices for their coal, all of which we save; oil can be manufactured from the coal upon the property, at a cost not exceeding ten cents per gallon, and it is proposed to commence the manufacting in connection with the sinking of wells. One dollar will buy a share of this stock, which is the par value, and all benefits derived from the lands, either by sales of oil, land or products of any kind, are to be divided among the stockholders, and in addition $200,000 worth of valuable, useful and desirable property will be given to the stockholders, as soon as all the shares are disposed of. The Company adopt this course for the purpose of disposing of their stock at the par value, rather than to sell it, as many companies do, at a subscription price, which is usually one-half. Thus, it will be perceived that every stockholder owning ten shares, for example, will be sure to realize a handsome dividend when the property is divided; a plan which is entirely honorable, and in all respects perfectly legal.

The property to be distributed among the stockholders will be equal to any in the market, and will consist of the following described articles:

$5000 to purchase a HOUSE in Boston or vicinity.
$5000 in U. S. 5-20 BONDS, CERTIFICATES of $500 each.

CARTER'S Clarified Molasses Candy,

Local.

☞ The subject of Mr. Pemberton's Lecture for Thursday evening, is at once interesting and vitally important; and has been presented by him to good acceptance, in other places, before most intelligent audiences. The Cornet Band will also lend the charm of their music to the attractions of the occasion.

☞ A daily prayer-meeting is held on the Navy Yard near No. 27 Timber Shed, attended by quite a number of workmen, and we trust it will be a means of good to all who choose to attend. There has been a growing necessity for such an "institution" for the past few months, owing to such a large number of strangers employed on the Yard from neighboring towns, who, having left their families and become free from the restraining influences of home, are careless in their habits, and allow themselves to become demoralized to a greater or less extent. It has been observed that some of these individuals who were, when at home, (according to the testimony of their own neighbors) over-scrupulous in everything pertaining to morals and religion, attending the church to which they belonged twice or thrice a day; in fact, in some instances, sustaining the relation of deacon or class-leader,—recklessly sacrificing their religion, reputation and honor, by plunging into those vices and scenes of dissipation common to communities crowded with a mushroom rapidity. It is a sad fact that many men will so suddenly degenerate when away from their firesides, but it affords a striking illustration of the sweet and benign influences of home and its associations.

☞ A man named Wm. Hook, employed on the Navy Yard, whose family reside in this city, has been missing for a few days past. He had been absent from the Yard for the purpose of looking after a son who was about to enlist in the naval service, and after securing the boy's bounty and attending him to the Vandalia, started for the Navy Yard; since which time (last Thursday) he has not been seen. Officer Fredson was looking for him on Saturday.

☞ It is understood that Ship House No. 1 is to be lengthened to the same extent as the one near by, which is being extended to cover the iron-clad Passaconaway.

A toll has been fixed for ferriage on board the big ferry boat that runs occasionally to the Navy Yard. The proceeds are to go first towards the repairs that the little plaything requires on alternate days; after that, to pay for the construction of a steam pleasure yacht being built at the yard, and the balance to be expended in paying off the national debt!—Cor. Ballot.

DRAFTING was resumed in this city on Saturday, 25th, for the 1st District:

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

JOHN H. GEORGE v. CITY OF CONCORD. GOLD v. GREENBACKS.—The Concord Statesman learns that the suit pending between Col. George and the City of Concord, brought to determine the question whether or not greenbacks are legal tender in this State, was decided on Thursday, at an adjourned term of the S. J. Court, at its session in Concord.—The case was decided in favor of the city.—The tender in Greenbacks was held good, and Col. George will be allowed to take judgment for the amount of his note, without interest, from the date of the action (between two and three years,) and pay cost of suit.—The loss of interest and costs of suit will amount to near $400.

—— The Concord papers are very properly occupied, to a great extent, in detailing the ceremonies and speeches at the celebration of Rev. Dr. Bouton's Forty Years' Pastorate in the old Concord parish. Many ministers were present, of various denominations, and a great crowd of people, including many of the aged.

—— In Lebanon, Mrs. Dorothy Baker died on the 17th inst., at the very advanced age of 99 years and 10 months.

—— In Lebanon and vicinity sleighs disappeared about a week ago, after having been in constant use 100 days.

—— The Lebanon Press says: "The men who gave us Frank Pierce need not be very swift to denounce Andy Johnson."

—— On Friday morning, the saw and grist mills of J. P. Fowler, in Grantham, were burned with all their contents. A large quantity of grain was burned. Loss from $4000 to $5000. No insurance.

OUT OF HIS RECKONING.—The Concord correspondent of the Manchester Union wrote thus a few days before the election:

"The Blacks are howling terribly for help to save Senator Barnard's election to No. 8. He is a traitor from the old Democracy—went over for the spoils. That veteran and faithful Democrat, John W. Morse, of Bradford, will be close on his heels next Tuesday, if the Democrats only do their duty."

The place to laugh in the foregoing lines is perceptible to all people conversant with the Senatorial Districts of New Hampshire. Mr. Barnard is Senator elect in the Eleventh District, and Mr. Morse in the Eighth. Mr. Barnard's success was at no time a matter of doubt.—Statesman.

— In New England they claim to have mowing machines cutting a ten-inch swarth, and "easily worked by a lady."

We were never aware that there was so great a difference in the qualities of bar soap until after using the J. Monroe Taylor Gold Medal Soap; our advice to our readers is, go without delay to your grocer and get a supply, for it is a truly wonderful article, and will not injure the finest fabric; our experience is that it is the best and greatest dirt-extracter known among the many different brands in the market. Their Depot is 112 Liberty Street, New York. 114

POPULARITY.—A great many people, at the present day, think more of obtaining a publicity and popularity, than of any other one thing they could possibly be possessed of. But, anxious as they may be to acquire the vain glory of the popular voice, none ever succeeded to so great an extent as has that world-renowned remedy, known as Coe's Cough Balsam. There is scarcely a family in the land but what consider a supply of this article as necessary to the household as their flour or provisions. Experience has taught the people that no other remedy has ever been put before the public that will cure coughs, colds, croup, sore throat, and in fact all throat and lung complaints, as quickly and as effectually as Coe's Cough Balsam. In the Eastern States, where it has been long known and tested, it is considered as the most reliable cough remedy extant, and no one either rich or poor, thinks of being without it. We would suggest with all our readers the necessity of keeping on hand an article of this kind for immediate use. It costs but 40 cents per bottle, and is sold at all our drug stores, and is the cheapest and best remedy in the world. mh27 1m.

U. S. 7-30 LOAN.

By authority of the Secretary of the Treasury, the undersigned has assumed the General Subscription Agency for the sale of United States Treasury Notes, bearing seven and three-tenths per cent. interest, per annum, known as the Seven-Thirty Loan.
These Notes are issued under date of August 15th, 1864, and are payable three years from that time, in currency, or are convertible at the option of the holder into
U. S. 5-20 Six per cent.
GOLD-BEARING BONDS.
These bonds are now worth a premium of nine per cent., including gold interest from Nov., which makes the actual profit on the 7-30 loan, at current rates, including interest, about ten per cent. per annum, besides its exemption from State and municipal taxation, which adds from one to three per cent. more, according to the rate levied on other property. The interest is payable semi-annually by coupons attached to each note, which may be cut off and sold to any bank or banker.
The interest amounts to
One cent per day on a $50 note.
Two cents " " " " $100 "
Ten " " " " " $500 "
20 " " " " " $1000 "
$1 " " " " " $5000 "
Notes of all the denominations named will be promptly furnished upon receipt of subscriptions. This is THE ONLY LOAN in the Market
now offered by the Government, and it is confidently expected that its superior advantages will make it the Great Popular Loan of the People.
Less than $200,000,000 remain unsold, which will probably be disposed of within the next 60 or 90 days, when the notes will undoubtedly command a premium, as has uniformly been the case on closing the subscriptions to other Loans.
In order that citizens of every town and section of the country may be afforded facilities to take the loan, the National Banks, State Banks, and Private Bankers throughout the country have generally agreed to receive subscriptions at par. Subscribers will select their own agents, in whom they have confidence, and who only are to be responsible for the delivery of the notes for which they receive orders.

WHAT IS A
FRENCH ROLL PAN?
IS A QUESTION OFTEN ASKED.
It is simply a nicely made
IRON PAN,
Or rather a series of Pans connected in one, of such peculiar form that all parts of the material contained in them receive an equal amount of heat, thus insuring a very
QUICK AND LIGHT BAKE.
For Sponge or Drop Cake, Muffins, French Rolls, Corn Bread or Raised Flour Biscuit, these Pans are Invaluable.
IN these days of high prices, it is worth while to
ECONOMISE
in any way. We give below a receipt for making a Cheap, Wholesome, and
PALATABLE BREAD:
"Stir into a pint of Cold Water sufficient Graham Flour to make a thin batter, adding a little Salt. Heat the Pan thoroughly, grease it a little, pour in the batter, and bake about half an hour in a hot oven."
By using Sweet Milk, instead of Water, as above, and adding 2 Spoonsful of Sugar, biscuit can be made fit to set before a King. We have sold nearly a thousand of these Roll Pans in about one year, and the sale is still increasing.—Try one.

WRINGING MACHINES HAVE BECOME AN institution in the land. Thousands and tens of thousands have been sold during the last three years, and they all save an immense amount of labor and cost of material.
We now offer to the public a Machine that will WASH as well as WRING the Clothes. It is very heavy and strongly built—the Rolls are large and so fastened with screws as to be secure from turning on the shaft. The Cog Wheels give power, and the Spring Roll makes it do its work with ease and perfection. The Machine is secured to a bench, independent of the wash tub, consequently there is no trouble of fastening it every time it is used.
To any person who wishes to obtain an article to do both washing and wringing in a Public House or Private Family, we say give this a trial. If not satisfactory, the money will be refunded.—Call and see it.

Morning Chronicle.

— The democratic papers are harping lodily upon the report that Vice President Johnson was under the influence of liquor when he was sworn into office. The fact, if it is a fact, is disgraceful enough; but the papers of that party should be the last to make a noise about it. Of the eight or ten democrats now in the Senate, two of them at least are never sober enough to know what they are about; and Mr. Johnson himself, who was always a democrat, and as such was elected to Congress and Governor of Tennessee, has not had time since he acted with the republicans, to drop the bad habits which he learnt in the democratic party. It is said that he has now taken the pledge and determined to reform: if so, good will grow out of the exposure which he made of himself and the scandal which it has brought upon the party who gave him their votes for Vice President, supposing him to be a sober and temperate as well as patriotic and loyal democrat.—Dover Gazette.

The Fall River News well says that while the conduct of the Vice President was humiliating and disgraceful to himself and the people, and injurious to the cause of free government and good morals the world over; at the same time it would be unfair to make one error out-weigh all the able, unselfish and loyal labors he has performed, and the sufferings he has endured for the sake of his country. So long as the drinking habits of Washington society remain as they are, the people must not be surprised if occasionally they are disgraced before the world, in the persons of their representatives, unless they use more care and judgment in their selection.

— The London Times has entirely dropped its old insolent tone of comment upon American affairs, and now speaks of our Government with respect not unmingled with fear. In its issue of the 8th it says:

It appears as if the South is exhausted by the war before the North is wearied of it, and that the end is not far. The cause is simply bleeding to death. The Confederates can make peace whenever they please by returning to the Union, and they will find the way made easy.

— The Boston Herald's Army of the Potomac correspondent writes:—

The same old story of deserters must be told, with this variation: they have ceased to come in by twenties and fifties, and roll in upon us in hundreds! Many come in wounded, having been shot in their attempt to escape. The advantages of a "successful run" makes them snap their fingers at the risk. Did you ever believe that hard tack, pork, coffee, sugar, &c. would ever tempt men by hundreds to death? There is, indeed, a wonderful charm in such things for a hungry belly, at least for a rebel one.

A SUGGESTIVE FACT.—A Federal officer writes that he found in South Carolina a white family who were not thoroughly Union—but also decided anti-slavery in sentiment. The explanation was that the head of the family was a mechanic. He belonged neither to the lazy "trash"—nor to the proud, self-indulgent "chivalry;" consequently he had not learned that it was manly to despise honest labor, or to make chattels of human beings.

The semi-official papers of Mexico contradict the reports of a cession of Sonora to France. The Razon says that the Emperor of Mexico has accepted the throne with the most determined intention, not only to respect its dignity and independence, but to maintain the integrity of the national territory. The Ere Nouvelle, a French paper of the Mexican capital, says of Dr. Gwin's project of colonization, that Dr. Gwin did, in fact, come to Mexico with the intention to turn a large stream of immigration, especially from the Confederate States, to Sonora, but that he has now completely abandoned the project and returned to Europe.—Tribune.

—Wendell Phillips says, "can you conceive a bitterer drop that God's chemistry could mix for a son of the Palmetto State than that a colored regiment should take possession of Charleston? In the whole history of poetic retribution, when did the wit of the poet imagine a more complete retribution?"

— The N. Y. Herald says Lord Lyons was utterly broken down and compelled to resign, on account of his inability to keep up with Sec. Seward's voluminous correspondence, which is said to have filled, in one year, sixty large folio volumes.

— A letter from Beaufort, dated March 19, states that an army of over 20,000 black and white refugees from North and South Carolina, men, women and children, are now on their way to Wilmington from Fayetteville.

— Major Gen. Robert Anderson has been directed by the President to raise the stars and stripes on the battlements of Fort Sumpter on the 18th of April, 1862, the fourth anniversary of the day he consented to evacuate the place.

—In ten years before the war, from 1850 to 1860, Tennessee lost just 29 runaway slaves, according to accurate statistics. How many she has lost since is an unpleasant subject of contemplation to her pro-slavery citizens.

— Prof. Agassiz (and wife) and several other distinguished scientific individuals, have gone to Brazil on an exploring expedition—at the expense of Mr. Thayer of Boston, of $20,000 or more.

— During the recent flood on the Mohawk, a large woolen factory, valued with its contents at over $100,000, was seen floating down the stream.

The properties of this Company consist of 643 acres, principally owned in Fee Simple, of the most desirable Oil Lands, situated mostly in Oil Creek, Penn., upon which there are three wells now down, capable of producing from 100 to 1000 barrels per day when completed, as they are located so near the great producing interests of the Empire, Noble, Sherman and Drake wells on this noted creek. This Company offer inducements seldom met with. The capital stock is very small for the amount of valuable oil lands the Company possesses. Three engines are already at the wells. Our Agent at Titusville writes us that the well on the McElhany farm has commenced flowing, which places this Company beyond a doubt of success. The Officers of this Company, in placing this property before the New England public, have full confidence that no properties yet offered are superior, or any out of which larger and more certain dividends may at once be expected. This stock is bona fide, full paid, with no possibility of future assessments and no personal liability. The absolute value and actual cash cost of this property are so great as to preclude its being offered with the allurement of a reduction from a nominal par value.

It has been selected, at different times during the past year, by several old and experienced oil workers and residents of Oil Creek, who are familiar with the history, progress and value of every well and piece of property in that region.—Several of the producing interests were originally acquired for the purpose of holding as private investments and sources of regular income.

These gentlemen have, however, been induced to combine their various interests, with additional property, into one strong, sound, and reliable company. Each of them will retain an interest as stockholders, and hold their stock as a permanent investment. Residing in the oil region, and directly concerned in the success of the company, they are pledged to look closely after its operations; thus affording a guaranty of watchful supervision, and faithful and energetic management possessed probably by no other oil company ever formed. Two of these gentlemen are on the board of Direction, and one Superintendent of the Company.

The stock is sold to pay for the property, and to furnish a working capital to open up the large and promising tracts yet waiting to be developed.

The managers start with the intention of paying dividends quarterly and from actual earnings only. Paying quarterly affords time to sell the oil produced to the best advantage, and is believed to be in all respects the soundest policy.

The dividends will beyond question, be not only immediate, but regular, permanent and remunerative. We wish to avoid holding out any inducements not warranted by the same moderate and reasonable calculations that would be made in embarking in any legitimate business enterprise. It is safe, however, to assure subscribers of handsome, quarterly dividends from the present wells of the company; which will moreover, we confidently believe, be very largely increased by new developments to be rapidly made upon our extensive and valuable properties.

We invite attention to, and the most careful examination of, the following list of properties, lands, and leases, the locations of which are all shown upon the map; believing that none more valuable and promising have ever been offered upon so small a capital, and none that have given greater assurance of permanent value and large returns. We invite subscriptions to an investment, and guarantee the most energetic and skilful efforts to develop the property thoroughly, as well as careful and faithful management.

Summary of Properties.

Two tracts of good boring land, one hundred and one hundred and four acres respectively, in fee, situated south of Oil City, in Venango county, in the immediate neighborhood of the Adamantine, Lee, and other large wells just struck on the East Sandy and Allegheny rivers.

Important interests and Leases on the best and most productive oil properties on Oil Creek,—on the Hassan Flats,—Corplanter Run,—Rynd Flats,—Cherry Tree Run,—Clapp & Hassan, Widow McClintock, Foster, and two lots on the celebrated Hyde & Egbert Farm.

In all, fifteen wells, five of them producing seven down from two to five hundred feet and still boring, and three just commencing, with room on the leases for several more wells.

Also a good Refinery, in complete working order, capable of refining 120 barrels per day, at a profit of one to five hundred dollars.

Also engines, tools, tubing, tanks, and improvements, the actual cash cost of which was $36,500, and worth to-day $75,000,—the whole comprising a property unsurpassed for present value and prospective increase.

Communication.

ELASTICITY.—The Goodyear rubber patent expires in a few months, without hope of further renewal, and we are glad of it, as the greater extension of the patent enriches the few at the expense of the many. Inventive genius has been most royally rewarded in this instance, and rightly too. The man who could cause an article so limited in its usefulness to assume such an important position among the material employed in nearly all the wants of life is more worthy a monument than be given to victory over the corses of tens of thousands of foemen.—But the tenacity with which the holders of the patent have struggled for its renewal, and the extreme elasticity with which said patent has sprung into extensions, are only equalled by the properties of the gutta percha itself.

Elasticity is a national trait with us. Does a commercial crash involve our merchants in ruin—after the first stunning shock is over they try again, and soon the fabric of mercantile enterprise and integrity rises to as shapely a height as before. A fire lays the business portion of one of our bustling towns in ashes. Ere the embers are cold workmen are clearing away the debris to lay the foundations for new and better edifices. At the beginning of the war fortune seemed to side with the rebellion, but more money and more men and repeated trials have won for us a place as the first military power in the world, and planted the old banner where it floats proudly over the soil of every State.

In our bodies corporate and politic we possess this desirable qualification in an eminent degree, but in our persons, as a nation, we are deficient. We live too fast—and fast living is by no means confined to dissipation and intemperance in eating or drinking—the people as a whole are wrought up to fever point in the cerebral and nervous systems, the whole mind is thrown into the business or intellectual pursuits of the possessor, and when prostrated by disease the body is found to lack the elastic recuperative power neccessary to re-establish itself again in health.

We work too much, and play too little—what recreation we do take, being mostly of such a character as to further task the already wearied brain. The idea of a man whose mind has been all day puzzled by endeavoring to solve the intricate problem of finance, seeking a chess club for an evening's amusement, is simply absurd. The hard work which Americans make of their play has ever attracted attention from our foreign population, and we would be wise in taking example from them in their utter absolution from all business cares when innocent enjoyment is the order of the hour.

Particularly are the out-door and gymnastic sports of the Germans adapted to impart this elasticity to our highly organized systems. Even the ill effects of their beer gardens are more than counteracted for good, by the open air, the exercise and the sociality gained therein. I may have stretched the subject as much as it will bear, and so break off. Ion.

VIRTUALLY GIVING UP.—The rebel Senator Hunter, of Virginia, is a master of language, but the words in which he enveloped his meaning in the following note cannot conceal the fact that it is a wail of surrender. It is copied from the Richmond Sentinel:

"A report having prevailed that I am in favor of a reconstuction of the old Union, and as this rumor is not only injurious to myself but may be, perhaps, hurtful to the country, I take this occasion to say that it is entirely erroneous. There is, perhaps, no person in the Confederacy to whose feelings and interests such an event would be more repugnant than to mine. I have always held that we ought to maintain the struggle for independence so long as there is any hope of success. The General-in-Chief and the President, as the highest military authorities, are best able to understand our resources and prospects. Whilst they have hope in the contest it seems to me that we should do all in our power to strengthen their hands. But after all, it is in view of the justice of their cause that the hearts of our people should be confirmed, and it is to the Chief Ruler of the Universe that they should look for aid in the mighty struggle in which they are engaged."

☞ Rev. Hardy Mobley, a colored man, was ordained a few evenings since at Brooklyn, N. Y., as a missionary for the State of Georgia. Mr. Mobley was born a slave in Augusta, Ga., and about ten years ago bought his own freedom and that of his wife and children, by the payment of $3,000, which sum he raised principally by over-work.

— True happiness must be found in one's own bosom. He who seeks it elsewhere must be content with disappointment.

TUESDAY, MARCH 28, 1865.

THE REBELLION.

At last we have definite and authentic news from Gen. Sherman; very good news too, showing him a successful general, and at the same time showing up the rebel bulletin-makers as great liars.

A special messenger who left Goldsboro', N. C., on the 22d, arrived at Washington Sunday night, and reports the occupation of that place by General Schofield's forces. He also brings the important information that Sherman formed a junction with Schofield and Terry at a place called Cox's Bridge, on the Neuse River, a few miles west of Goldsboro' on the 21st.

The Fourteenth Corps of Sherman's army had a fight with Hardee at Averysboro on the 6th, and defeated him handsomely. He left all his dead in Gen. Davis' hands and retreated to Bentonville where, on Sunday last, the 19th, one division of the Fourteenth Corps was attacked by Joe Johnston and for a while turned back; but on being reinforced by the rest of the division drove the enemy back, and during Sunday night he abandoned Bentonville, and fell back across the Neuse River to Smithfield, thus allowing the columns of the army to make a complete junction with Schofield, some ten miles west of Goldsboro. The event which followed this victory caused great rejoicing in both armies. It was mere temporary success in the first of the fight which the rebels are boasting over as such a great victory. Sherman's loss will not exceed one thousand. The army is in excellent condition.

A portion of Sherman's forces met the enemy on the 21st, at Mount Olive, where an engagement ensued. The enemy, being overpowered and flanked, retreated in confusion towards Raleigh, while Sherman entered Smithfield, half way between Goldsboro and Raleigh.

Sherman, Schofield and Terry are in hourly communication with each other, and are pressing the enemy closely. Prisoners taken admit that they are unable to resist this combination, and that Raleigh must certainly fall. Sherman's wagon trains have arrived at Kinston. The railroads are to be repaired, so that the cars will run through to Goldsboro and Raleigh from Newbern in a few days. Many prisoners have been captured and numerous deserters are coming in. A rebel officer says Sherman is executing a two fold movement, each of which will bring forth results of great importance if he is successful.

The Tribune's Kinston, N. C., correspondent says it is reported that at least two brigades of rebels are secreted in swamps along the Neuse River, awaiting an opportunity to enter our lines.

It appears the evacuation of Kinston by the rebels was a mistake. Bragg denies having ordered it. Hoke produces a telegram sustaining his action. The telegraph operator escaped, and is now at Newbern. It is rumored that an entire rebel brigade attempted to desert between Kinston and Goldsborough, and had a fight with some other rebel troops.

The Tribune's Washington dispatch says the city has been full of rumors that the whole right wing of Lee's army has surrendered; but the War Department has no such information.

The Herald's dispatch, speaking of these rumors, says they are simply premature.

The President telegraphed from the front at 11 A. M., Sunday, that our lines had been advanced on the left so as to include those previously occupied by the enemy's skirmishers, and in this movement between 400 and 500 rebels were captured.

Sheridan's men are being remounted, and will soon again be in the saddle.

The Herald's Army of the James correspondence says the rebels have succeeded in getting about 600 negroes organized and in the Richmond defences. The white troops do not like their colored associates.

The Richmond papers of the 23d say that Gillem has been receiving reinforcements of cavalry at Knoxville; that various towns of strategic importance in Southern Tennessee, Northern Alabama and Georgia are being garrisoned; and that the greater portion of Thomas' army is at Huntsville and Decatur, Alabama, and Eastport, Mississippi.

The Union prisoners have been removed to Selma, Alabama, from Cahawba. East Pascagoula, Alabama, is reported to have been burned by Union forces.

We have advices from New Orleans, March 18. The grand military movement against Mobile commenced March 17, by Benton's 3d Division, 13th corps, and Col. Bartram's 1st Brigade, 22d Corps. Gen. Vieck's and Gen. Stokes' brigades are also moving in the direction of Bon Secour. Gen. Andrews also moved from Barrancas with two brigades and took possession of Pensacola, which he now holds.

The rebel guard boat Anna Dale, with one gun, was recently captured in Matagorda Bay.

All the avenues for carrying supplies to Newbern have been taken possession of for the benefit of the supply service. Two hundred thousand people depend on this city for their supplies, all of whom in a short time must be fed by the Government if this port is not immediately opened. The thirty thousand refugees whom Sherman has sent to Wilmington and the great numbers arriving here from all quarters, make it a military necessity to re-open at once both Wilmington and Newbern as ports of entry.

An order from Gen. Schofield, dated the 18th, says all officers now in Washington belonging to the command of Sherman, will proceed at once by rail to Kinston, and report in person for orders to the Commanding General's headquarters in the field.

INCIDENTS OF FRESHETS.—The Manchester Mirror gives the following incidents:

On Saturday afternoon last six boys living at Amoskeag Village, passed over the bridge to the island in the river there. As they were about to return, a large fragment of a bridge which had been washed away above Concord, came down over the falls and carried off about twenty feet of the bridge they had passed over.

Some of the friends of the boys in the village seeing that they were likely to be detained on the island some time, threw over to them doughnuts and various other sorts of provisions. A single string-piece of the portion of the bridge carried off still remained. At length one of the boys, more venturesome than the rest, took off his shoes and stockings and passed over to the other side. Seeing that the others were afraid to follow him, he passed over the frail structure two or three times to show them that they could safely follow him. They did so, and, just after the last boy passed over, a large pile of broken ice, which was lodged upon a rock above, gave way, and striking the string-piece carried it down the stream. It was a very narrow escape.

It is said that during a great freshet in 1839, three young men living in the village, passed over the bridge in the evening for the purpose of visiting their lady-loves who lived on the island. Very late at night, when they attempted to return, they found that the bridge had been carried away, and so they were compelled to stay on the island until the river subsided. They made a virtue of necessity, and "did" an amount of courting sufficient to last them for several weeks.

—The Indians in Wisconsin, who have just received their annuities, call the fractional paper currency "pappoose money."

— The colored voters of Rhode Island are organizing a movement to defeat all candidates for the Legislature of that State who oppose the sending of their children to the public schools with white children.

— A grand procession of colored fellow-citizens took place in Nashville on Monday, in honor of the adoption of the new constitution for Tennessee, which declares all slaves forever free. The proceedings closed at night with an oration and speeches by colored orators.

— The Rhode Island Legislature passed an act at its late session, in effect repealing the usury laws by a decided majority. It provides that the rate of interest shall be six per cent, unless a different rate is expressly stipulated.

CONFEDERATE LOAN.—English papers quote the Confederate Cotton loan at 36.—Less than a year ago it stood at 86, and two months ago its price was 56. Porter and Sherman have killed it nearly outright.

☞ It will be seen by reference to the "Laws of the United States relating to the Navy, passed at the last session of Congress" that there has been appropriated for "Improvement and repairs on the Portsmouth Navy Yard the sum of $816,250.00." These improvements consist of completing a reservoir already commenced; building oakum store; siding-mill; extension of ship-house R; railway for floating dock; grading gutters and drains; completing plumbers', coppersmiths' and tin shops; quay walls; completing mooring pins; completing extension of ship-house S; two launching slips; repairing gutters and drains; machinery and tools.

Also, for appropriation "Magazine" $47,425.00; for shot beds, quay walls, boiler, boiler-room, and machinery, grading grounds, and general repairs.

Communication.

GREENLAND, March 27th.

Messrs. Editors Chronicle:—As you have paraded my name quite extensively before your readers, and as I think in a manner uncalled for, I request of you as an impartial Chronicaller, to publish the following statement, so that my friends abroad may know how serious the offence for which I was arraigned before the public.

It is me that a warrant was issued for my arrest, charging certain offences, and was sworn to by the last and of the Selectmen; but it was done through malice, because I dared to raise my voice against the damnable outrage perpetrated by the Selectmen against twenty-six citizens of this town, who had as good a right to vote at the annual election as any one in Greenland.

On Saturday the 25 inst. I had what they call a trial, and the result was that not one of the Selectmen, nor any other person, could be found to swear to one single complaint set forth in the indictment; and the Hon. W. H. Y. Hackett, the presiding magistrate, gave me an honorable discharge.

I have only to add that the row was commenced by one of the republican party, who came well armed with whiskey, which was stored away under the Academey, to which he and his belligerent forces beat a hasty retreat, but could not renew their courage sufficient to make another charge.

CHARLES A. DEARBORN.

THE FORTUNES OF WAR.—Among the large and appreciative audience who attended the Lyceum on Thursday evening, there was not one who listened with more attention, or appreciated more fully the excellent entertainment, than Lieut. Samuel Cary, brother of Mrs. Cary, the winner of the laurels of the evening. Lieut. C. enlisted at the breaking out of the rebellion in the gallant corps (known by the title of "the fighting corps") of Gen. Joe Hooker. Passing through several battles, he was at last wounded and captured at the battle of Gettysburg; and for twenty months has been incarcerated in the rebel prisons of the South,—transported from place to place in box-cars, where prisoners were packed as close as cattle, and not room to lie down, but must sleep leaning on each other.

He visited Richmond, Raleigh, Wilmington, Columbia and Charleston. He was one of the many officers placed under fire at Charleston, and for weeks listened to the shot and shell pouring down about their prison house. Once a piece of shell entered the roof, penetrated to their room, and smashed into atoms the table around which he and his comrades were sitting. Fortunately none were injured.

Lieut. Cary, just liberated, arrived in Boston a few hours previous to Mrs. Cary's starting for Portsmouth to fill her engagement at the Lyceum; and not wishing to be separated from a brother whom she had not seen for two years, she brought him along with her. To him the exercises at the Temple were intensely interesting. For the first time for two weary years he listened to his sister's sweet voice. Two years had passed since he had heard words of Liberty and Union spoken, or looked upon smiling women's faces, or sat in an assembly of freemen.

His rations for one year had been one pint of meal and one cup of molasses, with salt, in five days. He had only one shirt in that year, and when he was released, it had worn away so that it reached but a few inches below his elbows. The sleeves had worn off; one was replaced with the sleeve of a flannel shirt, and the other pieceued out with the leg of his worn-out drawers.

He says that everywhere the negroes know more about the war and its beginning, and the motives of the Southern rulers, than the poor whites. The rebel officers were of late quite merry over their misfortunes, and had remarked that Abe Lincoln was as stubborn as a jackass. He spoke in the highest terms of the gallant New Hampshire Second, who were always foremost in the fight. They had but one fault, he said: they hated the rebels so bad that they never half buried their dead after battle. Greenbacks, everywhere through the South, were caught up by those who could get them, and saved for better times. Flour is $300 per barrel, cotton cloths $40 per yard, shoes $30 per pair; a piece of meat enough for a person's dinner would be worth $25 or $30. He thought if provisions were sent to Richmond Ministers, they would be at once given to the rebel soldiers, as they had been living on half rations for some time.

— Gamblers in Gold get no sympathy in their misfortunes. The New York Tribune in noticing the failure of one of the firms engaged in the business, says: "Gold has been much excited, and the principal demand is to cover short contracts. The firm of H. J. Lyon & Co., the head and front of the Secesh clique which has so long stood in the way of the Government, by gambling against the value of its credit, has suspended, and the whole multitude are rapidly moving in the same direction without causing any noticeable regret."

PETROLEUM OIL AGENCY.

The California Petroleum Company

In the Summer of 1864, Professor B. Silliman, Jr., examined this locality, now owned by the CALIFORNIA PETROLEUM CO., the purchase of which he strongly recommended to his friends in New York.

The property covers an area of 18,000 acres in one body, on which are at present at least twenty Natural Wells, some of them the largest size. Artesian Wells can be put down, 25 miles in extent. The Ranch is an old Spanish Grant of four leagues, and perfect title.

WELLS, FARGO & CO. say that "those who wish to invest in this class of security need not hesitate a moment where to place their money;—here is a good, honest, reliable concern—one which in our judgment will pay."

Shares $40. Par Value $100.

Rensselaer Petroleum Comp'y.

The property consists of 100 acres, in fee simple, on Two Mile Run, near Oil City—a double lease of the Clapp Farm above Oil City, and four acres in fee simple on Pithole Creek, in the heart of the Oil Regions.

Sheffield Petroleum Company.

This property consists of 225 acres on the Tionesta Creek—seventy-five acres in the same vicinity. This property is cut through by the ten mile run, a branch of the Tionesta, and the Sudbury & Erie Railroad. This property is considered of great value in the market.

OF BOSTON.

The property of this Company consists of 200 acres of land owned in fee simple, and two leases as follows: The land is located on Oil Creek, near Centreville Depot. The Oil Creek Railroad passes through this land. It has a river front of over one quarter of a mile. It is rich in oil.

SHIP LAUNCH.—Messrs. Tobey & Littlefield will launch from their Ship Yard on Noble's Island, this day (Tuesday) at 12 1-2 o'clock, a fine ship of 770 tons, of the following dimensions:—Length on deck 162 feet, extreme breadth 33 1-2 feet, depth 21 1-4 feet.

This ship being unsold, is as yet without a name. She has been built under special survey of the French Veritas, and also under the observance of the merchants and ship-masters of our city — and adds one more to the number of splendid ships constructed by Messrs. T. & L., who in this instance, as heretofore, have spared no pains or expense to maintain their high repute. As their ships generally find a ready market, the supposition is that this one will soon be disposed of, and that work will be resumed on the ship of eleven hundred tons now in frame at their yard.

THE LYCEUM closed on Thursday, the 16th, with one of the most entirely successful and satisfactory entertainments ever given here. Mr. Wyzeman Marshal read in his excellent style a choice selection from Shakespeare and lesser poets. He attempted nothing light or comic; and while his selections from the old standards, with which he is so familiar and ready, were given superbly—almost faultlessly; yet with the newer productions of the present hour, he was not quite so well up. His commanding figure and majestic voice seem hardly touched by passing years, but his style grows more and more ponderous—and the ladies found a fault with his toilet, which we shall not.

Mrs. Cary sang delightfully, and fully sustained her reputation as the most finished and pleasing contralto soloist in Boston. Her pleasing appearance, modest unaffected manner, and the cheerful readiness with which she submitted to be several times called out in extra "encore" pieces not on the programme, secured her universal popularity with the large audience.

Mr. Day's accompaniments on his splendid Chickering piano were well given—entirely satisfactory to the lady, as to the audience. His piano piece was also finely performed, and with the duet with Mr. Holman, made up a very agreeable variety for the evening.

The Band played excellently, and closed the evening and the Course by leading the audience in singing "America."

☞ The receipts of the Lyceum were about $1400—the expenses some thirty-six dollars less; which small surplus, we know every ticket-holder will be glad to learn, the Committee voted to donate to the Ladies' Soldiers' Aid Society of this city. As there was a balance left over last season, of $30, it will be seen that the receipts and expenditures just about balanced each other this year, as the Committee designed.

☞ The Managers of the Ladies' Soldiers' Aid Society, of Portsmouth, request us to thankfully acknowledge for them, in behalf of the good cause—the receipt of thirty dollars, ($30) from Mr. E. P. Kimball, treasurer of the Lyceum Committee—a very acceptable donation to their funds, which are very low at the present time.

☞ We understand that the Portsmouth Ladies' Soldiers' Aid Society design to hold a Fair and Levee—probably at the Temple, in a short time, in aid of their funds.

☞ Besides the great improvements already made in the Temple, (which certainly are very considerable, notwithstanding the laments that "the old Temple is spoiled," "all the sociableness gone," from some of its former deriders,) a false floor is arranged to be laid from the stage-level, extending to one or two seats beyond the iron pillars, forming a good flat ball for levees, dances, &c., much larger than any hall we now have. This will leave the gallery, and the part of the parquet which is covered by it, for seating spectators, &c.; and will form a better place for social gatherings than ever Portsmouth had yet.

We understand the Cornet Band are considering the matter of opening the new dance-hall, with a Promenade Concert and Social Dance, at an early day. We hope they will do so; and with the desire all will feel to see the new hall, and to have a good time, and encourage "our Band," it must be they could not fail of an immense success.

☞ We learn that Col. James H. Jones, U. S. Marines, has resumed command of the marine barracks at this station. Together with him are the following marine officers:—Capt. James Lewis, executive officer; 1st Lieuts. Henry J. Bishop and George M. Welles; 2d Lieut. I. H. Washburne.

☞ Hook, the man who was missing last week, has been heard from. He is in Portland, endeavoring to get up by stimulants—sufficient pluck to enlist.

☞ Mr. Pemberton, who announces a Lecture for Thursday evening, on the most valuable, important and really influential class of American citizens,—is qualified for the task, at least in respect of being "one of them" himself, and occupying quite a high position among his fellow-workers.

☞ Chas. A. Dearborn, Geo. Ed. Brackett, and C. A. Jordan, were brought before Justice W. H. Y. Hackett, at Greenland, on Saturday, on a charge of breaking and destroying furniture, at Greenland election. Dearborn and Brackett were discharged, and Jordan (who is one of the new men imported) was bound over for trial. We give elsewhere—exactly as written and spelled—a brief note from Mr. Dearborn, who is an old friend of ours, is also Mr. Brackett—and both are too good fellows to be engaged in such miserable business as smashing ballot-boxes, which of themselves, we are sure they would never have done.—In fact, as in all such cases, the outsiders, "foreigners," we are told, were much more noisy and active in this outrage, than the natives of Greenland themselves. But no matter who is responsible for the row, they have done the good town more harm than they can ever do it good.

☞ In the Police Court on Monday, James McDavitt was arraigned for drunkenness, and notwithstanding he plead guilty he was discharged.

☞ The Annual Meeting of School District Number One, will be held This evening, at half-past seven, in the Ward Room of Ward 1, for the purpose of choosing two School Committee-men. Per Order.
Portsmouth, Mch. 28.

☞ The big oxen of Mr. Elias Frink, of Newington, were driven to Boston last week, and sold for $600. They weighed, dressed, 3300 lbs.; girth 8 ft. 4 inches, length the same.

☞ The Post Office Department issues the important notice that by a new law just passed,—all letters dropped into the Post Office, postage not prepaid by stamps, are to be sent to the Dead Letter Office.—The only safe way is to have stamps constantly on hand at the place of writing and folding the letter.

"WILD NELL, THE SPY; OR THE FOUNDLINGS OF THE FOREST."—This great story, from the pen of the famous romancer, Francis S. Smith, now in course of publication in the columns of the NEW YORK WEEKLY, ought to be popular, from the fact that the incidents of which it is made up are drawn mainly from the history of the American Revolution, thus rendering it instructive as well as amusing. The American people can never read too much of that era in the history of this country when despotism perished and freedom received a new birth on Columbia's soil. 1t dew

The J. Monroe Taylor Gold Medal Soap is the best article in the market. It requires a little less than one half the quantity to do the same work, and when done, leaves the fabric in much better condition than any other kind of Soap. One trial will convince the most skeptical. Use no other, have no other, and be put off with no other. 115

He is the happiest who does most to make others happy. The inventor of Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus must be the happiest man in existence, for we hear nothing in saying that the use of the Gold Medal Saleratus cannot fail to make a happy household. Our better half says she does more for our ever living, as long as she can get the genuine Herrick Allen's. We say success to the inventor, and if everybody knew how good it is, no other would be used. A good many of our Merchants have it. The depot is 112 Liberty Street, New York.

☞ Mr. Speer, having some property in New Jersey, turned his attention to the cultivation of the Sambuco, imported from Portugal. It bears a grape whose superior quality, juiciness and richness in saccharine matter is unexcelled by that of the Catawba. After numerous experiments in fermentation, Mr. Speer has produced a wine which will immortalize his name and prove a new honor to America.—[Boston Traveller.

RYE, N.H., Feb. 26, 1866. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—as it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended by the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrup, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of Dr. SWETT'S PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicines can equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.

I have for several years been afflicted with dizziness at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOVD.

From ELDER I CRESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841

DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humors, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CRESLEY.

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S SWETT, No. 7 High street, Portsmouth, N. H promptly attended to. mav20

U. S. 7-30 LOAN.

By authority of the Secretary of the Treasury, the undersigned has assumed the General Subscription Agency for the sale of United States Treasury Notes, bearing seven and three-tenths per cent. interest, per annum, known as the Seven-Thirty Loan.

These Notes are issued under date of August 15th, 1864, and are payable three years from that time, in currency, or are convertible at the option of the holder into

U. S. 5-20 Six per cent.
GOLD-BEARING BONDS.

These bonds are now worth a premium of nine per cent., including gold interest from Nov., which makes the actual profit on the 7-30 loan, at current rates, including interest, about ten per cent. per annum, besides its exemption from State and municipal taxation, which adds from one to three per cent. more, according to the rate levied on other property. The interest is payable semi-annually by coupons attached to each note, which may be cut off and sold to any bank or banker.

The interest amounts to

One cent per day on a $50 note.
Two cents " " " " $100 "
Ten " " " " " $500 "
20 " " " " " $1000 "
$1 " " " " " $3000 "

Notes of all the denominations named will be promptly furnished upon receipt of subscriptions.

This is

THE ONLY LOAN in the Market

now offered by the Government, and it is confidently expected that its superior advantages will make it the Great Popular Loan of the People.

Less than $200,000,000 remain unsold, which will probably be disposed of within the next 60 or 90 days, when the notes will undoubtedly command a premium, as has uniformly been the case on closing the subscriptions to other Loans.

In order that citizens of every town and section of the country may be afforded facilities to take the loan, the National Banks, State Banks, and Private Bankers throughout the country have generally agreed to receive subscriptions at par. Subscribers will select their own agents, in whom they have confidence, and who only are to be responsible for the delivery of the notes for which they receive orders.

DR. URANN,
PRACTICAL PHYSICIAN,
Who has made so many wonderful and instantaneous cures in Boston, New York, Hartford, Springfield, and more recently in New Hampshire and Vermont, has taken
ROOMS FOR THE PRESENT AT THE
FRANKLIN HOUSE,
PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

DR. URANN'S treatment is such that by it

are affected in one or two treatments, and many are entirely cured by one, as the following will testify:—

W. P. HOMBE, 50 and 52 Federal Street, Boston, for many years was troubled with Heart complaint, so bad that at times he was unable to attend to his business; after one treatment he was able to run up stairs, work in his garden and attend to his business; has since gained 12 pounds.

MRS. ELLEN COREY, of Cambridgeport, Mass.—Sciatica; so lame that she could not walk without assistance; after one treatment of fifteen minutes was well as ever, and could walk a mile free from pain.

MRS. SARAH P. STILES, Lowell, Mass., had Fever Sores on both legs of twelve years standing; her right ankle measured eighteen inches, and was as blue as indigo; she could not move her foot; after one treatment it was reduced one-half, she could move her foot freely and is getting well rapidly, her left ankle all healed.

Prof. G. M. LAMON, 1 Dix Place, Boston, troubled with Spinal difficulty, was in much pain; relieved by one treatment.

Miss HANNAH COOL, Campton, N. H.—Spinal difficulties; was unable to walk but a short distance or do any kind of work; perfectly cured, and is now the picture of health.

Miss C. FROTHINGHAM, Boston, Portrait Painter, was troubled with great depression of spirits, at times was unable to attend to her favorite employment; was entirely cured, and she expresses herself, is "made over anew."

Mrs. J. BROWN, Boston, a severe cough and pains through her lungs, cured.

Capt. W. H. LAMPSON'S CHILD, Lowell, Mass. The child was pronounced by physicians as hopelessly idiotic. The child could neither walk or sit alone, and took no notice of anything. After one treatment he began to improve, and has so far gained as to be able to walk alone, can talk, takes notice of everything, laughs and sings, and appears perfectly well.

Mrs. HINCKLEY, wife of A. T. Hinckley, of State Arsenal, Hartford, Ct., troubled with hip complaint and contraction of the cords of the legs; could not get her heel to the floor within four inches; had to be brought down stairs in arms; after one treatment of twenty minutes was able to run up and down stairs with ease, and is now able to walk the streets.

Mr. J. TURNER, Hartford, Ct., troubled for many years with loss of memory; could not attend to business; had been under the best medical treatment in England with no beneficial effect; after one treatment was perfectly restored.

Miss MARTHA ST. JOHN, Simsbury, Ct., was confined to her bed from spinal difficulty and prolapsus uteri; had not been dressed for more than a year; in twenty minutes she was enabled to dress and walk out to one of the neighbors, a distance of about a half mile; she has since been to Hartford and to church, and is improving daily.

MRS. HENRY LOOMIS, Southwick, Mass., troubled with fits and spinal difficulties, could not walk without much difficulty, perfectly cured by one treatment.

MRS. WM. JENKINS, Unionville, Conn., troubled for over two years with chronic liver complaint and rheumatism, had a large lump on her side which was very painful; was unable to lie down. Cured by one treatment, and is as well as ever.

JOSEPH H. ELDRIDGE, formerly of the Hartford Police, more recently on Hartford and New Haven Road, was obliged to give up his business on account of a severe cough and bleeding, perfectly cured and can now do a good day's work.

LYDIA L. FELLER, of East Wallingford, Vt., had entirely lost the use of her limbs after a severe attack of diptheria, was restored by one treatment, and is as well as ever.

FANNY DAVIS, of Morstown, Vt., had been confined to her bed for more than five years—was not able to stand—after one treatment of less than an hour, was enabled to walk around the room, and is now quite well.

Miss HUTCHINSON, daughter of Judge Hutchinson of West Randolph, Vt., was troubled with fits, having some days from fifty to one hundred. She was unable to eat anything but liquids—was not able to stand. After one treatment she began to improve, until now, she is the picture of health, able to walk as well as any one, eats hearty and has no fits.

SOUTHWICK, Mass., July 21, 1862.

DR. URANN,—Dear Sir:—I suppose it is over a pleasure to you to learn the convalescent state of your patients; notwithstanding my long three years of almost absolute confinement to my bed, unable most of the time to converse with or see any company, and for over two years unable to feed myself—yet with this painful picture of human wretchedness which made life almost a burden, since your treatment of my spine, on the 7th day of June, I have been able to take my meals at the table, with my family, ride out daily, and converse freely with all; and without some new misfortune befalls me, I shall soon be able to interest myself in the labors of my profession, at least to preach one sermon a Sabbath. Without flattery, in my honest judgment, there is no better treatment in the hands of men for the Spinal Disease than the one which you honor, and as my heart beats with sympathy with all Spinal sufferers, I only wish they knew the wonderful utility of your treatment, and avail themselves of the same. Yours with respect and gratitude,
M. H. RISING.

DR. URANN'S TERMS

Are such that all can avail themselves of his treatment.

☞ Persons at a distance who are unable to visit the Doctor, by sending particulars of their cases, with one dollar enclosed, will receive advice and learn whether their cases can be treated at a distance. In all cases, state age and sex.

Portsmouth, Feb. 22, 1865.

Morning Chronicle.

☞ A fair in aid of the Sanitary Commission will be held at Chicago, beginning May 30th. All portions of the West, including all denominations and parties, are deeply interested. No enterprise of the kind has ever been carried on in that portion of the Union upon so grand a scale. The Committee to procure assistance at the East, call upon the loyal and humane men and women of New England, to contribute to this worthy cause. We must remember the necessities of our soldiers will not cease with the triumph of our arms. Every victory adds thousands to the number that need our aid. Let our gratitude for those victories take the appropriate form of relief to the suffering brave. By aiding this work, we shall do something to strengthen the Union; to quicken the mutual love of the West and the East; while we minister to the wants of sick and wounded men, and strengthen the arm of Government.

☞ The London Herald (Tory organ) mourns the increasing misfortunes of the rebels, but adds: "And yet, not while there is a single Confederate soldier in the field, not while there is a partisan ranger to shoot from behind a tree, or a patriot left at large on the western prairies, shall we be ready to allow that the cause is lost for which so much noble blood has been shed—the cause which is still enshrined in every Southern heart."

The Herald's ignorance of American geography doubtless prevents it from seeing, that the more patriots there are left on "the Western prairies," the worse it is for the Southern rebels.

— Prof. Agassiz, the distinguished Swiss scholar, it is said was induced to adopt this country as his home out of a true love of American institutions, which give equal rights and privileges to all, and allow a man to become a man who possesses the true elements of manhood.

Turtles live even "after they are dead;" at least for a great while after their heads are cut off. An Irishman had decapitated one, and some days afterward was amusing himself by putting sticks in its mouth, which it bit violently. A lady who saw the proceedings exclaimed: "Why, Patrick, I thought the turtle was dead?" "So he is, ma'am, but the craythur's not sensible of it!"

— Mrs. Andrew Allison, residing in Beaver County, Ohio, last week gave birth to four healthy children. Some twenty months ago Mrs. Allison gave birth to three daughters. These seven children, born within a period of two years, were, at last accounts, doing well, as was also their mother.

R. M. T. Hunter says he goes for independence as long as there is hope of success. This is considerably short of desperation, and reminds us somewhat of the man who professed his willingness to risk everything for his cause as long—as the pay was reasonable!—Transcript.

— Rev. Calvin Gardner died suddenly a few days ago at Waterville, Me. He was a settled clergyman in that town about 30 years, but for the past six or eight years, though residing there, he has had no pastoral settlement. He was a man universally respected and beloved.

The following has a coloring of poetry. A country editor, praising a successful politician, called him "one of the cleverest fellows that ever lifted a hat to a lady or a boot to a blackguard."

— France has had sixty-seven Queens. Miserable lives they led. Eleven were divorced. Two executed. Nine died young. Seven were widowed early. Three cruelly treated. Three exiled. The rest were either poisoned or broken-hearted.

"B natural" is called the key-note to good breeding. "B sharp" we take to be the key-note of success in business, for if you are not you will certainly "B flat."

—Mazzini in his letter to the Pope tells him "Reconcile yourselves with God. With humanity you cannot."

Time is money. It can be turned into money, so say the machinists.

The property of this Company is located on "Coal Run Creek," Meigs County, State of Ohio, about 10 miles from Athens, containing one hundred and five acres of land. A large number of wells are successfully worked in the vicinity, some of which are paying handsome dividends.—This Company propose to commence operations at once, and entertain no doubt that at an early day they will be able to pay a handsome per centage on the investment. The known ability and commercial standing of the officers of this Company afford a sufficient guaranty that the affairs will be conducted in a manner to secure the confidence of those who are disposed to invest in it.

The tract of land adjoining the property of this Company has passed into the hands of capitalists, who have sent out an experienced superintendent to commence operations at once, and their first order for machinery was $15,000. Our property has been examined under instructions from Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, who pronounce the coal, which is in abundance, to be of the best quality, yielding 80 gallons of oil to the ton, and has no doubt, from the location and position of the property, that it will be found valuable in the production of oil.

Most companies have to pay very high prices for their coal, all of which we save; oil can be manufactured from the coal upon the property, at a cost not exceeding ten cents per gallon, and it is proposed to commence the manufacture in connection with the sinking of wells. One dollar will buy a share of this stock, which is the par value, and all benefits derived from the lands, either by sales of oil, land or products of any kind, are to be divided among the stockholders, and in addition $200,000 worth of valuable, useful and desirable property will be given to the stockholders, as soon as all the shares are disposed of. The Company adopt this course for the purpose of disposing of their stock at the par value, rather than to sell it, as many companies do, at a subscription price, which is usually one-half. They will be perceived that every stockholder owning ten shares, for example, will be sure to realize a handsome dividend when the property is divided; a plan which is entirely honorable, and in all respects perfectly legal.

The property to be distributed among the stockholders will be equal to any in the market, and will consist of the following described articles:

$5000 to purchase a HOUSE in Boston or vicinity.
$5000 in U. S. 5-20 BONDS, CERTIFICATES of $500 each.

This stock is bona fide, full paid, with no possibility of future assessments and no personal liability. The absolute value and actual cash cost of this property are so great as to preclude its being offered with the allurement of a reduction from a nominal par value.

It has been selected, at different times during the past year, by several old and experienced oil-workers and residents of Oil Creek, who are familiar with the history, progress and value of every well and piece of property in that region.—Several of the producing interests were originally acquired for the purpose of holding as private investments and sources of regular income.

These gentlemen have, however, been induced to combine their various interests, with additional property, into one strong, sound, and reliable company. Each of them will retain an interest as stockholders, and hold their stock as a permanent investment. Residing in the oil region, and directly concerned in the success of the company, they are pledged to look closely after its operations; thus affording a guaranty of watchful supervision, and faithful; and energetic management possessed probably by no other oil company ever formed. Two of these gentlemen are on the board of Direction, and one Superintendent of the Company.

The stock is sold to pay for the property, and to furnish a working capital to open up the large and promising tracts yet waiting to be developed.

The managers start with the intention of paying dividends quarterly and from actual earnings only. Paying quarterly affords time to sell the oil produced to the best advantage, and is believed to be in all respects the soundest policy.

The dividends will beyond question, be not only immediate, but regular, permanent and remunerative. We wish to avoid holding out any inducements not warranted by the same moderate and reasonable calculations that would be made in embarking in any legitimate business enterprise. It is safe, however, to assure subscribers of handsome quarterly dividends from the present wells of the company; which will moreover, we confidently believe, be very largely increased by new developments to be rapidly made upon our extensive and valuable properties.

We invite attention to, and the most careful examination of, the following list of properties, lands, and leases, the locations of which are all shown upon the map; believing that none more valuable and promising have ever been offered upon so small a capital, and none that have given greater assurance of permanent value and large returns. We invite subscriptions to an investment, and guarantee the most energetic and skilful efforts to develop the property thoroughly, as well as careful and faithful management.

Summary of Properties.

Two tracts of good boring land, one hundred and one hundred and four acres respectively, in fee, situated south of Oil City, in Venango county, in the immediate neighborhood of the Adamantine, Lee, and other large wells just struck on the East Sandy and Alleghany rivers.

Important interests and Leases on the best and most carefully selected properties on Oil Creek,—on the Hassan Flats,—Corplanter Run,—Rynd Flats,—Cherry Tree Run,—Clapp & Hasan, Widow McClintock, Foster, and two lots on the celebrated Hyde & Egbert Farm.

In all, fifteen wells, five of them producing seven down from two to five hundred feet and still boring, and three just commencing, with room on the leases for several more wells.

Also a good Refinery, in complete working order, capable of refining 120 barrels per day, at a profit of one to five hundred dollars.

Also engines, tools, tubing, tanks, and improvements, the actual cash cost of which was $66,500, and worth to-day $75,000,—the whole comprising a property unsurpassed for present value and prospective increase.

The properties of this Company consist of 642 acres, principally owned in Fee Simple, of the most desirable Oil Lands, situated mostly in Oil Creek, Penn., upon which there are three wells now down, capable of producing from 100 to 1000 barrels per day when completed, as they are located so near the great producing interests of the Empire, Noble, Sherman and Drake wells, on this noted creek. This Company offer inducements seldom met with. The capital stock is very small for the amount of valuable oil lands the Company possesses. Three engines are already at the wells. Our Agent at Titusville writes us that the well on the McElhany farm has commenced flowing, which places this Company beyond a doubt of success. The Officers of this Company, in placing this property before the New England public, have full confidence that no properties yet offered are superior, or any out of which larger and more certain dividends may at once be expected. Maps and full information given on application to the Treasurer. Subscriptions received by JOS. W. DAVIS, Banker, No. 25 State street, and at the OFFICE LAKE COMPANY, No. 47 CONGRESS STREET, BOSTON.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837, 76 State street, opposite Kilby street,

Boston.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL in THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITIES, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them a early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors who may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."

JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

The Chronicle.

THE TABLES TURNED IN TENNESSEE. The secessionists of East Tennessee who, at the outset of the war, practiced every imaginable outrage on their neighbors, are beginning to suffer the just penalty of their action. The Union men, the courts having been re-established, are prosecuting their former persecutors for damages sustained, and the juries, so far as cases have come to trial, indicate a disposition to see full justice done to all concerned. Parson Brownlow has just recovered $25,000 damages in the United States Circuit Court at Knoxville, from three persons who had made him the object of their malice: another loyalist has obtained a verdict for a similar amount; while the heirs of a third have recovered the large sum of $40,000 in a similar manner. Brownlow, in his paper, advises all Union men who have suffered, to commence suits at once; and the verdict in the cases named will, no doubt, influence very many to follow his advice. The fighting parson says on the subject, in language which is vigorous if not polite:

"Impoverish the villians—take all they have—give their effects to the Union men they have crippled and imprisoned—and let them have their "southern rights!" They swore they would carry on the war until they exhausted the last little negro, and lost their lands. Put it to them, is our advice, most religiously—fleece them, and let them know how other men feel when robbed of all they have! Let them be punished—let them be impoverished!"

Should the practice thus initiated in Tennessee, be carried out in other States, as they are gradually recovered and civil government re-established, many wrongs will no doubt be righted and the wealthy secessionists, even should they escape all political penalties, will find, as others have done before them, that crime always brings, in some form, its own retribution. The action of the East Tennessee juries affords conclusive evidence that the loyal people of the insurgent States, when the rebellion is finally expelled, can be depended upon to administer the laws and take care of the secession element, without any help from loyal bayonets.

☞ An army correspondent of the New York Herald, with the 14th corps, tells this plain story of the white slave:

The famous white slave came into our lines and reported to Gen. Logan. His name is James LeRoach, of French descent by his father. His great grandmother was a pretty Indian girl, and reared by a Mr. Torrens, by whose son she had a daughter, who was sold to a Mr. Western, of Charleston, who had a daughter by her. The latter was the mother of our slave, and kept in servitude by her half-sister, a Mrs. Smith, who afterwards sold both mother and children to heartless traders, who trafficked them over the country. This man is about forty years of age, slight build, long sandy hair and whiskers, and evidently without a particle of African blood in his veins; yet he was the bondman of his kinsman.

☞ Col. Baker, Provost Marshal General of Missouri, has seized $90,000 in gold and paper money and $10,000 in notes, deposited in various banks in St. Louis, belonging to the wife of the rebel Gen. Ewell, and the question of confiscating the same is now before the United States District Court. A large lot of land belonging to Mrs. Ewell has also been seized. Mrs. E. is the daughter of Judge Campbell, a wealthy planter near Nashville, Tenn., and a distinguished Union citizen of that State. Two years ago she armed and equipped at her own expense, an entire rebel regiment. A year ago she passed South beyond the Federal lines, and proceeded to Richmond, where she afterward married Gen. Ewell. She is now in Canada, where she went for the purpose of receiving her property after it should be converted into cash.

— At a recent masked ball in Paris three men, personating Julius Cæsar, Charlemagne and Napoleon I., respectively, were walking arm in arm amid roars of laughter. Cæsar was dressed like an ancient Roman exquisite, and scratched his head with his finger.

THE GOVERNMENT OF NEW YORK CITY. A New York correspondent of the Advertiser says it is a pity that the late freshets did not reach the streets of New York; and, in view of the horrible condition of those streets he says:—"Boston, be warned. Never surrender your city to the dominion of the corner grocery."

—The Montreal Telegraph, the rebel organ in Canada, frankly confesses that the rebel cause is hopeless. Alluding to the prospect in North Carolina, it says: "It is not so clear that a decisive victory would do more than cast a halo over ultimate ruin."

— One of the Duxbury fishing boats brought in over five thousand pounds of cod and haddock on Monday and Tuesday. They were sold at four cents per pound.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 29, 1865.

THE REBELLION.

One hundred and fifty rebel officers, captured in the fight before Petersburg on Saturday, arrived at Washington on Monday. They say the war cannot be prolonged, and many desire to take the oath of allegiance. They say their soldiers did not fight with their former energy, and many evinced a desire to be captured.

Advices from New Orleans 19th, have been received at New York via steamer. The Guiding Star arrived on the 18th at New Orleans from Mobile Bay. No news by her is published.

The Independent of the 12th, has the following:—"A lady in whom implicit confidence is placed, and who arrived here last week from Mobile, states that when she left that city all appearances showed it was being evacuated by the rebels. Information has since been received here which would justify the correctness of this opinion. The report of its evacuation is also credited by the military authorities here."

The property of J. P. Benjamin, and John Slidell in New Orleans has been condemned in the U. S. District Court as forfeited to the United States.

The New Orleans Times learns that Gen. Bailey, with about 1000 cavalry, made an advance from Baton Rouge towards Clinton a few days since, but did not accomplish a great deal.

The rebel pirate Shenandoah has arrived at Melbourne. She has destroyed 11 American vessels in all.

Gen. Sherman is said to have informed prominent officers on leaving Fayetteville, that if he reached Goldsborough without much trouble the game was up with the rebels, as with a concentration with Schofield's and Terry's forces nothing could withstand their momentum.

On the 18th of March, the rebel Gen. Johnston's entire force confronted Sherman at Smithfield, the latter being on the south side of the river, and the former on the north side. In the engagement on Sunday, the 19th, the rebels attacked Sherman's centre, but were driven off the field, leaving dead and wounded in our hands. Our loss not heavy. Sherman then pushed forward rapidly, obliging them to fall back on Smithfield and the flight obliged them to rush through Smithfield and make for Raleigh. Sherman's forces followed and entered Smithfield.

Gen. Hartsuff, on the recommendation of Gen. Grant, has been promoted to a Major General by Brevet for conspicuous gallantry in repulsing and driving back the enemy on Saturday.

The Baltimore American's dispatch from Annapolis says the steamers New York and Manhattan have arrived from Varnia with 1815 paroled men and 60 officers. Most of the latter were captured in North Carolina. When these boats left, fighting was going on in front of Petersburg, and reports said Grant had advanced his lines some miles.

Gen. Sheridan with his whole cavalry force crossed the James river near Deep Bottom Sunday morning to join Grant.

Everything shows that some decisive move was about to take place.

Four hours after the repulse of the rebel attack on Gen. Grant's right, his left attacked the rebels and drove them out of their rifle-pits; but they, reinforced, returned, and drove our forces out. Our artillery and our charge again drove the enemy out, but many of the rebels chose to remain and be taken prisoners, and many others were captured.

The 5th corps correspondent says "there was wide spread enthusiasm at night on the success of the day. Between 2000 and 4000 prisoners were reported some hours since, and it is stated that several hundred more have just been brought in."

☞ The President has ordered Brevet Major-General Anderson to raise over Fort Sumter, at noon on the 14th of April, the same U. S. flag that floated over it at the same time of the rebel assault, and that it be saluted with 100 guns from Fort Sumter and from every fort and rebel battery that then fired upon Sumter; also that suitable military ceremonies be performed under direction of Major-Gen. W. T. Sherman whose operations compelled the evacuation of Charleston, or in his absence under direction of Gen. Gilmore, commanding that Military Department; and also that the naval officers at Charleston be directed to participate in the ceremonies; and that Rev. Henry Ward Beecher be invited to deliver a public address on the occasion.

GOLD on Tuesday 154, with very slight variations from 10 o'clock to 1.

—All the cotton captured in Savannah is now at Staten Island, in New York harbor, or on shipboard, and it amounts to thirty-eight thousand and seventy-six bales—several thousands more than the highest estimates when Savannah fell into the hands of General Sherman.

EPPING, March 27, '65.

"Glad to hear from you. Knew I could count on your assistance for a Grand Concert. Shall have a good one. Want your help? Yes, certainly."

Such is the language of a valued friend, in a recent letter. In our quiet retreat upon the banks of the Pawtuckaway, we "love to peep at the world, behold its tumult, and be still. Even the sound of war has lost its terrors ere it reaches us; grieves, but alarms us not." But although we plead guilty to the love of the country, with its hills, vales, woods and rivers, we do not forget that we are yet in the midst of the realities of life; nor must we forget the muse we profess to woo.

Music always has its charms; more perhaps in winter, during the absence of the feathered songsters. The music of nature never tires: we love in the depths of winter to list to the "moan of the pine tree tops;" the deep bass of the adjacent waterfall, the sound of the woodman's axe, and boys and girls that "clear the coast," when old Boreas blows cold, with noses blue and ruddy cheeks, and look business. Nature ever varying keeps up that indescribable charm with which the country has ever been regarded by us.

Long since would we have gladly put off the harness, but we seem destined to labor with self-sacrificing interest in the holy cause of church music. The yearnings of friendship prompt us to mingle again in the busy scenes of former years and "days of auld lang syne."

Let us unite, then, in His praise, "Whose eye is on the heart, Whose frown can disappoint the proudest strain," and be better prepared to join in that eternal Hallelujah in the mansions above; for "ever has the light of song

Illumed our darkest hours;
And cheered us on life's toilsome way,
And gemmed our path with flowers:
And voices that once joined with ours,
In days of auld lang syne,
Are silent now,—and blend no more
In strains of auld lang syne."

PAWTUCKAWAY.

TAXES.—To those who are exercised in spirit by the amount of taxation to which the nation has subjected itself in order to save its life, we commend a passage from Dr. Franklin's "Way to Wealth," showing what are the heaviest of our taxes.

A "plain old man, with white locks," whom the bystanders called "Father Abraham,"—so runs the little fiction in which Franklin wraps his philosophy—was asked what he thought of the times. "Will not these heavy taxes quite ruin the country?" "How shall we ever be able to pay them?" Father Abraham stood up and replied:

"Friends, the taxes are indeed very heavy; and if those laid on by the government were the only ones we had to pay, we might more easily discharge them; but we have many others, and much more grievous to some us. We are taxed twice as much by our idleness, three times as much by our pride, and four times as much by our folly; and from these taxes the commissioners cannot ease or deliver us by allowing an abatement. However, let us hearken to good advice, and something may be done for us: 'God helps them that help themselves,' as poor Richard says."

SOUTHERN ITMS.—The Richmond Sentinel says the friends of the rebel soldiers write to them, advising them to desert. North Carolinians are especially guilty of the practice.

The Richmond Examiner says the fate of that city, indeed of the whole country, is fast becoming a question of commissariat. A few more raids by Sheridan will settle the question for the rebels.

The Richmond Sentinel calls Sherman "the modern Hun," and says he "has accomplished his purpose of making South Carolina a waste."

According to the Richmond Enquirer, when Sheridan was at Scottsville, during his late raid, "the negroes and low classes of whites" led his men to the stores and other places where plunder was to be found. About 1000 negroes left with him.

The entire printing material of the Charleston Mercury was destroyed at the Charlotte Junction, during Sherman's late march through the place.

HONORABLE.—The Unitarian church in Charleston, S. C., was not injured by fire, and it is mentioned to the credit of this denomination, that since the death of Rev. Samuel Gilman, D. D., in 1858, this church has been without a pastor, as no Unitarian clergyman could be found sufficiently proslavery for the service.

NEW YORK REBEL INCENDIARIES.—Kennedy, who was executed Saturday last, made a confession the night before, in which he said himself and eight others came to the city to set fire to buildings in retaliation for what Sheridan had done in the Shenandoah Valley.

He set fire to Barnum's Museum, Lovejoy's Hotel, and the New England House. The others simply set fire to the Houses in which they were stopping and then fled. The scheme was concocted among the rebels in Canada. Their success was not sufficiently flattering to encourage further attempts.

—A late arrival at N. York from Port au Prince brings details of the great fire at that place. At the close of the carnival on 28th of Feb., the scenery took fire, destroying the building and adjoining houses, spreading until 408 buildings were burnt. The loss is estimated at 40 or 50 millions of Haytien dollars. The most active business part of the city is destroyed.

— There is a sort of nonsense that is indispensable—a sine qua non-sense.

— The new mayor of Biddeford, Me., Charles A. Shaw, esq., delivers an inaugural address that fills five long, closely printed columns in the Journal of that city. He indulges in two columns on national affairs, after this style: "The fact is, a disease of the most virulent type, politico-military in its nature, has seized upon the very vitals of the nation and racks and tortures every fibre."

— Gov. Bramlette, of Kentucky, has supplied each of his slaves with a set of free papers. He is evidently a Progressive.

— There are about 5000 colored troops in and around Savannah. The city is very quiet.

TO PILE WOOD.— Fire-wood is much better when piled with the bark side uppermost; wood piled with the bark side down not keeping as dry as when the bark is up.

—On the 27th, early in the morning, the Utica Female Seminary was destroyed by fire. All the inmates, 100 in number, escaped. Loss heavy.

— The Brunswick Telegraph says: "Several of the largest butter makers in this vicinity, have their full supplies of last summer and fall's manufacture yet on hand. A few weeks since, one wealthy farmer in Topsham was offered fifty cents, and he would not sell, although the market was poorly supplied. Last week, he had an offer of twenty-seven cents, and thought then he would keep it a little longer. Perhaps if the butter keeps good, he may have to sell at twenty. We have not a particle of sympathy with parties who have held on hoping for a rise to 75 cents."

— The Italian Chamber of Deputies has declared by 150 against 91 votes in favor of abolishing the penalty of death for crimes committed under the common law.

— The English Parliament on March 13, had a discussion on the defenses of Canada, and the prospect of a war between England and the United States. The English Government, though willing to contribute something toward the defense of the Canadian frontier, expects the burden to be chiefly borne by the colony itself. The House was, however, assured by the Ministers that the relations between England and the United States were altogether amicable.

— The merchants of Nassau are selling army blankets for eight dollars a bale, or about sixty cents a pair. The blockade business is gone to the dogs.

— Rebel families seem to have learned that it is wiser to continue in a place which is about to be captured by our forces than to follow up, with such goods as they can carry with them in a hurried march, the retreat of their constantly evacuating armies.

— No faithful workman finds his task a pastime. We must all toil or steal—no matter how we name our stealing.

—A New York paper says: With large crops here, which we have now every reason to anticipate, and a partial failure in Europe, which is almost of biennial occurrence, we shall be able to bring the nations from the other side of the Atlantic, gold in hand, to our granaries, and, without the aid of cotton, to turn the balance of trade in our favor. We hope so.

—A slave girl in North Carolina, who belonged to Mr. Ansley, was a pupil in one of the day schools. She frequently caused disturbance in school by laughing. Her teacher asked her if she used to laugh as much when she was a slave: she replied quickly, "I never saw nothin' to laugh at till the Yankees took Newbern."

Late to bed and late to rise,
Is the way to feel stupid and have red eyes.

PETROLEUM OIL AGENCY.

The California Petroleum Company

In the Summer of 1864, Professor B. Silliman, Jr., examined this locality, now owned by the CALIFORNIA PETROLEUM CO., the purchase of which he strongly recommended to his friends in New York.

The property covers an area of 18,000 acres in one body, on which are at present at least twenty Natural Wells, some of them the largest size. Artesian Wells can be put down, 25 miles in extent. The Ranch is an old Spanish Grant of four leagues, and perfect title.

WELLS, FARGO & CO. say that "those who wish to invest in this class of security need not hesitate a moment where to place their money:—here is a good, honest, reliable concern—one which in our judgment will pay."

Shares $40. Par Value $100.

Rensselaer Petroleum Comp'y.

The property consists of 100 acres, in fee simple, on Two Mile Run, near Oil City—a double lease of the Clapp Farm above Oil City, and four acres in fee simple on Hibbs Creek, in the heart of the Oil Regions.

Capital $300,000. Shares $3. Par Value $6.

Sheffield Petroleum Company.

This property consists of 225 acres on the Tionesta Creek—seventy-five acres in the same vicinity. This property is entirely owned by the ten mile run, a branch of the Tionesta, and the Sudbury & Erie Railroad. This property is considered of great value in the market.

Capital $800,000. Shares $1. Par Value $2.

Everett Oil Company,

OF BOSTON.

The property of this Company consists of 200 acres of land owned in fee simple, and two leases as follows: The land is located on Oil Creek, near Centreville Depot. The Oil Creek Railroad passes through this land. It has a river front of over one quarter of a mile. It is rich in oil.

Capital $800,000. Subscription price $5.

President Petroleum Company.

A few Shares of this valuable Stock can be had (supplied for some time) at the original subscription of $5 per Share. It contains 8,400 acres, very valuable in Oil, Coal and Timber.

New York and Newark

PETROLEUM CO.

The property of this Company consists of five parcels of land situated in the very centre of the Celebrated Oil District of Pennsylvania (Venango County), and lays in the immediate vicinity of Oil City, the nearest being two miles and the farthest five; and within one-quarter of a mile of Allegheny River, one piece being on that river—The Company have a twenty years' lease for one hundred Oil Wells.

It is the interest of the Trustees to invest every dollar in sinking Wells and obtaining Oil, and not speculating in stock. HAMILTON E. TOWLE is Engineer and Superintendent of this company.

Capital $500,000. Shares $1.

All the above Stock for sale at the AGENCY,

No. 47 Congress Street, Portsmouth,

where Maps, Drawings and Pamphlets are ready for distribution.

I am fully persuaded that all the above Companies are good, well managed, and must pay good dividends, and are the best investments now in the market.

A NEW RULE.—Years and years ago, when we worked on the old Gazette for Mr. Rundlett,—and Ed Blake was foreman, and Jo Rogers a journeyman, and Nat Gunnison apprentice, (both the latter being now recently deceased,)—there came to the office a pleasant little boy named John Hanscom. He was all good nature, and a pretty smart boy withal, and became a general favorite.

John went to California soon after, and has only recently returned; but though grown into a nice young man, (and the happy father of a small family, by the way,) yet we recognized at once the John Hanscom of old, and found him unchanged. During his long absence, he had been engaged in other business than printing; but has not lost his love and respect for "the art preservative," and has often set a little type to keep his hand in.

On Election day, a very small package arrived per express from Boston, containing we could not imagine what. As we cut the strings, and broke the seals, and opened the numerous wrappings, we began to suspect a miniature infernal-machine, or phosphoric gun-cotton, or something of the sort. But at last a beautiful silver Composing Rule, (a printer's tool for setting types,) lay before us; with no note or word, but its own beautifully engraved inscription, "F. W. M. from J. O. H." It was always our pride to be a printer, infinitely more than publisher or editor, for it includes both and much more; and we wish, how earnestly, we had nothing to do but set a good long "string" of "matter" each day. In fact we never desired to leave doing that same—nor did we till Ed Fuller bought the Gazette; and when that cut us out of a job, we started this Chronicle—a poor job for Friend Fuller, then, at any rate, however it has proved for us, and for him too, since.

Well, years have passed—and our "old", friend is really growing old in the estimation of the juveniles; and having spent several years in California, is supposed of course to have made his pile,—at least we hope he has; and is now laying round home, enjoying it.—We are glad all his other business has not crushed out his remembrance of his first and noblest profession. No true and capable printer ever could lose the love for the art.

And now this Rule—of pure silver, bright and beautiful: The living up to the golden rule is no easy task, but may we not hope that no line from our fingers shall ever tarnish the immaculate lustre of this emblematic gift—our esteem for which would be an hundred-fold greater than its metal-worth, though it were of finest gold.

SURRENDERED.—A deserter from the 5th N. H. Regiment presented himself on Tuesday, at the Provost Marshal's office in this city, in accordance with the provisions of the President's Proclamation of March 11th, 1865, and was at once forwarded by Capt. Hall to his regiment without charge. This is the first case of deserters returning to service under the proclamation, in this State.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— George L. Balcom, of Claremont, pays a tax on an income of $40,000.

—— The 10th N. H. regiment has been armed with Sharpe's breech-loading carbines.

—— The Peterborough Transcript says the cotton factories in that village are stopping operations for the present. Cotton sixty cents, and no sale of goods. They have been running on cotton bought on an average of $1 per pound.

—— Capt. Silas H. Sweetland, of New Hampshire, Commissary of Subsistence, convicted on the charge of fraud, has been sentenced to be cashiered with loss of all pay and allowances now due or to become due, to be fined $5000 and to be imprisoned for one year in the Albany Penitentiary.

—— The 8th N. H. Regiment, which for some time has been on duty at Vidalia, La., has returned to Natchez. The Natchez Courier speaking of these veterans, says: "New Hampshire has reason to be proud of these troops, the noble sons of the old Granite State."

— The Christain Commission, at San Francisco, recently refused to accept ninety dollars, said sum being the avails of a private theatrical entertainment; upon which a paper of that city says the Commission would suffer the wounded soldier to perish with thirst because the man who drew the water at the well was of doubtful morality. Quite a discussion has grown out of this affair through the San Francisco papers.

— Parson Brownlow—soon to be known as Gov. Brownlow,—says "The only way to touch the tender sensibility of the Southern woman is to take away her negroes. Kill her husband and she thanks God that he has enabled him to die for the good cause; but take away one of her negroes and she screams and bewails herself as if the devil himself were after her."

—Refering to the recent decline in gold the New York Atlas says, "a crash will come which will ruin many, but the great mass of the people, will have no cause to complain at a result which must greatly reduce the cost of all the necessaries of life."

GOV. AIKEN.—William Aiken, the son or grandson of a Scotch-Irish immigrant, was in 1860 the largest slave-holder and probably the richest man in South Carolina. We believe but one man in the Union owned more slaves than he did. He was twice or thrice chosen to Congress from the Charleston District without opposition, and was the final rallying point of the pro Slavery parties for Speaker of the "Banks Congress,"—the vote standing, Banks 103; Aiken 100. He declined further election, but served a term as Governor of the State, being uniformly esteemed one of her best citizens.

Gov. Aiken, like Senator Hammond, kept silence when their State made Mr. Lincoln's election the pretext of Secession. He could not stem the tide; but he refused to be carried along with it, and has since remained a quiet but interested and apprehensive observer, until Charleston fell once more under the Union flag, when he declared himself what he had always at heart been, a Unionist. His slaves are now free; he has supplied them with land; and he is working hard to alleviate the miseries caused by unballowed ambition. To this end, his means and efforts are steadfastly devoted.

Who can doubt that the class to which Gov. Aiken belongs—the class of Southern gentlemen who, blest with ample fortune, have outlived or spurned the impulses of ambition—are at heart with Gov. Aiken? — Tribune.

☞ The Governors and Legislatures of the loyal States of West Virginia and Virginia have united in a request to Mr. Lincoln for a recognition of the services and sacrifices of Col. David H. Strother—who recently resigned his commission in consequence of injuries to his health received in the service—by conferring upon the gifted author of the papers signed "Porte Crayon" a foreign appointment in some genial climate. Few men had so great temptations to disloyalty as this gentleman on the breaking out of the war; and not one has proved more earnestly, actively or bravely faithful to the Union. The rebels in revenge desolated his home and property in the neighborhood of Martinsburg; and in a dozen campaigns Col. Strother, generally acting as Chief of Staff, has borne a distinguished part.

☞ A letter from Rome says a notable miracle has just been performed there, which may be regarded as one of the weapons with which the Church chooses to assert its power and its rights. The Princess Oliescalchi has long been suffering from what was pronounced to be internal cancer. On the morning of the Austrian Ball, her death appeared to be so imminent that several of the grand ladies had almost resolved not to be present. The Princess, however, who is a Pole, an excellent and most devout lady, sent to the Pope requesting his intercession. His Holiness offered up his prayers for the Princess, through the mediation of St. Chrysogonus, who has a magnificient church in the Trastevere. The Princess recovered, and instead of her being placed in her coffin, got into her carriage, drove to the Vatican, saw the Pope who was at dinner, and thanked His Holiness for the cure. This miracle is the event of the day.

— A writer in the Lawrence American scores a theological student for disturbing Camilla Urso's concert, by keeping up conversation during the execution of some of her most exquisite performances. He evidently needs a few lessons in good-breeding.

Notice.

The Annual Meeting of School District No. 2, for the choice of Members of the School Committee, will be held THIS (WEDNESDAY) AFTERNOON at 3 o'clock, at the BRICK SCHOOL HOUSE on State Street. Per order.

Said a venerable preacher—Fellow sinners if you were told that by going to the top of, those stairs, (pointing to a rickety pair at the other end of the church) you might secure your eternal salvation, I really believe hardly one of you would try it; but if I should proclaim that J. Monroe Taylor had put a few bars of his celebrated Gold Medal Soap on the top stair for the one that would get it first, I'll be bound there ain't one of you but what would use your utmost exertions to gain the prize; my wife says there ain't anything like it, and she would recommend the whole parish to use it. 116

He is the happiest who does most to make others happy. The inventor of Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus must be the happiest man in existence, for we cannot, in saying that the use of the Gold Medal Saleratus cannot fail to make a happy household. Our better half says she does not fear our ever frowning, as long as she can get the genuine Herrick Allen's. We say success to the inventor, and if everybody knew how good it is, no other would be used. A good many of our Merchants have it. The depot is 112 Liberty Street, New York

U. S. 7-30 LOAN.
By authority of the Secretary of the Treasury, the undersigned has assumed the General Subscription Agency for the sale of United States Treasury Notes, bearing seven and three-tenths per cent. interest, per annum, known as the Seven-Thirty Loan.
These Notes are issued under date of August 15th, 1864, and are payable three years from that time, in currency, or are convertible at the option of the holder into
U. S. 5-20 Six per cent.
GOLD-BEARING BONDS.
These bonds are now worth a premium of nine per cent., including gold interest from Nov., which makes the actual profit on the 7-30 loan, at current rates, including interest, about ten per cent. per annum, besides its exemption from State and municipal taxation, which adds from one to three per cent. more, according to the rate levied on other property. The interest is payable semi-annually by coupons attached to each note, which may be cut off and sold to any bank or banker.
The interest amounts to
One cent per day on a $50 note.
Two cents " " " " $100 "
Ten " " " " " $500 "
20 " " " " " $1000 "
$1 " " " " $5000 "
Notes of all the denominations named will be promptly furnished upon receipt of subscriptions. This is THE ONLY LOAN in the Market
now offered by the Government, and it is confidently expected that its superior advantages will make it the Great Popular Loan of the People.
Less than $200,000,000 remain unsold, which will probably be disposed of within the next 60 or 90 days, when the notes will undoubtedly command a premium, as has uniformly been the case on closing the subscriptions to other Loans.
In order that citizens of every town and section of the country may be afforded facilities to take the loan, the National Banks, State Banks, and Private Bankers throughout the country have generally agreed to receive subscriptions at par. Subscribers will select their own agents, in whom they have confidence, and who only are to be responsible for the delivery of the notes for which they receive orders.

DR. URANN,
PRACTICAL PHYSICIAN,
Who has made so many wonderful and instantaneous cures in Boston, New York Hartford, Springfield, and more recently in New Hampshire and Vermont, has taken
ROOMS FOR THE PRESENT AT THE
FRANKLIN HOUSE,
PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

DR. URANN'S treatment is such that by it
are affected in one or two treatments, and many are entirely cured by one, as the following will testify:—

W. P. HOMER, 50 and 52 Federal Street, Boston, for many years was troubled with Heart complaint so bad that at times he was unable to attend to his business; after one treatment he was able to run up stairs, work in his garden and attend to his business; has since gained 12 pounds.

Mrs. ELLEN COREY, of Cambridgeport, Mass—Sciatica; so lame that she could not walk with out assistance; after one treatment of fifteen minutes was well as ever, and could walk a mile free from pain.

Mrs. SARAH P. STILES, Lowell, Mass., had Fever Sores on both legs of twelve years standing; her right ankle measured eighteen inches, and was as blue as indigo; she could not move her foot; after one treatment it was reduced one-half, she could move her foot freely and is getting well rapidly, her left ankle all healed.

Prof. G. M. LARRON, 1 Dix Place, Boston, troubled with Spinal difficulty, was in much pain; relieved by one treatment.

Miss HANNAH COOL, Campton, N. H.—Spinal difficulties; was unable to walk but a short distance or do any kind of work; perfectly cured, and is now the picture of health.

Miss C. FROTHINGHAM, Boston, Portrait Painter, was troubled with great depression of spirits, at times was unable to attend to her favorite employment; was entirely cured, and she expresses herself, is "made over anew."

Mrs. J. BROWN, Boston, a severe cough and pains through her lungs, cured.

Capt. W. H. LAMPSON'S CHILD, Lowell, Mass. The child was pronounced by physicians as hopelessly idiotic. The child could neither walk or sit alone, and took no notice of anything. After one treatment he began to improve, and has so far gained as to be able to walk alone, can talk, takes notice of everything, laughs and sings, and appears perfectly well.

Mrs. HINCKLEY, wife of A. T. Hinckley, of State Arsenal, Hartford, Ct., troubled with hip complaint and contraction of the cords of the legs; could not get her heel to the floor within four inches; had to be brought down stairs in arms; after one treatment of twenty minutes was able to run up and down stairs with ease, and is now able to walk the streets.

Mr. J. TURNER, Hartford, Ct., troubled for many years with loss of memory; could not attend to business; had been under the best medical treatment in England with no beneficial effect; after one treatment was perfectly restored.

Miss MARTHA ST. JOHN, Simsbury, Ct., was confined to her bed from spinal difficulty and prolapsus uteri; had not been dressed for more than a year; in twenty minutes she was enabled to dress and walk out to one of the neighbors, a distance of about a half mile; she has since been to Hartford and to church, and is improving daily.

Mrs. HENRY LOOMIS, Southwick, Mass., troubled with fits and spinal difficulties, could not walk without much difficulty, perfectly cured by one treatment.

Mrs. WM. JENKINS, Unionville, Conn., troubled for over two years with chronic liver complaint and rheumatism, had a large lump on her side which was very painful; was unable to lie down. Cured by one treatment, and is as well as ever.

JOSEPH H. ELDRIDGE, formerly of the Hartford Police, more recently on Hartford and New Haven Railroad, was obliged to give up his business on account of a severe cough and bleeding, perfectly cured and can now do a good day's work.

LYDIA L. FULLER, of East Wallingford, Vt., had entirely lost the use of her limbs after a severe attack of diptheria, was restored by one treatment, and is as well as ever.

FANNY DAVIS, of Moretown, Vt., had been confined to her bed for more than five years—was not able to stand—after one treatment of less than an hour, was enabled to walk around the room, and is now quite well.

Miss HUTCHINSON, daughter of Judge Hutchinson of West Randolph, Vt, was troubled with fits, having some days from fifty to one hundred. She was unable to eat anything but liquids—was not able to stand. After one treatment she began to improve, until now, she is the picture of health, able to walk as well as any one, eats hearty and has no fits.

SOUTHWICK, Mass., July 21, 1862.

DR. URANN,—Dear Sir:—I suppose it is ever a pleasure to you to learn the convalescent state of your patients; notwithstanding my long three years of almost absolute confinement to my bed, unable most of the time to converse with or see any company, and for over two years unable to feed myself—yet with this painful picture of human wretchedness which made life almost a burden, since your treatment of my spine, on the 7th day of June, I have been able to take my meals at the table, with my family, ride out daily, and converse freely with all; and without some new misfortune befalls me, I shall soon be able to interest myself in the labors of my profession, at least to preach one sermon a Sabbath. Without flattery, in my honest judgment, there is no better treatment in the hands of men for the Spinal Disease than the one which you honor, and as my heart beats with sympathy with all Spinal sufferers, I only wish they knew the wonderful utility of your treatment, and avail themselves of the same. Yours with respect and gratitude,
M. B. RISING.

DR. URANN'S TERMS
Are such that all can avail themselves of his treatment.

☞ Persons at a distance who are unable to visit the Doctor, by sending particulars of their cases, with one dollar enclosed, will receive advice and learn whether their cases can be treated at a distance. In all cases, state age and sex.

STATE RIGHTS.—The real reserved rights of the states are as sacred as the rights of the nation, will survive the war, and be as readily conceded by the general government to the States hereafter as heretofore.

Southern slaveholders have been the only administrators of the general government who have ever shown any disposition to encroach upon state rights. The constitution imposed on state governments the duty of giving up the fugitives, but left them with the power of deciding whether any person arrested was a slave or not, and reserved to all persons the right of trial by jury, in all cases of more than twenty dollars value; but southern slaveholders in possession of the general government, usurped the powers of doing the whole business for the slave power. They took the decision of the question whether one arrested was a slave or not, from the State courts—aye, from any court of law, and put into the hands of a United States Commissioner, appointed with special reference to his adhesion to slavery, cutting off trial by jury, and secured a bribe to the commissioner for deciding against freedom, in the shape of a fee of ten dollars if he decided for the claimant, and but five if he decided that he or she was not a slave, after a summary examination, without a jury, of this most important case that could ever be decided by any court.

There was usurpation, tyranny, and an invasion of state rights by the oligarchy. To this vile decision of a supreme court of the United States packed and corrupted by the South, the mighty mind of Daniel Webster cowed down, and voted for the fugitive slave law, to sustain and carry it out, though he tells us plainly, in his speech upon that very bill, that he "always believed that the constitution left the matter to be managed by State courts, and he thought so then."

When the war is ended we expect the state and general governments to move on in their respective spheres, with less encroachment of state rights than formerly, when constitution, laws, state rights, and personal rights were bound to submit to whatever slavery demanded.

Even the Confederacy, founded expressly upon the right of each State retaining its independence, have utterly repudiated the idea in practice, and some of the latest Richmond papers are compelled to acknowledge the folly and rottenness of the idea of a right of secession in their own states or ours.

STOCK AS COLLATERAL.—A case was recently decided by the Supreme Court, sitting as a court of equity, between parties in Newburyport, that may be of interest and importance to the public. In 1857, a person holding nine shares of the Bartlet Mill stock, pledged the same as collateral security for a note, his creditor allowing him some $325 per share, which at that time was about its value. Afterwards the shares of that corporation were subdivided into five each, and the par value was $100, making the nine shares into 45, at the nominal or real value of $4500. As the debtor had, however, received about the market value, and the dividends for a time were not more than the interest on the note, he paid little attention to it, and apparently to the creditor the property was abandoned, though the debtor in no way relinquished his right of redemption.

When the note expired the holder, as it was affirmed, without due regard to the statutes, went through a process of foreclosure. Afterwards the original owner came in to redeem the property, which had advanced to a premium, and was paying largely, and the Court has decided that such is his right. To this date the dividends, as we are informed, have not only paid the interest on the note, but the principal within about $500, so that in payment of the latter sum he will repossess of what at par value is worth $4500. The same party has some eight thousand dollars in value in other stocks, similarly situated and depending upon this decision.

The whole fact is summed up in a few words:—the rise of the stocks and the large dividends have paid the man's debts and left the property clear. By the decision of the Court the gain goes to him, and not to those who having paid at the time all the stocks were worth, deemed the profits their own.—Herald.

NOVEL VARIETIES IN CHURCH MUSIC.—The church at Colebrook Centre is blessed with a musical quartette of a very interesting description. The disease is chronic, but none the less active. The choir has divided, one-half keeping the gallery, the other the seats below. Sometimes both sing, sometimes neither. Sometimes the choir below takes one tune, while the choir above takes another. Quality is less an object than quantity. Each strives to outroar the other. Gabriel's trumpet drowns Apollo's lute. Now and then the minister gets provoked on his own book and refuses to read any hymn. Sometimes the choir submit, and sometimes they sing a hymn of their own selection. The choir above describe the choir below as a concert of old maids. The choir below retaliates, and twits of a certain scaled angel that on a late occasion got in with the "heavenly host" in the gallery. So it goes, and considering the fact that church music is supposed to be an act of worship, outsiders wonder why they intend to worship up in Colebrook.—Winsted Herald.

The property of this Company is located on "Coal Run Creek," Meigs County, State of Ohio, about 10 miles from Athens, containing one hundred and five acres of land. A large number of wells are successfully worked in the vicinity, some of which are paying handsome dividends.—This Company propose to commence operations at once, and entertain no doubt that at an early day they will be able to pay a handsome per centage on the investment. The known ability and commercial standing of the officers of this Company afford a sufficient guaranty that the affairs will be conducted in a manner to secure the confidence of those who are disposed to invest in it.

The tract of land adjoining the property of this Company has passed into the hands of capitalists, who have sent out an experienced superintendent to commence operations at once, and their first order for machinery was $15,000. Our property has been examined under instructions from Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, who pronounces the coal, which is in abundance, to be of the best quality, yielding 80 gallons of oil to the ton, and has no doubt, from the location and position of the property, that it will be found valuable in the production of oil. Most companies have to pay very high prices for their coal, all of which we save; oil can be manufactured from the coal upon the property, at a cost not exceeding ten cents per gallon, and it is proposed to commence the manufacture in connection with the sinking of wells. One dollar will buy a share of this stock, which is the par value, and all benefits derived from the lands, either by sales of oil, land or products of any kind, are to be divided among the stockholders, and in addition $200,000 worth of valuable, useful and desirable property will be given to the stockholders, as soon as all the lands are disposed of. The Company adopt this course for the purpose of disposing of their stock at the par value, rather than to sell it, as many companies do, at a subscription price, which is usually one-half. Thus, it will be perceived that every stockholder owning ten shares, for example, will be sure to realize a handsome dividend when the property is divided; a plan which is entirely honorable, and in all respects perfectly legal.

The property to be distributed among the stockholders will be equal to any in the market, and will consist of the following described articles:

$5000 to purchase a HOUSE in Boston or vicinity.
$5000 in U. S. 5-20 BONDS, CERTIFICATES of $500 each.

ESTABLISHED
FACTS AND REASONS
FOR USING
DR. S. O. RICHARDSON'S
BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR!
FIRST. The extraordinary curative effect of the Blood-Root Elixir was discovered by a regularly educated Physician and the present proprietor also is a graduate from one of the highest Medical Colleges in New England.
SECOND. The Elixir is not alcoholic, contains no minerals, and may be relied upon as being composed of strictly vegetable substances; and no ingredient is intermixed that can unfavorably affect the most delicate constitution.
THIRD. The extensive and successful use of the Blood-Root Elixir, during the past year, proves it to be, without any qualification, the best and most valuable medicine that has ever been prepared for family use.
FOURTH. Medical science and skill have never been able to produce a cathartic medicine of equal power and effect, which contains so many desirable qualities. Its superiority as an aperient consists in its sure and thorough action, operating equally through all parts of the Bowels. It never produces griping pains in its operation; never occasions nausea; its flavor is pleasing and agreeable; and it need not be rejected by the most fastidious child. It may be safely used in all cases where laxative medicine is required. It will promote the comfort and health of both sexes, and of all ages: it will assist Nature during all infantile changes; it will, during the anxious hours of a mother's life, hasten and assuage her maternal pangs; it will render joyous and happy the lingering days of the aged and venerable. And we know it will be once introduced into any household, it will thereon supersede all other laxative medicine.
FIFTH. The long period which the Elixir was used by the original proprietor, in prescriptions to his patients and the great and unqualified success which has attended its more general use, during the past year, are confirmed by unsolicited testimonials, which in number and extended results exceed any estimate our most sanguine hopes so early had anticipated,—therefore we are fortified by unrefutable evidence, that our estimate of the efficacy and value of the Blood-Root Elixir has not been exaggerated.
SIXTH. In examining certificates received during the past year of its successful results, we are gratified in believing that our medicine has not failed in any case where it has been tried, to cure the most stubborn and chronic cases of COSTIVENESS.
SEVENTH. Most grateful manifestations have also been evinced by patients who have been relieved from LIVER COMPLAINTS of long standing. Also it has been effectual in curing CUTANEOUS ERUPTIONS OF THE SKIN; and in eradicating HUMORS OF THE BLOOD. And many afflicted with deep seated incurable SCROFULA, have been greatly benefitted by a moderate use of the Elixir.
EIGHTH. In cases of COUGHS and COLDS it has proved successful beyond any assurance we have ever expressed; and those who have thoroughly tested its effect, believe it to be superior to all other cough preparations—the Elixir, by its physical properties, equalizes the circulation of the Blood, and removes congestion. It also, when used as a gargle, or swallowed slowly, heals and soothes the irritated and inflamed membranes, from which the cough arises.
NINTH. Many persons suffer periodically from JAUNDICE, which is occasioned by a morbid and inactive state of the Liver. The Blood-Root Elixir is a sure relief from the dependent feelings and painful symptoms which are peculiar to that disease.
TENTH. DYSPEPSIA is an aggravating and disheartening disease, often leading to dangerous results. A limited use of the Elixir, according to the directions, will regulate the stomach and bowels with unerring certainty, and restore digestion to its natural and healthy action.
ELEVENTH. RHEUMATISM the Blood Root Elixir will readily relieve; its warm and quick acting effect counteracts the cold and morbid condition of the fluids, which is the primary cause of all Rheumatic affections.
TWELFTH. Persons subject to HEADACHE will be relieved in a few hours by a single dose of the Elixir.
☞ Every person taking the Elixir should carefully read the printed pamphlet which accompanies each bottle.

CONQUEST AND CONCILIATION.—In war we use naturally and conveniently the language of war, and speak of "victory," "conquest," "sub-jugation" and "extermination;" but much of this means no more than our views of public justice, and much is merely metaphorical. There is no reason why those who are our "enemies" in war should not be "in peace friends;" and it is extremely desirable, (says the Tribune) especially under the circumstances of our own case that with the adjustment of public differences between the States, there should be also a resumption of harmonious social relations. * * *

Now the Union will be restored—not by the cold acquiescence of an aristocracy based upon Slavery, but by the good understanding of honest and enlightened men, whether they reside at the South or the North.—The obligarchy is gone, never to reappear. It began a long act of suicide at Charleston, and five years hence it will be as absolutely dead as the feudal lords who followed William the Conqueror to England. It is with a new order of society at the South that we shall now have to deal—with men who do not believe personal labor to be disgraceful, and with women who are not ashamed to be the efficient heads of their households. With such we have every reason to hope a reconciliation will be easy and almost spontaneous.

From the beginning the Southern people have been cheated by their leaders—cheated into the belief that they were grossly injured by the Free States—that they were the constant objects either of common hatred or rapacity—that we sought in some mysterious way to make them the tools of our own mean and selfish purposes—that we could bargain well, spin well, make money, and do anything but fight, and that rather than risk our cash and the Union which enabled us to accumulate it, we would eat the humblest of pie and drink the dirtiest of draughts. The war has most effectually disposed of the last class of accusations.—We have shown that there are certain things which we value above money, and certain possessions which we do not propose to put into the market. Success, now so near to gladden all honest hearts, will be celebrated by a grand illumination of mere prejudices. For our own part, we are all ready to forget whatever it is impolitic and unbecoming to remember, and to forgive whatever crimes it is safe for the State to pardon or overlook. This we believe to be the almost universal sentiment of the North, and one from which the happiest influence and results will follow.

THE ONE STEP NEEDED.—Says Zion's Advocate, the organ of the Baptists of Maine, "one step more remains to be taken in this work of national regeneration. Let our National and State governments extend the rights of citizenship to the race that has been so long proscribed on account of their color. Side by side with the more favored race, they have fought the battles of this desperate war—and now in furtherance of the work of justice and expiation, let us make these men citizens and voters, just as they are soldiers and men. As soon as they can read the Constitution, let them vote, and by their loyal vote we may thus neutralize the mischievous political influence of the semi loyal whites in the rebellious States as they come back to the Union."

This reading test would be a good one, every where, and would operate well in two ways: 1, to prevent gross impositions now put on the ignorant who vote in droves; and 2, to encourage all the ignorant in learning to read.

☞ In Roxbury, Mass., Officer Patridge of the Roxbury police had a singular encounter with a muskrat on Shawmut avenue a few days since. He was walking quietly along the street and saw the animal a short distance ahead, supposing it to be a cat or small dog. When he arrived within a few feet of him the rat made a spring at him and seized hold of his clothing, and as soon as the officer had shaken him off he made a spring towards his face. The officer then drew a revolver and fired half a dozen shots at him in rapid succession, the rat snapping and biting furiously all the while until the last shot, which entered his heart. The affair happened at about 2 o'clock in the morning, and caused considerable excitement among the inhabitants in the vicinity.

— At a mutual congratulatory meeting on filling the quota in one of the Wards in Philadelphia recently, a proposition was made to sing, "We'll rally round the flag, boys," but was opposed by a gentleman because they had been doing all they could to keep away from it.

Cleanse the Blood.
With corrupt, disordered or vitiated Blood, you are sick all over. It may burst out in Pimples, or Sores, or in some active disease, or it may merely keep you listless, depressed and good for nothing. But you cannot have good health while your Blood is impure. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA purges out these impurities and stimulates the organs of life into vigorous action, restoring the health and energies of the whole system. It rapidly cures a variety of complaints which are caused by impurity of the blood, such as Scrofula, or King's Evil, Tumors, Salt Rheum, Eruptions, Pimples, Blotches, Boils, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter or Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ring Worm, Cancer or Cancerous Tumors, Sore Eyes, Female Diseases, such as Retention, Irregularity, Suppression, Whites, Sterility, also Syphilis or Venereal Diseases, Liver Complaints, and Heart Diseases. Try AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, and see for yourself the surprising purity with which it cleanses the blood and cures these disorders.
During late years the public have been misled by large bottles, pretending to give a quart of Extract of Sarsaparilla for one dollar, most of these have been frauds upon the sick, for they not only contain little if any Sarsaparilla, but often no curative properties whatever, and the bitter disappointment has followed the use of the various extracts of Sarsaparilla, which flood the market, until the name itself has become a synonym with imposition and cheat. Still we call this compound Extract Sarsaparilla, and intend to supply such a remedy as shall rescue the sick from the load of obloquy which rests upon it. We think we have ground for believing it has virtue which are valuable by the ordinary run of the diseases it is intended to cure. We can only assure the sick, that we offer them the best alterative with which we know how to produce, and we have reason to believe, it is by far the most effectual purifier of the blood yet discovered by any body. AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL is so universally known to surpass every other remedy for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease, that it is useless here to recount the evidence of its virtues. The world knows them.
Prepared by J. C. AYER & Co., Lowell, Mass., and sold by Brackett Hutchings, Timothy W. R. Preston, David Kimball, and all druggists.

THURSDAY, MARCH 30, 1865.

TEMPERANCE AND LICENSE.—An assistant editor of the Claremont Eagle writes from Boston, as follows, on the subjects of temperance, law and license. We copy the following paragraph entire, because it gives, in few words, the most modern newspaper panacea for intemperance:

I do not ask you, Mr. Senior, to endorse my views concerning the so-called "prohibitory" liquor enactments of our State, and in other States; but my idea is, the sooner they are repealed the better for good morals and good government. They are practically dead. Public opinion has not sustained them to the extent of enforcing them. No man willingly acts as prosecutor. More "rum" (the generic name for "drinks" of any sort,) is consumed than ever before,* and the law, as applied to large towns where the evils of intemperance are greatest, is a total failure. I see no way of effectually restraining and controlling the sale of "ardent spirits," but by a return to the license system—the same as the sale of gunpowder is licensed. If this were restored, made sufficiently stringent, and placed in the hands of reputable men, whose interest it thenceforth becomes to join the temperance-men in keeping others out of the traffic, and making the use of the article as little hurtful and obnoxious and demoralizing as it is possible in the nature of things for it to be, we should then soon witness a revival of healthy temperance sentiment, a restoration of moral means, and willing obedience to the law, instead of an almost universal indifference and contempt for it.†

NOTES.—*Not more in proportion to our population, than 50 years ago, and indeed not so much.

† The Legislatures of Massachusetts and New Hampshire, if they deem it wise, can go back to a license law, as that of Maine did a few years ago; and they may then, with the people behind them, go back in due time, to prohibition again, as it happened in Maine.—But we would say to the new license reformers, as we said a dozen years ago to the prohibitionists, "Do all the good you can with your law,—but do not expect it to perform impossibilities. I think you have not yet fully estimated the strength of the rum-power of New England, whose seat is in Boston."—The facts in regard to former license laws, do not show that they were easily executed, or willingly obeyed,—nor that the "reputable men" who were in the traffic, did much to keep others out of it. Forty-five years ago, in the town of Boston there were a number of stores and shops, perhaps fifty, certainly not a hundred, which bore the legal inscription, "licensed to retail spirit"—and at the same time a very great majority of places sold it without a license and against law. But there were no convictions and no complaints, tho' drunken men were punished then, as now. In Portsmouth, a little later we had a very slight license tax, with a considerable penalty. Half a dozen shops paid the tax; and two hundred did not pay. And there was no prosecution.

In New York they have a license law, now. But we do not know or believe it is better enforced, or better obeyed, than the stricter laws of Massachusetts or Maine.

We might pile up many such facts to show how improbable it is, that license laws would be better enforced than the present laws on the subject: but it is not worth while to do so. A very short trial of the proposed law, or of any other like scheme, would show those persons who honestly propose it, that the real difficulty is—not that the laws are wrong, but, that the drunkards and the tipplers, and the servants who wait upon them and get their money, are a very large and influential body, a great rum-power, difficult to overcome.

The discussion of the new measures can do no harm; it will do good, by waking up temperance men to urge forward moral measures: and the adoption of any of them, though it might work injury in some places, would probably do good by producing a reaction in favor of temperance.

But leaving human laws out of sight for a moment, let every thinking man consider that Wine is a Mocker, and Strong Drink is raging, and whosoever is deceived thereby is not wise:—consider also that the physical and moral effects of intoxicating drinks are certain to be visited, by fixed Divine or Natural laws, on those who indulge in them, in all ages, and in all conditions of life;—from Noah and Lot, down to the Presidents and Vices of modern days; and from George the Fourth on his throne, down to the last poor tippler who was killed on our railroads, frozen on our wharves, or drowned in our harbor.

"Be not deceived—God is not mocked; that which a man soweth shall he also reap." The less strong drink used the better:—and the only path of perfect safety, is to use none at all. U. T.

— The Boston Journal is informed on good authority, that the rebel spy Kennedy, who was executed in New York on Saturday, was not a graduate of West Point, as has been stated in the New York papers. He entered the Academy, but after remaining there about eighteen months was dismissed at the January examination in 1856, for bad conduct and deficiency in studies.

THE REBELLION.

On Tuesday, at Washington, two hundred and eighteen deserters from Lee's army arrived and took the oath of allegiance. With them came one hundred and forty-nine prisoners, who also desired to take the oath. Their cases were referred to Gen. Halleck.

Richmond papers of Saturday have been received, but they contain no military news. They do not state that Joe Johnston had fallen back to the north bank of the Neuse river.

Gen. Hood's report of his Tennessee campaign is published. He admits that it was a most disastrous one.

Letters received from officers in Gen. Schofield's army state that from the best information it is estimated that Johnston's army is 40,000 strong. He has all of the remnants of Hood's army except the cavalry.

Special advices from Goldsboro', of the 23d inst., state that the railroad is being rapidly completed to that point from Newbern, a distance of sixty miles. Supplies were going forward to Sherman from Kinston. Nothing had been heard of the enemy.

A Newbern letter of the 25th says that "The rebels captured three guns on the first day of the battle at Bentonville, but on the arrival of the 14th and 17th corps, they were driven in all directions, leaving these guns and seven others, besides 7000 prisoners and dead and wounded.

Sherman, with the junction of Terry and Schofield, is now strong enough to sweep everything before him. It is reported that 20,000 of Sherman's men are without shoes, supplies of which have gone forward.

A large amount of cotton and other property has been captured. The enemy burned a thousand bales of cotton at Goldsboro' before we took the place.

The prisoners captured by Sherman are arriving at Newbern; 500 arrived there March 24, and 2000 reached Kinston at the same time. The rest will be forwarded as fast as possible. Reinforcements for Sherman are continually arriving. Deserters and refugees are coming in in great numbers.

Our troops will doubtless take a few days' rest, and Gen. Sherman may make a brief visit to Gen. Grant.

Most of the New York morning papers of Wednesday have details of the fighting in North Carolina, but they contain nothing new. They all agree that the sudden and overwhelming attack of the rebels on the 19th was what Johnston claims as a rebel victory, for they flanked and drove back the 14th corps a mile and a half, but the line was turned the next day by our reinforcements coming up. The rebels were routed and scattered in all directions, and some claim that Sherman took 7000 prisoners.—We deem this a big figure.

On Sunday Pres. Lincoln, Gen. Grant and Adm. Porter reviewed two corps of the army, and witnessed the crossing of the James by Sheridan's cavalry.

It is reported that the detention of Pres. Lincoln at City Point may result in his arranging with Gen. Grant for the reception and consideration of peace propositions from Gen. Lee.

A gross outrage has been perpetrated on wounded officers of the Petersburg fight. They have been charged several dollars for passage from City Point, one dollar for a berth and one dollar for each meal. Many were left on the wharf because they had not money enough to pay their fare.

The Times despatch says the general belief that Lee has sent a considerable force from Richmond to reinforce Johnston is erroneous. Lee cannot afford to weaken his lines about Petersburg and Richmond and has not done so. This Gen. Grant was fully assured of, and the fighting on Saturday proved it.

The rebel cruiser Shenandoah had arrived at Melbourne, but it was thought she was too late to do much mischief, as there was scarcely an American ship trading there.

On Monday night, at City Point, there were six men in council whose names will live in history—President Lincoln, Generals Grant, Sherman, Sheridan, Meade and Ord. Gens. Sherman and Grant spent an hour in private consultation.

Gen. Sherman's lines are now across the railroad running from Goldsboro' to Raleigh. He is said to have 100,000 men.

By the Damascus, at Portland, it is learned that the report by telegraph from Melbourne, that the rebel steamer Shenandoah had burned 11 American ships since leaving Cape Good Hope, is exaggerated. The only vessel she has captured is the schooner Delphine, Capt. Cox, from New York Sept. 21, for Goree. The report of the capture and burning of the bark Delphine, from London for Akyab, is an error.

The Traveller's Washington dispatch of Wednesday says "a rumor of an advance has come up from Petersburg, but it is not known upon what foundation it rests."

GIVES IN AT LAST.—"Druid," the notorious secesh correspondent of the N. Y. World, says in his last letter:—"It is evident that any further prosecution of the war on the part of the South is hopeless."

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— At Haverhill, Monday evening, three barns, two sheds, one horse, one hundred and twenty sheep and twelve cattle, besides a large amount of hay and grain, belonging to ex-Governor Page, were destroyed by fire.

—— Died, in Ossipee, on Tuesday of last week, John F. Roberts, esq., editor and proprietor of the Carroll County Register, published at that place until recently. He was a member of the Freewill Baptist Church at Ossipee, and of the Masonic Fraternity.

—— John K. Abbot of Conway, well known to travellers in the White Mountain region as a driver, and who has been spending the winter at the Crawford House, started from that place on the Saturday evening preceding election day, and walked on snow shoes to Bartlett, for town meeting; no road for horses having been opened this winter from Conway to the Notch. Mr. A. voted for Gov. Smyth.

—— Mr. Nehemiah S. Bean, who was the first to construct a steam fire engine of practical utility, and who has been for several years Superintendent of the Amoskeag Manufacturing Company's Machine Shop in Manchester, has dissolved his connection with that corporation, to take charge of a manufacturing establishment at Lawrence, Mass. The mechanics of M. gave him a parting supper, at which many honored citizens were guests.

—— On Monday forenoon, in Manchester, as Lorenzo Cilley, who is employed at the freight depot of the Concord railroad, was taking account of the loading of wool at the storehouse of the Print Works, and was standing near a large pile, a sack above became detached and fell down, striking him on the head and shoulders, injuring his spine very seriously, paralyzing his body and lower limbs below the ribs.

—— Col. M. T. Donahoe, of the 10th N. H. regiment, who was suspended on the charge of being absent without leave, has been reinstated and is now in command of a brigade.

—— The Amoskeag Manufacturing Co. have an order for a second class steamer for Shiffler Hose Company, Philadelphia. One for a first class for the city of Sandusky, Ohio. One for a first-class for the city of Charlestown, Mass.

INFANTRY ITEM.—The 18th N. H. regiment received an unexpected acquisition to its ranks a few days since. A corporal was taken suddenly ill and sent to the hospital, and in a few hours afterwards presented her comrades with a fine, healthy "raw recruit." That corporal deserves promotion.

PETROLEUM OIL AGENCY.

The California Petroleum Company

In the Summer of 1864, Professor B. Silliman, Jr., examined this locality, now owned by the CALIFORNIA PETROLEUM CO., the purchase of which he strongly recommended to his friends in New York.

The property covers an area of 18,000 acres in one body, on which are at present at least twenty Natural Wells, some of them the largest size. Artesian Wells can be put down, 25 miles in extent The Ranch is an old Spanish Grant of four leagues, and perfect title.

WELLS, FARGO & CO. say that "those who wish to invest in this class of security need not hesitate a moment where to place their money;—here is a good, honest, reliable concern—one which in our judgment will pay."

Shares $40. Par Value $100.

Rensselaer Petroleum Comp'y.

The property consists of 100 acres, in fee simple, on Two Mile Run, near Oil City—a double lease of the Clapp Farm above Oil City, and four acres in fee simple on Pithole Creek, in the heart of the Oil Regions.

Capital $300,000 Shares $8. Par Value $6.

Sheffield Petroleum Company.

This property consists of 225 acres on the Tionesta Creek—seventy-five acres in the same vicinity. This property is cut through by the ten mile Run, branch of the Tionesta, and the Sunbury & Erie Railroad. This property is considered of great value in the market.

Capital $300,000. Shares $1. Par Value $2.

Everett Oil Company,

OF BOSTON.

The property of this Company consists of 200 acres of land owned in fee simple, and two leases as follows: The land is located on Oil Creek, near Centreville Depot. The Oil Creek Railroad passes through this land. It has a river front of over one quarter of a mile. It is rich in oil.

Capital $300,000. Subscription price $5.

President Petroleum Company.

A few shares of this valuable Stock can be had if applied for soon, at the original subscription of $5 per Share. It contains 8,400 acres, very valuable in Oil, Coal and Timber.

New York and Newark PETROLEUM CO.

The property of this Company consists of five parcels of land situated in the very centre of the Celebrated Oil District of Pennsylvania (Venango County), and lays in the immediate vicinity of Oil City, the nearest being two miles and the farthest five; and within one-quarter of a mile of Allenburg River, one piece being on that river—The Company have a twenty years' lease for one-half the Oil.

It is the interest of the Trustees to invest every dollar in sinking Wells and obtaining Oil, and not speculating in stock. HAMILTON E. TOWLE is Engineer and Superintendent of this company.

Capital $500,000. Shares $1.

All the above Stock for sale at the AGENCY,

No. 47 Congress Street, Portsmouth,

where Maps, Drawings and Pamphlets are ready for distribution.

I am fully persuaded that all the above Companies are good, well managed, and must pay good dividends, and are the best investments now in the market.

GREAT SCARCITY OF BOARDING HOUSES.—We are informed by a gentleman who has lately received a Government appointment in this city, (and who by the way is a refined and educated man, and would be an agreeable accession to any respectable family,) that yesterday he visited sixteen different boarding houses for the purpose of securing a place "wherein to appease his appetite and lay his head"—at the last place he was told by the admirable land-lady that "she was full" and that he was the ninth person who had been there on the same errand that morning. It can be added that his chances at this place were even better than at the preceding fifteen. Who says Portsmouth is a dull place?

☞ Mr. Pemberton, who is announced to Lecture on American Mechanics, at the Temple to-night, has had the inestimable advantage of a double "education"—the teachings of a University, and the learning of a trade. He is well known among us, having for some time occupied the responsible position of draftsman in the U. S. Engineer Department at the Navy Yard. He will be remembered by Lyceum-goers, as having recited very clearly and creditably, several patriotic poems, one evening—evincing at once full confidence in our Government, as in himself—a very important requisite, without which it is difficult to see how anybody else could have confidence in him. His subject is one of wide scope, great importance; and though we have never heard the lecture, we are told by those who have, that it is interesting, instructive and eloquent.

The Concert by the Band, will pay for the ticket, at any rate.

REPETITION OF THE LAST LYCEUM ENTERTAINMENT.—At the request of many who attended the closing entertainment of the Lyceum, and of numbers who were unable to be present, the Secretary has been induced to repeat the exercises of that evening, on Thursday eve, April 6, at the Temple, with a new programme and other additions, which will make it one of the finest entertainments ever given in this city. The cost of the closing Lyceum was between two and three hundred dollars. It is therefore hoped that all who have expressed a desire to have a repetition of the entertainment will give it their patronage, and bring along their friends. Further particulars and programme will be given in a day or two. JAMES H. HEAD.

SCHOOL DISTRICT NUMBER ONE, held its annual meeting on Tuesday evening, electing William H. Y. Hackett moderator, and William C. Hatch clerk. John Chase and George Annable were chosen School Committee-men for three years.

The Committee now consists of Horton D. Walker, Tobias H. Miller, Benjamin Hodgdon, Moses Wherren, John H. Folsom, John Chase, and George Annable.

☞ Our advertising columns show that some of our live-best traders are bound to keep up with the times—or rather, down with the prices of the times. Among others, Mr. Bodge offers his large and splendid stock of Watches, Jewelry and Fancy Goods, "for a song"—a "song of sixpence" or more, we suppose. But you just try his prices, and see if you know where they can be beat.

☞ It is stated that Wm. Hook, whom we mentioned as having been last seen in Portland, has enlisted there as a substitute. We understand that some rascally broker put him in, and pocketed the $320. Some one ought to look up this matter, as his family are represented to be in destitute circumstances, and need it.

☞ A young man named Benjamin Burke, residing in this city, employed on the Navy Yard, was suddenly seized with a fit on Wednesday morning, just after landing on the Yard, and falling headlong upon a stick of timber, injured himself severely. He was conveyed to the Hospital.

☞ The new and elegant Ship at Tobey & Littlefield's building yard, which did not launch on Tuesday, was successfully and handsomely launched on Wednesday, and looks finely on the water.

☞ The Lyceum Committee request that if there are any little unknown bills of theirs not paid, they be left at Mr. Head's Store immediately for settlement.

— On the 15th of March the rebels at Mobile appeared prepared to defend their city. Rumors were rife in New Orleans that the rebel troops were preparing to evacuate Mobile to join Lee's army somewhere in East Tennessee.

— Before leaving Washington, the President denied having ever expressed the opinion, as was telegraphed to the New York Herald, that there would be no more fighting. It is because he believes to the contrary that he orders the enforcement of the draft.

— The investigation into the origin and history of the Knights of the Golden Circle, in Illinois, shows that five of the editors and reporters of the Chicago Times were members of the Order.

☞ Attention is called to the advertisement of the New York and Liverpool Petroleum Company. The Prospectus, which will be sent to any address, on application, gives a full account of its operations, with Charter and By-Laws. Misapprehension. — Common tators, said Mrs. Partington, after the preacher had ended his sermon—he having alluded to some commentators of the good book—common tators, she continued, well all sorts of taters this year are poor enough, but what has that to do with the gospel? Not half so much as the J. Monroe Taylor Gold Medal Soap has, for that will make the outside of the platter clean, if not the inside, besides it keeps folks from scolding or complaining; it is the best soap and needs no revival. 117

He is the happiest who does most to make others happy. The inventor of Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus must be the happiest man in existence, for we hazard nothing in saying that the use of the Gold Medal Saleratus cannot fail to make a happy household. Our better half says she does not fear our ever frowning, as long as she can get the genuine Herrick Allen's. We say success to the inventor, and if everybody knew how good it is, no other would be used. A good many of our Merchants have it. The depot is 112 Liberty Street, New York

☞ Mr. Speer, having some property in New Jersey, turned his attention to the cultivation of the Sanaroo, imported from Portugal. It bears a grape whose superior quality, juiciness and richness in saccharine matter is unexcelled by that of the Catawba. After numerous experiments in fermentation, Mr. Speer has produced a wine which will immortalize his name and prove a new honor to America.—[Boston Traveller.

This wine can be found at druggists, &c.

A TRUE AIM—It has not been the aim of the proprietor of Hunnewell's great preparations, advertised on our inside columns, to base a false reputation by long and unmeaning advertising, but a real one by true results, to which all who try them will cheerfully assent. See advertisement.

U. S. 7-30 LOAN.

By authority of the Secretary of the Treasury, the undersigned has assumed the General Subscription Agency for the sale of United States Treasury Notes, bearing seven and three-tenths per cent. interest, per annum, known as the Seven-Thirty Loan.

These Notes are issued under date of August 15th, 1864, and are payable three years from that time, in currency, or are convertible at the option of the holder into

U. S. 5-20 Six per cent.
GOLD-BEARING BONDS.

These bonds are now worth a premium of nine per cent., including gold interest from Nov., which makes the actual profit on the 7-30 loan, at current rates, including interest, about ten per cent. per annum, besides its exemption from State and municipal taxation, which adds from one to three per cent. more, according to the rate levied on other property. The interest is payable semi-annually by coupons attached to each note, which may be cut off and sold to any bank or banker.

The interest amounts to

One cent per day on a $50 note.
Two cents " " " " $100 "
Ten " " " " " $500 "
20 " " " " " $1000 "
$1 " " " " " $5000 "

Notes of all the denominations named will be promptly furnished upon receipt of subscriptions.

This is
THE ONLY LOAN in the Market
now offered by the Government, and it is confidently expected that its superior advantages will make it the Great Popular Loan of the People.

Less than $200,000,000 remain unsold, which will probably be disposed of within the next 60 or 90 days, when the notes will undoubtedly command a premium, as has uniformly been the case on closing the subscriptions to other Loans.

In order that citizens of every town and section of the country may be afforded facilities to take the loan, the National Banks, State Banks, and Private Bankers throughout the country have generally agreed to receive subscriptions at par. Subscribers will select their own agents, in whom they have confidence, and who only are to be responsible for the delivery of the notes for which they receive orders.

Corner Congress & Vaughan Streets.

DR. URANN,
PRACTICAL PHYSICIAN,
Who has made so many wonderful and instantaneous cures in Boston, New York Hartford, Springfield, and more recently in New Hampshire and Vermont, has taken
ROOMS FOR THE PRESENT AT THE
FRANKLIN HOUSE,
PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

DR. URANN'S treatment is such that by it
are afflicted in one or two treatments, and many are entirely cured by one, as the following will testify:—

W. P. HOMER, 50 and 52 Federal Street, Boston, for many years was troubled with Heart complaint, so bad that at times he was unable to attend to his business; after one treatment he was able to run up stairs, work in his garden and attend to his business; has since gained 12 pounds.

MRS. ELLEN COREY, of Cambridgeport, Mass—Sciatica; so lame that she could not walk without assistance; after one treatment of fifteen minutes was well as ever, and could walk a mile free from pain.

MRS. SARAH F. STILES, Lowell, Mass., had Fever Sores on both legs of twelve years standing; her right ankle measured eighteen inches, and was as blue as indigo; she could not move her foot; after one treatment it was reduced one-half, she could move her foot freely and is getting well rapidly, her left ankle all healed.

Prof. G. M. LARSON, 1 Dix Place, Boston, troubled with Spinal difficulty, was in much pain; relieved by one treatment.

Miss HANNAH COOL, Campton, N. H.—Spinal difficulties; was unable to walk but a short distance or do any kind of work; perfectly cured, and is now the picture of health.

Miss C. FROTHINGHAM, Boston, Portrait Painter, was troubled with great depression of spirits, at times was unable to attend to her favorite employment: was entirely cured, and she expresses herself, is "made over anew."

Mrs. J. BROWN, Boston, a severe cough and pains through her lungs, cured.

Capt. W. H. LAMPSON'S child, Lowell, Mass. The child was pronounced by physicians as hopelessly idiotic. The child could neither walk or sit alone, and took no notice of anything. After one treatment he began to improve, and has so far gained as to be able to walk alone, can talk, takes notice of everything, laughs and sings, and appears perfectly well.

Mrs. HINCKLEY, wife of A. T. Hinckley, of State Arsenal, Hartford, Ct., troubled with hip complaint and contraction of the cords of the legs; could not get her heel to the floor within four inches; had to be brought down stairs in arms; after one treatment of twenty minutes was able to run up and down stairs with ease, and is now able to walk the streets.

Mr. J. TURNER, Hartford, Ct, troubled for many years with loss of memory; could not attend to business; had been under the best medical treatment in England with no beneficial effect; after one treatment was perfectly restored

Miss MARTHA ST. JOHN, Simsbury, Ct., was confined to her bed from spinal difficulty and prolapsus uteri; had not been dressed for more than a year; in twenty minutes she was enabled to dress and walk out to one of the neighbors, a distance of about a half mile; she has since been to Hartford and to church, and is improving daily.

Mrs. HENRY LOOMIS, Southwick, Mass., troubled with fits and spinal difficulties, could not walk without much difficulty, perfectly cured by one treatment.

Mrs. WM. JENKINS, Unionville, Conn., troubled for over two years with chronic liver complaint and rheumatism, had a large lump on her side which was very painful; was unable to lie down. Cured by one treatment, and is as well as ever.

JOSEPH H. ELDRIDGE, formerly of the Hartford Police, more recently on Hartford and New Haven Railroad, was obliged to give up his business on account of a severe cough and bleeding, perfectly cured and can now do a good day's work.

LYDIA L. FULLER, of East Wallingford, Vt., had entirely lost the use of her limbs after a severe attack of diptheria, was restored by one treatment, and is as well as ever.

FANNY DAVIS, of Moretown, Vt., had been confined to her bed for more than five years—was not able to stand—after one treatment of less than an hour, was enabled to walk around the room, and is now quite well.

Miss HUTCHINSON, daughter of Judge Hutchinson of West Randolph, Vt, was troubled with fits, having some days from fifty to one hundred. She was unable to eat anything but liquids—was not able to stand. After one treatment she began to improve, until now, she is the picture of health, able to walk as well as any one, eats hearty and has no fits.

SOUTHWICK, Mass., July 21, 1862.

DR URANN,—Dear Sir:—I suppose it is ever pleasure to you to learn the convalescent state your patients; notwithstanding my long thirty years of almost absolute confinement to my bed unable most of the time to converse with or see any company, and for over two years unable to feed myself—yet with this painful picture of human wretchedness which made life almost a burden, since your treatment of my spine, on the 7th day of June, I have been able to take my meals at the table, with my family, ride out daily, and converse freely with all; and without some new misfortune befalls me, I shall soon be able to interest myself in the labors of my profession, at least to preach one sermon a Sabbath. Without flattery, in my honest judgment, there is no better treatment in the hands of men for the Spinal Disease than the one which you honor, and as my heart beats with sympathy with all Spinal sufferers, I only wish they knew the wonderful utility of your treatment, and avail themselves of the same. Yours with respect and gratitude,

M. H. RISING.

DR. URANN'S TERMS
Are such that all can avail themselves of his treatment.

☞ Persons at a distance who are unable to visit the Doctor, by sending particulars of their cases, with one dollar enclosed, will receive advice and learn whether their cases can be treated at a distance. In all cases, state age and sex.

Portsmouth, Feb. 22, 1865.

CORY O'LANUS ON FAMILY AFFAIRS.—The Brooklyn Eagle has a correspondent who knows a thing or two. Hear him:

It is a good thing for a man to pay attention to his family. Provided he has one. Married men generally have. So have I. It is the natural consequence of getting married.

Families, like everything else, are more expensive than they used to be. Shoes and clothing cost a sight nowadays, and children have mostly good appetites. Mine have.

Boys will be boys. They can't help it. They are born so. It is their destiny to tear their trowsers, and wear out two pair of boots per month, keeping their ma constantly employed, like a besieged garrison repairing breaches, and their unfortunate pa paying our currency, under strong conviction that "there is nothing like leather"—to wear out.

I tried copper toed boots on my heir. That copper wore well, and I have an idea that copper boots would be good, but I could not find a metallic shoemaker to carry it out. Mrs. O'L. also became attached to copper, and thought it would be an improvement and save sewing if boys pantaloons were like ships and teakettles, copper bottomed. The suggestion was A No. 1 but we haven't tried it yet. Copper so ran in my head at the time, that O'Pake called me a copperhead. This was the origin of the term.

Mrs. O'L. is a managing woman.—She makes trowsers for our son, Alexander Themistocles, out of mine, when I get through with them. He can get through three pair to my one, ordinarily, and I am obliged to wear out my clothes faster than I used to, to keep him supplied. I once suggested that it might be within the resources of art and industry to make him a pair out of new material. Mrs. O'L said positively that it couldn't be done.—It would ruin us. She concluded to cut up a pair I had paid $12 for.

I subsequently found upon inquiry that the new cloth for that purpose could have been bought for about two dollars.

I ventured to tell Mrs. O'L., expecting a triumph of male foresight over female lack of judgment. She gave me a look of scorn, as she wanted to know if I had asked the price on "trimmings." Trimmings were were too much for me. I have been afraid of trimmings ever since. Trimmings, I suppose, means buttons and things.

In addition to clothes, the scion of our house runs up other expenses. But what is the expense compared with the joy a father feels, when after a days laborious exercise at the office, wrestling with a steel pen, he returns to his domestic retreat, and is met at the gate by a smiling cherubim, who in tones that go to his fond parent's heart, and make him forget his troubles, with "Hello, pa, give me a penny." Your hand instinctively goes to the seat of your affections, your pocket, and draws forth the coveted coin, which is promptly invested in molasses candy.

AMERICAN NAILS.—The iron trade circular of Birmingham contains an extract from a letter received from one of the British Province, which says "so inferior are the English made nails that no carpenter will undertake any contract without being provided with American nails," and it suggests that the English must make better nails if they would gain a market.

—The expression of "A 1," applied popularly to everything of the first quality, is copied from the symbols of the British and Foreign shipping list of the Lloyds. A, designates the character of the hull of the vessel; the figure 1, the efficient state of her anchors, cables and stores; when these are insufficient, in quantity or quality, the figure 2 is used.

To Teachers of Public and Private Schools and Students of Elocution:

The American Union Speaker,

By JOHN D. PHILBRICK, Superintendent of the Public Schools of Boston.

Containing Standard and Recent Selections in Prose and Poetry for Recitation and Declamation. With introductory Remarks on Elocution, and Explanatory Notes. Crown Octavo, half morocco. 618 pages. Price, $2.25.

The deservedly high reputation of the author of this Work, as an American Elocutist, is a sufficient guarantee of its excellence and usefulness. The gems of old pieces are here retained, while enough that is new has been admitted to satisfy the taste for novelty. Among them, a comprehensive variety of modern, patriotic and popular selections,—most of them called forth by our national crisis,—will tend to inspire a national enthusiasm and an undying love of country. mc11

The property of this Company is located on "Coal Run Creek," Meigs County, State of Ohio, about 10 miles from Athens, containing one hundred and five acres of land. A large number of wells are successfully worked in the vicinity, some of which are paying handsome dividends.—This Company propose to commence operations at once, and entertain no doubt that at an early day they will be able to pay a handsome per ce ntage on the investment. The known ability a nd commercial standing of the officers of this Company afford a sufficient guaranty that the affairs will be conducted in a manner to secure the confidence of those who are disposed to invest in it.

The tract of land adjoining the property of this Company has passed into the hands of capitalists, who have sent out an experienced superintendent to commence operations at once, and their first order for machinery was $15,000. Our property has been examined under instructions from Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, who pronounces the coal, which is in abundance, to be of the best quality, yielding 80 gallons of oil to the ton, and has no doubt, from the location and position of the property, that it will be found valuable in the production of oil. Most companies have to pay very high prices for their coal, all of which we save; oil can be manufactured from the coal upon the property, at a cost not exceeding ten cents per gallon, and it is proposed to commence the manufacture in connection with the sinking of wells. One dollar will buy a share of this stock, which is the par value, and all benefits derived from the lands, either by sales of oil, land or products of any kind, are to be divided among the stockholders, and in addition $200,000 worth of valuable, useful and desirable property will be given to the stockholders, as soon as all the shares are disposed of. The Company adopt this course for the purpose of disposing of their stock at the par value, rather than to sell it, as many companies do, at a subscription price, which is usually one-half. Thus, it will be perceived that every stockholder owning ten shares, for example, will be sure to realize a handsome dividend when the property is divided; a plan which is entirely honorable, and in all respects perfectly legal.

The property to be distributed among the stockholders will be equal to any in the market, and will consist of the following described articles:

$5000 to purchase a HOUSE in Boston or vicinity.
$5500 in U. S. 5-20 BONDS, CERTIFICATES of $500 each.

What the "Press" say of us.

GREAT GIFT DISTRIBUTION.—A rare opportunity is offered for obtaining watches, chains, diamond rings, silverware, etc., by Messrs Arrandale & Co., at No. 167 Broadway. They have an immense stock of articles, varying in value, and all are offered at one dollar each. The distribution is very fairly done—you agree to take a certificate of a certain article, enclosed in an envelope, and are not required to pay your dollar unless you are satisfied with the article, which will certainly be worth more than that amount, and may be $50 or $100. An excellent mode this of investing a dollar.—Sunday Times, N. Y. City, Feb. 19, 1865.

Messrs. Arrandale & Co. have long been personally known to us, and we believe them to be every way worthy of public confidence.—N. Y. Sabbath Journal, June 11, 1864.

We have inspected, at the office of Arrandale & Co.'s Agency for Euro can Manufacturing Jewellery, a large assortment of fashionable and valuable jewelry of the newest patterns. We also noticed a large quantity of silver plate, and understand that the whole of these newly imported articles are to be disposed of on a novel principle, giving great advantages to buyers, and affording extensive employment to agents. We know the firm in question to be very respectable and thoroughly worthy of public confidence and recommend our friends to read their advertisement.—N. Y. Albion, Sept. 3, 1864.

By Messrs. Arrandale & Co.'s arrangement, the advantages must be on the customer, for he has everything to gain, and nothing comparatively to lose. He knows what he will get for his dollar beforehand, and the worst he can get it in is not satisfied.—N. Y. Weekly News, Aug. 6, 1864.

EMPLOYMENT FOR LADIES.—The most eligible and profitable employment we have heard of for ladies is the sale of certificates for the "Great Gift Distribution" of Arrandale & Co. A lady of our acquaintance has been very successful in this way, not only in filling her own purse, but also in doing a good turn to those to whom she sold the Certificates, as will be seen from our advertising columns. Gentlemen can also be thus engaged.—N. Y. Sunday Mercury, Aug. 14, 1864.

In our column, the reader will find an advertisement of Arrandale & Co's Gift Distribution watches, Jewelry, and silver-ware. In payment of that advertisement we received a watch and the jewelry advertised, and we are warranted in saying that, both in finish and quality, they quite exceeded our expectations. They turned out to be just what they had been represented.—True Democrat, (Lewistown,) Aug. 17, 1864.

The British Whig of Kingston, C. W., says, Nov. 26, 1864; one of our young subscribers became an agent for Arrandale & Co., and by request built some twenty articles, text as prizes for her agency, to this office for inspection, and without hesitation we can state that each and all of the articles were worth treble the amount of cost to the recipients, and some of them six times.

We have seen some very pretty specimens of Table and Tea Spoons, Gold Watches, Ladies' Chains, Pins, Bracelets, etc., which have been sent by Arrandale & Co., to this place for 10 cents each.—Angelica Reporter, N. Y. State, Feb 15, 1865.

Arrandale & Co., Manufacturers' Agents, No. 167 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

Announce that all the above list of goods will be sold for One Dollar each.

In consequence of the great stagnation of trade in the Manufacturing districts of England, thro' the war having cut off the supply of cotton, a large quantity of Valuable Jewelry, originally intended for sale in the English Market, has been sent off for sale in this country, TO BE SOLD AT ANY SACRIFICE! Under these circumstances, ARRANDALE & CO., acting as agents for the principals, have purchased the entire stock, resolved upon a GREAT GIFT DISTRIBUTION, subject to the following regulations:

Certificates of the various articles are first put into envelopes, sealed up and mixed; and when ready for sale, are put out without regard to choice, and sent by mail, for only a Dollar each. On receipt of the certificate, you will see what you are to have, and then it is at your option to send the dollar and take the article named. Purchasers may thus obtain a Gold Watch, Diamond Ring, or any set of Jewelry on our list for ONE DOLLAR.

Send 25 Cents for a Certificate.

In all transactions by mail, we shall charge for forwarding the Certificates, paying postage and doing the business, 25 cents each, which must be enclosed when the Certificate is sent for. Five Certificates will be sent for $1, seven for $2, thirty for $5 sixty-five for $10, and a hundred for $15

AGENTS.—We want agents in every region, and in every town and County in the country, and those acting as such will be allowed 10 cents on every Certificate ordered by them, provided their remittance amounts to one dollar.—Agents will collect 25 cents for every Certificate, and remit in cents to us, either in cash or in postage stamps. THE MAGEE
COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber would especially call the attention of the public to the
MAGEE COOK STOVE,
as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We invite all those in want of the very best Stove in the market, to examine the

MAGEE COOK.

Also on hand an assortment of the different sizes
—of the—
MAGEE PARLOR STOVE
with and without ovens, which are too well known to need any recommendation.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING
FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pots used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

This stock is bona fide, full paid, with no possibility of future assessments and no personal liability. The absolute value and actual cash cost of this property are so great as to preclude its being offered with the allurement of a reduction from a nominal par value.

It has been selected, at different times during the past year, by several old and experienced oil-workers and residents of Oil Creek, who are familiar with the history, purposes and value of every well and piece of property in that region. Several of the producing interests were originally acquired for the purpose of holding as private investments and sources of regular income.

These gentlemen have, however, been induced to combine their various interests, with additional property, into one strong, sound, and reliable company. Each of them will retain an interest as stockholders, and hold their stock as a permanent investment. Residing in the oil region, and directly concerned in the success of the company, they are peculiarly fitted to look closely after its operations; thus affording a guaranty of watchful supervision, and faithful and energetic management possessed probably by no other oil company ever formed. Two of these gentlemen are on the board of Direction, and one Superintendent of the Company.

The stock is sold to pay for the property, and to furnish a working capital to open up the large and promising tracts yet waiting to be developed. The managers start with the intention of paying dividends quarterly and from actual earnings only. Paying quarterly affords time to sell the oil produced to the best advantage, and is believed to be in all respects the soundest policy.

The dividends will beyond question, be not only immediate, but regular, permanent and remunerative. We wish to avoid holding out any inducements not warranted by the same moderate and reasonable calculations that would be made in embarking in any legitimate business enterprise. It is safe, however, to assure subscribers of handsome quarterly dividends from the present wells of the company; which will moreover, we confidently believe, be very largely increased by new developments to be rapidly made upon our extensive and valuable properties.

We invite attention to, and the most careful examination of, the following list of properties, lands, and leases, the locations of which are all shown upon the map; believing that none more valuable and promising have ever been offered upon so small a capital, and none that have given greater assurance of permanent value and large returns. We invite subscriptions to an investment, and guarantee the most energetic and skilful efforts to develop the property thoroughly, as well as careful and faithful management.

Summary of Properties.

Two tracts of good boring land, one hundred and one hundred and four acres respectively, in fee, situated south of Oil City, in Venango county, in the immediate neighborhood of the Adamantine, Lee, and other large wells just struck on the East Sandy and Alleghany rivers.

Important interests and Leases on the best and most carefully selected properties on Oil Creek,—on the Hassan Flats,—Cornplanter Run,—Rynd Flats,—Cherry Tree Run,—Clapp & Hassan, Widow McClintock, Foster, and two lots on the celebrated Hyde & Egbert Farm.

In all, fifteen wells, five of them producing seven down from two to five hundred feet and still boring, and three just commencing, with room on the leases for several more wells.

Also a good Refinery, in complete working order, capable of refining 130 barrels per day, at a profit of one to five hundred dollars.

Also engines, tools, tubing, tanks, and improvements, the actual cash cost of which was $56,500, and worth to-day $75,000,—the whole comprising a property unsurpassed for present value and prospective increase.

The Chronicle.

☞ Speaking of frauds in Wool-packing, the Com. Bulletin says they "have heard, this season, numerous complaints in regard to introduction of refuse, and in some cases of foreign materials, in lots of wool sent to market from the rural districts of New England. Large consignments of what purported to be washed, and what from external inspection appeared to be good conditioned staple, have been received by commission merchants, which, when opened, have been found to contain all the tag-locks and barn-yard filth incidental to the fleece in its natural state; and it has not unfrequently happened that sweepings, dirt, stones, and other weighy matter, including rubbish of all descriptions, have been discovered in large quantities, enveloped in the interior of the packages."

Why, what rascals! they are as bad as their Southern cotton-packers, ain't they? The Bulletin goes on to say that "this fraud is not always, nor we believe often, on the part of those country operators who buy wool to sell again; but, we are sorry to say, is in most cases traceable back to the wool-growers themselves; and we are still more sorry to say, that these fraudulent practices have become quite common in some localities of our own section of the country, among the farmers of Vermont, New Hampshire and Maine."

☞ Non-combatants are giving up the Confederacy in despair, and the soldiers belonging to North Carolina regiments are deserting by the score and even hundred. Of over nine hundred men of the 67th North Carolina regiment, whom the rebel Col. Whitford brought up the other day to reinforce Hoke, over six hundred have dispersed and skedaddled to their homes in various parts of the State. In the 65th North Carolina the defection has been almost as bad. All along Schofield's march squads, and sometimes nearly entire companies, would give themselves up to our cavalry, simply asking to be paroled, that they might return to the farm and the cabin from which a remorseless conscription had torn them.

THE DROWNED BELLS.—There is a romantic story told of Fornabury church, the parish in which Boscastle and its harbor lie. There were no bells to the church; and as the inhabitants heard the sound of the musical peal at Tintagel, when the winds wafted it across the sea, they became anxious to have some of their own. Their wishes were warmly seconded by Lord Bottreaux, who lived at the castle; and in due time the bells were cast, and ready to be brought home. The vessel which was to bring the long wished-for freight appeared in sight, and the inhabitants came out upon the rocks to watch its entrance into the harbor. The pilot, who had charge of the ship, hearing the distant sound of his own native bells at Tintagel, gave thanks to God that he should be on shore that night. "Thank the good ship; thank God ashore," said the captain. "Nay," said the pilot, "we should thank God everywhere." "Thou art a fool. Thank thyself, with a fair wind and a steady helm." So they talked, the captain venting his rage in oaths and curses, the pilot firm in his dependence upon God. As the vessel neared Willapack Point and the dismal cliffs of the Black Point, clouds began to rise; and while the many eager faces were watching, one of those frightful storms came on, in which the vessel became unmanageable, struck upon the rocks, and freight, men, captain, all were lost, except the pilot, who was washed ashore upon a plank. In the pauses of the storm, which was long and violent, the clang of the bells was distinctly heard; and still, they say, the buried bells give their mournful chime in the frequent storms which desolate the coast.—Once a Week.

A singular robbery took place at Louisville, Monday afternoon. The office of L. Bland, Banker, was entered by three men, who proposed negotiation for silver, in the progress of which one of the men presented a pistol and drove Bland into the safe and locked the door upon him. The men then decamped with all the money outside the safe, estimated according to some accounts at $45,000. Bland was released after nearly two hours confinement, by a locksmith, who cut the lock from the safe door.

BUTTER.—The St. Johnsbury Caledonian says that it is reported that a Boston merchant formerly from that county, had 10,000 pounds of butter on hand when it suddenly dropped some 30 cents. A good many farmers are in a similar fix on a smaller scale. The best time to sell produce, or anything else, is when one is offered a fair price for it.

A mother trying to get her little daughter of three years old to sleep one night, said to her:—"Anna, why dont you try to go to sleep?" I am trying," she replied. "But you have not shut your eyes." "Well, can't help it; ums cums unbuttoned."

FRIDAY, MARCH 31, 1865.

THE REBELLION.

A Washington evening paper has published a startling sensation item to the effect that Gen. Lee has asked Gen. Grant for an interview, with a view to arrange terms of peace, and that President Lincoln and Generals Grant, Sherman, Sheridan and Ord were in consultation at City Point on Monday, at which meeting Lee's request was discussed. No further foundation for the story is known than the fact that on Monday General Sherman, Gen. Grant and the President had an interview.

Mr. Grundy, a member of the North Carolina rebel Legislature, has just reached his home from Raleigh, for the purpose of taking the oath of allegiance to the United States. He says Johnston's forces, all told, will not reach one half of Sherman's army, and that the combined armies of Johnston and Lee will not outnumber Sherman and Schfield. He also states that the present Legislature of N. C. openly admit there is no possible hope for the Confederacy to succeed, and they have met under rebel auspices for the last time. He thinks that if Johnston makes a stand it will be at Rolinville, six miles northeast of Raleigh, as that place, although it does not cover Raleigh, is a position of great natural strength.

In this connexion rumors come along, that Jeff. Davis hopes to get peace through the State authorities of North Carolina. A general pardon and restoration of property by President Lincoln is the offset Davis requires for the abandonment of slavery. On these conditions he is willing to unite with the North in a foreign war under one flag,—and much more of the same sort, worth but little.

Gen. Sherman has already returned to his army.

No fighting has taken place at the front of Grant's army since Saturday, but heavy picket firing and occasional cannonading has occurred on our left.

The rebels keep up a bold front, and are very watchful, evidently anticipating a movement on the part of Gen. Grant.

In Tennessee, the U. S. forces under command of Major General Stoneman, have in their rapid advance recovered over one hundred miles of railroad, and are driving the scattered troops of the enemy before them. Gen. Stoneman will soon strike the enemy where they least expect.

The N. Y. Herald's Army of the Potomac correspondence says the rebels made an attempt to retake their lost line on our left Monday morning. A party pretending to be deserters were allowed to approach the line, when a heavier force made a sudden attack on the front of one division of the Sixth Corps. A part of our men were pushed back a short distance, when they rallied and repulsed the enemy at all points and inflicted severe loss upon them. Our loss trifling. The entire first line of rebel works captured by the Second and Sixth corps on Saturday is still held, and is rendered so strong that any effort of the enemy to recover it must prove futile.

The Herald's correspondent says the rebel loss in front of the 9th corps alone, on Saturday, was 5000. Sheridan and his boys are off again and will soon be heard from.

The Herald has a report from Washington, that Lee, since the Saturday fight, has renewed his request for a military convention to agree upon terms for a cessation of hostilities.

It is understood Sherman's plans for calling off Gen. Johnston's army from al available sources of supplies are complete, and Grant will compel Lee either to starve his troops in Richmond or come out and risk an engagement. In view of these matters, people in Washington believe that peace will be agreed upon between Grant and Lee.

The Times' special Washington despatch says: "Information from the Army of the Potomac Wednesday night says the whole army was in motion on Friday morning, and that Gen. Grant and staff were to move in the afternoon.

A Goldsborough (N. C.) correspondent, under date of the 25th, says the rebels have about 12,000 cavalry under Wheeler and Hampton in our front. Yesterday they hanged three of our foragers within three miles of our outposts. Kilpatrick engaged a part of this force yesterday. Result not known.

GOLD, Thursday, 150 3-4 to 149 7-8.

— Gen. Butler is in Washington, for the purpose, his friends say, of settling up his financial matters with the Government.—It is stated that he will not accept the position of Chief of the Freedmen's Bureau.

— Twenty thousand of Sherman's army were barefooted when they reached Goldsboro.

— A doctor recently gave the following prescription for a sick lady: "A new bonnet, a Cashmere shawl and a pair of gaiter boots." The lady has entirely recovered.

"TERRITORIAL DEMOCRACY."—D'Israeli, in a recent debate in the English House of Commons, thus indicated his perception of the power which lies at the foundation of our Government, and of the difference between American and European democracy:

The democracy of America most not be confounded with the democracy of the Old World. It is not formed of the scum of turbulent cities, neither is it merely a section of an exhausted middle class which speculates in stocks and calls that progress. [Loud cheers and laughter.] It is a territorial democracy, if I may use this epithet without offending the right honorable gentleman opposite. [Hear, and laughter.] Aristotle, who has taught us most of the wise things we know, never said a wiser one than this—that the cultivators of the soil are the least inclined to sedition and violent courses. [Hear.] Now, being as territorial democracy, their character has been formed and influenced in a manner by the property with which they are connected, and by the pursuits they follow, and a sense of responsibility arising from the reality of their possessions may much influence their political conduct. [Hear.] And I believe they are very much more inclined to welcome the returning laborers to their fields, to see around them the products of the earth, and to behold happiness in those households to which they are so much attached, than to plunge into the miseries of a new and terrible war. [Hear, hear.]

PRESIDENT LINCOLN'S SECOND INAUGURAL.—All copperheads and blockheads who have sneered at the inaugural or its author,—and who at the same time have looked on the London Times as their oracle, are requested to read the following views of the Times on that document, and on the President.

The Times editorially reviews Mr. Lincoln's inaugural, and says it reveals his disposition and opinions more completely than many of the verbose compositions which have proceeded from his predecessors. It admits the President fulfills the duties which destiny has imposed on him, with firmness and conscientiousness, but without any feeling of exhileration at the success of the National arms, or sanguine anticipation of coming prosperity. His address appears to be intended to repress the more sanguine anticipations of the Northern people, and to intimate that fresh exertions and sacrifices will be necessary for the attainment of their object.

The Daily News says the address is humane, modest and firm in tone.

PATIENCE RECOMMENDED.—The Manchester Union says:—

Our readers will gladly excuse the absence of much political matter. "The situation" is beyond anybody's control; and we know of no better way than to wait. If the time ever comes when talking may be useful, our readers know very well where we shall be found, and we hope to find them exactly where they have voted for so many years.

This reminds Uncle Toby of an old couplet, which ran thus:

O dear, O dear, I grieve, I grieve,
For the good old days of Adam and Eve.

As well as we can remember, those old days did not return then, and we believe they have never come back. We think it is wise as above advised, to wait; and if they should wait till the days of Adam and Eve return, the country would suffer no detriment.

"THE GOOD TIME COMING."—The Concord Patriot is not very well satisfied with the result of the late election, and thinks "it will afford no great satisfaction to the Democracy generally." Nevertheless, it assures them the "Democratic party is not dead;" it is not "demoralized;" it is not "cowed;" it is not "killed;"—all of which the Democracy aforesaid, most of whom have been looking up from the last ditch in which they fell, ever since the election, wondering "if that thunder struck any where else," will be glad to hear. They will also be glad to hear from the Patriot that "success was neither attainable or desirable at this time, as no considerable benefit could be effected by it"—a confession which is as true as it is ingenuous; but "when the time arrives," we are told, "when the patriotic Democracy of New Hampshire see an opportunity to benefit their country," &c. &c., they mean to come out "in their their old courage, and old strength," and do something terrible—all of which the Republicans would do well to make a note of and stand from under.—Dover Enq.

WHERE THE SPECIE IS.—The Providence Press has the following: "An Irish woman in the north part of the city has had for some time a board of silver in her house amounting to about two hundred dollars. St. Patrick's day, while absent at church, a nephew—a lad fourteen or fifteen years old—entered her house and abstracted her treasure. He lived for some days riotously, but the good dame discovered her loss and brought the young thief and spendthrift to grief. Accidents like this discover where the specie is."

REBEL RAIDERS.—The Commercial's Montreal dispatch says the raiders were refused to be surrendered, on the ground of belligerent rights. Judge Smith held that the treaty was no longer binding on the contracting parties, as the United States refused to recognize the belligerent character of the Confederates. He also held that Gen. Dix's order to shoot them down recognized the raiders as belligerents—not robbers. The raiders were remanded until Saturday on a second charge of assault with intent to murder. They were also arrested on a charge of violating the neurality laws.

CHICAGO, March 24.

Dear Chronicle:—One gets a complete idea of anything, only in viewing it in all its phases. Booth is not always Hamlet. So with this great country of ours. One finds new attractions and novelties in every part at different seasons. From hence Eastward just now, however, there is more of novelty than attraction, and much more of water than of either! The great fall of snow throughout New York State, melting under the genial warmth of early Spring, has swollen every mountain rivulet into a rushing Mississippi, and converted every field into a Lake Erie.

About four nights ago your correspondent commenced a progressive trip in a N. Y. Central sleeping car; and awakening in the morning to find the car doing the persistent stationary, naturally sought the "reason why." Opening the car door, the coupling and platform of the car were found to be under water! The engine fires of course were out, and the train standing in a causeway two miles from Syracuse, in five feet of water, some of which trickled in under the car door! We were relieved from the dilemma (and water) by attaching to a line of empty freight cars, with an engine at the farther end, sufficiently removed from the deepest water to retain its fires.

The flood is complete over all the country east of Buffalo; rails and telegraph poles uprooted, and all communication destroyed. Batavia was quite washed out; boats plying in the streets and over fields; fences and hencoops converted into transports, and the water encircling the house and even church doors, most always at the summit of a tiresome flight of steps. The iron trestle-bridge at Utica was swept away, and that over the Genesee river at Rochester was swept over the falls just below, following in the footsteps of its illustrious predecessor, Mr Samuel Patch. The Genesee rose four feet in three hours. Several bridges on the Erie Railway were swept off,—and that on the "Central," at Syracuse, would have been lost but for the thought of running upon it a train of heavily loaded coal-cars.

The flood covered the fences completely, and for miles stretched out in very respectable oceans on each side of the track. I had the good fortune of being on the last train which has come "through" in three days. This side of Cleveland the country is in good condition, as the fall of snow was comparatively light.

I learn from a gentleman from up the Ohio that wrecks of several houses have been swept down the river, and that fears were entertained of many lives lost. The loss throughout the flooded sections will be immense, and much of it will fall among the poorer population whose residences have stood upon the low country, most seriously affected by the water.

The detention to trains at this season of large freight and passenger press, is also an important item, and the pecuniary loss to railroad corporations will be large; but for all these losses and disasters and deprivations we can find satisfactory compensation by ruminating upon the sublime and elevated consideration that it is fine weather for ducks! H.

— The rebels used to tell us that the Yankee fire of shells and shot made no impression on Charleston; that we might keep up the fire till doom's day, and Charleston would remain infact. But now, to cover over their chagrin, they tell us to have Charleston, is nothing, it is only a mere shell, a ruined place.

THE SPEAKERSHIP.—The next Legislature will comprise more able men than have been returned for several years, and already the chances for the speakership of the House are being canvassed. The Concord Statesman says "the following candidates are named for the position: Samuel M. Wheeler of Dover, Austin F. Pike of Franklin, Aaron W. Sawyer of Nashua, James O. Adams of Manchester, and Wm. H. Hackett of Portmouth." We should like to see Maj. Hackett occupying the position for which he is so well qualified.

"WIDELY KNOWN."—It is generally supposed that the Websters, Palmerstons, Gortaschoffs, Metternichs, and Garribaldis of politics are the men of world-wide renown; and so they are where newspapers circulate, but not much beyond. One of our friends lately returned from China, amuses us with the recital of his journey inland for some distance, where the enquiry oftenest made when he became known as an American, was whether he knew or had ever seen the great chemist of his country, Dr. Ayer, that made the medicines. They use his remedies—many of them have been cured by them—and they speak of him as if he occupied the whole of America, or were at least the great feature of it. A mandarin who had been cured of a malignant ulcer on the hip by his Sarsaparilla, seemed to consider it our principal article of export, and its inventor one of the few men this continent had ever produced worthy the attention of Chinamen.—New York News.

BAILEY'S

Spring Roll and Cog Wheel WASHING AND WRINGING MACHINES.

WRINGING MACHINES HAVE BECOME AN institution in the land. Thousands and tens of thousands have been sold during the last three years, and they all save an immense amount of labor and cost of material.

We now offer to the public a Machine that will WASH as well as WRING the Clothes. It is very light and strongly made, the Rolls are large and so fastened with screws as to be secure from turning on the shaft. The Cog Wheels give power, and the Spring Roll makes it do its work with ease and perfection. The Machine is secured to a bench, independent of the wash tubs; consequently there is no trouble of fastening it every time it is used.

To any person who wishes to obtain an article to do both washing and wringing in a Public House or Private Family, we say give this a trial. If not satisfactory, the money will be refunded.—Call and see it.

Young Pigs
FOR SALE at the City Farm.
mk11 B. NORTON.

Local.

☞ Rev. Mr. De Normandie, at the desire of many people, will repeat his admirable Temperance Lecture recently delivered,—at the Stone Church on Sunday evening next, at a quarter past 7. The public are invited.

We understand Mr. De Normandie has given this fine discourse in Dover and Portland, to very large audiences, since he first presented it from his own desk; and that he was invited to deliver it in Concord, where an admittance fee will be charged for the benefit of our National charities—as was at first suggested here.

☞ The first "quarter" of the year 1865 ends with to-day—a good time to settle all bills; the which, so far as we are concerned, pro or con, the sooner done the better.

BOUNTY JUMPER.—A "bounty jumper" enlisted in this city last Saturday, and while on his way to Concord on Wednesday, he jumped from the car window while the train was in motion at good speed, and escaped. U. S. Special Agent J. Horace Kent being notified of the fact, started in pursuit, and arrested him the same evening near Rowley, Mass. It has been ascertained that he is an experienced character in this service of getting in and out.

CORRECTION.—It was supposed by some of our citizens that the "female" Corporal who enlisted in the 18th N. H. Regt. (of which we made mention yesterday,) was enlisted at the Provost Marshal's office here. Such is not the case, however.

CITY COUNCIL.—In Board of Aldermen last week, the resignation of Alderman Weeks was accepted, and a new election ordered to fill the vacancy in Ward One. An ordinance relative to health was passed.

In Common Council the Police bill was passed—giving the Marshal $800, and the Assistants $600. The appropriation bill was discussed, and each item except the appropriation for schools was passed. The health ordinance was read and referred. The salary ordinance was passed, giving the Street Commissioner $750, City Clerk $1000 and Assessors $40 instead of $25 per year. The City Messenger is to be paid $600 for his laborious duties, and the salary of the City Physician is raised to $100.

☞ At the meeting of School District No. Two, on Thursday afternoon, Messrs. John E. Salter and Charles Hiram Hayes were elected members of the School Committee—which consists of Robert O. Treadwell, Chairman; Lyman D. Spalding, A. J. Patterson, Wingate N. Illsley, Thomas Tredick, and the two above named.

☞ The Ballot's correspondent says "Some enterprising parties at Kittery, are building, at the foot of a street recently laid out, a large wharf, where with plenty of water, vessels will be able to bring cargoes of coal and lumber, and save transportation from Portsmouth. A large number of houses are constantly being erected, and Kittery is expected ere long to put Portsmouth quite in the shade. A large corn and flour store is soon to go into operation on the contemplated wharf, and before long we expect to see it claimed that Kittery, and not Portland, 'is the natural seaport of Maine.'"

☞ In the Police Court on Thursday morning, Rachel Kehoe and Anna Palmer were arraigned on complaint of some individuals for making a brawl and tumult on Wednesday. Found guilty and fined $3 and costs $3.86. Anna, not being able to find the required amount of funds, was obliged to take lodgings in the suburbs of the city. Rachel was more fortunate, and got clear.

Also, Sally Brown was found guilty of being drunk, and in default of the fine, was sent up.

☞ A rascal calling himself Matthias Driscoll, who has been employed on the Navy Yard for two or three months past, and who, together with his wife, has been running up a huge board bill at the house of a poor woman in this city,—a day or two since suddenly took his discharge and left without advancing a cent to his landlady. Measures were at once taken to secure him, but it is doubtful if this needy woman ever realizes any pecuniary benefit from his arrest. Such scamps should be branded and then kicked out of a respectable community.

☞ On Wednesday evening, about half past seven, fire was discovered on board the Minnesota in the Dry Dock at the Navy Yard, by a watchman while going his usual rounds, after the lights used by the workmen were removed. The fire was occasioned by a lot of cotton waste having been thrown on a lamp—either accidentally or designedly—and after smouldering for an hour or more, it burst out and had it not been for the arrival of the watchman, the steamer must have been destroyed.

CONFEDERATE DRAFTS. — Drafts for large amounts by the Confederate Government on their financial agents at Liverpool, Frazer, Trenholm & Co., were, after three days' delay, refused acceptance and allowed to be protested. One draft alone was for £27,000 sterling. The alleged cause is want of advice, and it is asserted that the drafts are not to be held over beyond a few days.

— The colored citizens of Rhode Island have nominated a ticket of their own. They made a mistake in selecting white candidates.

We would again call attention to this indispensable article of Gold Medal Soap, for the laundries and the ladies. What the dear creatures will do when the manufacturer, in the course of human events, steps into another sphere of being, we are at a loss to imagine. Make the most of him while you have a chance to do so, for nature, art or science can never produce a second J. Monroe Taylor Gold Medal Soap. We cannot say half enough in its favor. After using, you will say the same. 118

☞ The Lyceum Committee request that if there are any little unknown bills of theirs not paid, they be left at Mr. Head's Store immediately for settlement.

☞ A gem of a piece—Thacher's new Apothecary Store, corner of Congress and Vaughan Streets.

☞ Save your rags and old papers! Every family can supply themselves with a good newspaper from the proceeds of such savings. Mr. URIAH BLAISDELL advertises to buy them.

He is the happiest who does most to make others happy. The inventor of Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus must be the happiest man in existence, for we hazard nothing in saying that the use of the Gold Medal Saleratus cannot fail to make a happy household. Our better half says she does not fear our ever frowning, as long as she can get the genuine Herrick Allen's. We say success to the inventor, and if everybody knew how good it is, no other would be used. A good many of our Merchants have it. The depot is 112 Liberty Street, New York.

☞ Mr. Speer, having some property in New Jersey, turned his attention to the cultivation of the Sambuco, imported from Portugal. It bears a grape whose superior quality, juiciness and richness in saccharine matter is unexcelled by that of the Catawba. After numerous experiments in fermentation, Mr. Speer has produced a wine which will immortalize his name and prove a new honor to America.—[Boston Traveller.

This wine can be found at druggists, &c.

The interest is payable semi-annually by coupons attached to each note, which may be cut off and sold to any bank or banker.

The interest amounts to

One cent per day on a $50 note.

Great Popular Loan of the People.

Less than $200,000,000 remain unsold, which will probably be disposed of within the next 60 or 90 days, when the notes will undoubtedly command a premium, as has uniformly been the case on closing the subscriptions to other Loans.

In order that citizens of every town and section of the country may be afforded facilities to take the loan, the National Banks, State Banks, and Private Bankers throughout the country have generally agreed to receive subscriptions at par. DR. URANN,

PRACTICAL PHYSICIAN,

Who has made so many wonderful and instantaneous cures in Boston, New York Hartford, Springfield, and more recently in New Hampshire and Vermont, has taken

ROOMS FOR THE PRESENT AT THE FRANKLIN HOUSE,
PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

DR. URANN'S treatment is such that by it

are affected in one or two treatments, and many are entirely cured by one, as the following will testify:—

W. P. HOMER, 50 and 52 Federal Street, Boston, for many years was troubled with Heart complaint, so bad that at times he was unable to attend to his business; after one treatment he was able to run up stairs, work in his garden and attend to his business; has since gained 12 pounds.

MRS. ELLEN COREY, of Cambridgeport, Mass—Sciatica; so lame that she could not walk with out assistance; after one treatment of fifteen minutes was well as ever, and could walk a mile free from pain.

MRS. SARAH P. STILES, Lowell, Mass., had Fever Sores on both legs of twelve years standing; her right ankle measured eighteen inches, and was as blue as indigo; she could not move her foot; after one treatment it was reduced one-half, she could move her foot freely and is getting well rapidly, her left ankle all healed.

Prof. G. M. LARRON, 1 Dix Place, Boston, troubled with Spinal difficulty, was in much pain; relieved by one treatment.

Miss HANNAH COOL, Campton, N. H.—Spinal difficulties; was unable to walk but a short distance or do any kind of work; perfectly cured, and is now the picture of health

Miss C. FROTHINGHAM, Boston, Portrait Painter, was troubled with great depression of spirits, at times was unable to attend to her favorite employment; was entirely cured, and she expresses herself, is "made over anew."

Mrs. J. BROWN, Boston, a severe cough and pains through her lungs, cured.

Capt. W. H. LAMPSON'S child, Lowell, Mass. The child was pronounced by physicians as hopeless case. The child could neither walk or sit alone, and took no notice of anything. After one treatment he began to improve, and has so far gained as to be able to walk alone, can talk, takes notice of everything, laughs and sings, and appears perfectly well.

MRS. HINCKLEY, wife of A. T. Hinckley, of State Arsenal, Hartford, Ct., troubled with hip complaint and contraction of the cords of the legs; could not get her heel to the floor within four inches; had to be brought down stairs in arms; after one treatment of twenty minutes was able to run up and down stairs with ease, and is now able to walk the streets.

Mr. J. TURNER, Hartford, Ct, troubled for many years with loss of memory; could not attend to business; had been under the best medical treatment in England with no beneficial effect; after one treatment was perfectly restored

Miss MARTHA ST. JOHN, Simsbury, Ct., was confined to her bed from spinal difficulty and prolapsus uteri; had not been dressed for more than a year; in twenty minutes she was enabled to dress and walk out to one of the neighbors, a distance of about a half mile; she has since been to Hartford and to church, and is improving daily.

MRS. HENRY LOOMIS, Southwick, Mass., troubled with fits and spinal difficulties, could not walk without much difficulty, perfectly cured by one treatment.

MRS. WM. JENKINS, Unionville, Conn., troubled for over two years with chronic liver complaint and rheumatism, had a large lump on her side which was very painful; was unable to lie down. Cured by one treatment, and is as well as ever.

JOSEPH H. ELDRIDGE, formerly of the Hartford Police, more recently on Hartford and New Haven Railroad, was obliged to give up his business on account of a severe cough and bleeding, perfectly cured and can now do a good day's work.

LYDIA L. FULLER, of East Wallingford, Vt., had entirely lost the use of her limbs after a severe attack of diptheria, was restored by one treatment, and is as well as ever.

FANNY DAVIS, of Moretown, Vt., had been confined to her bed for more than five years—was not able to stand—after one treatment of less than an hour, was enabled to walk around the room, and is now quite well.

Miss HUTCHINSON, daughter of Judge Hutchinson of West Randolph, Vt., was troubled with fits, having some days from fifty to one hundred. She was unable to eat anything but liquids—was not able to stand. After one treatment she began to improve, until now, she is the picture of health, able to walk as well as any one, eats hearty and has no fits.

SOUTHWICK, Mass., July 21, 1862.

DR URANN,—Dear Sir:—I suppose it is ever pleasure to you to learn the convalescent state your patients; notwithstanding my long thirty years of almost absolute confinement to my bed unable most of the time to converse with or see any company, and for over two years unable to feed myself—yet with this painful picture of human wretchedness which made life almost a burden, since your treatment of my spine, on the 7th day of June, I have been able to take my meals at the table, with my family, ride out daily, and converse freely with all; and without some new misfortune befalls me, I shall soon be able to interest myself in the labors of my profession, at least to preach one sermon a Sabbath. Without flattery, in my honest judgment, there is no better treatment in the hands of men for the Spinal Disease than the one which you honor, and as my heart beats with sympathy with all Spinal sufferers, I only wish they knew the wonderful utility of your treatment, and avail themselves of the same. Yours with respect and gratitude,

M. H. RISING.

DR. URANN'S TERMS

Are such that all can avail themselves of his treatment.

☞ Persons at a distance who are unable to visit the Doctor, by sending particulars of their cases, with one dollar enclosed, will receive advice and learn whether their cases can be treated at a distance. In all cases, state age and sex.

THE "BERNER'S STREET HOAX."—The maddest of Theodore Hook's tricks was that known as the "Berner's Street Hoax, which happened in 1809, as follows:—

Walking down Berner's Street, one day, Hook's companion (probably Matthew) called his attention to a particularly neat and modest house, the residence—as was inferred from the door-plate—of some decent shopkeeper's widow. "I'll lay you a guinea, said Theodore, "that in one week that pleasant peaceable dwelling shall be the most famous in all London". The bet was taken, and in the course of four or five days, Hook had written and posted one thousand letters, annexing orders to tradesmen of every sort within the bills of mortality, all to be executed in one particular day and as nearly as possible at one fixed hour.

From "wagons of coals and potatoes, to books, prints, ices, feathers, jellies, and cranberry tarts," nothing in any way available to any human being but was commanded from scores of rival dealers, scattered all over the city, from Wapping to Lambeth, from Whitechapel to Paddington. It can only be feebly imagined what the crash and jam, and tumult of that day was. Hook had provided himself with a lodging nearly opposite the fated house, where, with a couple of trusty allies, he watched the progress of the melodrama. The Mayor and his chaplain arrived—invited there to take the death-bed confession of a speculating common-councilman. There also came the Governor of the Bank, the Chairman of the East India Company, the Lord Chief Justice and the Prime Minister—above all, there came Grace the Archbishop of Canterbury, and his Royal Highness the Commander in Chief. These all obey the summons, for every pious and patriotic feeling had been most movingly appealed to.

They could not all reach Berner's Street, however,—the avenues leading to it being jammed up by the drays, carts and carriages all pressing on to the solitary widow's house; but certainly the Duke of York's military punctuality and crimson liveries brought him to the point of attack before the poor woman's astonishment had risen to terror and despair. Most fierce were the growlings of doctors and surgeons, scores of whom had been cheated of valuable hours.

Attorneys, teachers of every kind, male and female, hair dressers, tailors, popular preachers, Parliamentary philanthropists, had been all alike victimized. There was an awful smashing of glass, china, harpsichords, coach-pannels. Many a horse fell, never to rise again. Beer-barrels and wine-barrels were overturned and exhausted with impunity amidst the press of countless multitudes. It was a great day for the pickpockets; and a great godsend to the newspapers.

Then arose many a fervent hue and cry for the detection of the wholesale deceiver and destroyer. Though in Hook's own theatrical world he was instantly suspected, no sign escaped either him or his confidents. He found it convenient to be laid up a week or two by a severe fit of illness, and then promoted reconvalescence by a few weeks country tour. He revisited Oxford, and professed an intention of commencing his residence there. But the storm blew over and Hood returned with tranquility to the green room.

PHOTOGRAPHY AND GAME LAWS.—The Courier of Lyons tells a funny story about the arrest of a photographer for poaching. M. Garcin was taking "sun pictures" on the picturesque estate of a M. B——, a well known preserver of game. While busily engaged with his head under his cloth, he was accosted by a gamekeeper. "Your name?" said the latter. "Garcin." "Your license." "I don't shoot" "Pooh? what is that cannon for?" asked the keeper, pointing to the photographer's apparatus. M. Garcin, laughing heartily, endeavored to explain that it was for photography. "Oh, that is what you call it, eh?" replied the man, "I shall draw up a proces verbal." And he proceeded to write in his memorandum book to the effect that on a certain day of a certain month, he had discovered a poacher named Garcin pointing a cannon at the birds in the hedges, &c. After this important record had been made, the keeper told the photographer that he must go with him before the mayor. When the case was heard by the magistrate, it of course created immense amusement; but it was long before the keeper could be convinced of his error. Perhaps he was not thoroughly satisfied even when the photographer, having recovered his apparatus, showed him the portrait of himself as he appeared watching the "poacher" through an aperture in a hedge.

A JOKE FOR SELFISH HUSBANDS.—Lord Ellenborough was once about to go on the circuit, when Lady Ellenborough said that she would like to accompany him. He replied that he had no objection, provided that she did not encumber the carriage with bandboxes, which were his abhorrence. During the first day's journey, Lord Ellenborough happening to stretch his legs, struck his foot against something below the seat. He discovered that it was a bandbox. Up went the window and out went the bandbox. The coachman stopped, and the footman, thinking that the bandbox had tumbled out of the window by some extraordinary chance was going to pick it up, when Lord Ellenborough furiously called out "drive on!" The bandbox was accordingly left by the ditch-side. Having reached the county town where he was to officiate as judge, Lord Ellenborough proceeded to array himself for his appearance at the court-house

"Now", said he "where's my wig?"

"My lord" replied his attendant, "it was thrown out of the carriage window."

— Benjamin Matthews of North Leverett, Mass., lost a valuable nine months old calf a few days since, from eating a lot of green wall paper, which was thrown under a shed. It died within twelve hours after eating it.

The property of this Company is located on "Coal Run Creek," Meigs County, State of Ohio, about 10 miles from Athens, containing one hundred and five acres of land. A large number of wells are successfully worked in the vicinity, some of which are paying handsome dividends.—This Company propose to commence operations at once, and entertain no doubt that at an early day they will be able to pay a handsome percentage on the investment. The known ability and commercial standing of the officers of this Company afford a sufficient guaranty that the affairs will be conducted in a manner to secure the confidence of those who are disposed to invest in it.

The tract of land adjoining the property of this Company has passed into the hands of capitalists, who have sent out an experienced superintendent to commence operations at once, and their first order for machinery was $15,000. Our property has been examined under instructions from Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, who pronounces the coal, which is in abundance, to be of the best quality, yielding 80 gallons of oil to the ton, and has no doubt, from the location and position of the property, that it will be found valuable in the production of oil. Most companies have to pay very high prices for their coal, all of which we save; oil can be manufactured from the coal upon the property, at a cost not exceeding ten cents per gallon, and it is proposed to commence the manufacture in connection with the sinking of wells. One dollar will buy a share of this stock, which is the par value, and all benefits derived from the lands, either by sales of oil, land or products of any kind, are to be divided among the stockholders, and in addition $200,000 worth of valuable, useful and desirable property will be given to the stockholders, as soon as all the shares are disposed of. The Company adopt this course for the purpose of disposing of their stock at the par value, rather than to sell it, as so many companies do, at a subscription price, which is usually one-half. Thus, it will be perceived that every stockholder owning ten shares, for example, will be sure to realize a handsome dividend when the property is divided; a plan which is entirely honorable, and in all respects perfectly legal.

The property to be distributed among the stockholders will be equal to any in the market, and will consist of the following described articles:

$5000 to purchase a HOUSE in Boston or vicinity.
$5000 in U. S. 5-20 BONDS, CERTIFICATES of $500 each.

The properties of this Company consist of 648 acres, principally owned in Fee Simple, of the most desirable Oil Lands, situated mostly in Oil Creek, Penn., upon which there are three wells now down, capable of producing from 100 to 1000 barrels per day when completed, as they are located so near the great producing interests of the Empire, Noble, Sherman and Drake wells, on this noted creek. This Company offer inducements seldom met with. The capital stock is very small for the amount of valuable oil lands the Company possesses. Three engines are already at the wells. Our Agent at Titusville writes us that the well on the McElhany farm has commenced flowing, which places this Company beyond a doubt of success. The Officers of this Company, in placing this property before the New England public, have full confidence that no property yet offered are superior, or any out of which larger and more certain dividends may at once be expected. Maps and full information given on applications to the Treasurer. Subscriptions received by JOS. W. The Best Ink in the World!

A CHEAP PRODUCT DISCOVERED.
A Substitute for Costly Galls, and a Writing Fluid produced that challenges Competition!

INK POWDERS
TO CARRY IN YOUR POCKET, FROM WHICH TO MAKE INK AT PLEASURE.

THE INK MADE in three Minutes

Forty Cents will buy Powder enough to furnish a family for years.

FREEZING DON'T HURT IT.

An accident revealed to a Machinist, in Manchester, N. H., a certain result which by the aid of Chemistry has been used till the most beautiful writing fluid, better than anything imported or home-made, flowing freer, writing easier, handsomer, as lasting as time, not injuring the pen a whit, has been produced

It is put up in the form of a small powder, stands all climates, good for years, and can be conveyed in a letter elegant black writing fluid in three minutes.

A company has lately been formed for the manufacture of these Powders, and although the Fluid has been before the public but a few weeks the most astounding testimonials have been received in its favor, all uncollicited. We select a few from the many.

The greatest qualities of these Ink Powders over everything else in the market are:

1st—It makes a perfect beautiful, glossy, rich color, that every body will be delighted with.

2d—It flows freely, does not mud up, thicken on the pen or corrode it a particle, and never fades, and will endure as long as the paper on which it is used.

3d—Its cheapness baffles all competition. Forty cents will buy enough to fill fifty common bottles that are retailed at ten cents each.

4th—Its portability, it can be carried to the army, to sea, to the mines, to far off countries.

5th—Wipe your pen dry after using it, and a single steel pen will write with this Ink till the paper wears the point off. It is as harmless as water.

Testimonials.

MIRROR AND AMERICAN OFFICE, }
Manchester, N. H., Jan. 11, 1865. }

To the American Ink Company:—I have tried your Ink Powder and find it very superior. They make perfect ink in three minutes, the best ink I ever used. It flows easily, does not gum up the pen or corrode it. I have cleaned my hands of all other kinds of ink. JOHN B. CLARKE.

MELROSE, Mass., Feb. 1, 1865.

American Ink Company—Gents: I wish heartily to thank you for the Indelible Ink which you have given to the public. I have made Ink, for eight years past, from Prof. Ure's Recipe, (made of Aleppa Gall, Sulphate Iron and Gum Senegal,) and have sold large quantities of it. Have supplied the world with this town with it for two years, and every one using it gives it the preference. It is a good Ink, but my occupation is all gone since Ink is the best article of the kind I ever used. This is no puff. Some in my inkstands froze up solid twice and it now flows just freely as at the first, and is not changed in the color a single shade. It is a beautiful black; it flows so readily that I can write one-quarter faster with it than with any other Ink. It ought to be introduced into every school in the Union.

Yours truly, J. W. FOLAND.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 4, 1864.

To the American Ink Company: I have tried your Ink Powders, and I think, without any exception, it makes the best writing fluid I ever used I would not be without it. I remain yours, GEO. H. BURLEIGH.

Battery M, 1st Mass. H. Artillery.

Kewanee, Henry Co., Illinois, Feb. 20, 1865.

American Ink Company—Gents: Received the Powder that you sent, and to say that I am pleased with it is true, but does not express what I should like to say. The community have long wanted an Ink Powder that could stand the test of freezing and that would not corrode the pen, and several have been produced. Prof. Ure's was an excellent recipe, but was spoiled by freezing. I have frozen this to test it, and find that it is not affected at all.

I have introduced it into my school in this place, and had I a quantity of it, it would find a ready sale. Thinking you in behalf of the community and myself for such a discovery, I remain, very respectfully, your obedient servt.

GEO. W. PARKER.

Deering, March 1, 1865.

To the American Ink Company:—This is to certify that I have given your Ink Powder a trial, and I am happy to say that it has fulfilled its promise. It has a superiority over all other Inks within my knowledge. And I would cheerfully recommend it to the lawyer, the merchant, or any person whose business requires any amount of writing. It does not corrode, and flows as freely after being frozen as before. Respectfully yours,

ALLON M. CURRY.

Nashua, N. H., March 13, 1865.

American Ink Company—Gents: The ink made from the powders you sent me is the best I ever used. There is none of that stiffness about it that there is to most kinds of ink. It flows freely and works like a charm.

Yours truly, GEORGE W. FLANDERS.

Brookline, N. H., March 13, 1865.

American Ink Company—Gents: I received the Powder you sent me, and I recommend it to all those that have any writing to do, as the best Ink I ever used. I have used J. Moor's Maynard & Noyes', D. J. Ricketts', and many others, but yours far excels any I ever used.

Yours respectfully, G. E. STILES.

THE MAGEE
COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber would especially call the attention of the public to the
MAGEE COOK STOVE,
as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We invite all those in want of the very best Stove in the market, to examine the

MAGEE COOK,

Also on hand an assortment of the different sizes
—of the—
MAGEE PARLOR STOVE
with and without ovens, which are too well known to need any recommendation.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR WARMING
FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pots used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

Daily Morning Chronicle

VOL. XXVI. PORTSMOUTH, N. H. SATURDAY, APRIL 1, 1865 : 91. No. 75.

The Chronicle.

It is announced that Beecher is to be sent to Charleston on the 13th of April to consecrate Fort Sumter. It is pretty tough to subject a high-spirited people to such an insult.—Copperhead paper.

Can any northern traitor remember any insults which the rebels of Charleston for the last forty years thought too gross to be heaped on everything northern or free? They nullified acts of Congress, trampled on State Rights, spit upon their northern doe-faced allies, and finally trampled down the democratic party into the mire. And now, when a slow but righteous retribution has overtaken and almost destroyed that nest of treason and fortress of rebellion some of its northern white slaves are dreadfully afraid their high-spirited masters may be insulted! It is "tough," to be sure, but they deserve it richly. Pride goeth before destruction; and a haughty spirit before a fall.

* Communication.

PETROLEUM—NOT A HUMBUG.—This new coined word is a compound of the words—oil, and petros, rock. The oil is found only in hard coal formations, and is therefore, doubtless, a product of the coal. It is a discovery which bids fair to be of great value, especially to the land proprietors.

"Oily Gammon, Anasytical and consulting Chemist," has published an amusing article, representing the vast importance of the discovery to the world, and speaks of the oil as a substitute for salad oil, butter, cheese, lubricating purposes, and many other things too numerous here to mention. He says that "Such is the inexhaustible nature of the yield, that an acqueduct might be built for a small sum to carry the oil direct to New York or Europe."* So numerous are the advertisements of the proprietors puffing the oil, that we can almost commend the burlesque of "Oil Gammon." So much puffing of the article is an indication that it requires as much puffing as the "Golden Saleratus" in order to enrich the proprietors by the sales. Notwithstanding that the original land proprietors have formed many new companies, and divided the stock into five dollars a share, thereby to make immense fortunes by selling the stock, we think the Petroleum speculation is not wholly a humbug, because there is no doubt but that the Artesian wells yield, for the present, a great quantity of oil.

But our present object is to put the public upon their guard against deception and fallacious representations. The question is how long will the wells continue to yield the oil in large quantities? The oil has been extracting from the coal for many centuries. Upon opening the wells, the natural pressure of the surface downwards will cause the oil to rise to the surface. The tendency of all lighter substances is to rise, to give place to the heavier. We think that geologists will agree that the yield of the oil will gradually diminish, until after a lapse of some years, when the oil will be exhausted. If otherwise, the philosophical inference would seem to be that there is a subterranean lake or great pond of the oil, contingent to the coal formation—an hypothesis wholly incredible. If the land proprietors were not convinced that the oil would soon be exhausted, or continue to diminish, instead of their extreme anxiety to sell out, would they not prefer to retain their land and stock in their own hands?

We think that it is admitted that the wells when first opened, yielded more than at the present time. If so, the fact tends to strengthen the theory we have formed.

The public have had enough of gold-gamblers, and other speculators, to be a little suspicious of pompous advertisements.

ANTI-SPECULATOR.

* Mr. Gammon in his analysis, states that in the total number of 100 parts, pure petroleum is 46, and gold coin 30 parts. Very correct. Petroleum is an ancient discovery, if Job, chapter 29, verse 6, tells the truth. He says, "When I washed my steps with butter, and the rock [oil] poured me out rivers of oil."

— The Danville (Vt.) Star says the sugar-making season is fully inaugurated, the weather being very favorable for the flow of sap. It is expected the yield will be very large. The Laconia Democrat says "Twice as large as common." Other accounts say the spring came on so suddenly as to give promise of a very short an unprolific season.

— The line "notes by distance made more sweet"—is supposed to mean long mercantile paper.

"Come here, Johnny, and tell me what the four seasons are." Young prodigy—"Pepper, salt, mustard, and vinegar."

On a Lee shore—the Confederacy.

WHAT IS A
FRENCH ROLL PAN!
IS A QUESTION OFTEN ASKED.
It is simply a nicely made
IRON PAN,
Or rather a series of Pans connected in one, of such peculiar form that all parts of the material contained in them receive an equal amount of heat, thus insuring a very
QUICK AND LIGHT BAKE.
For Sponge or Drop Cake, Muffins, French Rolls, Corn Bread or Raised Flour Biscuit, these Pans are Invaluable.
IN these days of high prices, it is worth while to
ECONOMISE
in any way. We give below a receipt for making a Cheap, Wholesome, and
PALATABLE BREAD:
"Stir into a pint of Cold Water sufficient Graham Flour to make a thin batter, adding a little Salt. Heat the Iron thoroughly, grease it a little, pour in the batter, and bake about half an hour in a hot oven."
By using Sweet Milk, instead of Water, as above, and adding 2 Spoonsful of Sugar, biscuit can be made fit to eat before a King. We have sold nearly a thousand of these Roll Pans in about one year, and the sale is still increasing. Try one.

SATURDAY, APRIL 1, 1865.

THE REBELLION.

The N. Y. Commercial's special Washington dispatch says that in official circles the immediate downfall of the rebellion is considered certain. The most recent advices at the War Department give assurance that neither Lee nor Johnston can either retreat or offer battle without the certain destruction of their armies. It is understood that there must be a cessation of fighting on both sides. Advices from Richmond state that every resort of diplomacy will be used for arranging a peace during the interim. Secretary Seward left for City Point Thursday. Hon. Millard Fillmore preceded him, at the suggestion, it is understood, of Jeff. Davis, and it is believed negotiations for peace are now going on on board the steamer River Queen.

A later item from the same source says: "Important military movements are known to be in progress. A portion of Sheridan's cavalry have been dismounted, and the remainder will soon be heard from in a new direction." We give it as we find it.

Gen. Halleck has decided that 146 rebel prisoners, being a portion of those captured on Saturday at Fort Steadman, and who claimed that they surrendered on condition that they would be allowed to take the oath of allegiance to this Government, shall be held for the present, but they shall not be exchanged against their will. In obedience to this decision the prisoners were returned to Point Lookout.

A deserter from the rebel army who arrived at Washington Thursday, and who is an Alabama planter, reports that the rebel authorities have already placed a number of negro troops in the entrenchments surrounding Richmond, but they are afraid to trust them in large bodies, and a precautionary measure the negroes are simply formed into battalions.

The Tribune's Washington dispatch says the white troops of the Army of the James crossed that river on Monday and Tuesday, and joined Gen. Grant in a new movement.

Gen. Grant left City Point for the front Tuesday afternoon. Sheridan's cavalry led the advance, and ere now have probably cut the only remaining communication into Richmond, somewhere between Burkesville and Danville.

The rebels on Sunday and Monday had the bulk of their army massed on their right, either in anticipation of an attack or preparatory to evacuation of Richmond.

It is believed that a heavy battle took place on Thursday.—but as the telegraph between City Point and Washington did not work, we have no positive information.

The Richmond Enquirer says a heavy column of the enemy moved down the Jerusalem Plank Road on Thursday of last week. The movement is supposed to be a diverson in favor of Sherman. They struck the railroad at Weldon, and destroyed it as far as Stony Creek.

The proposition to arrange for a State Convention to decide whether Georgia shall remain within the rebel Confederacy or return to the Union, has been defeated in the Legislature of that State.

The City Point telegraph line is again at work, and "Carleton" says under date of Thursday, March 30, at City Point:—

The 2d and 5th corps moved across Hatcher's Run Wednesday morning at daylight. The rebels fell back toward South Side R. R. No battle but some skirmishing. Gen. Sheridan started south at daylight, and crossed Stony river. He will be heard from in a day or two.

At 10 o'clock Wednesday night the rebels made a furious assult upon Battery No. Nine, near Fort Steadman, expecting to find that part of the line weakened. They were mistaken. They 9th corps swept the attacking party away in a twinkling.

To make up for their failure the rebels opened all their artillery for two hours. A slow fire was kept up through the the night. Our loss was only 4 killed and 21 wounded. The rebels being the attacking party must have lost severely.

Major Brown of the 18th N. H. was killed; also, privates D. A. Webster, Co. B, A. McDonald, Co. C, John M. Small, Co. B, H. Gross, Co. F, wounded.

It was reported at headquarters Wednesday morning that Richmond was being evacuated, but the report is not confirmed. Gen. Grant has gone to the left and taken the field to direct the present movements. Great events are near at hand.

Dispatches from Mobile Point, March 22, say Col. Moore's brigade of U. S. troops landed that day—and heavy cannonading was heard all day on the 21st, in the direction of the city.

Some improbable peace rumors come through the New York Herald of Friday.

The rebels in Texas propose to send 1000 men to seize and hold Arizona for the purpose of opening a route to allow the citizens of that State who wish to aid Texas, to join their friends. Rather a wild scheme.

A Washington dispatch of yesterday say information from City Point dated 2 o'clock Thursday P. M., says very heavy cannonading commenced at 10 30 o'clock that morning, and was very furious until half past one P. M. in the direction of the Petersburg front.

NOTES OF FORMER DAYS.

Collected and Collated by UNCLE TOBY.

Politics in 1768—Execution of Ruth Blay—John Nevin—Gov. Wentworth's marriage—Dartmouth College.

In 1768, the situation of public affairs had assumed a very alarming aspect. A large number of the most respectable inhabitants petitioned the selectmen of Portsmouth to notify a town-meeting, for the purpose of instructing their representatives. The town, on the first of August, agreed upon the instructions to be given them, in which they stated the grievances, which the country suffered, expressed their duty and loyalty to the King, and the confidence they had in his desire to promote the happiness of his subjects, and enjoined it upon them "to use their utmost influence in the General Assembly, to forward as soon as possible, a full and humble representation to his Majesty, of the sentiments of his loyal subjects in the province, assuring him of their steady attachment to his Royal person, and zealous adherence to the English constitution, and most humbly petitioning his Majesty with all duty and loyalty, that in his great wisdom and clemency, he would redress their grievances, and protect them in their constitutional rights.

On Friday, December 30th 1768, Ruth Blay, of South Hampton, was executed in pursuance of the sentence of death, pronounced upon her by the Superior Court at August term last. She was indicted for concealing the birth of a bastard child, so that it might not come to light, whether the said child was born alive or not. Wiseman Claggett, Esquire, was the King's Attorney, who conducted the prosecution. The Court were Theodore Atkinson, Chief Justice, Thomas Wallingford, Mesheck Weare, and Leverett Hubbard, Justices. She was convicted by the verdict of a jury, and sentenced to be hanged by the neck until she should be dead. This sentence was executed by Thomas Packer, Sheriff of the province, on a ridge of high land in a field, belonging to the south parish, lying on the south road, and on the road leading to Little-Harbor. She was buried in the same field, near the bottom of the hill. A vast concourse of people attended.

James Nevin, Esquire, one of his Majesty's Council and Collector of the customs for this port, died on the 6th of February, 1769, in the sixtieth year of his age. He was much respected in his office, the duties of which he discharged with fidelity. He was born in Scotland, and was a Post Captain in the British Navy. John Hughes of Philadelphia succeeded him as Collector.

The weather in the months of January and February 1769, was very severe. The river was frequently filled with ice, which was frozen so intensely near the shores, that people passed and repassed on it with safety, between this town and New-Castle.

Theodore Atkinson, jr. one of his Majesty's Council, and Secretary of the province, departed this life on Saturday, the 28th of October, 1769, aged thirty-three years; and on the Wednesday following, his remains were deposited in the family tomb at Queen's Chapel. During the procession, minute guns were fired at Castle William and Mary, and from his Majesty's ship Beaver in the harbour; and every other testimony of respect was shown, which his public station and private virtues demanded. He was the only son of the Honourable Theodore Atkinson, Chief Justice of the province, and President of the Council. He received his education at Harvard College, and was graduated in the year 1757. He was mild and obliging in his disposition, faithful and correct in his official duties, and devout in the exercises of religion.

On Saturday, November 11th, Governor John Wentworth, 2d, was married by the Rev. Arthur Brown, in Queen's-Chapel, to Mrs. Frances Atkinson, relict of Theodore Atkinson, jr. deceased, and daughter of Samuel Wentworth, Esq., of Boston. Exactly one fortnight after the decease of her husband. Both husbands were her cousins;—and she was courted by Wentworth before her marriage with Atkinson.

On the 13th of December, Governor Wentworth granted a charter to Dartmouth College, which was established at Hanover. It took its name from William, Earl of Dartmouth, one of its principal benefactors in England.

☞ The Ballot's Boston writer says the "newspapers of the city are flourishing as they never flourished before. Even the Courier is paying—remarkable, of itself. The Boston Journal has refused advertisements repeatedly during the last few weeks. With the money made on the circulation, and the increased price of advertising, newspaper property hereabouts is about the best going. Mr. Rogers had $60,000 income in 1863, and probably $100,000 in 1864. Mr. Joseph B. Morse holds an interest in both the Traveller and Courier. He has been assisting Mr. Geo. Lunt in editing the Courier since it was established as an evening paper, but is now about to return to his old position of chief editor of the Traveller."

—Advices from Wilmington are that railroad communications between that point and Goldsboro are completed. Duplicates of the bridges across the Northeast and Neuse rivers have been found all ready to be put up. There is now at Wilmington an abundance of rolling stock to supply all the requirements of the army at Goldsboro.

—Robert Cobb Kennedy, the incendiary of Barnum's Museum last fall, was hung at Fort Lafayette on Saturday last. He was shockingly profane, and sang a song while the rope was being adjusted. He is said to have drank whiskey freely before his execution, which accounts for his conduct.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Mr. Alfred Beard has retired from the publishing department of the N. H. Telegraph establishment, and is succeeded by O. C. Moore, esq., who is also the editor.

—— The Merrimack County Representatives met last week and voted to authorize the County Commissioners to purchase and furnish a County Farm, at an expense not exceeding $20,000.

—— The Independent Democrat learns from Sergt. Bickford, of the 7th N. H. Vols. who has just returned from Salisbury Prison, N. C., that privates Johnson and Evans have been paroled. Wm. Walker and Wm. Jones, subs., have taken the oath of allegiance and joined the Confederate army. Henry Howe is in prison at Annapolis, Md. for being associated with a gang of prison muggers. James M. Smith, of Canaan, died Jan. 22d; J. W. Cressey, of Manchester, died in Dec.; Nathan Fox, Chas. Dupre, Peter Griffin, dead; Cyrus G. Caverley, Strafford, died in Dec.; A. H. G. Webster, died in January.

—— The Concord Monitor states that fifty five men are already enlisted for Co. K, 18th N. H. Regiment. The officers of this company are John A. Colby, of Concord, Captain; H. S. Brown, of Concord, 1st Lieut.; and Edward Nettleton, of Newport, 2d Lieut.

THE FIRST N. H. CAVALRY.—Among the elements in our present advantage over the rebels, one which has been often overlooked, is the fact that our cavalry now outnumbers theirs three to one, while in point of equipment, training and dash, its superiority is equally marked. So strong is our cavalry force that orders were issued a short time since, forbidding the enlistment of more men for this branch of the service. A few regiments which had especially distinguished themselves were, however, excepted, as a means of maintaining our superiority. Among these, Gen. Sheridan at once selected the First N. H. Seven companies of the regiment have been with Sheridan during his entire campaign, the other five remaining on picket duty in the defences of Washington.

At the battle of Waynesboro' the First Cavalry especially distinguished itself, being the first to enter the rebel breastworks and reach their artillery. As a mark of Gen. Sheridan's appreciation of their distinguished services, Col. Thompson's command were honored with the privilege of fighting their way back to his base of operations, (100 miles distant) in charge of 1400 prisoners, and are now to have a period of rest. The twelve companies of the regiment are to be brought together, with headquarters at Darnestown, Md., and have been assigned to picket duty on the line of the Potomac. Maj. Cummings has opened a recruiting office for the regiment at Concord.

☞ The great "Gift Enterprise," which has been sounded so loudly, and has fooled so many people of Boston and New York, suddenly came to an end by the arrest, by the Boston police, of all persons connected with it. "L." of the Ballot, (who knows everything,) says, "It has been one of the most outrageous swindles ever perpetrated on a sane people. No one got anything of value, but parties themselves connected with the concern; and when the article was drawn, the apparently lucky man would carry it out doors before the audience, and bring it back again through the back door, or carry it to some other place owned by the rascals. The innocent lookers on all the time thought that the individual was carrying it to his home." Great gambling that—nothing but clear, sheer stealing, and the meanest kind of stealing, too; but why any worse than the gold and stock gamblers?

SMUGGLING.—Numerous attempts at smuggling foreign goods to Boston, by way of the British Provinces, have been made during the past few years, and revenue officers are on the alert to stop the illicit commerce. They have just made an important seizure of a large lot of nutmegs, valued at many thousand dollars. They were packed in mackerel casks, duly branded by Provincial inspectors, and bearing every outward appearance of what they purported to be. A cask of nutmegs is worth about $300, and as several score were taken, the prize is a valuable one both to the informant and the officers.

—The dry dock formerly in use at New Orleans was converted by the rebels into a "ram" war steamer. It has just been replaced by another from Madison, Indiana, which arrived at New Orleans, in tow, on the 17th inst., with an enormous cargo of eleven hundred tons of hay.

— In Bradford, a few evenings since, Mr. S. W. Carlton attempted to extinguish a lighted kerosene lamp, by blowing down the chimney, when the lamp exploded with a loud report, setting the oil on fire, and blowing fragments of glass in all directions about the room. Mr. Carlton was not injured, but will not repeat the experiment.

Trial Trip of the U. S. "Steamer Fox."

The trial trip of this famous steamer on the 28th inst. was an event long looked for by the people of this city and vicinity, and although it did not realize the expectations of the spectators, or of the engineer, under whose sole charge it was designed and built, yet she will compare favorably with the equally famous "light draught Monitors;" and, although she did not "walk the waters like a thing of life," she no doubt could come up to Mother Goose's standard of 14 miles in 15 days, under favorable circumstances. Altogether she will prove quite a feather in the engineer's cap; more so, when it is known how near her cost came to the original estimate of $900, and to be finished in three weeks from the time of commencement; but owing to his not taking all things into account, she has cost nearer $9,000, and has been three months in building; thus it will be seen that the figures very strongly resemble each other.

Wanted for the above steamer, first class 1st and 2d Assistant Engineers, one firstclass Fireman, and two first-class Coal Heavers; none but foreigners need apply—aliens preferred.

DR. TEBBETTS' "PHYSIOLOGICAL HAIR REGENERATOR" is compounded in strict accordance with the well known laws of Physiology and modern vegetable Chemistry. It is not a "DYE," and will not stain a particle. It will "RESTORE GRAY HAIR" in all cases to its original color. It keeps the hair soft, moist and perfectly healthy, and gives it a glossy and beautiful appearance. It is highly perfumed, and as a Dressing it has no superior. CITY COUNCIL.—Last week John T. Larrabee and Charles A. Grant were discharged from the City Watch, on complaint of the City Marshal.

Lieut. Wm. A. Haven made a claim for city bounty, which was referred to committee on claims.

An Ordinance was passed directing the publication of the City Ordinances in the Chronicle and Journal, omitting the N. H. Gazette and the Sta. and Un.—Also an ordinance relating to the public health, giving the Mayor more control over the Board of Health.

The ordinance passed, relating to salaries of the City Officers—raises the pay of the following officers thus:

City Marshal	from	$250	to $800
Assistant Marshals	each from	50	600
Assessors of Taxes		25	40
Assistant Engineers		7	12
Members of Fire Department		7	10
Stewards of do.		14	20
City Messenger		450	600
City Physician		60	100
City Clerk		550	1000
Street Commissioner		200	750
Surveyor of Highways		1.50 per day	to $2
Lamp Lighters		$4 per lamp	to $5

An ordinance was passed regulating the Police, placing the Marshal and the officers on duty during the day, and requiring all their time.

Thursday, 30th.—In Common Council the Appropriation Bill was passed, making the sum to be raised for City purposes $138,022.45. The Health Ordinance was also reported and passed in concurrence—requiring physicians and householders to give notice in cases of small pox.

In the Board of Aldermen, the appropriation bill was received from the Common Council, read and referred, and sundry bills approved.

The application of Maj. William H. Hackett, for permission to remove the old house at the corner of Congress and Chestnut streets, was referred to the Mayor.

A petition for the acceptance of Cornwall, Marlborough and McDoucugh streets, was laid on the table.

The petition of Daniel Marcy and others for a Ward Room in the 3d Ward, was received.

Frank L. Marks and Edwin R. Underhill were appointed watchmen.

☞ The storm prevented a large attendance at Mr. Pemberton's Lecture, Thursday evening; but those who heard his essay, pronounce it a very able and earnest effort, moral and original, and well delivered—placing the intelligent and educated American Mechanic at the head of all classes, where he belongs. The gentleman we hope will have a fuller hearing under more favorable circumstances.

☞ No finer or better finished Concerts than those by the Old Folks Choir, have been given in this city for many a year, if ever. The rehearsals, in fact, are Concerts in themselves. It will be seen that singers are invited to "all join in grand chorus," Sunday night; but as the Choir fill the Hall, others cannot be admitted.

Communication.

Mr. Editor:—In your issue of the 30th, is a paragraph headed "Scarcity of Boarding Houses, &c.," containing a statement that the day previous a gentleman visited "sixteen boarding houses" and failed to secure a place "wherewith to appease his appetite or lay his head."—He did not call at one house, where, (if he is all that is represented,) he could have been accommodated.

Under this head, Mr. Editor, let me state, that landlords, or as is oftener the case, landladies, have their rights as well boarders. There is in the community a gentlemanly and considerate class, who are willing to pay for what they receive, and who are a pleasant addition to any well regulated family; and there is a dissatisfied, grumbling class, who go from house to house priceing board, and the less they pay, the more exacting they become. No sensitive or high minded landlady can tolerate such, unless from necessity. I am very sure that good boarders can always obtain board, except in times of special pressure. EXPERIENCE.

☞ This is April 1st, or All Fools' Day—on which so many people succeed in making fools of themselves alone, while trying to "fool" others, generally their betters.

☞ Rev. Moses How, of New Bedford, will preach at the Christian Chapel on Court street to morrow, morning and afternoon.

☞ The Stars and Bars man wants Mr. Dearborn, of Greenland, to go into the editorial profession. Don't you do it, Dearborn; for Br. F. will borrow ink of you, and blackguard you if you ask for its return.

☞ Ensign Thos. S. Gay has been ordered to duty on board the U. S. Receiving Ship Vandalia, at this Naval Station.

☞ We give on our outside a communication on Petroleum,—as we always give all sides a hearing; but we do not agree with the writer if he means to intimate that there is necessarily any "gum" in this oil business.

☞ We desire to call the attention of all Soldiers who enlisted since Oct. 24, 1863, and have been discharged for wounds received in line of duty, to the advertisement of Messrs. We believe he can collect the additional bounty which the advertisement states can be collected.

☞ A gem of a place—Thacher's new Apothecary Store, corner of Congress and Vaughan Streets.

As we have said scores of times, the J. Monroe Taylor Gold Medal Soap is, without exception, the nicest and best soap made; is the only kind that can be called a perfectly pure article, and goes nearly three times as far as any other soap, and will always turn out whiter and nicer clothes than washing with any other article. Try it, and you will find what we say is true. 119

☞ Mr. Speer, having some property in New Jersey, turned his attention to the cultivation of the Sambuco, imported from Portugal. It bears a grape whose superior quality, juiciness and richness in saccharine matter is unexcelled by that of the Catawba. After numerous experiments in fermentation, Mr. Speer has produced a wine which will immortalize his name and prove a new honor to America.—[Boston Traveller.

PETROLEUM OIL AGENCY.

The California Petroleum Company

In the Summer of 1864, Professor B. Silliman, Jr., examined this locality, now owned by the CALIFORNIA PETROLEUM CO., the purchase of which he strongly recommended to his friends in New York.

The property covers an area of 18,000 acres in one body, on which are at present at least twenty Natural Wells, some of them the largest flow. Artesian Wells can be put down, 25 miles in extent The Ranch is an old Spanish Grant of four leagues, and perfect title.

WELLS, FARGO & CO. say that "those who wish to invest in this class of security need not hesitate a moment where to place their money—here is a good, honest, reliable concern—one which in our judgment will pay."

Shares $40. Par Value $100.

Rensselaer Petroleum Comp'y.

The property consists of 100 acres, in fee simple, on Two Mile Run, near Oil City—a double lease of the Clapp Farm above Oil City, and four acres in fee simple on Fithole Creek, in the heart of the Oil Regions

Capital $300,000. Shares $3. Par Value $6.

Sheffield Petroleum Company.

This property consists of 225 acres on the Tionesta Creek—seventy-seven acres in the same vicinity. This property is cut through by the ten mile run, a branch of the Tionesta, and the Sudbury & Erie Railroad. This property is considered of great value in the market.

Capital $300,000. Shares $1. Par Value $2.

Everett Oil Company,
OF BOSTON.

The property of this Company consists of 200 acres of land owned in fee simple, and two leases as follows: The land in Cornplanter Township near Centreville Depot. The Oil Creek Railroad passes through this land. It has a river front of over one quarter of a mile. It is rich in oil.

Capital $300,000. Subscription price $5.

President Petroleum Company.

A few Shares of this valuable Stock can be had if applied for soon, at the original subscription of $5 per Share. It contains 8,400 acres, very valuable in Oil, Coal and Timber.

New York and Newark
PETROLEUM CO.

The property of this Company consists of five parcels of land situated in the very centre of the Celebrated Oil District of Pennsylvania Venango County, and lying in the immediate vicinity of Oil City, the nearest being two miles and the farthest five; and within one-quarter of a mile of Allegheny River, one piece being on that river—The Company have a twenty years' lease for one-half the Oil.

It is the interest of the Trustees to invest every dollar in sinking Wells and obtaining Oil, and not speculating in stock. HAMILTON E. TOWNE is Engineer and Superintendent of this company.

All the above Stock for sale at the AGENCY, No. 47 Congress Street, Portsmouth, where Maps, Drawings and Pamphlets are ready for distribution.

The properties of this Company consist of 648 acres, principally owned in Fee Simple, of the most desirable Oil Lands, situated mostly in Oil Creek, Penn., upon which there are three wells now down, capable of producing from 100 to 1000 barrels per day when completed, as they are located so near the great producing interests of the Empire, Noble, Sherman and Drake wells, on this noted creek. The Company offer inducements seldom met with. The capital stock is very small for the amount of valuable oil lands the Company possesses. Three engines are already at the wells. Our Agent at Titusville writes us that the well on the McElhany farm has commenced flowing, which places this Company beyond a doubt of success. The Officers of this Company, in placing this property before the New England public, have full confidence that their prospective yet offered are superior, or any out of which far or and more certain dividends may at once be expected. THE FALL OF THE OLD ELM.—The ancient elm on Middle street, which has long occupied a central position in the side walk, near Austin street, has this week given way to the march of improvement in that pleasant part of our city, and its portly trunk and towering branches are now laid low in a five cord pile of wood. Its rings showed that it had lived about a century, and it was sound to its heart. Capt. Shillaber said that it was one of the hardest jobs he had ever accomplished in the tree line, to bring it down. Perhaps he was more sensative in the operation, from the fact, that his grandfather lived near the spot when that tree was set out, and perhaps was the one who planted it there. It was in the way of everybody, and yet everybody loved to pass under its grateful shade in the summer months, and it was parted from by the public with regret. But now the fine structure of the Major it has so long shaded, and the magnificent edifice which is last being completed by the Colonel on the opposite side, the Tuileries and Boulevard of Middle street, must have a new growth of trees, to enliven the walk to the garden of Versailles which ere long may be expected not far beyond.

LADD STREET LIQUOR SALOON CLOSED.—Mr. J. C. Carr, the owner of the building, wishes us to state that he let the premises for a different purpose. The owner, before leasing it, asked the party if they intended to sell liquor, and was told that they did not—upon which a lease was given.

Since ascertaining that liquor was sold, the owner has been trying to clear the premises, and offered to pay the occupant for fitting and repairing, but was not able to accomplish anything until the recent occurrence which was reported in the Journal, when a stranger was fleeced there of money, &c., at the gaming table. That gave sufficient evidence of the character of the business to enable the owner to get possession of the premises, which would not have been let by him for such business for any consideration.

Small houses are much in demand. A good opportunity to purchase the Reding house, on State street, will be offered by Mr. Wendell next week. See auction notices.

THE STATE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE.
BY HIS EXCELLENCY, THE GOVERNOR,
A PROCLAMATION
For a Day of Fasting, Humiliation and Prayer.

In conformity with the pious usages of our fathers it has been the custom, with every returning spring time, to set apart a day for special religious service. Never has this custom seemed more worthy of perpetuation than at the present time. While we have cause for gratitude to Almighty God for his mercies to our nation during the past year it is still becoming in us to humble ourselves beneath His mighty hand that He may exalt us in due time to a true and lasting Union, a substantial prosperity and a position as a free and enlightened people which we have never known before.

I do accordingly, with the advise and consent of the Honorable Council, set apart Thursday, the thirteenth day of April next, as a DAY OF PUBLIC FASTING, HUMILIATION AND PRAYER, and do urgently appeal to the people of New Hampshire to assemble on that day in their customary places of worship and implore from our Heavenly Father peace for our distracted country based on the principles of eternal justice and truth; wisdom and integrity for our rulers; courage and patriotic devotion to our soldiers; freedom from pestilence and famine throughout our borders; and the consolations of religion for those who are in affliction and distress.

Given at the Council Chamber this thirtieth day of March, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-five, and of the Independence of the United States the eighty-ninth.

JOSEPH A. GILMORE.

By his Excellency the Governor,
B. GERRISH, Jr. Secretary of State.

How "Down East" Quotas were Filled—Mysteries and Miseries of Bounty Jumping.—One of the greatest rascals in the bounty-fraud business would seem to be a man named Delaney, whose residence is in Augusta, Maine, but whose operations extend all over the country. Some time since, Colonel Baker received from an unknown source the following letter:

New York, Feb. 26.

Colonel Baker: Sir:—I congratulate you on the successful termination of your investigations of the bounty frauds. But, before you stop, I should like to lay before your notice one of the most gigantic bounty frauds ever perpetrated in the country. It has been in active operation for six months, and is still in full blast.

In the town of Augusta, Maine, is the seat of this swindle. Some months since, a Mr. Delaney sent an agent on to New York, Boston, Philadelphia, and other large cities, to get men to enlist in Augusta, the agent telling the men they only had to go there and take the bounty, and that Mr. Delaney would see that they got away in a few days, as he had several town quotas to fill in Maine, by contract. Some fifty men besides myself went on to enlist from New York; most of them were honest mechanics, and a few jumpers—myself among the latter class. Delaney's plan was to humbug honest men and jumpers alike. Now, being a jumper myself, I have no sympathy with jumpers who get beat, for it is diamond cut diamond with us; so when we get burned, we consider it a joke. But I feel sorry for the many hard-working men who get beat by the scoundrel Delaney, and it is in hopes that you will make this villain disgorge that I write this letter. I will tell my passage through that mill, so that you can see the modus operandi by which this Delaney makes his money;—he is worth half a million, and all made within the last six months.

I went to Augusta, saw Delaney, and the following conversation ensued: "Mr. Delaney, I have just left your agent in New York. He sent me on to you to go through. He said the thing was soft, and if you confirm your agent's statements about its softness, I am willing to go through."

Delaney replied: "My dear boy, I am glad to see you. Now I want you to write to the jumpers of your acquaintance and tell them to come on immediately, for this is the softest thing in the country; for I've got a contract to fill quotas for several towns, and my accountability ends as soon as you get to camp on the hills. You can get passed back to town any time. I am Deputy Provost Marshal, and can get you out of any pinch you can get into after that. I am allowed $700 apiece for every man I muster; I keep $75 for myself, give the broker $225, and the recruit $400. So, you see, any man can take $400 in two or three days."

I thought it easy to take and be enlisted. We—twenty of us—were passed (half-dressed) by the physician; got our clothes on and gave our citizens'-dress to Delaney to keep and bring me, which he did, and we put them on under our soldier-togs. After waiting some three days, we got paid $100 Government bounty, went to town on a pass procured for us by Delaney, and could have gone home then, but thought we'd wait a few days longer, for our $300 State-bounty. We waited a few days longer, and one fine day we found ourselves in charge of a guard of the Diarrhœa Corps, to go to Gallop's Island, where we were to receive $300 State bounty. After we got there, we were given $100, and told that the Governor of the State of Maine had ordered that only $100 bounty was allowed to three years' men. Many of the men were swindled—say one hundred and fifty of them—out of $200—$30,000—a nice little sum for some one. I wrote to General Dix, but he never got it. I would not serve three years for $200 for no man. So when we took transport on New Year's Day for City Point, in the A. T. Scott, we came down the Sound, and was passing Jones's Wood, New York, I took a jump from the port of the steamer, and swam ashore. It was devilish cold, but I suffered less bodily pain than I should mentally to go to the front for $200.

If you want any more information, you can insert a small piece in the Herald's Personals. Address J. Woods, formerly a member of the First Maine Sharpshooters. If you will give me your word of honor not to molest me, through the Personals, I will see you in person. I would make an excellent detective; have been trying to get the billet for the last year, and know more jumpers than any "cop" in the force. I know them, too, but they don't know me. Yours respectfully,

J. Woods.

The Colonel, who is in the habit of taking all the chances inserted a "Personal," assuring the man that he would be fairly treated. Accordingly, Woods called at the Colonel's rooms, and made affidavit to a series of charges against Delaney, all of which were confirmed and substantiated by circumstantial or other evidence. An officer was sent for Mr. Delaney, and he reached the city and took up lodgings at the Astor House. He endeavored to explain matters, but Colonel Baker was convinced of the truth of the statement made by Woods; and Delaney we believe has since been sentenced to State Prison for ten years, and $70,000 or more of his ill-gotten gains confiscated to Government—and that is too light punishment for such traitorous villains as he.

—Can the Bath Times inform us whether any interests in that locality have suffered from the stopping of the blockade running business, or whether the Nassau trade from that port is as good as at some previous dates since the war commenced.—Portland Press

We reckon something has happened from the blue look which certain persons about town have, who, if report speaks true, were not unwilling to venture in the blockade running trade.—Bath Times.

The property of this Company is located on "Coal Run Creek," Meigs County, State of Ohio, about 10 miles from Athens, containing one hundred and five acres of land. A large number of wells are successfully worked in the vicinity, some of which are paying handsome dividends.—This Company propose to commence operations at once, and entertain no doubt but that at an early day they will be able to pay a handsome percentage on the investment. The known ability and commercial standing of the officers of this Company afford a sufficient guaranty that the affairs will be conducted in a manner to secure the confidence of those who are disposed to invest in it.

The tract of land adjoining the property of this Company has passed into the hands of capitalists, who have sent out an experienced superintendent to commence operations at once, and their first order for machinery was $15,000. Our property has been examined under instructions from Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, who pronounces the coal, which is in abundance, to be of the best quality, yielding 80 gallons of oil to the ton, and has no doubt, from the location and position of the property, that it will be found valuable in the production of oil. Most companies have to pay very high prices for their coal, all of which we save; oil can be manufactured from the coal upon the property, at a cost not exceeding ten cents per gallon, and it is proposed to commence the manufacture in connection with the sinking of wells. One dollar will buy a share of this stock, which is the par value, and all benefits derived from the lands, either in the shape of oil, land or products of any kind, are to be divided among the stockholders, and in addition $200,000 worth of valuable, useful and desirable property will be given to the stockholders, as soon as all the shares are disposed of. The Company adopt this course for the purpose of disposing of their stock at the par value, rather than to sell it, as many companies do, at a subscription price, which is usually one-half. Thus, it will be perceived that every stockholder owning ten shares, for example, will be sure to realize a handsome dividend when the property is divided; a plan which is entirely honorable, and in all respects perfectly legal.

The property to be distributed among the stockholders will be equal to any in the market, and will consist of the following described articles:

This stock is bona fide, full paid, with no possibility of future assessments and no personal liability. The absolute value and actual cash cost of this property are so great as to preclude its being offered with the allurement of a reduction from a nominal par value.

It has been selected, at different times during the past year, by several old and experienced oil workers and residents of Oil Creek, who are familiar with the history, progress and value of every well and piece of property in that region.—Several of the producing interests were originally acquired for the purpose of holding as private investments and sources of regular income.

These gentleman have, however, been induced to combine their various interests, with additional property, into one strong, sound, and reliable company. Each of them will retain an interest as stockholders, and hold their stock as a permanent investment. Residing in the oil region, and directly concerned in the success of the company, they are pledged to look closely after its operations; thus affording a guaranty of watchful supervision, and faithful and energetic management possessed probably by no other oil company ever formed. Two of these gentlemen are on the board of Direction, and one Superintendent of the Company.

The stock is sold to pay for the property, and to furnish a working capital to open up the large and promising tracts yet waiting to be developed.

The managers start with the intention of paying dividends quarterly and from actual earnings only. Paying quarterly affords time to sell the oil produced to the best advantage, and is believed to be in all respects the soundest policy.

The dividends will beyond question, be not only immediate, but regular, permanent and remunerative. We wish to avoid holding out any inducements not warranted by the same moderate and reasonable calculations that would be made in embarking in any legitimate business enterprise. It is safe, however, to assure subscribers of handsome quarterly dividends from the present wells of the company; which will moreover, we confidently believe, be very largely increased by new developments to be rapidly made upon our extensive and valuable properties.

We invite attention to, and the most careful examination of, the following list of properties, lands, and leases, the locations of which are all shown upon the map; believing that none more valuable and promising have ever been offered upon so small a capital, and none that have given greater assurance of permanent value and large returns. We invite subscriptions to an investment, and guarantee the most energetic and skilful efforts to develop the property thoroughly, as well as careful and faithful management.

Summary of Properties.

Two tracts of good boring land, one hundred and one hundred and four acres respectively, in fee, situated south of Oil City, in Venango county, in the immediate neighborhood of the Adamantine, Lee, and other large wells just struck on the East Sandy and Alleghany rivers.

Important interests and Leases on the best and most carefully selected properties on Oil Creek,—on the Hassan Flats,—Cornplanter Run,—Rynd Flats,—Cherry Tree Run,—Clapp & Hassan, Widow McClintock, Foster, and two lots on the celebrated Hyde & Egbert Farm.

In all, fifteen wells, five of them producing seven down from two to five hundred feet and still boring, and three just commencing, with room on the leases for several more wells.

Also a good Refinery, in complete working order, capable of refining 120 barrels per day, at a profit of one to five hundred dollars.

Also engines, tools, tubing, tanks, and improvements, the actual cost of which was $66,500, and worth to-day $75,000,—the whole comprising a property unsurpassed for present value and prospective increase.

THE MAGEE
COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber would especially call the attention of the public to the
MAGEE COOK STOVE,
as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We invite all those in want of the very best Stove in the market, to examine the
MAGEE COOK.
Also on hand an assortment of the different sizes

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR WARMING
FURNACES.
The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pots is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the
MAGEE FURNACE.
The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 30 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the best generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

To the Hon. Judge of Probate for the County of Rockingham:

RESPECTFULLY SHEWS WILLIAM MARVIN of Portsmouth, in the County of Rockingham—that he is guardian of John F. Martin and Horatio F. Martin, heirs at law of JOHN MARTIN, late of Newcastle in said County, deceased, by the appointment of the Judge of Probate for the said County of Rockingham; that he said ward is entitled in a certain lot or parcel of land, situated in said Newcastle, with the buildings thereon, bounded as follows, viz: Beginning at an iron pipe in the town of Newcastle, called the parsonage, and running westerly eighty-three feet and nine inches on the highway or street to land of William Vennard's; thence running southerly forty-two feet and twelve inches, more or less, by said Vennard's land; thence easterly by land of George Vennard's, twenty-one feet nine inches, more or less, to land of Theodore Frost's; thence turning and running fifteen feet by said Frost's land; thence running easterly nineteen feet nine inches, more or less, by the last mentioned land; thence turning and running ninety-six feet by the same, to a burying ground; thence easterly by said burying ground sixty-five feet to the parsonage land; thence northerly one hundred and fourteen feet by the last mentioned land, to the place begun at. The said ward is subject to dower of the widow of the said John Martin, deceased, and that it is necessary for the support of his said Ward, and will be conducive to their interest to have the premises sold; wherefore he prays that he may be licensed and authorized to sell the same at public vendue or private sale, and that the Petitioner notify all persons concerned to appear at said Court, and show cause, if any they have, why the prayer of said petition should not be granted, by causing said petition and this order thereon to be published three weeks successively in the DAILY MORNING CHRONICLE, a newspaper printed at Portsmouth in said County, the last publication whereof to be at least seven days prior to said Court. By order of the Judge,

S. D. WINGATE, Register of Probate.

BAILEY'S
Spring Roll and Cog Wheel
WASHING AND WRINGING
MACHINES.
WRINGING MACHINES HAVE BECOME AN institution in the land. Thousands and tens of thousands have been sold during the last three years, so they all save an immense amount of labor and cost of material.
We now offer to the public a Machine that will WASH as well as WRING the Clothes. It is very heavy and strongly built—the Rolls are large and so fastened with screws as to secure from turning on the shaft. The Cog Wheels give power, and the Spring Roll makes it do its work with ease and perfection. The Machine is secured to a bench, independent of the wash tubs; consequently there is no trouble of fastening it every time it is used.
To any person who wishes to obtain an article to do both washing and wringing in a Public House or Private Family, we will give this a trial. If not satisfactory, the money will be refunded.—Call and see it.

COURTSHIP IN AUSTRALIA.—When a young warrior is desirous of procuring a wife, he generally obtains one by giving in exchange for her a sister or some female relative of his own; but if there should happen to be no eligible damsel disengaged in the tribe to which he belongs, then he hovers round the encampment of some other blacks, until he gets an opportunity of seizing one of their leubras, whom he has perhaps seen and admired when attending one of the corroborries. His mode of paying his addresses is simple and efficacious. With a blow of his nulla nulla (war-club,) he stuns the object of his "affections," and drags her insensible body away to some retired spot, whence, as soon as she recovers her senses, he brings her home to his own gunyah in triumph.

Sometimes two join in an expedition for the same purpose, and then for several days they watch the movements of their intended victims, using their utmost skill in concealing their presence. When they have obtained the knowledge they require, they wait for a dark, windy night; then quite naked, and carrying only their long "jag-spears," they crawl stealthily through the bush until they reach the immediate vicinity of the camp-fires, in front of which the girls that they are in search of are sleeping.

Slowly and silently, they creep close enough to distinguish the figure of one of those leubras; then one of the intruders stretches out his spear, and inserts its barbed point amongst her flowing locks; turning the spear slowly round, some of her hair speedily becomes entangled with it; then, with a sudden jerk, she is aroused from her slumber, and as her eyes open she feels the sharp point of another weapon pressing against her throat.

She neither faints nor screams; she knows well that the slightest attempt at escape or alarm will cause her instant death, so, like a sensible woman, she makes a virtue of necessity, and rising suddenly, she follows her captors. They lead her away to a considerable distance, tie her to a tree, and return to ensnare their other victim in a like manner. Then, when they have accomplished their design, they hurry off to their own camp, where they are received with universal applause, and highly honored for their chivalrous exploit. Occasionally, an alarm is given, but even then the wife-stealers easily escape amidst the confusion, to renew their attempt at some future period.—Chambers' Journal.

— A short time since a wealthy citizen residing in or near the village of Oconee, Ill., was murdered and robbed in his own house. Three men on whom suspicion fell were pursued and arrested. They were taken from the custody of the officers by the people of Oconee, who at once organized a Lynch court, and empanelled a jury for the trial of the prisoners. One of their number turned State's evidence, on a promise to spare his life, and made a full confession of the murder and robbery. The other two were found guilty and immediately executed by hanging.

— A horrible scene occurred in St. Louis on the 24th inst. As Wm. J. Harris, tried and convicted as a guerrilla or bushwhacker, was being executed, the rope broke, and the culprit fell his full length on the ground. The spectators fled panic-stricken, supposing the hanging would have to be repeated. In less than five minutes, however, Harris was pronounced dead by the medical attendant.

— The late heavy rains which proved so disastrous to other sections of the country, resulted in golden blessings to California.—The freshets washed down immense quantities of gold dust to the valleys, and the miners are busy sifting it out. In ten days three million dollars' worth of gold dust reached San Francisco from the interior.

Emerson once said in a public lecture that it did not require a strong imagination to associate certain effects with their causes, and that when walking the streets of Louisville or Cincinnati, he always fancied that he heard the squeal of a pig in the rustling of ladies' silks! What a powerful petrohun smell must invade his nostrils from many a gay dress of the present day!—Boston Post.

— The inmates of the Monastery of St. Catherine, of Siena, in Sicily, have had a narrow escape. About fifty monks had retired to the large dormitory of that establishment, when the wall of the building suddenly fell in, burying them alive. Happily assistance was soon procured, and all the monks, except one unfortunate man, were rescued from their perilous situation. It was, however, found impossible to extricate a certain Brother Anselem, the first who gave the alarm, from the debris that had fallen upon him, until four hours had elapsed, when only his dead body was dug out of the ruins.

— The Provost Marshal at Goldsboro', N. C., is receiving about forty deserters per day from Joe Johnston's army.

— Large rebel mails recently captured show the utmost despondency throughout the South.

WHAT IS A
FRENCH ROLL PAN?
IS A QUESTION OFTEN ASKED.
It is simply a nicely made
IRON PAN,
Or rather a series of Pans connected in one, of such peculiar form that all parts of the material contained in them receive an equal amount of heat, thus insuring a very
QUICK AND LIGHT BAKE.
For Sponge or Drop Cake, Muffins, French Rolls, Corn Bread or Raised Flour Biscuit, these Pans are Invaluable.
IN these days of high prices, it is worth while to
ECONOMISE
in any way. We give below a receipt for making a Cheap, Wholesome, and
PALATABLE BREAD:
"Stir into a pint of Cold Water sufficient Graham Flour to make a thin batter, adding a little Salt. Heat the Pan thoroughly, grease it a little, pour in the batter, and bake about half an hour in a hot oven."
By using Sweet Milk, instead of Water, as above, and a teaspoonful of Saleratus, Sugar, biscuit can be made fit to set before a King. We have sold nearly a thousand of these Roll Pans in about one year, and the sale is still increasing.—Try one.

☞ It does not require grinding, and is warranted to give satisfaction for painting Railway Cars, Iron Bridges, Houses, Barns, Halls and Decks of Ships, Tin and Shingle Roofs, &c.

MONDAY, APRIL 3, 1865.

THE REBELLION.

From Goldsboro', N. C., March 28, we learn that a large amount of corn and other supplies had been obtained from planters whose mills had been set to grinding. The position of Johnston's rebel army is unchanged. It is concentrated in and about Smithfield, ten miles above Goldsboro'. The desertions from it are quite numerous.

From Newbern, N. C., that Gen. Sherman's headquarters are to be moved to Newbern. Also Gen. Howard's headquarters. 514 bags of mail matter arrived at Newbern on Sunday and Monday for Sherman's army. Another batch of 500 rebel prisoners arrived there from Goldsboro on Sunday. They left for the North. More than half of them desire to take the oath of allegiance.

At Washington, three thousand rebel prisoners have taken the oath of allegiance during the month of March—an increase of 1000 over February.

Richmond papers of Wednesday report Sheridan's forces as having passed Dinwiddie Court House on Wednesday morning, and they think his destination is South Side Railroad.

In Kentucky, Ashcroft and Nicholas, guerrillas, who were sentenced to be shot at Lexington, have been respited for thirty days. A respite of sixty days has also been granted to C. K. Johnson, who was to have been hung.

The Washington Star says the negro canal man, whose boat was smashed by Sheridan on his late raid, and who was so lionized by the Richmond papers as having joined the rebel colored troops in a fervor of indignation against the Yankees, has deserted to our lines, and brings with him twenty new rebel uniforms.

Late advices from Richmond state that the gold and general assets of the Merchants' and Mechanics' Bank of that city have been sent away. The percussion cap manufactories have also been removed, it is supposed to Danville or Lynchburg. Lee's army has supplies for ten days.

The Flag of Truce boat Manhattan with released prisoners has arrived at Annapolis, and brings a rumor that Petersburg has been evacuated.

There is a rumor as doubtful, from New Orleans, that the rebel leaders of the trans Mississippi army are fully convinced of the hopelessness of the rebel cause, and have resolved to secede therefrom and proclaim the independence of Texas, preparatory, probably, to seeking admission into the old Union. The Brownville Ranchers bitterly denounce the scheme, proving there must be some foundation for it.

A despatch from Goldsboro', says the rebels have completed preparations to evacuate Raleigh. All departments of the State Government have removed to Greensboro', as well as all surplus military stores.

Gen. Schofield has levied a contribution of a hundred thousand rations of meat and flour on the citizens.

Gen. Washburn offers from $500 to $1,000 for the capture and conviction of guerrillas within twenty miles of Memphis.

Rebel deserters in the vicinity of Meridan, Miss., defy the authorities and threaten to annihilate the rebel militia and burn their houses if they attempt to oppose them. The deserters are all armed and organized.

President Lincoln is at City Point, and telegraphs to Sec. Stanton 8 30 P. M. Friday—as follows:

At 12.30 P. M. Gen. Grant telegraphed me as follows: "There has been much hard fighting this morning. This gives us the ground occupied by the enemy this morning. I will send you a rebel flag captured by our troops in driving the enemy back. There have been four flags captured today."

At a later hour Gen. Grant telegraphed again as follows: "Our troops after being driven back to the Boydtown plank road, turned and drove the enemy in turn and took the White Oak road, which we now have. The enemy drove our left from near Dabneys House back well towards Boydtown plank road. We are now about to take the offensive at that point and hope we will more than recover the lost ground."

Pres. Lincoln adds:

Judging by the two points from which Gen. Grant telegraphs, I infer that he moved his headquarters about one mile since he sent the first of the two dispatches.

The Tribune's correspondent gives an account of Gen. Grant's new movement on the left, producing a battle, which begun early on Thursday morning. After an action of 3-4 of an hour the enemy retreated, leaving his dead and most of his wounded on the field. The 5th corps then took possession of the ground. The force of the enemy engaged was one division of the 4th corps under Bushrod Johnson—about 6000 men. Our loss was about 400 men. The enemy's was about the same with an addition of 150 prisoners. Gen. Grant has established his headquarters on the Vaughn road, near Gravelly Run. Gen. Meade also has his headquarters on the Vaughan road, two miles from Hatcher's Run.

— Government is to have 18,000 tons of coal per week from Philadelphia for $8 25 per ton.

By Telegraph—Sunday noon.

Washington, April 1st.—The latest advices received here to-day from the advance of the army are contained in the President's telegram. It was fully expected at City Point yesterday that Sheridan had struck the South Side R. R. at Wellsville Depot, near White Oak Creek, which would be in the line directly west of Burkesville, the junction of the Danville and South Side R. R. The rebel infantry sent out by Gen. Lee to intercept Sheridan, was engaged by Gen. Grant's forces, about 10 miles this side of the South Side R. R., as early as Thursday; and as it is known that the enemy have no force of cavalry able to compete with Sheridan, it is considered certain that the cutting of both the railroad lines named will be easily accomplished. Advices from the front represent that in consequence of the bad weather on Thursday there was no movement of consequence on that day by Grant's advance beyond some change of position, improving his line, and some incidental skirmishing.

Full files of Richmond papers of Thursday contain but little news of interest. They are entirely silent on the North Carolina situation, and do not seem to be anticipating at all Grant's movements made on Thursday. The quotation for gold is $45 of rebel currency for $1 of gold.

New York, April 1st.—A rumor prevails that Johnston has evacuated Raleigh, and is now endeavoring to reach Virginia to reinforce Lee. Sherman is said to be in close pursuit. A special army dispatch says that our gunboats in James River are displaying some activity. They are moving about in various directions and taking up positions at different points. Adm. Farragut was at Fortress Monroe and left there for City Point.

Toronto, C. W., April 1st.—A dispatch from Montreal says the money voted by Parliament has been paid to the St. Albans banks.

New York, April 1st.—Gold closed 154 at the Evening Exchange.

☞ A Washington letter says:—Gen. Grant's present inactive policy is telling severely upon the rebel forces, and every day from one hundred and fifty to two hundred deserters enter the Union lines. They are sent up here, where Col. Tim. Ingraham, formerly of New Bedford, now the Provost Marshal of the District, sees that they are "re constructed," and they receive transportation to any part of the loyal States that they may select. Hundreds have been hired as farm laborers in New York and Pensylvania at ten dollars a month.

☞ Many peace rumors have been spread within a few days:—but the gold brokers did not believe them.—It is now certain that ex-President Fillmore did not go on a peace mission.

— The New York Times says:—"We know something of the object of the President's visit to the headquarters of the army, and so far as we know, any purpose of renewing propositions for peace was not among them. Nor do we hear from any quarter even a rumor that the rebels have taken any step towards submitting such propositions or inviting any fresh conferences upon the subject. They are apparently willing that events should take their course. They may risk a general engagement in defence of Richmond—they may deem it useless to attempt to hold it—and either evacuate it, or making a virtue of necessity, surrender at once the capital and the cause."

RASCALS COMING TO GRIEF.—A Washington item says:

The finding and sentence in the cases of the Devlins and Cahill, New York bounty brokers, tried before General Brigg's Military Commission, have been confirmed by the Secretary of War. John Devlin was sentenced to ten years in the penitentiary and fined $3000.

James Devlin was sentenced to seven years in the penitentiary and $5000 fine. John Cahill was sentenced to five years imprisonment. They are to be sent to the Clinton, (N. J.,) prison. This is the first instance of a large batch of similar cases, and which bring to light the immense frauds practised on the Government. Steps are being taken to bring to justice these offenders in other parts of the country and prevent the recurrence of frauds. The Commission is going forward rapidly in the examination.

SHERMAN IN A STORM.—Steamer Fairbanks arrived at Fortress Monroe March 30th, from Newbern with 700 prisoners.—The captain reports having experienced very stormy weather. At noon, when off Hatteras, he was brought to by a gun from the steamer Bat. The Bat had General Sherman on board, he being on his return to Goldsboro. The captain was requested to pilot the Bat into Hatteras Inlet, which he accordingly did, and then proceeded to his port.

GOLD, Saturday, 151 1-2. The European steamer which left New York on Saturday, took out only $43,500 in specie.

— There has been a great freshet in Wisconsin, and considerable damage has been done to the La Crosse railroad. There have been no trains at La Crosse for several days.

— A man behind the times is apt to speak ill of them. Probably they don't look well from behind.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The Concord Statesman says in acquaintance with the elections of New Hampshire not now brief—for it embraces forty years—we never heard so much satisfaction expressed with a result as of that which took place on the 14th inst.; and that satisfaction was because so little money was spent for the purpose of influencing voters. Thousands of voters in the State have come to the conclusion that if a cause cannot prevail without buying voters into its support, it had better fall to the ground.

—— Col. Edward L. Bailey, late commander of the 2d regiment, has gone into trade in Boston.

—— Woodbury T. Hicks, 1st N. H. Heavy Artillery, died in hospital at Washington on Monday of last week.

—— It appears that a son of Dr. Livingstone, the celebrated African traveller,—a member of the 3d N. H. regiment, has been taken prisoner by the rebels.

—The Annual Examination of the State Reform School will take place on Wednesday next, April 5th, at 1 o'clock P. M.

MAPLE SUGAR.—The Coos Republican states that unusually extensive preparations have been made by the farmers of Coos for the manufacture of maple sugar the present season. The high prices ruling, has induc-many owners of sugar orchards to engage in the business, who usually allow their trees to remain unproductive. There has already been one excellent run of sap, for which many were not prepared, and the indications are stated by those wise in such matters, to be excellent for a large yield of sugar.

A GREAT RUN.—In a letter received within a day or two from Grafton county, it is stated that during the last week there had been the greatest run of sap in the maple sugar orchards in that region which had been known for several years. The nights had been cool and frosty and the days warm and pleasant.—Mirror.

CONCORD POLICE.—Some few years ago a man with a family in Haverhill, this State, eloped and went to California. He there married a young girl from the State of New York. A few weeks since he felt, with her and her brother, for the Atlantic side of the United States. On the passage the brother became very ill, and considering it unsafe to retain in a girdle upon his person $800 in gold, entrusted it to his presumptive brother-in-law. The party agreed to go to Lovejoy's hotel, but upon reaching the wharf the bigamist disappeared. A description was given to the proper authorities, and disseminated, and on Friday last the offender was arrested at the depot by Marshal Pickering, in Concord, N. H., and committed to gaol. There were found upon his person $260 in gold coin.—Statesman.

SUCCESS OF THE 7-30 LOAN. — Our readers will notice that subscriptions to the popular 7-30 Loan are still continued in the most liberal manner. To the Old World the success of these People's Loans is one of the wonders of a Republic. The Government does not seek to borrow in foreign markets; it offers no premiums to bankers, but appeals directly to the people, and with what success is sufficiently shown by the fact that during forty-three days they subscribed and paid the cash down for one hundred and sixty-one million dollars of the 7-30 Loan. There can be no stronger evidence of public confidence in Government securities. While nearly all other stocks have gone down from twenty to fifty, and even a greater per cent. within a few weeks, all forms of U. S. bonds and stocks have remained firm, except the slight fluctuations that are incident to all rapid changes in the money market.

Our readers will remember that the subscribers to the 7-30 Loan receive semi-annual interest at the rate of seven and three-tenths per cent. per annum in currency, and at the end of three years from June 15th, 1865, they will have the option of receiving payment in full, or converting their notes into a 5-20 six per cent. gold interest bond. The late great decline in the premium on gold makes these notes more desirable than ever as an investment, and it should not be forgotton that their exemption from state or municipal taxation adds largely to their value. There is no interruption in the receipt of subscriptions or the delivery of the notes. All banks, bankers, and others acting as Loan Agents, will pay subscribers the interest in advance from the day of subscription until June 15th.

☞ The American Journal, a new paper at Salem, Mass., wishes us to "pass round" a certain "person calling himself Charles P. Sanborn, an itinerant vender of quack nostrums, and hailing from Manchester, where he has defrauded several parties. In connection with his 'Great Russian Remedy' (?) and other shops, he has an interest in a pretended female fortune-teller." Better "order him up," we think, Br. Journal—and the safest way is to let all peddlers alone, and fortune-tellers ditto.

☞ The Newburyport Herald says one Josiah Hutchinson, a hatter, came from Salem about three years ago to work in the hat factories of Newburyport; but for most of the time he has been tending bar for the grog shops or loafing round them. Within a few days he has complained of ill health, evidently arising from excessive drinking. On Wednesday evening he was found at his boarding-house, in which he had been left alone, the landlady being out of town, helpless and speechless on the floor, and died shortly after. Excess of drink and deficiency of bread were the probable causes. Deceased was 52 years old.

ESTABLISHED

FACTS AND REASONS

FOR USING

DR. S. O. RICHARDSON'S

BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR!

FIRST. The extraordinary curative effect of the Blood-Root Elixir was discovered by a regularly educated Physician: and the present proprietor also is a graduate from one of the highest Medical Colleges in New England.

SECOND. The Elixir is not alcoholic, contains no minerals, and may be relied upon as being composed of strictly vegetable substances; and no ingredient is intermixed that can unfavorably affect the most delicate constitution.

THIRD. The extensive and successful use of the Blood-Root Elixir, during the past year, proves it to be, without any qualification, the best and most valuable medicine that has ever been prepared for family use.

FOURTH. Medical science and skill have never been able to produce a cathartic medicine of equal power and effect, which contains so many desirable qualities. Its superiority as an aperient consists in its sure and thorough action, operating equally through all parts of the Bowels. It never produces griping pains in its operation; never occasions nausea; its flavor is pleasing and agreeable; and it will not be rejected by the most fastidious child. It may be safely used in all cases where laxative medicine is required. It will promote the comfort and health of both sexes, and of all ages: it will assist Nature during all infantile changes; it will, during the anxious hours of a mother's life, hasten and assuage her maternal pangs; it will render joyous and happy the nursing days of the aged and venerable. And when the Elixir is once introduced into any household, it will therein supersede all other laxative medicines.

FIFTH. The long period which the Elixir was used by the original proprietor, in prescriptions to his patients, and the great and unqualified success which has attended its more general use, during the past year, are confirmed by unsolicited testimonials, which in number and extended results exceed any estimate our most sanguine hopes so early had anticipated,—therefore we are fortified by unrefutable evidence, that our estimate of the efficacy and value of the Blood-Root Elixir has not been exaggerated.

SIXTH. In examining certificates received during the past year of its successful results, we are gratified in believing that our medicine has not failed in any case where it has been tried, to cure the most stubborn and chronic cases of COSTIVENESS.

SEVENTH. Most grateful manifestations have also been evinced by patients who have been relieved from LIVER COMPLAINTS of long standing. Also it has been effectual in curing CUTANEOUS ERUPTIONS OF THE SKIN; and in eradicating HUMORS OF THE BLOOD. And many afflicted with deep seated incurable SCROFULA, have been greatly benefitted by a moderate use of the Elixir.

EIGHTH. In cases of COUGHS and COLDS it has proved successful beyond any assurance we have ever expressed; and those who have thoroughly tested its effect, believe it to be superior to all other cough preparations,—the Elixir, by its physical properties, equalizes the circulation of the Blood, and removes congestion. It also, when used as a gargle, or swallowed slowly, heals and soothes the irritated and inflamed membranes, from which the cough arises.

NINTH. Many persons suffer periodically from JAUNDICE, which is occasioned by a morbid and inactive state of the Liver. The Blood-Root Elixir is a sure relief from the dependent feelings and painful symptoms which are peculiar to that disease.

TENTH. DYSPEPSIA is an aggravating and disheartening disease, often leading to dangerous results. A limited use of the Elixir, according to the directions, will regulate the stomach and bowels with unerring certainty, and restore digestion to a natural and healthy action.

ELEVENTH. RHEUMATISM the Blood-Root Elixir will readily relieve; its warm and quickening effect counteracts the cold and morbid condition of the fluids, which is the primary cause of all Rheumatic affections.

TWELFTH. Persons subject to HEADACHE will be relieved in a few hours by a single dose of the Elixir.

☞ Every person taking the Elixir should carefully read the printed pamphlet which accompanies each bottle.

☞ Mr. Head's collective Entertainment, for Thursday evening next, will, beyond question, be one of the most varied and attractive ever given here,—or almost anywhere else, as to that matter. The Programme which we advertise this morning embraces something to suit everybody's taste; and few managers know so well as Mr. Head how to arrange the details of such affairs.

As to the cost of such a multiplied feast, we should say, from what we know of such matters, that the expenses must be well up to three hundred dollars; and with tickets at a price much lower than he has put them, even the enlarged Temple would not hold enough to pay the bills! Mr. Head has always shown himself ready to aid in any enterprise of the sort, for the benefit of the public; and we hope this will prove a liberal "benefit" to himself, in return.

A TREAT IN STORE.—It is announced that Wendell Phillips will lecture in this city on Wednesday evening next, in behalf of the Freedmen. It is enough to say that Mr. Phillips will lecture, to insure a full house. This is a very pleasant and agreeable way of contributing a trifle of 15 cents for so deserving and needy an enterprise,—and receiving double the value back, besides the blessings of those who are ready to perish. *

☞ The tory who edits the Stars and Bars, attempts to be witty, but only succeeds in being silly,—because a boy carelessly hoisted the Chronicle flag union down, Friday morning. There is this difference, however, between that lad and the traitorous sympathizer of the sheet referred to—and that is, that while the boy does not desire or intend to injure or disgrace the Union or our glorious banner, the Stars and Bars man labors continually to that end.

☞ The old Parrott House, on Congress St., at corner of Chestnut St., was sold at auction by William H. Hackett, on Saturday (excluding the brick and stone,) for $195, to James Walley. A substantial building is to be erected on the site by the owner of the land, Col. J. W. Peirce.

A BIG EGG.—A native hen, belonging to Rev. Samuel Hoyt of Newington, has recently produced an egg of almost unheard-of proportions. It measured 9 1-4 inches the long way, and 7 3-4 the other; weighed 7 ounces! and contained a perfect hard-shell egg within itself. We think that "biddy" has made herself famous, and can't be beat, except by a bigger goose than herself.

☞ We have already mentioned the arrest of a black deserter named John Thomas, who jumped from the cars between this place and Concord. He had a confederate of the same color, named Lemuel Laws, a sub broker of Boston, who has also been arrested.

—A California correspondent of the Missouri Republican tells of seeing on exhibition in the Sanitary Fair, in San Francisco, forty eight Bartlett pears on a single stem, eight inches long. They were of average Bartlett size, and stood out at right angles to the stem, completely enveloping it.

— Of one hundred and sixty two teachers employed in the colored schools by the Board of Education of Louisiana, one hundred and thirty are of Southern origin, and only thirty-five from the West and North. This is highly creditable to the Southern ladies.

— The York (Pa.) Democrat thinks the aggregate damage throughout the State by the late freshet cannot fall short of $10,000,000.

— The Missouri State Convention in Committee of the Whole, has adopted an article that after the 1st of January, 1876, no person shall be allowed to vote in the State who is unable to read, except through physical causes. Another article was adopted—that foreigners may vote one year after declaring their intention to become citizens.

☞ Mr. Speer, having some property in New Jersey, turned his attention to the cultivation of the Sambucs, imported from Portugal. A TRUE AIM.—It has not been the aim of the proprietor of Hunnewell's great preparations, advertised on our inside columns, to base a false reputation by long and unmeaning advertising, but a real one by true results, to which all who try them will cheerfully assent. See advertisement.

POPULARITY.—A great many people, at the present day, think more of obtaining a publicity and popularity, than of any other one thing they could possibly be possessed of. But, anxious as they may be to acquire the vain glory of the popular voice, none ever succeeded to so great an extent as has that world-renowned remedy, known as Coe's Cough Balsam. There is scarcely a family in the land but what consider a supply of this article as necessary to the household as their flour or provisions. Experience has taught the people that no other remedy has ever been put before the public that will cure coughs, colds, croup, sore throat, and in fact all throat and lung complaints, as quickly and as effectually as Coe's Cough Balsam. In the Eastern States, where it has been long known and tested, it is considered as the most reliable cough remedy extant, and with the rich and poor, thinks of being without it. We would suggest with all our readers the necessity of keeping on hand an article of this kind for immediate use. It costs but 40 cents per bottle, and is sold at all our drug stores, and is the cheapest and best remedy in the world. mh27 1m.

He is the happiest who does most to make others happy. We say success to the inventor, and everybody knew how good it is, no other would be used. A good many of our Merchants have it. The depot is 112 Liberty Street, New York.

Cleanse the Blood.

With corrupt, disordered or vitiated Blood, you are sick all over. It may burst out in Humors, or Sores, or in some active disease, or it may merely keep you listless, depressed and good for nothing. But you cannot have good health while your Blood is impure. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA purges out these impurities and stimulates the organs of life into vigorous action, restoring the health and expelling disease. Hence it rapidly cures a variety of complaints which are caused by impurity of the blood, such as Scrofula, or King's Evil, Tumors, Ulcers, Sores, Eruptions, Pimples, Blotches, Boils, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter or Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ring Worm, Cancer or Cancerous, Tumors, Sore Eyes, Female Diseases, such as Retention, Irregularity, Suppression, Whites, Sterility, also quite or Venereal Diseases, Liver Complaints, and Heart Diseases. Try AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, and see for yourself the surprising activity with which it cleanses the blood and cures these disorders.

During late years the public have been misled by large bottles, pretending to give a quart of Extract of Sarsaparilla, for one dollar. Most of these have been frauds upon the sick, for they not only contain little, if any, Sarsaparilla, but often no curative properties whatever. Hence, bitter disappointment has followed the use of the various extracts of Sarsaparilla, which flood the market, until the name itself has become synonymous with imposition and cheat. Still we call this compound "Sarsaparilla," and intend to supply such a remedy as shall rescue the name from the load of obloquy which it rests upon it. We think we have ground for believing it has virtue which are irresistible by the ordinary run of the diseases it is intended to cure. We can only assure the sick, that we offer them the best alterative which we know how to produce, and we are reason to believe, it is by far the most effectual purifier of the blood yet discovered by any body.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL is so universally known to surpass every other remedy for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease, that it is unnecessary here to recount the evidence of its virtues. The world knows them.

Prepared by J. C. AYER & Co., Lowell, Mass., and sold by Brackett Hutchings, Thacher, W. R. Preston, David Kimball, and all druggists.

INCENDIARY ASHES. — Fire Marshal Blackburn, of Philadelphia, in his annual report thus speaks of the danger from hot ashes:—

Next to that strange and mysterious process of nature, chemical action, in the production of fires, the most insidious agent is hot ashes. They will retain heat for weeks, and start combustion at the moment least anticipated. Neither an ash box or an ash barrel is ever safe an instant on one's premises, especially if placed on a wooden floor or against a frame wall or board partition. I have been actually amazed in witnessing the carelessness exhibited by people in getting rid of their ashes, and this, sometimes, too, in places, such, for instance, as large storehouses filled with stocks of goods of great value, important manufactories, depots, etc., where I had a right to expect better things of the good sense and forethought of the proprietors, or other persons in charge of them. I am convinced that many fires, the commencement of which is wrapped in mystery, come from depositing heated ashes in wooden vessels.

Spring Roll and Cog Wheel
WASHING AND WRINGING MACHINES.

WRINGING MACHINES HAVE BECOME AN institution in the land. Thousands and tens of thousands have been sold during the past three years, and they all save an immense amount of labor and cost of material.

We now offer to the public a Machine that will WASH as well as WRING the Clothes. It is very heavy and strongly built—the Rolls are large and so fastened with screws as to be secure from turning on the shaft. The Cog Wheels give power, and the Spring Roll makes it do its work with ease and perfection. The Machine is secured to a bench, independent of the wash tub; consequently there is no trouble of fastening it every time it is used.

To any person who wishes to obtain an article to do both washing and wringing in a Public House or Private Family, we say give this a trial. If not satisfactory, the money will be refunded.—Call and see it.

The property of this Company is located on "Coal Run Creek," Meigs County, State of Ohio, about 10 miles from Athens, containing one hundred and five acres of land. A large number of wells are successfully worked in the vicinity, some of which are paying handsome dividends.—This Company propose to commence operations at once, and entertain no doubt that at an early day they will be able to pay a handsome per centage on the investment. The known ability and commercial standing of the officers of this Company afford a sufficient guaranty that the affairs will be conducted in a manner to secure the confidence of those who are disposed to invest in it.

The tract of land adjoining the property of this Company has passed into the hands of capitalists, who have sent out an experienced superintendent to commence operations at once, and their first order for machinery was $15,000. Our property has been examined under instructions from Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, who pronounces the coal, which is in abundance, to be of the best quality, yielding 30 gallons of oil to the ton, and has no doubt, from the location and position of the property, that it will be found valuable in the production of oil. Most companies have to pay very high prices for their coal, all of which we save; oil can be manufactured from the coal upon the property, at a cost not exceeding ten cents per gallon, and it is proposed to commence the manufacture in connection with the sinking of wells. One dollar will buy a share of the stock, which is the par value, and all benefits derived from the lands, either by sales of oil, land or products of any kind, are to be divided among the stockholders, and in addition $200,000 worth of valuable, useful and desirable property will be given to the stockholders, as soon as all the shares are disposed of. The Company adopt this course for the purpose of disposing of their stock at the par value, rather than to sell it, as many companies do, at a subscription price, which is usually one-half. Thus, it will be perceived that every stockholder owning ten shares, for example, will be sure to realize a handsome dividend when the property is divided; a plan which is entirely honorable, and in all respects perfectly legal.

The property to be distributed among the stockholders will be equal to any in the market, and will consist of the following described articles:

$5000 to purchase a HOUSE in Boston or vicinity.
$5000 in U. S. 5-20 BONDS, CERTIFICATES of $500 each.

This stock is bona fide, full paid, with no possibility of future assessments and no personal liability. The absolute value and actual cash cost of this property are so great as to preclude its being offered with the allurement of a reduction from a nominal par value.

It has been selected, at different times during the past year, by several old and experienced oil-workers and residents of Oil Creek, who are familiar with the history, progress and value of every well and piece of property in that region.—Several of the producing interests were originally acquired for the purpose of holding as private investments and sources of regular income.

These gentleman have, however, been induced to combine their various interests, with additional property, into one strong, sound, and reliable company. Each of them will retain an interest as stockholders, and hold their stock as a permanent investment. Residing in the oil region, and directly concerned in the success of the company, they are pledged to look closely after its operations; thus affording a guaranty of watchful supervision, and faithful and energetic management possessed probably by no other oil company ever formed. Two of these gentlemen are on the board of Direction, and one Superintendent of the Company.

The stock is sold to pay for the property, and to furnish a working capital to open up the large and promising tracts yet waiting to be developed.

The managers start with the intention of paying dividends quarterly and from actual earnings only. Paying quarterly affords time to sell the oil produced to the best advantage, and is believed to be in all respects the soundest policy.

The dividend beyond question, be not only immediate, but regular, permanent and remunerative. We wish to avoid holding out any inducements not warranted by the same moderate and reasonable calculations that would be made in embarking in any legitimate business enterprise. It is safe, however, to assure subscribers of handsome quarterly dividends from the present wells of the company; which will moreover, we confidently believe, be very largely increased by new developments to be rapidly made upon our extensive and valuable properties.

We invite attention to, and the most careful examination of, the following list of properties, lands, and leases, the locations of which are all shown upon the map; believing that none more valuable and promising have ever been offered upon so small a capital, and none that have given greater assurance of permanent value and large returns. We invite subscriptions to an investment, and guarantee the most energetic and skilful efforts to develop the property thoroughly, as well as careful and faithful management.

Summary of Properties.

Two tracts of good boring land, one hundred and one hundred and four acres respectively, in fee, situated south of Oil City, in Venango county, in the immediate neighborhood of the Adamantine, Lee, and other large wells just struck on the East Sandy and Allegheny rivers.

Important interests and Leases on the best and most carefully selected properties on Oil Creek,—on Hassan Flats,—Corplanter Run,—Rynd Flats,—Cherry Tree Run,—Clapp & Hassan, Widow McClintock, Foster, and two lots on the celebrated Hyde & Egbert Farm.

In all, fifteen wells, five of them producing seven down from two to five hundred feet and still boring, and three just commencing, with room on the leases for several more wells.

Also a good Refinery, in complete working order, capable of refining 150 barrels per day, at a profit of one to five hundred dollars.

Also engines, tools, tubing, tanks, and improvements, the actual cash cost of which was $56,500, and worth to-day $75,000,—the whole comprising a property unsurpassed for present value and prospective increase.

NEW HAMPSHIRE PATRIOTISM.—Under this head, Perley writes to the Boston Journal, as follows:—I mislaid a memorandum of a noble speech made just prior to the close of the session by Mr. Clark of New Hampshire, but it is worth publishing now. The Pennsylvanians were endeavoring to secure the amendment to an appropriation bill providing for the immediate payment of $700,000to reimburse the State of Pennsylvania for the funds advanced to her militiamen in 1863. Senator Clark rose, and in his quaint, impressive way, said:

"The State of New Hampshire, the other day, had a claim against the United States for a little over half a million dollars, and the Governor of the State was here endeavoring to get from the War Department a settlement of the account. The War Department replied to him that they could not furnish the funds to pay any State now, for the soldiers in the field were suffering, and what money they had must go to pay the soldiers; and the Secretary of War said he would postpone any and every State until they were paid. The Governor then went to the President of the United States and had a conversation with him, and afterward came to me and requested me to go and see the President. I did so; and the President said to me: 'This is the question, Mr Clark: we owe your State so many hundred thousand dollars, and we owe the soldiers; we have money only to pay one; which will you take?' 'Pay the soldiers, Mr. President,' said I, 'and let my State wait!'"

Who wonders that a State thus represented in the Senate gave a decided Union majority?

SMART OLD LADIES.—At the house of Earl Dickey, esq., in New Boston, are three old ladies—Mrs. Dickey, Mrs. Cram, and Mrs. Gordon, all over eighty years of age. Mrs. Dickey, who is in her ninety-fourth year, has knit the past winter a pair of socks each for her son and three grandsons, and is now piecing up a bed quilt, which she is able to do without the aid of glasses, threading her own needle. Besides this she invariably, when the weather is fair, feeds her hens, gathers her eggs and carries in the most of her wood. Mrs. Cram is eighty-four and is quite smart, being able to walk out quite a distance every day in good weather. Mrs. Gordon is in her eighty-first year and is quite as smart as most women at sixty, attends church frequently, and is able to do all kinds of work about a farm-house. Besides these three aged sisters there are four other sisters, three of whom are over eighty, in the same family, all living, but somewhat separated, and these six veteran sisters are all widows.

Their mother died in her ninety-third year. We venture to say such a remarkable family of sisters can scarcely be found, so aged, yet so smart. The aggregate of the ages of the seven is five hundred and ninety-three years.—Mirror.

Gov. Brough, of Ohio, in his late message states this startling fact, illustrating the terrors of the draft in that State:

"It is estimated that the number of men who fled from Ohio as the recent draft approached and during its execution, exceeded twenty thousand. To such an extent has this emigration gone, that in some cases there were not men enough left in the township to fill the quotas."—Patriot.

The terrors of the draft have been illustrated in a similar way and to like extent in several towns in New Hampshire.—Monitor.

May not this have something to do with the diminished copperhead vote?

☞ The horse railroad in Charlestown, Mass., having horses to be shod by a blacksmith a little way from the stable, have permitted boys to ride the horses for that purpose. On Wednesday, a boy sixteen years old, named Thos. O'Brien, rode one of the best horses away from the stable, but did not return as was expected.—The police met him near his house at 2 o'clock next morning, and took him to their office. On stripping him they found a silver watch and $5.20 in money. He had taken the horse (worth $200 in the market) to Brighton, and sold him to a man (?) for $10 and the watch.

He had commenced operations with this capital, by taking a friend to the Howard Athenæum, and standing treat in various ways. As soon as this tale had been told, steps were taken by the superintendent of the road to find what manner of man he was who made so shrewd a horse-trade. A clue was found, and in twenty-four hours from the time of the transaction at Brighton the man and horse were found in Reading and taken into custody. The man and the boy are in quod, and the horse is doing duty on the railroad.

— The Press (Philadelphia) is good for the following:—

A good thing is attributed to Hugh McCulloch, the new Secretary of the Treasury. A frightened speculator was asking him to arrest the downward tendency of gold—"Why, my good friend, was the Secretary's reply, "if you can get Grant, Sherman and Sheridan to let the rebels whip them, you will be gratified, but I am afraid they won't oblige you."

In the moon there is only a man. In the honeymoon there is a man and a woman.

WHAT IS A
FRENCH ROLL PAN?
IS A QUESTION OFTEN ASKED.
It is simply a nicely made
IRON PAN,
Or rather a series of Pans connected in one, of such peculiar form that all parts of the material contained in them receive an equal amount of heat, thus insuring a very
QUICK AND LIGHT BAKE.
For Sponge or Drop Cake, Muffins, French Rolls, Corn Bread or Raised Flour Biscuit, these Pans are Invaluable.
IN these days of high prices, it is worth while to
ECONOMISE
in any way. We have adopted a receipt for making a Cheap, Wholesome, and
PALATABLE BREAD:
"Stir into a pint of Cold Water sufficient Graham Flour to make a thin batter, adding a little Salt. Heat the Pan thoroughly, grease it a little, pour in the batter, and bake about half an hour in a hot oven."
By using Sweet Milk, instead of Water, as above, and adding 2 Spoonful of Sugar, biscuit can be made fit to set before a King. We have sold nearly a thousand of these Roll Pans in about one year, and the sale is still increasing.—Try one.

RYE, N.H., Feb. 22, 1846. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, and for the last year it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrup, &c., &c., but she received no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of Dr. SWEET'S PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicines can equal Dr. Sweet's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many happy cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENKINS.
PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.
I have for several years been afflicted with dizziness in my head, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until I tried your's, which I took one bottle of Dr. S. SWEET'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.
From ELDER I CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.
DR. SWEET: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound so do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a remarkably long time, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY
☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWEET, No. 7 High street, Portsmouth, N. H. promptly attended to. may26

The American Union Speaker,
By JOHN O. PHILBRICK, Superintendent of the Public Schools of Boston.
Containing Standard and Recent Selections in Prose and Poetry for Recitation and Declamation. With introductory Remarks on Elocution, and Explanatory Notes. Crown Octavo, half morocco, 618 pages. Price, $2.25.
The deservedly high reputation of the author of this Work, as an American Educator, is a sufficient guarantee of its excellence and usefulness. The gems of old pieces are here retained, while enough that is new has been admitted to satisfy the taste for novelty: among them, a comprehensive variety of modern, patriotic and popular selections—most of them called forth by our national crisis,—suited to inspire a national enthusiasm and an undying love of country. mch31

TUESDAY, APRIL 4, 1865.

THE REBELLION.

The U. S. forces appear to be getting round Mobile for attack or siege.

The U. S. transport steamer General Lyon, from Wilmington for Fortress Monroe, with from 400 to 500 troops and refugees on board, got on fire in a gale of wind off Cape Hatteras Friday morning, burnt to a shell, and went among the breakers. Many lives lost. Steamer Sedgwick picked up 28 persons from the water, including most of the officers of the Lyon and a few refugees, and soldiers of the 99th, 89th, 6th New York, 52d and 56th Illinois and 5th Ohio regiments. A schooner was seen picking up men, but it was not known how many she saved.

On the 27th of March, the advance of General Stoneman's force entered and captured the town of Boone, North Carolina, at 12 o'clock. The rebel force was routed with the loss of ten men killed and sixty-five wounded and prisoners. Major Barne's battalion, of the 12th Kentucky cavalry, lost a few men wounded.

Gen. Stoneman's command is now well into North Carolina, and will be heard from soon in the heart of rebeldom.

The United States Army of the Potomac, under command of Gen. Grant, after three days of hard fighting, has gained a great victory, which must be productive of most important and valuable results. As the news comes from Gen. Grant, through President Lincoln, it is certainly authentic.

On Saturday night Gen. Grant telegraphed that General Sheridan, with his cavalry and the Fifth Corps, had captured three brigades of infantry, a train of wagons, several batteries, and prisoners amounting to several thousand. On Sunday morning General Grant, having ordered an attack along the whole line, telegraphs as follows:

Both Wright and Parke have got through the enemy's lines. The battle now rages furiously. Gen. Sheridan with his cavalry, the 5th corps and Miles' division of the 2d corps, which was sent to him since one o'clk. this morning, is sweeping down from the west.

A dispatch a little later, from the President, says:

Dispatches are frequently coming in; all going finely. Parke, Wright and Ord, extending from the Appomattox to Hatcher's Run, have all broken through the enemy's entrenched line, taking some forts, guns and prisoners. Sheridan, with his own cavalry and the 5th corps and a part of the 2d, is coming in from the west on the enemy's flank, and Wright is already tearing up the South Side railroad.

At 10.40 Monday forenoon, Gen. Grant says "Everything has been carried on the left of the 9th corps. The 6th corps alone captured more than 3000 prisoners. The 2d and 24th corps captured forts, guns and prisoners from the enemy, but I cannot tell the number. We are now closing round the works of the line immediately enveloping Petersburg. All looks remarkably well. I have not yet heard from Sheridan. His headquarters have been moved up to Banks' House, near the Boydtown road, about three miles southwest of Petersburg."

At half past 4 o'clock Monday afternoon, Gen. Grant says:

"We are now up and have a continuous line of troops, and in a few hours will be entrenched from the Appomattox, below Petersburg to the river above. The whole captures since the army started out will not amount to less than 12,000 men, and probably fifty pieces of artillery. I do not know the number of men and guns accurately, however.

A portion of Foster's division, 54th corps, made a most gallant charge this afternoon, and captured a very important fort from the enemy with its entire garrison. All seems well with us, and everything is quiet just now.

Petersburg and Richmond are both in our hands. The President telegraphs from City Point, Monday morning 8.80—"This morning Gen. Grant reports Petersburg evacuated, and he is confident that Richmond also is. He is pushing forward to cut off, if possible, the retreating army."

The Sec. of War telegraphs from Washington Monday forenoon 10 o'clock:—It appears from a dispatch of Gen. Weitzel, just received by this Department, that our forces under his command are in Richmond, having taken it at 8.15 this morning.

Gen. Weitzel adds—"I captured many guns. The enemy left in great haste. The city is on fire in one place, and I am making every effort to put it out. The people received us with enthusiastic expressions of joy."

Gen. Grant started early Monday morning with the army toward the Danville road to cut off, if possible, Lee's retreating army. President Lincoln went from City Point to the front at the same time.

Perley telegraphs from Wilmington that the certainty that Richmond has been taken, and taken by negro troops, is creating wildest excitement there. The public offices and private places of business are deserted, and groups are on the avenue cheering for the victory, for Lincoln, for Grant and for Weitzel and his darkies.

Adm. Porter and his iron-clads were in action, the monitors pounding away at the rebel forts, while the return shots fell from their sides.

Sheridan has had Longstreet's corps to contend with, the bravest and most determined of the rebel defenders of Richmond, and we hear that he has utterly routed, vanquished and smashed it—taking whole brigades prisoners.

The Vice President has gone to Richmond.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The fire that destroyed ex-Gov. Page's buildings at Haverhill, N. H., was the work of an incendiary,—and so was a fire set at the same time in James F. Webster's barn. The Press says:

E. Page, esq., son of ex-Gov. Page, is one of the selectmen of Haverhill, and Mr. Webster is the man who notified the drafted men. There is little doubt that the fire had its origin in political hate. There is yet no clue to the perpetrator, though every effort to find him out is being made.

—— The Lebanon Free Press says; It is thought the Hanover liquor seizure case will be compromised by allowing Currier, the pretended or real purchaser to remove them out of the State, not less than 30 miles from Hanover. Mr. Frary has plead guilty upon an indictment and paid the fine, and there are five more indictments hanging upon him, with the understanding that they shall not be enforced so long as he sells no more.

—— The Farmers Cabinet, published at Amherst, has been enlarged:—and says the reduction of size was a wise measure, as it turned out well. Far better, truly, than to stop so useful and honest a paper.

— A correspondent of the Country Gentleman newspaper, gives the following as a cure for Scratches and Grease Heel, often so troublesome in horses: Wash the horse's legs clean with soapsuds, and dry them with a cloth. Then annoint them with strained honey—rub it in well. One or two applications will cure the worst cases.

—— William Marshall, of Co. H. 18th N. H. regiment, died at Post Hospital, City Point, Va., on Wednesday, March 29th, of congestion of the lungs. Mr. Marshall was a native of Derry and was the son of Hon. William Marshall of that town, who was formerly High Sheriff of Rockingham county. He was a graduate of the scientific department of Dartmouth College of the class of 1861. He married last Fall a young lady of Gilmanton.

—— A recruiting office has been opened in Concord by Major Cummings, for the 1st N. H. Cavalry.

—— John Raymux, an Irishman from Canada, was at Concord Friday evening, and attempted to get on a train just leaving the depot, but fell on the track, and the cars passed over both legs, crushing them badly. The doctor amputated the legs, but the man died next morning. He was 41 years old.

—— Benjamin E. Palmer, of Dover, of the 6th N. H, died in Saulsbury prison Nov. 2d, 1864. A comrade, Patrick McSorley, of Dover, who was recently released from that "jaw of death,"—came to this city on Monday last, according to agreement with Mr. Palmer, to see the son of the deceased, named John Palmer, who was supposed to be living with a Doctor here, but could find nothing of him.

—— Rev. Mr. Emerson of Haverhill, this State, has not accepted the call of the Congregational Society in Rochester, his own church having offered him greater inducements to remain.

☞ An army correspondent of the Boston Advertiser tells of a comical adventure during the battle of Fort Steadman. A staff officer, hearing the firing in the early morning, mounted horse and started in the direction of the Fort. He had not proceeded far, when, meeting an irregular body of men whom he supposed to be Union stragglers, he ordered them to halt.—As they paid no heed to his command, he denounced them as cowards and urged them to return to the front. Presently one of the men seized his bridle, and presented his revolver, and ordered him to dismount.—Not till the third summons did he obey. His horse was sent to the rear by his captor, (an officer,) his pockets searched, money, watch, gloves, and cloak confiscated, and then he was ordered to pull off his boots. This was too much, and the Major declared he would fight first. The Freebooter finally concluded he had got enough from one man, and detailed a sergeant and five men to take the prisoner into the rebel works. They proceeded quietly for a short distance, but such was the Major's eloquence that before they reached the Fort they all voluntarily faced about, and, the Major leading the way, marched into our lines muskets in hand.

☞ That noble patriot, HENRY CLAY, while in Congress, said—"I am called upon to say when I will consent to a dissolution of the Union. My answer is, never! never! never!"

☞ It was admitted by some of the Southern Statesmen that the Secession movement had been meditated for "twenty years, and long before the Republican Party was ever dreamed of." Without such admission, we know that such is the fact.

LOSSES OF BLOCKADE RUNNERS.—The English papers report numerous failures in consequence of losses in blockade-running The old adage "ill got ill-gone" applies to our trans-Atlantic cousins, with peculiar force, in reference to the whole business of privateer-building and blockade-running.—The brilliant fortune gained by a few successful trips at the commencement of the war, lured many merchants to their ruin, and no doubt helped to stimulate the feelings of the aristocratic and mercantile classes in favor of the South. But the growth of our navy was equally ruinous to the British blockade-running interests and to the Confederacy, and by a just retribution nearly all the firms engaged in the nefarious traffic have either become bankrupt or are drifting hopelessly in that direction.

— A carriage company, under the limited act, has been formed at Birmingham, for the purpose of bringing into use various improvements. The most important of these is the use that is made of paper in the construction of vehicles. All the panels will be of the substance, or rather of papier-mache, the great peculiarity of which is its resemblance to leather, though considerably stiffer and tougher than this material.—Every portion of the carriage body usually made of wood will be made of paper, and the cost of construction will, it is said, be considerably diminished

☞ Dr. S. O. Richardson, besides manufacturing the best and most popular Bitters, and other Medicines—is one of the most satisfactory men in the world to do business with. For instance, once a year he sends per agent or mail, to ask your price for a certain stated amount of advertising; and then 'planks down his $25 or $50 for three months; "would like to see one copy of the paper,"—and that is the end of the matter, so far as he is concerned. The fact is, he must be an honest man himself, to place such full confidence in others; and our acquaintance with printers, at least of country papers, convinces us that advertisers almost always get more than they pay for, and never need fear being cheated in their respect—but how refreshingly his gentlemanly and business-like conduct contrasts with that of many of the "contract" advertisers.

— The bridge for the railroad over the Susquehanna at Havre de Grace, Md., will be finished this year, and then no more delays because of ice. The piers are about done, and they rise through water 75 feet deep. It will be the largest and finest bridge on this continent.

— The rebel General Lee, in his report of Saturday's battle, indulges in a most cruel sarcasm on the rebel dead, wounded and prisoners. He says, "our loss, as reported, is not many." He thus implies that the 2700 soldiers taken are of no importance.

— The St. Louis papers say the President has directed that the order of banishment in the case of Mrs. Ewell, wife of the rebel Major General, be revoked upon her taking the amnesty oath. It is thought her property will be restored to her.

— Gen. Early has taken a self-imposed pledge to not drink any more until he shall have whipped Sheridan. This is considered by Sheridan's officers as equivalent to the rebel General's having taken the Temperance pledge for life.

— They have got a learned geographer attached to the N. Y. World. Noting at some length the departure of Professor Agassiz and friends for Brazil, he informs the public that "the Colorado will take the party round the Horn to Rio Janeiro." — Governor Oglesby of Illinois has just received the deed of property on which repose the remains of the late Stephen A. Douglass, for the purchase of which the Legislature appropriated $20,000.

— In Massachusetts, the Legislative Committee on the emigration of young women to the West, have reported that it was inexpedient to legislate upon that subject.

— The daughters of the rebel Secretary of War, John C. Breckinbridge, who were at School in Louisville, have been banished South by the military authorities. Right.

UNDER THE LEAVES.

Thick green leaves from the soft brown earth,
Happy spring-time hath called them forth;
First faint promise of summer bloom
Breathes from the fragrant, sweet perfume,
Under the leaves.

Lift them! what marvellous beauty lies
Hidden beneath, from our thoughtless eyes!
May flowers, rosy or purest white,
Lift their cups to the sudden light,
Under the leaves.

Are there no lives whose holy deeds—
Seen by no eye save His who reads
Motive and action—in silence grow
Into rare beauty, and bud and blow
Under the leaves!

Fair white flowers of faith and trust,
Springing from spirits bruised and crushed;
Blossoms of love, rose-tinted and bright,
Touched and painted with heaven's own light,
Under the leaves—

Full fresh clusters of duty, borne,
Fairest of all in that shadow grown;
Wondrous the fragrance that sweet and rare
Comes from the flower-cups hidden there,
Under the leaves.

Though unseen by our vision dim,
God and blossom are known to him;
Wait we content for His heavenly ray,—
Wait till our Master himself one day
Lifteth the leaves.

ESTABLISHED

FACTS AND REASONS

FOR USING

DR. S. O. RICHARDSON'S

BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR!

FIRST. The extraordinary curative effect of the Blood-Root Elixir was discovered by a regularly educated Physician: and the present proprietor also is a graduate from one of the highest Medical Colleges in New England.

SECOND. The Elixir is not alchoholic, contains no minerals, and may be relied upon as being composed of strictly vegetable substances; and no ingredient is intermixed that can unfavorably affect the most delicate constitution.

THIRD. The extensive and successful use of the Blood-Root Elixir, during the past year, proves it to be, without any qualification, the best and most valuable medicine that has ever been prepared for family use.

FOURTH. Medical science and skill have never been able to produce a cathartic medicine of equal power and effect, which contains so many desirable qualities. Its superiority as an aperient consists in its sure and thorough action, operating equally through all parts of the Bowels. It never produces griping pains in its operation; never occasions nausea; its flavor is pleasing and agreeable: and it will not be rejected by the most fastidious child. It may be safely used in all cases where laxative medicine is required. It will promote the comfort and health of both sexes, and of all ages: it will assist Nature during all infantile changes; it will, during the anxious hours of a mother's life, hasten and assuage her maternal pangs; it will render joyous and happy the lingering days of the aged and venerable. And when the Elixir is once introduced into any household, it will therein supersede all other laxative medicine.

FIFTH. The long period which the Elixir was used by the original proprietor, in prescriptions to his patients, and the great and unqualified success which has attended its more general use, during the past year, are confirmed by unsolicited testimonials, which in number and extended results exceed any estimate our most sanguine hopes so early had anticipated,—therefore we are fortified by unrefutable evidence, that our estimate of the efficacy and value of the Blood-Root Elixir has not been exaggerated.

SIXTH. In examining certificates received during the past year of its successful results, we are gratified in believing that our medicine has not failed in any case where it has been tried, to cure the most stubborn and chronic cases of COSTIVENESS.

SEVENTH. Most grateful manifestations have also been evinced by patients who have been relieved from LIVER COMPLAINTS of long standing. Also it has been effectual in curing CUTANEOUS ERUPTIONS OF THE SKIN; and in eradicating HUMORS OF THE BLOOD. And many afflicted with deep seated incurable SCROFULA, have been greatly benefitted by a moderate use of the Elixir.

EIGHTH. In cases of COUGHS and COLDS it has proved successful beyond any assurance we have ever expressed; and those who have thoroughly tested its effect, believe it to be superior to all other cough preparations,—the Elixir, by its physical properties, equalizes the circulation of the Blood, and removes congestion. It also, when used as a gargle, or swallowed slowly, heals and soothes the inflamed membranes, from which the cough arises.

NINTH. Many persons suffer periodically from JAUNDICE, which is occasioned by a morbid and inactive state of the Lives. The Blood-Root Elixir is a sure relief from the dependent feelings and painful symptoms which are peculiar to that disease.

TENTH. DYSPEPSIA is an aggravating and disheartening disease, often leading to dangerous results. A limited use of the Elixir, according to the directions, will regulate the stomach and bowels with unerring certainty, and restore digestion to a natural and healthy action.

ELEVENTH. RHEUMATISM the Blood-Root Elixir will readily relieve; its warm and quickening effect counteracts the cold and morbid condition of the fluids, which is the primary cause of all Rheumatic affections.

TWELFTH. Persons subject to HEADACHE will be relieved in a few hours by a single dose of the Elixir.

☞ Every person taking the Elixir should carefully read the printed pamphlet which accompanies each bottle.

Young Pigs
FOR SALE at the City Farm.
mh11 B. SORTON.

Local.

☞ In honor of the Great Union Victory and success at Richmond, especially that the President was reported to be there, and that the rebel Gen. Lee was captured, many Union flags were displayed in this city on Monday afternoon, cheers went up heartily, and the bells rang out a merry peal for an hour or more at sunset; and in the evening hundreds of loyal people thronged the streets and squares, in devout congratulations; while the whizzing of rockets, and the crackling of a huge bonfire on the Parade, and the inspiring music from the Band, made up a scene of rejoicing such as was no doubt exhibited all over the land,—for the occasion was one to cause the heart of every true man to throb with patriotic exultation.

☞ We learn that among the numerous organizations for promoting the interests of the Government and assisting the cause of humanity in general, there has recently been started in Kittery a society of young men, called the "Non-resistant Association," for the adoption of all persons between the ages of 18 and 45, who are conscientiously opposed to fighting. Some forty of its members made an excursion to Portland on Saturday last, and calling on the several gentlemen comprising the Examining Board, spent some two or three hours in social interview, the chief topic of conversation being the war, and its relations to us as a people and to non-resistants particularly. It was the opinion of the honorable examining physician that their title (non-resistants) was legitimate and proper, if their enemy should appear in the shape of food or any kind of drink.

The non combatants were allowed the privilege of having their names continued on the list, that they might be sharers in the grand lottery enterprise which is soon to come off in favor of Kittery.—There is a strange coincidence connected with this matter which seems hard but is nevertheless true—viz:—that nearly all of the above named party are employed on the Navy Yard at big per diem pay, forced upon them; and being believers in the doctrine of non-resistance, are thus tortured with $3 and $3.50 each day of their lives.—Cannot something be done to ameliorate the condition of these unfortunates? By the way, we learn that the officers of the Yard intend to inquire into the matter, and if deemed necessary, will relieve them. *

☞ The advertisement of Mr. Carter, of fine Watchwork and accurate time, is worthy the attention of those whose "time is their estate," as well as those who have more real, tangible property. Mr. Carter has taken the Watch Department of Mr. Bodge's fine jewelry establishment; and while we know him to be a most agreeable gentleman, we have also no hesitation in recommending him as a skillful and thorough watch-maker, who will give satisfaction with the most delicate repeaters.

The new Regulator, or Astronomical Clock, is the most superb specimen of a grown-up time-keeper we ever saw; it cost several hundred dollars, and it is a good indication of Mr. Carter's enterprise and devotion to his business, to bring such an expensive and splendid specimen into our city—the like of which was probably never seen before, this side Boston; and we think he will always be found promptly on time and up to the times.

☞ Wendell Phillips, esq., will interest, instruct, and no doubt amuse a large audience of his admirers and others, to-morrow evening, at the Temple. But what an absurdity to put tickets for a lecture from him, at 15 cents, and for a charity "benefit" occasion too; when there are at the same time three or four other entertainments advertised, at two or three times the price.

☞ Why is the elegant Baton which Dr. Goodall presented to the Philharmonic Society the other night, like Joan D'Arc? Because she was Maid of Orleans, and that is made of mahogany! The Dr. himself was responsible for that—and Mr. Day retorted by asking Why the Baton and Society are like the gallant Dr. himself? which is so evident that we needn't print it.

☞ The Old Folks Choir will have but two more Rehearsals before their Grand Concert—one on Sunday evening next, and the last at the Temple on the afternoon of the Concert.

☞ Arrangements are progressing finely for Mr. Heald's Entertainment, Thursday evening. It will be one of the most varied and brilliant ever given here.

☞ Newcomb's Minstrels, who after all are no new-comers, will give one of their A1 Concerts next Saturday evening, at the Temple.

☞ Part 46th, of the Rebellion Record has just come to hand. It contains portraits of Gens. Sickles and Foster,—and interesting documents about the Fort Pillow massacre, and rebel cruelty to captives. Published by D. Van Nostrand, 192 Broadway, N. Y.

☞ We have had occasion to test the merits of Spear's Sambuci wine lately in one of those complaints for which it is recommended, and are convinced that it must eventually take the place of port and the adulterated stimulants prescribed heretofore in cases of debility. ARCANA WATCH.
An Elegant Novelty in Watches.

The cases of this watch are an entirely new invention, composed of six different metals combined, rolled together and planished, producing an exact imitation of 18 carat gold, called Arcana, which will always keep its color. They are as beautiful as solid gold, and are afforded at one-eighth the cost. The case is beautifully designed with Panel and shield for name, with Patent Stem Pin, and engraved in the exact style of the celebrated Gold Hunting Levers, and are really handsome and desirable, and so exact an imitation of gold as to defy detection. The movement is manufactured by the well known St. Jimer Watch Company of Europe, and are superbly finished, having engraved pallets, finely carved bridges, adjusting regulator, with gold balanced and the improved jewelled action with line dial and skeleton hands, and is warranted a good time keeper.

These Watches are of three different sizes, the smallest being for Ladies, and are all Hunting Cases. A case of six will be sent by Mail or Express for $125 00. A single one sent in an elegant Morocco Case for $25 00; will readily sell for three times their cost. We are sole agents for this watch in the United States, and none are genuine which do not bear our Trade mark. Address GIRARD W. DEVAUGH & CO.,

U. S. 7-30 LOAN.

By authority of the Secretary of the Treasury, the undersigned has assumed the General Subscription Agency for the sale of United States Treasury Notes, bearing seven and three-tenths per cent. interest, per annum, known as the Seven-Thirty Loan.

These Notes are issued under date of June 15th, 1865, and are payable three years from that time, in currency, or are convertible at the option of the holder into

U. S. 5-20 Six per cent.
GOLD-BEARING BONDS.

These bonds are now worth a premium which increases the actual profit on the 7-30 loan, and its exemption from State and municipal taxation adds from one to three per cent. more, according to the rate levied on other property. The interest is payable semi-annually by coupons attached to each note, which may be cut off and sold to any bank or banker.

The interest amounts to

One cent per day on a $50 note.
Two cents " " "	$100 "
Ten " " " "	$500 "
20 " " " "	$1000 "
$1 " " " "	$5000 "

Notes of all the denominations named will be promptly furnished upon receipt of subscriptions, and the Notes will be forwarded at once. This is

THE ONLY LOAN in the Market

now offered by the Government, and it is confidently expected that its superior advantages will make it the Great Popular Loan of the People.

Less than $300,000,000 of the Loan authorized by the last Congress are now on the market.—This amount at the rate at which it is being absorbed, will all be subscribed for within four months, when the notes will undoubtedly command a premium, as has uniformly been the case on closing the subscriptions to other Loans.

In order that citizens of every town and section of the country may be afforded facilities for taking the loan, the National Banks, State Banks, and Private Bankers throughout the country have generally agreed to receive subscriptions at par. Subscribers will select their own agents, in whom they have confidence, and who only are to be responsible for the delivery of the notes for which they receive orders.

Morning Chronicle.

CHARLESTON, AND THE REVELATION. The Bath Times has a letter from a former citizen of Bath, now resident in Liverpool, in which he speaks of the news of the capture of Charleston, and its reception in England. He writes:

We are just now rejoicing over the fall of Charleston. This is certainly the hardest blow, secesh in this country has received yet. Blockade runners are decidedly blue. Eleven of their new steamers are now in this port alone; they were being fitted out, but the work is suspended. Confederate loan has dropped from 58 to 37. The news arrived here on Friday; the details on Saturday. On Sunday, some ardent friends of our cause had the walls about the town covered with large placards headed:

"Fall of Charleston! An Apocalyptic view of the character and destiny of the Slaveholders Confederacy! Babylon the Great is fallen! is fallen!"

Then quoting from Revelation 18th chapter, it continued:

"For her sins have reached unto Heaven and God hath remembered her iniquities. And the Kings of the earth who have committed fornication and lived deliciously with her, shall bewail her and lament for her when they shall see the smoke of her burning. And the merchants of the earth shall weep and mourn over her, for no one buyeth their merchandise any more; merchandise of gold and silver and precious stones and of pearls, and fine linens, and wine, and oil, and fine flour, and wheat, and beasts, and sheep, and horses, and chariots, and Slaves and Souls of Men. And every shipmaster, and all the company in ships, and sailors, and as many as trade by sea, (Blockade Runners,) stood afar off and cried when they saw the smoke of her burning, 'What city is like unto this great city?' And they cast dust on their heads, and cried, weeping and wailing, saying, 'Alas, Alas, that city wherein we were made rich, all that had ships in the sea by reason of her costliness, for in one hour she is made desolate.' Rejoice over her thou Heaven, and ye Holy Apostles and Prophets, for God hath avenged you on her. Read Revelation 18th chapter."

This was nicely arranged, the telling words being in large capitals, and created quite a sensation. One indignant Englishman said in a letter to the 'Mercury' that the only part of the chapter that had any reference to or connection with Charleston, was omitted, namely "is fallen and is filled with devils," or to that effect, which is not bad.

It was not bad as a resort made by a mad Englishman who wished to say something:—but it makes bad work of the chapter, the whole of which relates to Babylon, which is not a bad emblem of Charleston. The chapter (Rev. 18.) is a splendid specimen of figure and prophecy, beginning with the vision of a mighty angel with a strong voice, who lighted the earth with his glory, and cried,

"Babylon the Great is fallen, is fallen, and is become the habitation of devils, and the hold of every foul spirit, and a cage of every unclean and hateful bird. For all nations have drunk the wine—and the merchants of the earth are waxen rich through the abundance of her delicacies."

Next, we have another voice from heaven, saying:

"Come out of her, my people, that ye be not partakers of her sins, and that ye receive not of her plagues.

For her sins have reached unto heaven, and God hath remembered her iniquities.

Reward her even as she rewarded you, and double unto her double, according to her works; in the cup which she hath filled fill to her double.

How much she hath glorified herself, and lived deliciously, so much torment and sorrow give her: for she saith in her heart, I sit a queen, and am no widow, and shall see no sorrow.

Therefore shall her plagues come in one day, death, and mourning, and famine; and she be utterly burned with fire: for strong is the Lord God who judgeth her."

Thirdly, we have the prophecy which the Liverpool people put on their posters, as mentioned above, where the king and merchants shall lament her fall.

And lastly, we have, (in verses 21—24.) the mighty angel who cast the great stone into the sea, sealing and confirming all the prophecy.

The whole chapter is a connected and lifelike picture of God's justice and judgment in the earth, and cannot be too closely studied.

It is easy to see 1. That the fall is prophesied, because the devils and foul spirits and hateful birds had a nest there, in the which kings waxed wicked, and merchants waxed rich. 2. That honest people, who suffered at her hands, were warned to be clear of her, and encouraged to reward her as she served them, and give her double, when the Lord should judge her. 3. That there would be great wailing among those afar off. And 4. That the Angel of Justice approved and sanctioned the whole catastrophe. U. T.

Scan. Mag.—It is not only said that the Duke de Morny, who recently died in Paris, was an illegitimate son of Queen Hortense Beauharnois, but that there is doubt as to the paternity of Napoleon III. No matter who his father was; his brain and his morals seem to have been derived from his mother.

The property of this Company is located on "Coal Run Creek," Meigs County, State of Ohio, about 10 miles from Athens, containing one hundred and five acres of land. A large number of wells are successfully worked in the vicinity, some of which are paying handsome dividends.—This Company propose to commence operations at once, and entertain no doubt that at an early day they will be able to pay a handsome per centage on the investment. The known ability and commercial standing of the officers of this Company afford a sufficient guaranty that the affairs will be conducted in a manner to secure the confidence of those who are disposed to invest in it.

The tract of land adjoining the property of this Company has passed into the hands of capitalists, who have sent out an experienced superintendent to commence operations at once, and their first order for machinery was $15,000. Our property has been examined under instructions from Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, who pronounces the coal, which is in abundance, to be of the best quality, yielding 30 gallons of oil to the ton, and has no doubt, from the location and position of the property, that it will be found valuable in the production of oil. Most companies have to pay very high prices for their land, all of which we save; oil can be manufactured from the coal upon the property, at a cost not exceeding ten cents per gallon, and it is proposed to commence the manufacture in connection with the sinking of wells. One dollar will buy a share of this stock, which is the par value, and all benefits derived from the lands, either by sales of oil, land or products of any kind, are to be divided among the stockholders, and in addition $200,000 worth of valuable, useful and desirable property will be given to the stockholders, as soon as all the shares are disposed of. The Company adopt this course for the purpose of disposing of their stock at the par value, rather than to sell it, as many companies do, at a subscription price, which is usually one-half. Thus, it will be perceived that every stockholder owning ten shares, for example, will be sure to realize a handsome dividend when the property is divided; a plan which is entirely honorable, and in all respects perfectly legal.

The property to be distributed among the stockholders will be divided as follows, viz:

$500 to purchase a HOUSE in Boston or vicinity.
$5000 in U. S. 5-20 BONDS, CERTIFICATES of $500 each.
$5000 in DIAMOND RINGS, in value $25 to $500 each.

The Best Ink in the World!
A CHEAP PRODUCT DISCOVERED.
A Substitute for Costly Galls, and a Writing Fluid produced that challenges Competition!
INK POWDERS
TO CARRY IN YOUR POCKET, FROM WHICH TO MAKE INK AT PLEASURE.
THE INK MADE in Three Minutes
Forty Cents will buy Powder enough to furnish a family for years.
FREEZING DON'T HURT IT.

An accident revealed to a Machinist, in Manchester, N. H., a certain result which by the aid of Chemistry has been used into the most beautiful writing fluid, better than anything imported or home-made, flowing freer, writing easier, handsomer, as lasting as time, not injuring the pen a whit, has been produced

It is put up in the form of a small powder, stands all climates, good for years, and can be converted into elegant black writing fluid in three minutes.

A company has lately been formed for the manufacture of these Powders, and although the Fluid has been before the public but a few weeks the most astounding testimonials have been received in its favor, all unsolicited. We select a few from the many.

The greatest qualities of these Ink Powders over everything else in the market are:

1st—It makes an ink of a beautiful, glossy, rich color, that every body will be delighted with.

2d—It flows freely, does not mend up, thicken on the pen or corrode it a particle, and never fades, and will endure as long as the paper on which it is used.

3d—Its cheapness baffles all competition. Forty cents will buy enough to fill fifty common bottles that are retailed at ten cents each.

4th—Its convenience, it can be carried to the army, to sea, to the mines, to far off countries.

5th—Wipe your pen dry after using it, and a single drop will last with this ink till the paper wears the point off. It is as harmless as water.

Testimonials.
MIRROR AND AMERICAN OFFICE,
Manchester, N. H., Jan. 11, 1865.
To the American Ink Company:—I have tried your Ink Powders. They work to a charm. They make perfect ink in three minutes, the best ink I ever saw. It flows easily, does not gum up the pen or corrode it. I have cleared my inkstands of all other kinds of ink. JOHN B. CLARKE.

MELROSE, MASS., Feb. 1, 1865.
American Ink Company—Gents: I wish heartily to thank you for the beautiful Ink which you have given to the public. I have made Ink, for my own use, from your Ink Powders, viz: Extract of Aleppa nutgall, Sulphate Iron and Gum Arabic, and have sold large quantities of it. Have supplied the schools in this town with it for two years, and every one using it gave it great praise. It is a good Ink, but my occupation is all gone for me. Your Ink is the best article of the kind I ever used. This is no puff. Some in my inkstands froze up solid twice and it now flows just freely as the first, and is not changed in the color a single shade. It is a beautiful black; it flows so readily that I can write one-quarter faster with it than with any other Ink. It ought to be introduced into every school in the Union.
Yours truly, J. W. POLAND.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 4, 1864.
To the American Ink Company: I have tried your Ink Powders, and I think, without any exception, it makes the best writing fluid I ever used. I would not be without. I remain yours, GEO. H. HOLMES,
Battery M, 1st Mass. H. Artillery.

Kewanee, Henry Co., Illinois, Feb. 20, 1865.
American Ink Company—Gents: Received the Powder that you sent, and to say that I am pleased with it is true, but does not express what I think of it. I have been in community have long wanted an Ink Powder that could stand the test of freezing and that would not corrode the pen, and several have been produced. Prof. Ure's was an excellent recipe, but was spoiled by freezing. I have frozen this to test it, and find that it is not injured at all.

I have introduced it into my school in this place, and had I a quantity of it, it would find a ready sale. Thanking you in behalf of the community and myself for such a discovery, I remain, very respectfully, your obedient serv't,
GEO. W. PARKER.

Deering, March 1, 1865.
To the American Ink Company:—This is to certify that I have given your Ink Powder a trial, and am happy to state it works to perfection. It has a superiority over all other Inks I have any knowledge. And I would cheerfully recommend it to the lawyer, the merchant, or any person whose business requires any amount of writing.—It does not corrode, and flows as freely after being frozen as before. Respectfully yours,
CARLTON M. CLEY.

Nashua, N. H., March 13, 1865.
American Ink Company—Gents: The ink made from the powders you sent me is the best I ever used. There is none of that sticky substance about it that there is to most kinds of ink. It flows freely and works like a charm.
Yours truly, GEORGE W. FLANDERS.

Brookline, N. H., March 15, 1865.
American Ink Company—Gents: I received the Powder you sent me, and I recommend it to all those that have any writing to do, as the best Ink I ever used. I have used J. Moor's Maynard & Noyes', D. J. Browne's, and many others, but yours far excels any I ever used.
Yours respectfully, G. E. STILES.

What the "Press" say of us.
GREAT GIFT DISTRIBUTION.—A rare opportunity is offered for obtaining watches, chains, diamond rings, silverware, etc., by Messrs Arrandale & Co., at No. 167 Broadway. They have an immense stock of articles, varying in value, and all are offered at one dollar each. The distribution is very fairly done—you agree to take a certificate of a certain article, pay $1 in cash or coin, and are not required to pay your dollar unless you are satisfied with the article, which will certainly be worth more than that amount, and may be $50 or $100. An excellent mode this of investing a dollar.—Sunday Times, N. Y. City, Feb. 19, '65.

Messrs. Arrandale & Co. have long been personally known to us, and we believe them to be every way worthy of public confidence. — N. Y. British American Journal, Aug. 1, 1864.

We have inspected, at the office of Arrandale & Co.'s Agency for European Manufacturing Jewellery, a large assortment of fashionable and valuable jewelry of the latest pattern. We also noticed a large quantity of silver plate, and understand that the whole of these newly imported articles are to be disposed of on a novel principle, giving great advantages to buyers, and affording extensive employment to agents. We know the firm in question to be very respectable and thoroughly worthy of public confidence and recommend our friends to read their advertisement.—N. Y. Albion, Sept. 3, 1864.

By Messrs. Arrandale & Co.'s arrangement, the advantages must be on the customer, for he has everything to gain, and nothing comparatively to lose. He knows what he will get for his dollar beforehand, and he need not send it if he is not satisfied.—N. Y. Weekly News, Aug. 6, 1864.

EMPLOYMENT FOR LADIES.—The most eligible and profitable employment we have heard of for ladies is the sale of certificates for the "Great Gift Distribution" of Arrandale & Co. A lady of our acquaintance has been very successful in this way, not only in filling her own pocket, but also in doing a good turn to those to whom she sold the Certificates, as will be seen from our advertising columns. Gentlemen can also be thus engaged.—N. Y. Sunday Mercury, Aug. 14, 1864.

In our columns, the reader will find an advertisement of Arrandale & Co.'s Gift Distribution watches, jewelry, and silverware. We present of that advertisement we received several sets of the jewelry advertised, and we are pleased to say that, both in finish and quality, they quite exceeded our expectations. They turned out to be just what they had been represented to be.—Tribune, (Lewistown,) Aug. 17, 1864.

The British Whig of Kingston, C. W., says, Nov. 26, 1864, one of our lady subscribers became an agent for Arrandale & Co., and by request bro't some twenty articles, cent as prizes for her agency, to this office for inspection, and without hesitation we can state that each and all of the articles were worth treble the amount of cost to the recipients, and some of them six times.

We have seen some very pretty specimens of Table and Tea Spoons, Gold Watches, Ladies' Chains, Pins, Bracelets, &c., which have been sent by Arrandale & Co., to this place for 81 each.—Angelica Reporter, N. Y. State, Feb. 15, 1865.

Arrandale & Co., Manufacturers' Agents, 167 BROADWAY, NEW YORK,
Announce that all the above list of goods will be sold for One Dollar each.

In consequence of the great stagnation of trade in the Manufacturing districts of England, thro' the war having cut off the supply of cotton, a large quantity of Valuable Jewelry, originally intended for the English Market, has been sent off for sale in this country, AND MUST BE SOLD AT ANY SACRIFICE! Under these circumstances, ARRANDALE & CO., acting as agents for the principal European manufacturers, have resolved upon a GREAT GIFT DISTRIBUTION, subject to the following regulations:

Certificates of the various articles are first put into envelopes, sealed up and mixed; and when ordered, are taken out without regard to choice, and sent by mail, thus giving all a fair chance. On receipt of the certificate, you will see what you are to have, and then it is at your option to send the dollar and take the article or not. Purchasers may thus obtain a Gold Watch, Diamond Ring, or any set of Jewelry on our list for ONE DOLLAR.

Send 25 Cents for a Certificate.

In all transactions by mail, we shall charge for forwarding the Certificates, giving postage, and doing the business, 25 cents each, which must be enclosed when the Certificate is sent for. Five Certificates will be sent for $1, eleven for $2, thirty for $5, sixty-five for $10, and a hundred for $15.

AGENTS.—We want agents in every regiment, and in every town and County in the country, and those acting as such will be allowed 10 cents on every Certificate ordered by them, provided their remittance amounts to one dollar. Agents will collect 25 cents for every Certificate, and remit 15 cents to us, either in cash or in postage stamps. ARRANDALE & CO.,

NOTES ONLY FOUR YEARS OLD—No. 1.—Many people are interested in the Notes of Former Days, though they are only a compilation of old stories from three or four well known books. It occurs to the compiler, that a few brief extracts from rebel talk in 1861, might interest many. All our readers know how despondingly Jeff Davis spoke in his last message to his expiring Congress;—but some of his particular friends seem to have forgotten how he talked four years ago.

Jeff. Davis was elected President of the Confederacy on the 9th of February, 1861, and arrived at Montgomery from Jackson, Miss., on the 17th. On his route he made twenty-five speeches to enthusiastic crowds, and indulged in the most extravagant anticipations. On leaving Jackson he delivered an address from which the following is an extract, as telegraphed to the New Orleans True Delta of Feb. 16:

"It may be that we will be confronted by war, that the attempt will be made to blockade our ports, to starve us out; but they know little of the Southern heart, of Southern endurance. No amount of privation could force us to remain in a Union on unequal terms. England and France would not allow our great staple to be dammed up within our present limits; the starving thousands in their midst would not allow it. We have nothing to apprehend from blockade. But if they attempt invasion by land, we must take the war out of our territory. If war must come, it must be upon Northern, and not upon Southern soil."

Well, the blockade has been attempted, with some success; their war has been confronted with a bigger one; their great staple has been dammed up; England and France seem very patient about it; their starving millions have not starved, and their toiling millions are on our side—many of them in our army. And lastly, but not least, the blockade is complete, and the war is not on Northern soil, but about Jeff's own capitol, and the freedmen live on Jeff's plantation.

STATESMEN are commonly considered great in proportion to their possession of the gift of foresight; but what statesman could have dreamed a few years ago when Thomas Sims was carried down State street, Boston, as a fugitive slave, that in March, 1865, he would be in Huntsville, Ala., recruiting colored troops for the State of Massachusetts. This is the fact, but the man who should have predicted it would have been considered a proper candidate for the insane asylum.—Trans.

Yes: but the one event prepared the way for the other: the aggresions by the slave power in 1850, being submitted to in a base and cowardly manner by the two great parties of that day, paved the way for the Kansas Nebraska bill, the Lecompton swindle, the Dred Scott decision, and the grand crash at Charleston in 1860.—Out of that crash grew the war—and out of the war has grown abolition, negro soldiers, and Thomas Sims as a recruiting officer.

The Congressional excursion to Savannah and Charleston did not cost the Government over $15,000, it is said: and the excursion of Assistant Naval Secretary Fox and party to Havana and Charleston will not probably cost any more. Other excursions are said to be projected. While the Government is doing the liberal thing, and has plenty of money to spend, why should not the loyal editors be treated to a pleasure trip somewhere—say to Charleston, for the grand celebration of April 14? The Government owes much more to them than to the Congressmen, if these trips are given in acknowledgment of obligations for services rendered.—Springfield Republican.

The Government does not owe the Springfield Republican a great deal on that account, judging from the frequent use made of its items by the traitor presses.

A THOUSAND DOLLAR COFFERHEAD. In the Executive office at Columbia, S. C., was found a letter from D. M. Seymour of Hartford to Gov. Gist, dated Nov. 30, 1860, and inclosing $1000, which Mr. Seymour begged the Governor to invest in South Carolina 6 per cent. stock, with which the State was raising funds to oppose the general government. Mr. Seymour writes at some length in defence of the position of South Carolina, and expressly states that he sends his money for the express purpose of aiding the State in her effort "to defend her rights."

Gov. Gist in his reply says:

"The money shall be drawn and applied as you direct, and I am satisfied you will not lose a dollar. If we should be overcome by superior numbers, and become a conquered province, some patriot will be left to conceal gold enough in our mountain recesses to refund the amount due you with interest."

Mr. Seymour had better begin to examine those "mountain recesses," if he wishes to find his money.—Prov. Journal.

WHAT IS A
FRENCH ROLL PAN!
IS A QUESTION OFTEN ASKED.
It is simply a nicely made
IRON PAN,
Or rather a series of Pans connected in one, of such peculiar form that all parts of the material contained in them receive an equal amount of heat, thus insuring a very
QUICK AND LIGHT BAKE.
For Sponge or Drop Cake, Muffins, French Rolls, Corn Bread or Raised Flour Biscuit, these Pans are Invaluable.
IN these days of high prices, it is worth while to
ECONOMISE
in any way. We give below a receipt for making a Cheap, Wholesome, and
PALATABLE BREAD:
"Stir into a pint of Cold Water sufficient Graham Flour to make a thin batter, adding a little Salt. Heat the Pan thoroughly, grease it a little, pour in the batter, and bake about half an hour in a hot oven."
By using Sweet Milk, instead of Water, as above, and adding 2 Spoonsful of Sugar, biscuit can be made fit to eat before a King. We have sold nearly a thousand of these Roll Pans in about one year, and the sale is still increasing.—Try one.

RYE, N. H., Feb. 26, 1846. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—as it affected her hands very much. I have had it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.
PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.
I have for several years been afflicted with distress at my stomach, loss of appetite, and other troubles up as far back as I can remember, and eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which did more for me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.
From ELDER I CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841
DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humors, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY
☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, No. 7 High street, Portsmouth, N. H. promptly attended to. may26

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 5, 1865.

THE REBELLION.

By an arrival at New York from Newbern, N. C., we learn that thousands of recruits and convalescent soldiers are passing through Newbern to rejoin Sherman at Goldsborough. The enemy are quiet, and large numbers daily desert his ranks.

Great numbers of citizens continue to come in to take the oath of their own accord. The flag of the 9th New Jersey Veterans was the first to wave over Goldsboro'.

Two steamers loaded with Sherman's prisoners were sent North on the 27th. Reports from Wilmington say the people are suffering for food and clothing, and the suffering has been enhanced by the arrival there of 20,000 refugees.

Some 200 rebel naval officers are at Halifax on the Roanoke River, awaiting the final completion of a new rebel ram there, which mounts six 200-pounders, is plated seven inches thick, and is to move down on Plymouth on the 16th of April.

Hampton's cavalry threaten a formidable raid on our supplies between Kinston and Goldsborough. Ample preparations have been made to prevent it.

Sherman's army is daily strengthening, and the rebels exhibit fear of the impending blow.

Senator Sherman, who left his brother, Gen. Sherman, last Saturday, says the army was rapidly refitting for the next movement.

President Lincoln spent Monday in Petersburg, returning to City Point at night.

On Tuesday morning, Gen. Weitzel telegraphs from Richmond:

That of Railroad stock he found there 28 locomotives, 44 passenger and baggage cars, and 106 freight cars.

At 3.30 Gen. Grant, from Sutherland station, 10 miles from Petersburg, towards Burkesville, telegraphs as follows:

Gen. Sheridan picked up 1200 prisoners to-day, and from 300 to 500 more have been gathered by other troops. The majority of the arms that were left in the hands of the remnant of Lee's army are now scattered between Richmond and where his troops are. The country is all full of stragglers.

Prisoners are continually arriving at City Point, and it is estimated that there were 15,000 there Sunday morning. We must have nearly 20,000 in all.

A dispatch dated Spottswood House, Richmond, 1.30 P. M., on Monday, says but little property was destroyed by the fire, which was confined to the tobacco warehouses. The reception of the Union troops was enthusiastic beyond all expectation. Sunday was the anniversary of Gen. Grant's taking command of the army in person at Culpepper Court House.

The N. Y. Herald's correspondence says Gen. Warren was relieved of his command of the 5th Corps on Saturday, by Gen. Sheridan. The cause was understood to be tardiness or refusal to obey orders to charge the rebel lines.

Weitzel's troops, who are mentioned as 'having taken' Richmond, must be principally black. General Ord, the commander of the Army of the James, took nearly all its white soldiers to the south bank of the river, and participated in the battles around Petersburg. There is a peculiar propriety in having the capital of the slavocracy "occupied" by negroes. Insolent pride never had a more ignominious fall. An inhuman contempt of a race was the inspiration of the rebellion, and lo! the representatives of that race now march into its last abandoned stronghold.—Trans.

JNO. M. DANIEL.—The Richmond Whig of the 30th of March announces the death of the rebel Jno. M. Daniel, editor and proprietor of the Richmond Examiner. He died of consumption, after an illness of three months. He was thirty-seven years old, and had been connected with the Examiner from its foundation in 1848. He was appointed Minister to Sardinia by President Pierce, and remained there during the Buchanan administration, at the close of which he returned to Richmond to enter the rebel service. A wound in his right arm forced him to relinquish the sword for the pen, with which he has bitterly denounced the North, although he has never been a flatterer of Jeff. Davis.

☞ The papers by Tuesday's mails contain accounts of rejoicing everywhere over the capture of Richmond; and editorials of the same sort.—The Boston Post says of the event—"The head of this wicked rebellion has at length been cut off. As the public executioner holds it up to the gaze of the nation, the universal cry is—'This is the head of a traitor!' No more treason will be concocted in that active brain. No more insurrectionary councils will ever be gathered there. The flag of the Union, which symbolizes peace, and fraternity, and justice and obedience, has supplanted the hateful standard of rebellion, and will float from the spires, and domes, and house-tops, and flag-staffs of the city so long as the Union shall stand."

— An overflowing flood on the St. Lawrence river, has inundated a part of Montreal, doing much damage.

FROM HAYTI.—Intelligence from Port au Prince of the 25th ult. has been received. The conflagration in that city was the absorbing topic in Hayti. President Geffard has issued a sympathetic address to the sufferers. In various towns and villages throughout the Republic, subscriptions were making for the sufferers.

President Geffard has proposed several modifications of the Haytien Constitution. One of these declares every African or Indian or the descendants eligible to the privilege of becoming Haytien citizens, and the privilege may be conferred on such foreigners not Indian or African as may render services to the Republic. Those only are eligible to the office of the President who are born on the Island, are of Indian or African blood, thirty-five years old, and holders of real estate.

President Geffard has ordered the establishing of a volunteer fire department. Three hundred thousand dollars have been appropriated by the Government to the relief of the sufferers by the Port au Prince fire.

FROM SAN DOMINGO.—Advices from San Domingo deny the rumors of a counter revolution. The Republic is free from tumult, and the new government is quietly organizing. Gen. F. De Rojas has been elected President, and nine eminent Dominicans, seven of them Generals in the army, have been appointed as his Cabinet. So the Spanish conquest is snuffed out, the treason put down, and the Republic restored.

WHAT GEN. GRANT SAID before the great battle. The Cincinnati Gazette has the following extract from a private letter from Gen. Grant:

"We are now having fine weather, and I think will be able to wind up matters about Richmond soon. I am anxious to have Lee hold on where he is a short time longer, so that I can get him into a position where he must lose a great portion of his army. The rebellion has lost its vitality, and if I am not much mistaken, there will be no rebel army of any great dimensions a few weeks hence. Any great catastrophe to any one of our armies, would, of course revive the enemy for a short time, but I suspect no such thing to 'happen.'"

GOLD, Tuesday, 147.

— There are about 700 female clerks employed in the Treasury Department at Washington. Many of them have been rich, but are now poor. Many of them are young ladies, many of them widows, and some few are married. Their chief business is in cutting and counting new legal tender and National Bank notes, and in counting and destroying the old ones. Their pay is $720 per annum each, for six hours work per diem.

— The Philadelphia Press quotes a private letter from one of the most illustrious military men of the times, in which, after speaking with much humanity of the betrayed Southern masses, he says: "Now mark me! Davis, Hunter, Cobb, and the rest, will call upon our armies, the Union armies, when peace has been conquered, to save them from their own people."

— The Navy Department has issued orders to the effect that no repairs shall be made upon vessels, unless all that are needful can be made at a cost less than a certain sum named in the orders. Vessels which cannot be put in good condition under this order are to be sold.

— In Washington, two lines of policy are believed to be open to Lee, to retreat to Danville, or failing in this, to fight until Johnston can be hurried on the Weldon Railroad to reinforce. We shall soon hear where he is, and also what has become of Jeff. Davis.

— A little girl of three years, from beyond the Mississippi, who had never seen an apple tree in bloom, beheld one in Ohio. She lifted her fat hands in the attitude of devotion, and exclaimed "See God's big bouquet."

— In its last issue, last Saturday, at Richmond, Jeff. Davis's organ—the Sentinel—spoke in favor of flying to the interior, and advised the people never to surrender. It told them that the U. S. force in front of Richmond was our last army, and that if they can hold on for a little while longer they are certain of success.

— Maj. Gen. Robert B. Potter, reported mortally wounded in the battle near Petersburg on Sunday, is a son of Bishop Potter, of New York.

LINCOLN AND DAVIS.—George Thompson said, Monday evening, in a speech at Cambridge, Mass., that "the rail-splitter had turned out better than the union-splitter."

— The Legislature of Ohio has removed the late restriction upon Black Suffrage in that State. Henceforth the negro of Ohio will go to the polls exactly as the men of all colors go in New Hampshire.

— The Westminster Review speaks of the sermons of Rev. Henry Ward Beecher as "forcible appeals from what may be called the democratic pulpit, sometimes partaking too much of the style of the platform, or what is known in England as Spurgeonism, but of a higher order and a more catholic tendency than the discourses in the Surrey Tabernacle."

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— A Mrs. Hartford of Pembroke, who had been residing for a short time past in Concord, dropped upon the floor in a fit, on Monday evening, and after remaining insensible for about two hours died, of heart disease.

FIRE ALARM AT A FUNERAL IN RAYMOND.—On Sunday, March 26th, the funeral of Miss Betsey Scribner took place at the house of Capt. Daniel Scribner. The services were conducted by Rev. J. Fullonton. The passage, "The last enemy that shall be destroyed is death," had been read, and the destructive work of death was being considered. In treating of this the agencies of winds, floods and fire in working the destruction of property and often life were being noticed as preliminary to the consideration of the general work of death. At that moment the chimney took fire and burned out at the top with a loud roar. The coals fell fast on the roof, threatening a conflagration of the large house. The assembly was at once broken up, the services suspended till the house was saved by water carried to the roof. After this quiet was in part restored and the services proceeded.—News Letter.

LIEUT. BRADFORD.—The Charleston (S. C.) correspondent of the Tribune says the most noteworthy event of the week was a grand military and naval demonstration in honor of this brave young officer, (well known in Portsmouth,) who fell into the bands of the rebels in the attack on Fort Sumter, Sept. 7, 1863. The circumstances are well stated by Adm. Dahlgren, in his Order of March 15th:

"First Lieut. Charles H. Bradford, U. S. M. C., who was mortally wounded and taken prisoner at Fort Sumter, September 7, 1863, was buried, at his death, in the Masonic Burial Ground of the Magnolia Cemetery. With an inhumanity disgraceful to any cause, his remains were compulsorily exhumed and carried to the Potter's Field. Determining to put the mark of reprobation on this barbarous act, I desire to restore the body to the resting place, where, through the kindness of a friend, it was originally placed."

In compliance with this order, the body of Lieut. Bradford was disinterred, and conveyed to St. Paul's church, (Charleston,) under an escort of the 144 N. Y. V. The remains were received by Chaplain John Blake, U. S. N., and were followed by Admiral Dahlgren, Gen. Hatch, Col. Woodford, and a considerable concourse of army and navy officers. A large congregation of citizens was assembled in the church. The funeral sermon was preached by Chaplain Blake—a short and impressive discourse. The grand procession then formed and accompanied the remains to the Magnolia Cemetery, where they were reinterred with all the military honors.

☞ The Com. Bulletin "remembers with satisfaction that Gen. Spinner has positively asserted that during the war the Government has neither borrowed nor purchased a dollar of gold. If this damnable rebellion is entirely crushed without a change of base in that respect, we may surely point with some pride to the circumstance. What other nation on the face of the earth could have conducted such an expensive war without large importations of coin?"

Local.

☞ Wendell Phillips, one of America's greatest orators, if not the greatest, is to address the citizens of Portsmouth, at the Temple to-night, for the benefit of the Freedmen's Aid Society. His topic is not announced, but he can hardly talk uninteresingly or unprofitably on any subject; and it is but fair to suppose that under the circumstances, he will discuss somewhat the condition and prospects of the interesting and important class, in whose aid he speaks; and that in view of the glorious news of the past few days, he will also have some remarks to offer on "the situation." The house ought to be full, for the speaker, the hour and the cause.

☞ To our astonishment, the proprietor of the Temple informs us that by actual measurement,—allowing 18 inches per seat, which is more than the usual area given,—the gallery will accommodate nearly as many as the parquet. Gallery 642, parquet 858; total 1500, regular seats, besides the extra settees, &c. and the standing room. So if the whole house be packed, as no audience will ever do for itself without ushers, no doubt 2000 could be squeezed in. But 1500 can be comfortably accommodated; and could be seated without trouble, if an arm of division was only affixed to each seat, as should be done, for the protection of quiet, modest people, and the welfare of those who rent the hall.

☞ Wendell Phillips needs no introduction to our people, as the able and eloquent pleader for the oppressed, down-trodden and suffering. He is to come before a Portsmouth audience this evening, to plea l for the Freedmen's Aid Society, a noble charity, devised by the ladies of this city—and worthy the patronage of all. The object and the lecture are alike attractive; together, they should crowd the house.

☞ The Lyceum Entertainment for tomorrow night, embraces certainly as much to attract and interest, as is usually offered in two first class exhibitions; but the variety is so great and the programme so well arranged, that the interest will be kept up to the end, as was the case at the Lyceum. The tickets are as low as so much of a feast could be furnished for.

☞ On Monday evening, amid the general rejoicing over the capture of Richmond, all the dwellings in that part of State street, between Pleasant street and the harbor, presented a brilliant appearance generally; while in several houses the lights were so tastefully arranged, as to offer a beautiful spectacle. Mr. J. H. Head, with his usual public spirit, we are told, suggested and procured the illumination—which we are glad to notice was joined in by his neighbor Gen. Peaslee, with the rest. Corroded indeed must be the heart, which can fail to rejoice over Richmond taken.

THE GRAND DOUBLE CONCERT, Fast Day.—Portsmouth boasts of having the largest and best "Old Folks Choir" in the country. The Concert announced is in charge of our best resident musical talent, as also other well known non-residents, the whole under direction of one the oldest and most skillful conductors in this vicinity; and no doubt will reflect great credit upon all engaged in it.

The Tickets are already on sale; and as was the case with the previous Concerts, no doubt there will be more call for them than can be supplied.

☞ The Unitarian denomination of the country are to hold a National Convention in New York this week—the pastor and two laymen representing each church. Rev. Mr. DeNormandie, and Messrs. Ichabod Goodwin and Jas. F. Shores jr. are delegates from the South Church in this city.

The $100,000 proposed to be raised for a fund to aid the dissemination of "liberal christianity," it is stated has been nearly or quite subscribed.

☞ See the advertisement of House at Auction this day at Noon, in State street.

NEWCOMB'S MINSTRELS. — This favorite troupe, as per advertisement, will give one of their pleasant entertainments at the Temple, on Saturday evening next. The company numbers about twenty performers, selected from the best talent in the profession. Newcomb is recognized, wherever the wit and melody of the "minstrel," has been echoed, as standing as the very head of the art ethiopean.

His troupe furnishes an agreeable night's entertainment to a large class of citizens of the non-theatrical persuasion; while to the musical portion of the community the concerted or first part is a genuine lyric treat,—superior indeed to many of the more pretentious operatic conditions who assume much and achieve but little.

THEATRE.—We learn that Messrs. Bilwell & Pike's Dramatic Company, from Portland, are to open at the Temple in this city on Monday evening next, for a short season.

— Squib wants to know whether S. C. stands for South Carolina or See Cesh, the most?

CONNECTICUT ELECTION took place on Monday.—Governor Buckingham is re-elected by from 10,000 to 12,000 majority. The four Union Republican candidates for Congress are elected by majorities varying from 1500 to 4000 each. The Senate is all Republican, and the House of Representatives is about three fourths Republican. There is not one "great grease-spot" of treason left in New England.

— A New York inventor has got a patent for making cloth from the down of milkweed. This substance may do for filling with cotton or silk warp, but it has not sufficient length or strength of fibre, to be of value in itself for the manufacture of fabrics.

PHILHARMONIC SOCIETY.—The regular Weekly Rehearsals are held on Wednesday Evenings, at Mercantile Hall, at half past 7. All good Singers, desiring to join, are invited to attend.

☞ A gem of a place—Thacher's new Apothecary Store, corner of Congress and Vaughan Streets.

☞ Save your rags and old papers! Every family can supply themselves with a good newspaper from the proceeds of such savings. Mr. URIAH BLAISDELL advertises to buy them.

The proof of the pudding is not in chewing the string, but in eating and testing. The same rule will apply to the J. Monroe Taylor Gold Medal Soap. Our better half says it has no equal, and will do much better work, and go much further, besides leaving the clothes in a much better state after washing. We do not hesitate to pronounce it far superior to any soap in the market. Go get a bar and try it—most all the merchants sell it. 121

A TRUE AIM—It has not been the aim of the proprietor of Hunnewell's great preparations, advertised on our inside columns, to have a false reputation by long and unmeaning advertising, but a real one by true results, to which all who try them will cheerfully assent. See advertisement.

ARCANA WATCH.
An Elegant Novelty in Watches.

The cases of this watch are an entirely new invention, composed of six different metals combined, rolled together and planished, producing an exact imitation of 18 carat gold, called Arcana, which will always keep its color. They are as beautiful as solid gold, and are afforded at one-eighth the cost. The case is beautifully designed with Panel and shield for name, with Patent Push Pin, and engraved in the exact style of the celebrated Gold Hunting Levers, and are really handsome and desirable, and so exact an imitation of gold as to defy detection. The movement is manufactured by the well known St. Imier Watch Company of Europe, and are superbly finished, having engraved pallets, fancy carved bridges, adjusting regulator, with gold balanced and the improved jewelled action with line dial and skeleton hands, and is warranted a good time keeper.

These Watches are of three different sizes, the smallest being for Ladies, and are all Hunting Cases. A case of six will be sent by Mail or Express for $125 00. A watch will be sent in an elegant Morocco Case for $25 00; will readily sell for three times their cost. We are sole agents for this watch in the United States, and none are genuine which do not bear our Trade mark. Address GIRARD W. DEVAUGH & CO.,

These bonds are now worth a premium which increases the actual profit on the 7 30 loan, and its exemption from State and municipal taxation adds from one to three per cent. more, according to the rate levied on other property. The interest is payable semi-annually by coupons attached to each note, which may be cut off and sold to any bank or banker.

The interest amounts to

$1 " " " " $5000 "

Notes of all the denominations named will be promptly furnished upon receipt of subscriptions, and the Notes will be forwarded at once. This is

THE ONLY LOAN in the Market

now offered by the Government, and it is confidently expected that its superior advantages will make it the Great Popular Loan of the People.

Less than $300,000,000 of the Loan authorized by the last Congress are now on the market.—This amount at the rate at which it is being absorbed, will all be subscribed for within four months, when the notes will undoubtedly command a premium, as has uniformly been the case on closing the subscriptions to other Loans.

In order that citizens of every town and section of the country may be afforded facilities for taking the loan, the National Banks, State Banks, and Private Bankers throughout the country have generally agreed to receive subscriptions at par. Subscribers will select their own agents, in whom they have confidence, and who only are to be responsible for the delivery of the notes for which they receive orders.

PETROLEUM OIL AGENCY.

The California Petroleum Company.

In the Summer of 1864, Professor B. Silliman, Jr., examined this locality, now owned by the CALIFORNIA PETROLEUM CO., the purchase of which he strongly recommended to his friends in New York.

The property covers an area of 18,000 acres in one body, on which are at present at least twenty Natural Wells, some of them the largest size. Artesian Wells can be put down, 35 miles in extent. The Ranch is an old Spanish Grant of four leagues, and perfect title.

WELLS, FARGO & CO. say that "those who wish to invest in this class of security need not hesitate a moment where to place their money;—here is a good, honest, reliable concern—one which is in operation and will pay!"

Shares $40. Par Value $100.

Rensselaer Petroleum Comp'y.

The property consists of 100 acres, in fee simple, on Two Mile Run, near Oil City—a double lease of the Clapp Farm above Oil City, and four acres in fee simple on Pithole Creek, in the heart of the Oil Regions.

Capital $300,000. Shares $3. Par Value $5.

Sheffield Petroleum Company.

This property consists of 225 acres on the Tionesta Creek—seventy-five acres in the same vicinity. This property is cut through by the ten mile run, a branch of the Tionesta, and the Sunbury & Erie Railroad. This property is considered of great value in the market.

Capital $300,000. Shares $1. Par Value $2.

Everett Oil Company,
OF BOSTON.

The property of this Company consists of 200 acres of land owned in fee simple, and two leases as follows: The land is located on Oil Creek, near Centreville Depot. The Oil Creek Railroad passes through this lease. It has a river front of over one quarter of a mile. It is rich in oil.

Capital $300,000. Subscription price $5.

President Petroleum Company.

A few Shares of this valuable Stock can be had if applied for soon, at the original subscription of $5 per share. It contains 3,600 acres, very valuable in Oil, Coal and Timber.

New York and Newark
PETROLEUM CO.

The property of this Company consists of five parcels of land situated in the very centre of the Celebrated Oil District of Pennsylvania (Venango County), and lays in the immediate vicinity of Oil City, the nearest being two miles and the farthest five; and within one-quarter of a mile of Alle hany River, one piece being on that river.—The Company have a twenty years' lease for one-half the Oil.

It is the interest of the Trustees to invest every dollar in sinking Wells and obtaining Oil, and not speculating in stock. HARLINGTON & TOWLE is Engineer and Superintendent of this company.

Capital $500,000. Shares $1.

All the above Stock for sale at the AGENCY,
No. 47 Congress Street, Portsmouth,

The properties of this Company consist of 648 acres, principally owned in Fee Simple, of the most desirable Oil Lands, situated mostly in Oil Creek, Penn., upon which there are three wells now down, capable of producing from 100 to 1000 barrels per day when completed, as they are located so near the great producing interests of the Empire, Noble, Sherman and Drake wells, on this noted creek. This Company offer inducements seldom met with. The capital stock is very small for the amount of valuable oil lands the Company possesses. Three engines are already at the wells. Our Agent at Titusville writes us that the well on the McElhany farm has commenced flowing, which places this Company beyond a doubt of success. The Officers of this Company, in placing this property before the New England public, have full confidence that no properties yet offered are superior, or any out of which larger and more certain dividends may at once be expected. NOT YET.

Not yet—along the purpling sky
We see the dawning ray;
But leagues of cloudy distance lie
Between us and the sky.

Not yet—the aloe waits serene
Its promised advent hour;
A patient century of green
For one full, perfect flower!

Not yet—no harvest song is sung,
In the sweet ear of Spring;
Nor hear we, while the blade is young,
The reaper's sickle swing.

Not yet—before the crown the cross;
The struggle ere the prize;
Before the gain the fearful loss;
The death-ere Paradise.

DROP LETTER. Lexington, Mass., March 31st.—A ride of a hundred miles in the cars at the present time will enable a person whose sense of hearing is acute, to obtain a full and impartial history of the war; but unfortunately each narrator gives a different account, and is, in most cases, one of the heroes whose laudation he sings. So, if you don't wish to get history confused, don't travel many hundred miles just at present, or else turn a deaf ear to the various rehearsals of the present campaign that will take place on every railroad train in motion between Maine and Oregon.

No wonder that New England farmers make good soldiers, for it must require great courage to attempt to obtain a living by tilling such soil as we saw in our recent trip to Vermont, and in a still more recent visit to Maine. From Portland to Augusta is an almost continual field of clay, vieing with the "sacred soil of Virginia" in the tenacity with which it adheres to whatever it touches. And yet people not only live, but live better and know more of the comforts and luxuries of life than the generality of Southerners have known upon their rich lands.

In Maine, as elsewhere, the season is rather forward—the ice in the Kennebec having moved out as far up as Augusta on the 24th inst., seventeen days earlier than the average of past years. After nearly fifteen weeks of constant use, the Augustans had put away their sleighs, and while taking a morning walk on the great hill overlooking the city our ears were charmed by the matins of the robin and the blue bird.

Augusta, ever pretty, has received an impetus in a certain direction of late years, in common with all other cities that have been made military centres in the loyal States. Built almost entirely of wood, the cheerful dwellings present a very pleasing contrast in their light airy elegance, to the time-darkened smoke-stained, dirt-begrimmed brick dwellings of larger cities; and the few public buildings of brick or stone are all the more noticeable from the fact that their material is not that in common use. The hotel accommodations of the city are large and very good, but we believe not sufficiently ample during the session of the Legislature. The jail, a fine new granite building, is by far the most attractive piece of architecture in the city. Don't you think it is rather leading people into temptation to provide such nice quarters for them in case they are guilty of violating the laws!

The depot of the Portland and Kennebec Railroad at Augusta having been burned last winter, a little shed, such as would have disgraced the P. & C. road in the palmiest days of the "smelt train," now accommodates (!) the large travel at that point. Altogether, this Kennebec road, which is in the hands of ten men, who are known by a sobriquet anything but complimentary, is one of the worst managed and most poorly equipped roads we know of—the comfort or convenience of travellers being a matter of no consequence—while an unavoidable roughness of the road bed from the action of frost adds to the discomfort of travel thereon. The contrast between it and the lower route from Portland to Boston cannot be expressed by any of the common degrees of comparison.

Over the river the Arsenal and Insane Asylum claim attention, and there may be a grim satire in their propinquity, as men would hardly need weapons to destroy each other unless their reason was impaired. To a reflecting mind both are sad and interesting in their details, and both are necessary evils.

A few miles down the river, Gardiner, with its busy paper, saw and other mills, covers the clay bank, from the edge of the river far back beyond the crest of the hill, exhibiting to the stranger the mansion of its founder, a heavy, castellated, granite mansion, wholly English in the style of construction, and carrying one's ideas away from the forests of the Pine Tree State to the feudal domains of lands where rank takes precedence of merit, and where title is of more account than the patent of true nobility.

As all good men are of inestimable worth to the community in which they reside, so Gardiner is enriched in being the home of Rt. Rev. George Burgess, Bishop of Maine, a genial man, a deep thinker, a plain and cogent speaker and reasoner, and one not unknown to those versed in Episcopal literature as a hard student and faithful collator.

As a general thing, the interest of a trip over the Kennbec road would be slight to the the tourist, but Brunswick, Richmond and Hallowell, beside the places I have mentioned, each have their attractions.

The effect of the immense shipments of lumber upon its value, is shown in a new kind of sidewalk now being laid in some eastern towns to supersede those constructed entirely of plank. A single plank is placed at each edge of the walk, and the centre filled in with gravel. IOW.

— It being impossible to fill Hancock's corps with veterans, new regiments are assigned to it.

The property of this Company is located on "Coal Run Creek," Meigs County, State of Ohio, about 10 miles from Athens, containing one hundred and five acres of land. A large number of wells are successfully worked in the vicinity, some of which are paying handsome dividends.—This Company propose to commence operations at once, and entertain no doubt that at an early day they will be able to pay a handsome per centage on the investment. The known ability and commercial standing of the officers of this Company afford a sufficient guaranty that the affairs will be conducted in a manner to secure the confidence of those who are disposed to invest in it.

The tract of land adjoining the property of this Company has passed into the hands of capitalists, who have sent out an experienced superintendent to commence operations at once, and their first order for machinery was $15,000. Our property has been examined under instructions from Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, who pronounces the coal, which is in abundance, to be of the best quality, yielding 80 gallons of oil to the ton, and has no doubt, from the location and position of the property, that it will be found valuable in the production of oil. Most companies have to pay very high prices for their coal, all of which we save; oil can be manufactured from the coal upon the property, at a cost not exceeding ten cents per gallon, and it is proposed to commence the manufacture in connection with the sinking of wells. One dollar will buy a share of this stock, which is the par value, and all benefits derived from the lands, either by sales of oil, land or products of any kind, are to be divided among the stockholders, and in addition $200,000 worth of valuable, useful and desirable property will be given to the stockholders, as soon as all the shares are disposed of. The Company adopt this course for the purpose of disposing of their stock at the par value, rather than to sell it, as many companies do, at a subscription price, which is usually one-half. Thus, it will be perceived that every stockholder owning ten shares, for example, will be sure to realize a handsome dividend when the property is divided; a plan which is entirely honorable, and in all respects perfectly legal.

The property to be distributed among the stockholders will be equal to any in the market, and will consist of the following described articles:

$5000 to purchase a HOUSE in Boston or vicinity.
$5000 in U. S. 5-20 BONDS, CERTIFICATES of $500 each.

This stock is bona fide, full paid, with no possibility of future assessments and no personal liability. The absolute value and actual cash cost of this property are so great as to preclude its being offered with the allurement of a reduction from a nominal par value.

It has been selected, at different times during the past year, by several old and experienced oil-workers and residents of Oil Creek, who are familiar with the history, progress and value of every well and piece of property in that region.—Several of the producing interests were originally acquired for the purpose of holding as private investments and sources of regular income.

These gentleman have, however, been induced to combine their various interests, with additional property, into one strong, sound, and reliable company. Each of them will retain an interest as stockholders, and hold their stock as a permanent investment. Residing in the oil region, and directly concerned in the success of the company, they are pledged to look closely after its operations; thus affording a guaranty of watchful supervision, and faithful and energetic management possessed probably by no other oil company ever formed. Two of these gentlemen are on the board of Direction, and one Superintendent of the Company.

The stock is sold to pay for the property, and to furnish a working capital to open up the large and promising tracts yet waiting to be developed.

The managers start with the intention of paying dividends quarterly and from actual earnings only. Paying quarterly affords time to sell the oil produced to the best advantage, and is believed to be in all respects the soundest policy.

The dividends will beyond question, be not only immediate, but regular, permanent and remunerative. We wish to avoid holding out any inducements not warranted by the same moderate and reasonable calculations that would be made in embarking in any legitimate business enterprise. It is safe, however, to assure subscribers of handsome quarterly dividends from the present wells of the company; which will more than we confidently believe, be very largely increased by new developments to be rapidly made upon our extensive and valuable properties.

We invite attention to, and the most careful examination of, the following list of properties, lands, and leases, the locations of which are all shown upon the map; believing that none more valuable and promising have ever been offered upon so small a capital, and none that have given greater assurance of permanent value and large returns. We invite subscriptions to an investment, and guarantee the most energetic and skilful efforts to develop the property thoroughly, as well as careful and faithful management.

Summary of Properties.

Two tracts of good boring land, one hundred and one hundred and four acres respectively, in fee, situated south of Oil City, in Venango county, in the immediate neighborhood of the Adamantine, Lea, and other large wells just struck on the East Sandy and Alleghany rivers.

Important interests and leases on the best and most carefully selected properties on Oil Creek,—on the Hassan Flats,—Cornplanter Run,—Rynd Flats,—Cherry Tree Run,—Clapp & Hassan, Widow McClintock, Foster, and two lots on the celebrated Hyde & Egbert Farm.

In all, fifteen wells, five of them producing seven down from two to five hundred feet and still boring, and three just commencing, with room on the leases for several more wells.

Also a good Refinery, in complete working order, capable of refining 120 barrels per day, at a profit of one to five hundred dollars.

Also engines, tools, tubing, tanks, and improvements, the actual cash cost of which was $56,500, and worth to-day $75,000,—the whole comprising a property unsurpassed for present value and prospective increase.

VOL. XXVI. PORTSMOUTH, N. H. THURSDAY, APRIL 6, 1865 : 96. No. 79.

The Chronicle.

FIRST OF APRIL TRICKS.—In March, 1860, a vast multitude of people in England received through the post, a card bearing the following inscription, with a seal marked by an inverted sixpence at one of the angles, thus having to superficial observers an official appearance:

"Tower of London. Admit the Bearer and Friend to view the Annual Ceremony of Washing the White Lions, on Sunday, April 1st, 1860. Admitted only at the White Gate. It is particularly requested that no gratuities be given to the Wardens or their Assistants."

The trick is said to have been highly successful. Cabs were rattling about the Tower all that Sunday morning vainly endeavoring to discover the White Gate.

The other case is French, and is more ancient. Francis, Duke of Lorraine, and his wife were prisoners at Nantes and effected their escape in consequence of the attempt being made on the first of April. The story runs thus:

Disguised as peasants, the one bearing a hod on his shoulder, the other carrying a barket of rubbish at her back, they both at an early hour of the day passed through the gates of the city. A woman, having a knowledge of their persons, ran to the guard to give notice to the sentry. "April fool!" cried the soldier; and all the guard also shouted "April fool!" The Governor, to whom the story was told as a jest, was suspicious and ordered the fact to be proved; but it was too late, for by that time the Duke and his wife were off. The first of April saved them.

THE OLD AND THE NEW.—This is the title of a lecture by Mr. Chapin, from a brief report of which we make the following extract:—

In relation to that new historical movement with which we are consciously identified, Free Government is the problem involved in our national existence—Freedom is the according to every man the normal use of his whole nature, body, mind, and soul, yet in complete consistency with the freedom of every other man. Legitimate Government is that which secures this free action and organic harmony—the well being of the whole maintained in each of the parts and the well being of the parts maintained in the whole. American Democracy is very unlike European Democracy, which flowers in revolutionary cockades and theoretical pyrotechnics. The work of our fathers was the organization of Freedom on this continent.

The entire significance of our national life is involved in the present conflict. The issues of this war are freedom against slavery. Ours is a new problem put to an old trial—the trial of civil war. The true danger involved is disintegration, as indicated in the doctrine of the State Sovereignty—not State rights—that is another thing. The rights are in the States—the sovereignty is only in the whole nation. The Constitution did not make the nation—the nation made the Constitution.

The present crisis has tested the endurance of our love of freedom. Who that has contributed martyrs to its defense does not love the nation more for which they died? It has changed our estimate of Young America. On bloody battle-fields and slippery decks, the boys—yes, nothing but boys—have readily poured out their blood for their country. We shall come out of the conflict with a new art, new literature, new relations to those with whom we have fought, new relations to the nations looking on, and a new and noble roll of illustrious heroes. Out of this crucible of war, out of all this flame and blood, there must come much that is new—but, as is our purpose and our trust, there will still remain the old Government, the old nation, and the old flag.

☞ The Cleveland Plaindealer, the only Democratic paper in Northern Ohio, has suspended publication. So says an exchange,—but we suppose the fact in the case is, that the suspended paper was a defender of the miscalled democratic party, which is a widely different thing from being really democratic, in the true sense of the word.—The late election in New Hampshire resulted in a truly democratic success—but to the democratic party it was a failure. In Ohio, the events are similar: democracy prevails,—but the so-called democratic party of Vallandigham and Co. are under the weather, and so their organ grinds no more. The two things should not be confounded:—the party does not represent nor sustain the principle, and it is not worthy of the name.—It never regarded the popular voice more than other parties: latterly it has gone against that voice, and now finds itself in defeat, disaster and disgrace.

— The Newburyport Herald of April 1st says—"Eighty-five years ago to-day Hon. Jonathan Greenleaf left this town on horseback, to reach the Continental Congress, of which he was a member. The snow was so deep that he did not see a fence or stone wall in the whole distance to Boston."

Why can not two bishops row in the same boat?—Because they are in different sees.

WHAT IS A
FRENCH ROLL PAN?
IS A QUESTION OFTEN ASKED.
It is simply a nicely made
IRON PAN,
Or rather a series of Pans connected in one, of such peculiar form that all parts of the material contained in them receive an equal amount of heat, thus insuring a very
QUICK AND LIGHT BAKE.
For Sponge or Drop Cake, Muffins, French Rolls, Corn Bread or Raised Flour Biscuit, these Pans are Invaluable.
IN these days of high prices, it is worth while to
ECONOMISE
in any way. We give below a receipt for making a Cheap, Wholesome, and Delicious
PALATABLE BREAD:
"Stir into a pint of Cold Water sufficient Graham Flour to make a thin batter, adding a little Salt. Heat the Pan thoroughly, grease it a little, pour in the batter, and bake about half an hour in a hot oven."
By using Sweet Milk, instead of Water, as above, and adding 2 Spoonful of Sugar, biscuit can be made fit to set before a King. We have sold nearly a thousand of these Roll Pans in about one year, and the sale is still increasing.—Try one.

THURSDAY, APRIL 6, 1865.

THE REBELLION.

The United States forces occupied Petersburg, Va., on Monday morning, marching in at 7 o'clock.—At an earlier hour, the departing rebel army blew up their magazines, and set fire to their stores, as usual burning part of the city. Indeed, the rebels fired Petersburg in several places, but the fire was speedily extinguished by our troops and the people.

Before the evacuation of Richmond, the rebels blew up their rams and forts in James River, the explosion of which was terrific, resembling an earthquake, and was heard for miles around.

Our gunboats have arrived up James River, and are now engaged in removing obstructions.

From the details of the great battles that gave us Richmond and Petersburg, it appears Gen. Sheridan and his forces won a very important part of the general victory. Washington despatches of Tuesday evening say the latest intelligence is that Lee's army was divided, and was retreating from Richmond in two columns on the north and south sides of the Danville Railroad. This is somewhat conjectural, but in Washington the general belief is that Lee has retreated toward Danville, where he will probably join Joe Johnston, via Greensboro', N. C.

Despatches from the front up to noon of Monday show that upwards of twenty-five thousand prisoners had been captured, that rebel deserters and stragglers were being picked up in large numbers, and that with the prisoners already taken, Lee cannot have left more than thirty thousand men all told.

Gen. Grant telegraphs from Wilson, Va., on Tuesday, as follows: The army is pushing forward in hope of overtaking or dispersing the remainder of Lee's army. Gen. Sheridan, with his cavalry and the Fifth corps, is between this and the Appomattox. General Meade with the Second and Sixth Corps following. Gen. Ord following the line of the Southside Railroad.

All of the enemy that retain anything like organization have gone south of the Appomattox, and apparently heading for Lynchburg. Their losses are very heavy. The houses through the country are nearly all used as hospitals for wounded men. In every direction I hear of rebel soldiers pushing for home, in large and small squads, generally without arms. The cavalry have pushed so closely that the enemy have been forced to destroy the greater part of their transportations, caissons, and munitions of war.

The numbers of prisoners captured yesterday will exceed 2000. From the 28th of March to the present time our loss in killed and captured will not probably reach 7000, of whom from 1500 to 2000 were captured, and many but slightly wounded. I shall continue the pursuit as long as there appears to be any use in it.

Gen. Sherman left Newbern March 30th, for Goldsboro:—The rebels opposed to him for the present are supposed to be located between Smithfield and Raleigh. Sherman's men are amusing themselves by making raids on a small scale into the enemy's lines, capturing supplies, rebel officers and men, who are daily brought into camp.

Gen. Sherman, on his return to Newbern, said that there was no such thing as securing peace with the rebels by negotiation, and the issue must be fought out. He added, however, that he expected, after some marching, to muster out of service one of the bravest and best armies that ever trod the earth. Both Raleigh and Weldon are being fortified by the rebels, but they are in doubt which place Sherman will move upon.

It is said that on Monday the steamer Harriet DeFord, of Baltimore, was captured by a party of rebels at Fairhaven, Patuxent river, and started down the Chesapeake. The schooner St. Mary, of St. Mary's, Md., was burned off the Patuxent river, it is supposed by the rebels who captured the Harriet DeFord.

Parley says that in Washington a general desire is expressed that France, Great Britain and other European powers which have recognized the rebellion as a government de facto entitled to belligerent rights, may re-consider their action. How can a government exist which has no capital, no seaports, no revenue, and no vessels or foreign commerce? It is hoped the European powers will see this, and by repealing their recognition of the belligerent rights of the rebels, stop the piracy which that recognition has protected.

300 rebel officers, captured in the recent battles, have arrived in Washington.

The fire in Richmond was very destructive.

The rebels burned $1,000,000 worth of tobacco and two bridges before they left Petersburg.

The report of Gen. A. P. Hill's death is confirmed by citizens in Petersburg who saw the body.

MAJOR CHARLES JAMES MILLS, son of Charles H. Mills, Esq., merchant of Boston, was killed on the 31st ult. near Petersburg, whilst acting as adjutant on Major-General Humphrey's staff. He graduated at Harvard College in the class of 1860, and is the seventh of the young men connected with it who have fallen in the service of their country. He was severely wounded at the battle of Antietam, and never wholly recovered from lameness. But his whole heart was with the army; and as soon as able he re-entered it.

He belonged, says the Transcript, to that large body of young men who by education and conviction were prepared to enter upon the uncongenial work of war conscientiously and from principle, when the rebellion lifted the sword to destroy the unity and free institutions of the republic.

Like many of his companions in peaceful pursuits he consecrated his early maturity to the defence of a righteous cause.—Like many of them he too has sealed his devotion to that cause with his blood. He has won a name and fame to be cherished and honored; and the sorrow that mourns for a loved child and a dear friend, will find solace in the thought that the tears it cannot but shed, are shed for the loss of one who fearlessly and promptly went where honor and duty called, though the call was to the battle-field and the grave. In the midst of our rejoicing, he and others like him must not, and will not be forgotten. The victories won over treason and inhumanity, are worth all they cost. But then that cost has been terrible, and the republic for ages to come should not cease to gratefully cherish the memory of those who paid their share of it with the spirit and fate of unswerving martyrs, dying that a free nation might live.

NOTES ONLY FOUR YEARS' OLD—No. 2.—In 1861, at Stevenson, Alabama, Jeff. Davis made a rebel speech in which he said:—

"Your Border States will gladly come into the Southern Confederacy within sixty days, as we will be their only friends. England will recognize us, and a glorious future is before us. The grass will grow in the Northern cities, where the pavements have been worn off by the tread of commerce. We will carry war where it is easy to advance—where food for the sword and torch await our armies in the densely populated cities; and though the enemy may come and spoil our crops, we can raise them as before; while they can not rear the cities which took years of industry and millions of money to build."

The New York News and its kindred copperhead prints, that grunt and groan over Sherman's and Sheridan's raids, will please to read the above extract from their idol oracle, and see how exactly the tables are turned upon him and his brothers at the South, to the disappointment and dismay of his allies at the North.

THANKSGIVING FOR OUR VICTORIES. The Governor of Pennsylvania has issued a proclamation calling on the people of that State to observe Sunday next as a day of special thanksgiving for our victories.

COAL FALLS WITH RICHMOND. At a meeting of the members of the Coal Dealers' Association, in Boston, Tuesday forenoon, it was voted to reduce the price of coal to $14 per ton; a decline of $2.

GOLD, Wednesday, 148 cash, 152 3-4.—Steamer Columbia arrived at New York from Havana, and brought $15,000 in coin. Steamer Australasian, from New York for Liverpool, takes out no specie.

— A Chattanooga letter-writer says: "I have found some rebel wounded in one of the hospitals here. One of them said to me: "I see our Southern Confederacy has gone up, and I don't care, for I have found out we were in the wrong. You Yankees are not such men as we thought you were. I have received nothing but the kindest treatment ever since I was taken prisoner at the battle of Stone river."

— The soundings of the ocean, consequent upon the laying of the transatlantic cable, have, together with the Pacific Ocean soundings, verified the old assertion that the depth of the sea is equal to the height of the mountains. The deepest soundings of the Atlantic have been 25,000 feet.

— The State Department in the Washington celebration made a transparent exhibition of Mr. Seward's foreign policy in the briefest of maxims: "At home Union is order, and order is peace—abroad Union is strength, and strength is peace." Foreign papers please copy.

— The recent victories were celebrated at Haverhill, Mass., by bonfires, illuminations, salutes, &c. Charles E. Goodspeed had his hand blown off above the wrist by the premature discharge of a gun, while firing a salute.

—Rhett was an original secessionist, not only from Lincoln but from Davis; and in his private correspondence discovered at Charleston he speaks of Davis as "a fool" as "pig-headed" and as held "in great contempt" in Charleston.

— Mrs. Harvey Bliss was thrown from a carriage, while descending a hill in Royalston, on the 24th ult., by the horse taking fright, and so badly injured about the head that she survived but thirty-six hours. Her sister was also dangerously injured.

REWARD FOR CATCHING SEA OR LAND PIRATES.—On the 4th of April, Sec. Seward published the following order from the State Department:—

Whereas, For some time past evil disposed persons have crossed the borders of the United States or entered their ports by sea from countries where they are tolerated, and have committed capital felonies against the property and life of American cities as well in the cities as in the rural districts of the country. Now, therefore, in the name and by the authority of the President of the United States, I do hereby make known that a reward of one thousand dollars will be paid by this Department for the capture of each of such offenders, upon his conviction by a civil or military tribunal, to whomsoever shall arrest and deliver such offender into the hands of the civil or military authorities of the United States; and the like reward will be paid upon the same terms for the capture of any such persons so entering the United States whose offences shall be committed subsequently to the publication of this notice. A reward of five hundred dollars will be paid upon conviction for the arrest of such persons who shall have aided and abetted offenders of the class above named, within the territory of the United States.

☞ In Montreal much excitement prevails at a threatened attempt to rescue the raiders. It is rumored that a letter has been received from Secretary Seward, declaring that in view of the action taken by the Canadian Government for conspiracy and breach of neutrality, the United States Government would go no further with the demand for extradition. Further proceedings will take place in Upper Canada, as the plots are known to have all originated there.

☞ Barleigh, in describing the joy in New York, over the good news on Monday, says:

As telegram after telegram came along, the enthusiasm knew no bounds. A crowd of ten thousand people stood for four hours to hear speeches, songs and despatches at the Custom House. Songs were sung, and then old "John Brown," by the masses in Wall street, awoke the echo of that abode of wealth.. The great meeting was held in front of Belmont & Co's., from whose flagstaff no flag was floating. The crowd demanded that the National banner should be raised. Hostile demonstrations were made. Finally a small flag was brought out and nailed to the window.

It was a dreadful day for traitors, dupes and hypocrites. They had no heart to bang out the flag; they knew they deserved to be hung out themselves, for their base designs, their disheartening words, and their wicked deeds of collusion with the rebels and in favor of the rebellion.

JUDGE RUSSELL of Boston, said in Faneuil Hall, on Tuesday, nothing could add to the words—"We have taken Richmond"—or if there was anything it would be "Gen. Weitzel and his colored troops took it!" This was something more than the victory of an army; it was the triumph of a principle. Judge Russell thought the night of gloom had passed, and dreams of intervention and national degeneracy had been dispelled; and that there was now no European gentleman who would like to tread upon the American coat tail. The dawn of peace was nigh, and now the words, "Union and Liberty, now and forever," meant Liberty and Union, and Liberty for all. Henceforth we were all Americans, and we would answer to no other name. The speaker alluded feelingly to the soldiers who are now forever gone, and hoped in the hour of joy we should not forget to thank "Him who giveth the victory."

— A Scotch paper says: "Consequent on the breaking up the ice in the river, and the heavy flood which followed, the salmon fishings in the Tweed have improved during the past week, more particularly at the stations between Norham and Coldstream, whence Mr. Edward, of Berwick, has obtained a daily average of about twenty salmon, some of them weighing about eighteen pounds, and in first-rate condition. They are the largest and best fish which have been taken in the Tweed for many years at so early a period of the season."

RELIEF FOR THE WOUNDED.—The best form in which the general rejoicing for our victories can take is generous giving for the relief of those who have gained them. The Sanitary and Christian Commissions should now be overwhelmed with the offerings of a grateful people.

— A soldier's view of peace negotiations is thus reported by a correspondent: "Discussing the probable results of the conference, this blue-coated Solon remarked: You'll never get a peace out of them devils that's worth having till you lick it out of them." A multiplied endorsement of 'that's so,' evinced the entire accord of the line."

— A decision of the Supreme Court of California establishing the validity of the "anti-Sunday amusement law," has closed all the theaters in San Francisco on Sunday evenings. The decision is fatal to the German Theaters, which were open only on Sundays.

— The weather in Scotland was so severe in February that deer left the forests, and in some cases died for want of forage. They plundered the stack-yards of farmers.

ARCANA WATCH.

An Elegant Novelty in Watches.

The cases of this watch are an entirely new invention, composed of six different metals combined, rolled together and planished, producing an exact imitation of 18 carat gold, called Arcana, which will always keep its color. They are as beautiful as solid gold, and are afforded at one-eighth the cost. The case is beautifully designed with Patent Pin, suitable for name, with Patent Push Pin, and engraved in the exact style of the celebrated Gold Hunting Levers, and are really handsome and desirable, and so exact an imitation of gold as to defy detection. The movement is manufactured by the well known St. Jimer Watch Company of Europe, and are superbly finished, having engraved pallets, fancy carved bridges, adjusting regulator, with gold balanced and the improved jewelled action with line dial and skeleton hands, and is warranted a good time keeper.

These Watches are of three different sizes, the smallest being for Ladies, and are all Hunting Cases. A case of six will be sent by Mail or Express for $125.00. A single one sent in an elegant Morocco Case for $25.00; will readily sell for three times their cost. We are sole agents for this watch in the United States, and none are genuine which do not bear our Trade mark. Address GIRARD W. DEVAUGH & CO.,

"A Wonderful Discovery,"

DR. TEBBETTS' "PHYSIOLOGICAL HAIR REGENERATOR" is compounded in strict accordance with the well known laws of Physiology and modern vegetable Chemistry. It is not a "DYE," and will not stain a particle. It will "RESTORE GRAY HAIR" in all cases to its original color. It promotes a luxuriant growth of new HAIR in all cases on BALD HEADS, when the glands or roots of the hair are not completely disorganized. It prevents the hair from falling off and removes all dandruff, heat, humors and itching from the scalp. It keeps the hair soft, moist and perfectly healthy, and gives it a glossy and beautiful appearance. It is highly perfumed, and as a dressing it has no superior. The "REGENERATOR" is warranted to produce the above results in all cases, if not the money to be refunded. With it every "GRAY HEAD" in New England can be restored in less than sixty days.

☞ The performers at the Temple tonight, one and all, are well and favorably known to our citizens; and none of them need any "bush" from anybody. It will be a grand and joyful occasion, and we guarantee will be pronounced by all who attend, as worth twice the price of admission. We present some details of the attractions elsewhere, in our editorial and advertising columns.

☞ Our wide-awake friends, Messrs. Tidd, Thacher, Henderson & Blaisdell, we are told were the projectors of the celebration on Monday afternoon and evening; and considering the short notice they had, they are deserving of much credit. The Portsmouth Cornet Band discoursed, as usual, excellent music, and everything passed off to the satisfaction of every body and their friends. We learn that they with others, propose another celebration on a larger scale to take place the 14th of this month, "Sumter Day."

The "Celebration" was also repeated or continued, on Tuesday evening—much the same as Monday, only more so.

☞ The rehearsal of the Soldiers' Chorus by the "Philharmonics," and the accompaniment of 17 pieces of music, came off last night. Those who were present say it will be one of the greatest musical treats ever offered here. That piece alone will pay for the ticket. It is expected that fifty persons will take part.

☞ H. F. Wendell, Esq., auctioneer, sold on Wednesday, the Reding House, No. 112 State street, for $1225, to Messrs. H. H. & F. W. Ham.

☞ During the singing of the Soldiers Chorus at the Musical & Literary Entertainment, "Old Glory" will be supported by three color-bearers, veteran soldiers of the war. The flag is that which the glorious old Second N. H. Regt. followed through a score of battles.

ANOTHER BIG EGG.—A patriotic hen belonging to Mr. E. T. Holbrook of Newcastle, has commemorated the fall of Richmond (so says her owner) by laying on that day an egg of remarkable size. It measured 8 1-8 inches the long way, and 6 1-4 the other: and weigs 4 ounces. Not so big as Elder Hoyt's, to be sure; but large enough for all practical purposes.

MUSIC AND VICTORY.—In addition to the programme already offered by the managers of the Musical and Literary entertainment, it will close with the national airs of America and Yankee Doodle.

☞ According to a recent order from the Navy Department all persons claiming exemption from the draft on account of alienage, are liable to be discharged from the Yard. About forty were discharged on Wednesday from this cause.

☞ Emblems, mottoes, and flags will be displayed on the stage at the Musical and Literary entertainment to-night, in commemoration of the recent Great Victory.—Let every one go and rejoice.

☞ Have you bought your tickets for the Musical and Literary Entertainment? If not, secure them at once.

U. S. 5-20 Six per cent.
GOLD - BEARING BONDS.

These bonds are now worth a premium which increases the actual profit on the 7-30 loan, and its exemption from State and municipal taxation adds from one to three per cent. more, according to the rate levied on other property. The interest is payable semi-annually by coupons attached to each note, which may be cut off and sold to any bank or banker.

The interest amounts to

One cent per day on a $50 note.
Two cents " " " " $100 "
Ten " " " " " $500 "
20 " " " " " $1000 "
$1 " " " " " $5000 "

Notes of all the denominations named will be promptly furnished upon receipt of subscriptions, and the Notes will be forwarded at once. This is

THE ONLY LOAN in the Market

now offered by the Government, and it is confidently expected that its superior advantages will make it the Great Popular Loan of the People.

Less than $300,000,000 of the Loan authorized by the last Congress are now on the market.—This amount at the rate at which it is being absorbed, will all be subscribed for within four months, when the notes will undoubtedly command a premium, as has uniformly been the case on closing the subscriptions to other Loans.

In order that citizens of every town and section of the country may be afforded facilities for taking the loan, the National Banks, State Banks, and Private Bankers throughout the country have generally agreed to receive subscriptions at par. Subscribers will select their own agents, in whom they have confidence, and who only are to be responsible for the delivery of the notes for which they receive orders:

ROOMS FOR THE PRESENT AT THE

FRANKLIN HOUSE,

PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

DR. URANN'S treatment is such that by it

All Curable Diseases

are affected in one or two treatments, and many are entirely cured by one, as the following will testify:—

MRS. SARAH P. STILES, Lowell, Mass., had Fever Sores on both legs of twelve years standing; her right ankle measured eighteen inches, and was as blue as indigo; she could not move her foot; after one treatment it was reduced one-half, she could move her foot freely and is getting well rapidly, her left ankle all healed.

Capt. W. H. LAMPSON'S child, Lowell, Mass. The child was pronounced by physicians as hopelessly idiotic. The child could neither walk or sit alone, and took no notice of anything. After one treatment he began to improve, and has so far gained as to be able to walk alone, can talk, takes notice of everything, laughs and sings, and appears perfectly well.

MRS. HINCKLEY, wife of A. T. Hinckley, of State Arsenal, Hartford, Ct., troubled with hip complaint and contraction of the cords of the legs; could not get her heel to the floor within four inches; had to be brought down stairs in arms; after one treatment of twenty minutes was able to run up and down stairs with ease, and is now able to walk the streets.

Miss MARTHA ST. JOHN, Simsbury, Ct., was confined to her bed from spinal difficulty and prolapsus uteri; had not been dressed for more than a year; in twenty minutes she was enabled to dress and walk out to one of the neighbors, a distance of about a half mile; she has since been to Hartford and to church, and is improving daily.

MRS. HENRY LOOMIS, Southwick, Mass., troubled with fits and spinal difficulties, could not walk without much difficulty, perfectly cured by one treatment.

MRS. WM. JENKINS, Unionville, Conn., troubled for over two years with chronic liver complaint and rheumatism, had a large lump on her side which was very painful; was unable to lie down. Cured by one treatment, and is as well as ever.

JOSEPH H. ELDRIDGE, formerly of the Hartford Police, more recently on Hartford and New Haven Railroad, was obliged to give up his business on account of a severe cough and bleeding, perfectly cured and can now do a good day's work.

LYDIA L. FULLER, of East Wallingford, Vt., had entirely lost the use of her limbs after a severe attack of diptheria, was restored by one treatment, and is as well as ever.

FANNY DAVIS, of Moretown, Vt., had been confined to her bed for more than five years—was not able to stand—after one treatment of less than an hour, was enabled to walk around the room, and is now quite well.

MISS HUTCHINSON, daughter of Judge Hutchinson of West Randolph, Vt, was troubled with fits, having some days from fifty to one hundred. She was unable to eat anything but liquids—was not able to stand. After one treatment she began to improve, until now, she is the picture of health, able to walk as well as any one, eats hearty and has no fits.

SOUTHWICK, MASS., July 21, 1862.

DR. URANN,—Dear Sir:—I suppose it is even a pleasure to you to learn the convalescent state of your patients; notwithstanding my long three years of almost absolute confinement to my bed, unable most of the time to converse with or see any company, and for over two years unable to feed myself—yet with this painful picture of human wretchedness which made life almost a burden, since your treatment of my spine, on the 7th day of June, I have been able to take my meals at the table, with my family, ride out daily, and converse freely with all; and without some new misfortune befalls me, I shall soon be able to interest myself in the labors of my profession, at least to preach one sermon a Sabbath. Without flattery, in my honest judgment, there is no better treatment in the hands of men for the Spinal Disease than the one which you honor, and as my heart beats with sympathy with all Spinal sufferers, I only wish they knew the wonderful utility of your treatment, and avail themselves of the same. Yours with respect and gratitude,

M. H. RISING.

DR. URANN'S TERMS

Are such that all can avail themselves of his treatment.

Portsmouth, Feb. 22, 1865.

Morning Chronicle.

DUBUQUE, IOWA, March 29.

Dear Chronicle:—Two months ago we found the Mississippi sheeted in ice, and glistening in the moonlight cold and grey. Now its banks are filled to overflowing, and the water sweeps steadily past—slides along—two words best expressing the solid movement of the whole volume of the river. Large cakes of ice from the northern latitudes float swiftly by, as if eager in a warmer clime to return to "first principles;" and with the ferry to the opposite shore, and the boats plying from this point and above to Saint Louis and below, give to the river a little of the activity which characterizes the open season.

During a day's stay at Rockford, on my way west, I attended the yearly High School Examination, and was pleased to note the exercises in comparison with those of similar institutions East. In addition to the usual course of studies with you, the classes were examined in "Paley's Evidences of Christianity," and "Government."

I think the general average of the recitations were hardly as prompt, clear or thorough as those of Portsmouth Schools, but the original exercises — dissertations, declamations and compositions—were very much superior. The latter were offered by the young ladies, and in contrast with the three-minute squibs of nothingness, gabbled out with unintelligible monotony or lightning velocity, on the platforms of our Eastern Schools; they were carefully wrought, logical, thoughtful essays, to the extent of ten or fifteen letter pages, upon subjects of greater depth and consistency than the "Adventures of a Cent," "Excursion down River," and others, which we have heard read, after being written or stolen, since our earliest school days. Some of these subjects I recall,—"The Unstained," "Immoral Influences of Bad Bread," "Woman's Sphere," "One More Year."

Among the male exercises was a declamation of an original dissertation on "Labor," of considerable length, and one of the finest school productions to which I have ever had the pleasure of listening,—these all evincing a depth of thought and talent for reasoning which, as well as book-learning, it would be well to cultivate in our schools at home.

Music was also a prominent portion of the exercises, and an instrumental trio by three of the scholars was finely executed, and several songs well rendered by a quartette; one war lyric, an especial favorite, with the chorus:

Many are the hearts that are weary to-night,
Wishing for the war to cease;
Many are the hearts working for the right,
Waiting for the dawn of peace.
Tenting to-night; tenting to-night;
Tenting on the old camp ground!
Dying to-night; dying to-night!
Dying on the old camp ground!

In the evening the school-room and connecting apartments were thrown open for a social gathering of the present and past scholars and their friends. Calisthenic exercises were given, and addresses by the clergy and others, and the assembling was a happy climax to the exhibition.

I noticed in a recent issue of the Chronicle a communication signed "D," on the Chicago "Artesian Well," which must have been based on very erroneous information. I quote from memory, (having lost the article) that it stated the well was spouting water one hundred feet into the air, and supplying the Chicagonians with one million gallons drinking water. Now, so far from spouting one hundred feet, it does less than twenty feet; and so far from supplying drinking water, it runs to waste over a marshy plain, and is only about to be used as motive power to sink another well, which it is hoped will do thus and so. Every one who has drank Chicago sewerage may be excused for hoping so too; but I should much prefer to feel the water trickling down my throat than through the columns of a newspaper.

N.

☞ During the skirmish in the little reconnoissance made by Gen. Steedman on our left, a couple of soldiers of the colored brigade came upon three rebels, whose guns were unloaded, and demanded their surrender. One of the Johnnies indignantly refused to surrender to a "d——d nigger."

"Berry sorry, massa," said Sambo, bringing his piece to a "ready"; "but we's in a great hurry, and hain't got no time to spend for a white man."

The ominous click that accompanied this remark brought the scion of chivalry to time, and he was brought in, crying and swearing all the way that his father would kill him if he ever heard that he had surrendered to a nigger.

"What a wonderful fine discourse the parson gave us to-day! It rolled along like the sea."

"What was it you liked so much in it, Betty?"

"Bless your heart?" said Betty, "do you think I would make so bold as to understand our parson? Why, they do say there is no such another scholar in all the country. But it was a wonderful fine discourse. It rolled along like the waves of the sea."

Quilp, talking of a young man whose sire is remarkable for being extremely wise in his own conceit, said—"There, now, goes a promising young fellow. When he has obtained as much experience, he will be as big a fool as his father."

What colors do the winds and waves represent?—The waves rose, and the winds blue.

The property of this Company is located on "Coal Run Creek," Meigs County, State of Ohio, about 10 miles from Athens, containing one hundred and five acres of land. A large number of wells are successfully worked in the vicinity, some of which are paying handsome dividends.—This Company propose to commence operations at once, and entertain no doubt that at an early day they will be able to pay a handsome percentage on the investment. The known ability and commercial standing of the officers of this Company afford a sufficient guaranty that the affairs will be conducted in a manner to secure the confidence of those who are disposed to invest in it.

The tract of land adjoining the property of this Company has passed into the hands of capitalists, who have sent out an experienced superintendent to commence operations at once, and their first order for machinery was $16,000. Our property has been examined under instructions from Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, who pronounces the coal, which is in abundance, to be of the best quality, yielding 80 gallons of oil to the ton, and has no doubt, from the location and position of the property, that it will be found valuable in the production of oil. Most companies have to pay very high prices for their coal, all of which we save; oil can be manufactured from the coal upon the property, at a cost not exceeding ten cents per gallon, and it is proposed to commence the manufacture in connection with the sinking of wells. One dollar will buy a share of this stock, which is the par value, and all benefits derived from the lands, either by sales of oil, land or products of any kind, are to be divided among the stockholders, and in addition $200,000 worth of valuable, useful and desirable property will be given to the stockholders, as soon as all the shares are disposed of. The Company adopt this course for the purpose of disposing of their stock at the par value, rather than to sell it, as many companies do, at a subscription price, which is usually one-half. Thus, it will be perceived that every stockholder owning ten shares, for example, will be sure to realize a handsome dividend when the property is divided; a plan which is entirely honorable, and in all respects perfectly legal.

The property to be distributed among the stockholders will be equal to any in the market, and will consist of the following described articles:

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837.)
76 State street, opposite Kilby street,
Boston.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These together with his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, by good judgment, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twelve rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

THE MAGEE
COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber would especially call the attention of the public to the
MAGEE COOK STOVE,
as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water, also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling out of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We invite all those in want of the very best Stove in the market, to examine the

MAGEE COOK.

Also on hand an assortment of the different sizes

MAGEE PARLOR STOVE
with and without ovens, which are too well known to need any recommendation.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING
FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pots is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

ENGLISH SEWERAGE.—In England a faulty sewerage system has already ruined, according to recent official report, over one hundred rivers, poisoning their waters so that the fish die out in them, and corrupting them so that an unendurable stench spreads over the adjoining shores. The Thames, before it reaches Birmingham, receives the sewage of two hundred and seventy thousand people, besides the refuse of gas-works, the pumpings of collieries, and the filth of numerous factories. "Birmingham always suffers more or less from a type of fever. Its mortality is much higher than that of London." The Medlock at Manchester is "covered with a black scum so thick that birds walk on it." The gas from decomposing matter rises to the surface in bubbles and a mass of scum with it, which cakes on the surface. The Clyde is reported to be worse than the Thames or the rivers of Lancashire.

The water which the people of London—or at least eight hundred thousand of them—drink, receives the sewage of fifty towns before it enters the aqueduct which conveys it, with all these impurities, to the houses of London. The river Exe is so corrupted below Exebridge that the farmers cannot allow their cattle to drink its waters. The water of the Calder and other streams is, by reason of the sewage and factory refuse flowing into them, equally poisonous to cattle. An injunction was granted against the town of Banbury because its sewage fouled the river and poisoned the cattle. The injury done to the Dovey by a single sewer, it is officially reported, took two years' purchase from every acre of land along its banks.

But this is not all. The river beds are filled up by this constant emptying of rubbish, with the serious consequence that the natural drainage of great regions is interfered with. The Thames at Oxford silted up six feet, and "the consequence is that many of the flat districts are in a sodden and waterlogged condition." In Lancashire, Mr. Rawlinson said in an official report, there were river beds which were raised ten or fifteen feet above their old level.—N. Y. Evening Post.

— A prominent Virginian once prophesied that the slave-masters of his State would, one day, run away from their slaves. That prediction has, this week, been fulfilled.—Trans.

BAILEY'S
Spring Roll and Cog Wheel
WASHING AND WRINGING MACHINES.
WRINGING MACHINES HAVE BECOME AN institution in the land. Thousands and tens of thousands have been sold during the last three years, and they all save an immense amount of labor and cost of material.
We now offer to the public a Machine that will WASH as well as WRING the Clothes. It is very heavy and strongly built—the Rolls are large and so fastened with screws as to be secure from turning on the shaft. The Cog Wheels give power, and the Spring Roll makes it do its work with ease and perfection. The Machine is secured to a bench, independent of the wash tubs; consequently there is no trouble of fastening it every time it is used.
To any person who wishes to obtain an article to do both washing and wringing in a Public House or Private Family, we say give this a trial. If not satisfactory, the money will be refunded.—Call and see it.

WHAT IS A
FRENCH ROLL PAN?
IS A QUESTION OFTEN ASKED.
RUSTLESS is nicely made
IRON PAN,
Or rather a series of Pans connected in one, of such peculiar form that all parts of the material contained in them receive an equal amount of heat, thus insuring a very
QUICK AND LIGHT BAKE.
For Sponge or Drop Cake, Muffins, French Rolls, Corn Bread or Raised Flour Biscuit, these Pans are Invaluable.
IN these days of high prices, it is worth while to
ECONOMISE
in any way. We give below a receipt for making a Cheap, Wholesome, and
PALATABLE BREAD:
"Stir into a pint of Cold Water sufficient Graham Flour to make a thin batter, adding a little Salt. Heat the Pan thoroughly, grease it a little, pour in the batter, and bake about half an hour in a hot oven."
By using Sweet Milk, instead of Water, as above, and adding 2 Spoonsful of Sugar, biscuit can be made fit to set before a King. We have sold nearly a thousand of these Roll Pans in about one year, and the sale is still increasing.—Try one.

FRIDAY, APRIL 7, 1865.

THE REBELLION.

Official dispatches give us a variety of interesting details from Richmond. The rebel Gen. Lee telegraphed to Jeff. Davis at three P. M. on Sunday that he was driven back and must evacuate. This was announced in church. Jeff. got off at 7 P.M. on the Danville Road: the other rebel chiefs slipped away that evening. The rebel iron clads were exploded. The Virginia lies sank in the James River above the obstructions.

Ewell set the city on fire, and all the business portion of Main street to the river was destroyed. The bridges across the river were also destroyed. Many of the families remain. Mrs. Lee remains. Several banks and the Enquirer and Dispatch printing offices were burned.

The colored troops, headed by Gen. Draper, of Mass., were the first to enter Richmond.

Gen. Weitzel took Jeff. Davis' house for his headquarters. Gen. Shepley was appointed Military Governor.

Governor Pierpont is to transfer the State Government of Virginia from Alexandria to Richmond immediately.

General Weitzel captured in Richmond one thousand well prisoners, and five thousand rebel wounded were found in the hospitals.

Five hundred pieces of artillery and five thousand stand of arms were captured.

The President went to Richmond Tuesday and returned to City Point Wednesday.—He was received in R. with great enthusiasm.—There are about 2000 people there, half black, all in want of food. Gen Weitzel gives rations to those who have taken the oath.

At Richmond all the rebel vessels were destroyed except an unfinished ram which has her machinery in her perfect. The Tredegar Works are unharmed, and the machinery is there. Libby Prison and Castle Thunder have also escaped the fire, and are filled with rebel prisoners of war.—Most of the editors have fled, especially John Mitchell.

At Petersburg the public stores were burned and a few houses caught fire, but not much damage was done to the city.—The bridges there were also destroyed.

The only General of the U. S. army killed is Winthrop. Potter is dangerously wounded.

Gen. Grant has commanded the army in person since the commencement of operations.

Gen. Grant on Wednesday telegraphed from Nottaway Court House as follows:

Last night General Sheridan was on the Danville railroad, south of Amelia Court House, and sent word to General Meade, who was following with the Second and Sixth corps by what is known as the River road, that if the troops could be got up in time he had hopes of capturing or dispersing the whole of Lee's army. I am moving with the left wing, commanded by Gen. Ord, by the Cox or direct Burkesville road. We will be to-night at or near Burkesville. I have had no communication with Meade or Sheridan to-day, but hope to hear very soon that they have come up with and captured or broken up the balance of the Army of Northern Virginia.

Sheridan reports Lee at Amelia Court House to-day.

It was understood to have been Lee's design to reach Danville, Va., and there fortify and make another stand. This plan Sheridan's movement has frustrated, and Lee is now apparently endeavoring to get to Lynchburg.

Davis is said to have carried with him about $300,000 in specie. Gen. Lee was in Petersburg until the evacuation on Sunday, and was very fretful and despondent.

The Confederate debt is about $3,000,000,000. All hope that this will be paid is dissipated by Jeff. Davis taking with him in his flight the whole assets of the Confederacy, $300,000 in gold.

The Tribune's Petersburg correspondence says food was so scarce there that many poor people went out to our camps and picked up the rations of beef and hard bread that were lying around, and many carried off the blankets they found in the log huts. Of tobacco there was plenty. Indeed, the great features were scarcity of food and plenty of tobacco. There was also a surplus of apple-jack.

Davis has gone to Georgia, and will attempt to establish his Government at Augusta.

The N. Y. Times' New Orleans correspondence of the 25th ult. says that on the 18th Gen. Steele's column started from Pensacola and Barrancas for Blakely Landing, on the Tombigbee, with the purpose of flanking the defences of Mobile. It is thought this will compel the rebels to back up the Alabama, as it will be the only opening left to them, if it is not already blockaded. On the 22d, Wilson's cavalry were heard from, doing well.

A dispatch dated Russellville, Ala., 24th ult., says the cavalry column of General Thomas' army, under Wilson, consists of 3 divisions, soon to be joined by a 4th. Its destination was Selma, Montgomery and Mobile. The country so far as travelled contains only old men, women, children and negroes. Provisions were plenty, and our foragers found no difficulty in obtaining supplies. A few rebels appeared and skirmished with the advance, but that was the only opposition met with up to 24th ult.—Many rebels had delivered themselves up.

By an official dispatch on Wednesday, it appears that Sheridan has overtaken Lee's retreating army, and is trying with his cavalry force to detain them until other forces come up and capture the whole. Gen S. deems it hardly possible for Lee to escape.

It now appears that Gen. Potter has not died from his wounds, which, though severe, are not dangerous.

Gen. A. P. Hill was killed by a rifle ball while trying to rally his men.

HAVANA AND MEXICO.—Late advices from Vera Cruz confirm the report of the disaster to the Commandant of Vera Cruz. It appears that with 250 Austrians, Egyptians and Martinicans he sent to the neighborhood of Alvarado, and burned and pillered. On his return he was set upon by 400 Liberals, himself killed and 150 of his followers were also killed or wounded. The ravages this man has committed in Mexico will brand his name with infamy.

The Austrians are becoming dissatisfied with the service in Mexico, and are deserting daily. Others are dying rapidly of fever.

The French have abandoned the expedition to Minatitlan and other places on the coast, and seem to be going home. A large number left in the steamer on the 16th ult., and others in transports.

It is said Mrs. Oviedo of diamond wedding fame, is dangerously ill of small pox, of which several cases have occurred in Havana.

The blockade runner Lord, with cotton, arrived on the 26th from Galveston. Some blockade runners sailed on the 25th.

GOLD, Thursday, in New York, 152 to 151 1-2. Operators who have been selling short for some time past, find it difficult to make their deliveries, and are in some cases losing heavily on their contracts. The advance in gold is on the strength of the understanding that Sec. McCulloch proposes selling the Savannah cotton for gold.—There is very little speculative movement, and cash gold continues scarce.

— The Richmond correspondent of the London Times, writing from Richmond Feb. 16th, confidently assures the North that their work is not more than half done. [When he writes again, he will sing a different song.]

— The Calais, Me., Advertiser gives an account of the golden wedding in that city, the 12th ult., of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Boardman, who were united in marriage in Newburyport, March 12th, 1815. They have lived in Calais for forty years.

— The third attempt to burn the house of Michael Brabana of Rochester, was made on Thursday night last. The scamps emptied through the window a small pail filled with kerosene oil and brown paper upon the table, and attempted to light the paper. The noise awakened Mrs. Brabana, who immediately entered the room, when the rogues vamosed.

— A contract has been made with influential Germans to bring from Germany two thousand men, who will each take a tract of the Kickapoo Railroad lands in Kansas, and work out its value on the railroad. An agent is now in Germany for the purpose of forwarding the men, who are expected to arrive in May.

— Vallandigham testified in the Chicago conspiracy case, that he was a member of the Sons of Liberty, but knew nothing of the K. G. C.'s. Moreover, that the Sons of Liberty were arrayed against the government, but not on the side of the South.

— A plan for flattering photographs has been invented, for the benefit of middle-aged young ladies. A lace curtain is stretched on a wooden frame before the camera, and the threads give the grain of a chalk drawing or engraving, and the defects of the sitter are modified and softened down.

— A correspondent in Illinois sends the following: In Peshtigo, Wisconsin, the flags were all flying to the breeze in honor of the second inauguration of President Lincoln, it being the 4th of March. A stranger in town, meeting one of the young ladies, asked her the meaning of so much display. "Why," said she, "they've hired the man that's carried on the war, for four years longer."

— Sec. Seward has broken his arm; he jumped from his carriage while the horses were running away with it.

— In England, the decision given by the Privy Council in Bishop Colenso's case, pronounces his removal from the Bisbopric by Bishop Copeton, null and void, that power resting with the Queen. So the African Bishop may hold his place yet.

NOTES ONLY FOUR YEARS OLD.—No. 3.—In Alabama, in 1861, at Montgomery, when news arrived of the attack on Fort Sumter, an immense crowd serenaded President Davis and Secretary of War Walker at the Exchange Hotel. Davis was unwell and did not appear, but Sec. Walker addressed the multitude and said:—

No man could tell where the war this day commenced would end, but he would prophesy that the flag which now flaunts the breeze here would float over the dome of the Capitol at Washington before the first of May. Let them try Southern chivalry and test the extent of Southern resources, and it might float eventually over Faneuil Hall itself.

Some people have plead, and still plead, the rebel cause at the North; but Walker spoke as the rebel leaders thought, viz: that they would rule the whole country by force of arms, as they had before by cheating and swindling the Northern democratic party: but he reckoned without his host.

SOUTHERN BURYING GROUNDS.—Commenting on the military funeral of Lieut. Bradford at Charleston, S. C., the Tribune's correspondent says:

It is hoped that this imposing demonstration will end the practice so long and universally adopted in the slave States of dishonoring the loyal dead. Our military commanders should be instructed to forbid any indignities in future to the inanimate bodies of our loyalists, without distinction of color or race. Here, as everywhere in the rebellious States, the colored people have been buried in separate cemeteries; the Uncle Toms could not be interred where Legrees were laid to await the Day of Doom. No churches have ever dared to so far contradict the Scriptures that they all professed to honor—which teach that God is no respecter of persons—as to deny that the Good should all meet in one Heaven in the Hereafter.

But on this earth and under it, the distinction of race has been jealously preserved. In Charleston they have been still more unchristian in their conduct; for a white sect absolutely defrauded the colored people out of a grave-yard which they bought with their own money. Stealing a burying ground is rather a novel theft; but it has been done in Charleston. The case will soon be brought before the authorities here—as soon as the colored Methodists decide whether they shall join the Methodist Church North or the African Methodist Episcopal organization.

— The Sheffield inundation, a year ago this month, has a long tail. The Commissioners to award damages have not ended their labors. Recently, a "poet and actor" named Richard Nesbitt Ryan, claimed £3000 for "loss of poetic effusions." The claimant had been, in his own words, actor, poet, public manager, &c. He lodged in one of the inundated streets, and the flood swept away a large quantity of manuscript and printed poems, oder, &c. He claimed £200 for the loss of a diary, containing his autobiography; but the company's valuer cruelly estimated this at £1. Ryan showed that he had been getting his living by selling his poems, and that he could not replace the loss, and the court awarded him $100. A widow, named Bethel, of Birmingham, claimed £2,650 for the loss of her husband, who was a foreman metal roller, at the Limerick Wheel Owlerton. The man had been earning very large wages, and the claimant was left with three young children. The court awarded her £1,000.

— Mrs. Ion Smith, a carrier of dispatches between Generals Price and Kirby Smith and Richmond, was arrested in St. Louis last week. A pass from Gen. Price, stating her to be on secret service, was found on her person. She has been in St. Louis several times with dispatches for the rebels at Richmond, and several citizens are implicated, having assisted her operations.

— The freedmen of Charleston celebrated their emancipation by a procession, on the 21st ult. The 21st U. S. colored regiment formed the military escort; the representatives of the different trades, 1800 school children, seven fire companies, and other colored persons formed a procession about two miles and a half long.

— Mr. Grier, who was a wealthy Union citizen of Richmond, when the war broke out, and was sent to the North penniless because he would not approve of secession, has been appointed postmaster at Richmond, and has left to assume the duties of his office.

— The National Unitarian Convention met at New York on Wednesday. Gov. Andrew of Massachusetts, was chosen President. The reports of the different conferences were read. Nearly 400 delegates were present, representing all the Northern States and Canada.

— Washington was magnificently illuminated Tuesday evening in honor of the recent victories. Transparencies on the War Office had for mottoes: "The Union, it must and shall be preserved," "It is the Lord's doings and is marvelous in our eyes."

— The flour mill of Jesse Small at Farmington Falls, Me., was destroyed by fire on Tuesday. Loss 2000; insured for $1500.

— All accounts agree that Nassau has been ruined by the sudden stopage of blockade running. Glad of it.

— Messrs. Emmons, Danforth & Scudder, wholesale grocers in Boston, failed on Saturday, owing $300,000.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The friends of Captain Dakin's New Hampshire Battery will be glad to learn that much praise has been bestowed upon it for its gallant conduct in the recent fight. So telegraphs "Mystic" to the Boston Journal.

—— The following were killed and wounded on the 29th ult.:

Of the New Hampshire 18th. Killed: Lieut. N. J. Brown, Daniel Webster.—Wounded: A. McDonald, E; J. N. Small, E; S. S. Romily.

—— In the battle of Saturday, these men of the 6th N. H. Reg. were wounded: Co. A—Luke Lea, both hands; Henry Blodgett, right hand; Co. D—Frank A. Smith, cheek; Co. E—Daniel Murphy, hip; Serg't J. T. Ricker, lungs and thorax; Co. F—James McIntyre, right shoulder; Co. G—J. B. Cook, face; Co. H—Wm. Garner, head.

—— Asst. Surgeon Howard U. Rundlett, of Stratham, lately appointed in the regular navy, has been ordered to the recruiting ship Ohio, at the Charlestown Navy Yard.

—— Act'g Asst. Surgeon Chas. A. Manson, of Portsmouth, has been detached from the "Keystone State," and is awaiting orders.

—— The next annual session of the New Hampshire Conference of the M. E. Church opens at Dover, on Wednesday, April 12, at 11 o'clock A. M.

Local.

☞ Mr. Emery too has "joined the caravan that coursethdown to" the low prices, which all of us are so anxious to reach for other folks' goods, but hate to touch with our own if we can help it. However, to sell at all now-a-days, you must come down a little from the days of the "dogs" of rebels; which is all right enough—and the biggest and best merchants in the country are selling "below cost." Mr. Emery has a large and fine stock of watches, jewelry, and fancy goods, as everybody knows; and his advertisement is worthy the attention of bargain hunters, as well as legitimate buyers who are willing other folks should "live."

☞ It is the desire of the original projector and manager of the Old Folks Concerts here, that all those who have ever sung with them, should join in the pending Concerts. The Conductor wishes more bass and alto especially. The orchestra will be one of the largest and most effective ever heard here.

☞ Messrs. Bidwell & Pike, with their Dramatic Company, announce to re-open at the Temple on Monday evening, for a couple of nights only. The roll of the Company as given in their advertisement, shows a very strong cast,—much greater than travelling troupes can generally produce.—They have been playing with great favor and success in Portland; and will return there shortly, after completing improvements in Deering Hall. They always keep a strong stock company, and are also employing some of the brightest stars in the country. Of course they will be well received here by their old friends and theatre-goers generally.

☞ Mr. Phillips highly entertained his audience at the Temple, Wednesday evening, on the subject of the Freedmen. The house was not full, as it should have been; and we think the event has proved that the low price of tickets, while it reduced the receipts, did not increase the attendance. What people want, they are willing to pay for; and those who don't want a thing, will not take it even at half price. This is especially true of public entertainments. We learn that the Freedmen's Society received the sum of $28 from the Lecture.

LADIES' SOLDIERS' AID SOCIETY.—We have not been an insensible observer of the good which this society has been accomplishing for the last three years. Its members have labored hard and nobly, and have the satisfaction of knowing that their labors have been instrumental of good. Hundreds of poor soldiers, sick and wounded, have experienced benefit from articles which these ladies have sent to camps and hospitals. We trust people will not forget this association, but will extend to its members a helping hand in the form of money, clothing, or other necessaries, that they may be able to continue their beneficent work. At the present time, as we learn, such things would come very acceptably.

☞ We regret to learn that Hon. H. D. Walker, of this city, Councillor elect from this District, and Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the State Reform School, was taken suddenly and severely ill on Monday night, and so was unable to attend the examination of the institution referred to, appointed for Wednesday. He was somewhat better on Thursday.

☞ The question seems to be settled, that the Gallery is and shall be the cheaper part of the hall, at the Temple. The prices of tickets, at the Theatre, and the Fast Day Concert, are fixed at 35 cents for Parquet, and 25 for Gallery.

☞ Perhaps if we should say that tickets for the Fast Day Concert will be called for in vain on that day—being all sold, some folks might regard us a false prophet. Very well, then such can't blame us for not advising them to buy in time, can they?

NEWCOMB'S MINSTRELS.—This company of twenty Star Performers give one of their unique entertainments here on Saturday evening. We bespeak for them a full house. Newcomb himself is playing with the company, and we can assure our readers that there will be plenty of fun. Tom Baker and Raynor are still with the company. Let them have a bumper.

☞ What with the Old Folks Choir, (the oldest of all our musical organizations,) the Cornet Band, and the new Philharmonic Society—the cause of Music, especially of the social and public order, seems really to be looking up in Portsmouth.—And Mr. Joy's great Singing School, and the efforts of Mr. Pearson and others in the High School, must not be forgotten as important auxiliaries to the improvement which the future appears to promise.

☞ We learn that Capt. James Lewis, of the Marine Barracks, has been detached from this Station and ordered to the steamer Susquehanna, now fitting out at the Brooklyn Navy Yard. It is understood that this vessel is destined for the Mediterranean.

☞ Mr. Keen has put an elegant and costly new Omnibus on his Kittery Stage Line—nice enough for a bridal coach.

☞ We learn that a foot-race took place at Portsmouth Plains on Wednesday afternoon last, between two men named Pierce and Shute. The former is of this city, and the latter from Haverhill, Mass. The sum of $100 was staked, distance run, 390 feet, one heat. Pierce won the money, he having led his opponent about one foot.

☞ John J. Snow, a gentleman of color, was brought before the Police Court on Thursday, charged with making a brawl and tumult on Hunking street. He was subjected to a fine of $3.00 and costs, amounting to $6.86. It seems that John is in the service of Uncle Sam, being a seaman on board the Vandalia, and having been sent on shore for a supply of water for the ship, embraced the opportunity to lay in three or four rations of whiskey. The whiskey had the effect to make John bellicose in temper, and scientific in pugilistic encounters, so that while under its seductive influence he performed deeds which would have caused him to blush with shame and turn pale with fear, had he been himself, and as at the last bit biteth like a serpent, &c.," so inexorable justice relieved John's wallet to the extent above mentioned.

— The railroad to be built between Marblehead and Lynn, will be little more than four miles, with easy grades, near the seashore, uniting with the Eastern Railroad about a quarter of a mile east of the Swampscot depot. The capital stock will be $200,000. We believe the matter is arranged to the satisfaction of the Eastern railroad which now has a branch from Salem to Marblehead.

☞ A gem of a place—Thacher's new Apothecary Store, corner of Congress and Vaughan Streets.

☞ Save your rags and old papers! Every family can supply themselves with a good newspaper from the proceeds of such savings. Mr. URIAH BLAISDELL advertises to buy them.

GRAPES IN N. JERSEY. WE HAVE BEEN shown specimens of sacramental or pure Juice Wine, prepared by Mr. Alfred Speer, of Passaic, N. J., out of the Portuguese Sambuco, a valuable grape which he cultivates in the country. In taste it assimilates to port with out its heating qualities, being absolutely free from spirits further than its own fermentation affords. Preference is given to it over all other wines in New York and other hospitals, as a tonic, gentle stimulant, diuretic and sudorific. Mr. Speer has been nine years experimenting in the production of this Wine, and the newest wine he sells is four years old.

A TRUE AIM—It has not been the aim of the proprietor of Hunnewell's great preparations, advertised on our inside columns, to base a false reputation by long and unmeaning advertising, but a real one by true results, to which all who try them will cheerfully assent. See advertisement.

The greatest discovery of the age is the new soap just come out, and known as the J. Monroe Taylor Gold Medal Soap; it not only saves time in washing, but does the work in a much superior manner to all other soaps now before the people. The makers claim it is manufactured on an entirely different principle, and that it is a great labor-saving article, besides going much further than any other soap. Our experience confirms all the inventor claims for it. Try it, and we think all will be convinced of the fact, and will ever have the Gold Medal or none. 123

U. S. 7-30 LOAN.

By authority of the Secretary of the Treasury, the undersigned has assumed the General Subscription Agency for the sale of United States Treasury Notes, bearing seven and three-tenths per cent. interest, per annum, known as the Seven-Thirty Loan.

These Notes are issued under date of June 15th, 1865, and are payable three years from that time, in currency, or are convertible at the option of the holder into

U. S. 5-20 Six per cent.
GOLD-BEARING BONDS.

These bonds are now worth a premium which increases the actual profit on the 7-30 loan, and its exemption from State and municipal taxation adds from one to three per cent. more, according to the rate levied on other property. The interest is payable semi-annually by coupons attached to each note, which may be cut off and sold to any bank or banker.

The interest amounts to

One cent per day on a $50 note.
Two cents " " " " $100 "
Ten " " " " " $500 "
20 " " " " " $1000 "
$1 " " " " " $5000 "

Notes of all the denominations named will be promptly furnished upon receipt of subscriptions, and the Notes will be forwarded at once. This is

THE ONLY LOAN in the Market

now offered by the Government, and it is confidently expected that its superior advantages will make it the Great Popular Loan of the People.

Less than $300,000,000 of the Loan authorized by the last Congress are now on the market.—This amount at the rate at which it is being absorbed, will all be subscribed for within four months, when the notes will undoubtedly command a premium, as has uniformly been the case on closing the subscriptions to other Loans.

In order that citizens of every town and section of the country may be afforded facilities for taking the loan, the National Banks, State Banks, and Private Bankers throughout the country have generally agreed to receive subscriptions at par. Subscribers will select their own agents, in whom they have confidence, and who only are to be responsible for the delivery of the notes for which they receive orders.

DR. URANN,
PRACTICAL PHYSICIAN,
Who has made so many wonderful and instantaneous cures in Boston, New York Hartford, Springfield, and more recently in New Hampshire and Vermont, has taken
ROOMS FOR THE PRESENT AT THE
FRANKLIN HOUSE,
PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

DR. URANN'S treatment is such that by it
All Curable Diseases
are affected in one or two treatments, and many are entirely cured by one, as the following will testify:—

W. P. HOMER, 50 and 52 Federal Street, Boston, for many years was troubled with Heart complaint so bad that at times he was unable to attend to his business; after one treatment he was able to run up stairs, work in his garden and attend to his business; has since gained 12 pounds.

MRS. ELLEN COBEY, of Cambridgeport, Mass.—Sciatica; so lame that she could not walk without assistance; after one treatment of fifteen minutes was well as ever, and could walk a mile free from pain.

MRS. SARAH P. STILES, Lowell, Mass., had Fever Sores on both legs of twelve years standing; her right ankle measured eighteen inches, and was as blue as indigo; she could not move her foot; after one treatment it was reduced one-half, she could move her foot freely and is getting well rapidly, her left ankle all healed.

Prof. G. M. LARRON, 1 Dix Place, Boston, troubled with Spinal difficulty, was in much pain; relieved by one treatment.

Miss HANNAH COOL, Campton, N. H.—Spinal difficulties; was unable to walk but a short distance or do any kind of work; perfectly cured, and is now the picture of health.

Miss C. FROTHINGHAM, Boston, Portrait Painter, was troubled with great depression of spirits, at times was unable to attend to her favorite employment: was entirely cured, and she expresses herself, is "made over anew."

MRS. J. BROWN, Boston, a severe cough and pains through her lungs, cured.

Capt. W. H. LAMPSON'S CHILD, Lowell, Mass. The child was pronounced by physicians as hopelessly idiotic. The child could neither walk or sit alone, and took no notice of anything. After one treatment he began to improve, and has so far gained as to be able to walk alone, can talk, takes notice of everything, laughs and sings, and appears perfectly well.

MRS. HINCKLEY, wife of A. T. Hinckley, of State Arsenal, Hartford, Ct., troubled with hip complaint and contraction of the cords of the legs; could not get her heel to the floor within four inches; had to be brought down stairs in arms; after one treatment of twenty minutes was able to run up and down stairs with ease, and is now able to walk the streets.

Mr. J. TURNER, Hartford, Ct., troubled for many years with loss of memory; could not attend to business; had been under the best medical treatment in England with no beneficial effect; after one treatment was perfectly restored.

Miss MARTHA ST. JOHN, Simsbury, Ct., was confined to her bed from spinal difficulty and prolapsus uteri; had not been dressed for more than a year; in twenty minutes she was enabled to dress and walk out to one of the neighbors, a distance of about a half mile; she has since been to Hartford and to church, and is improving daily.

MRS. HENRY LOOMIS, Southwick, Mass., troubled with fits and spinal difficulties, could not walk without much difficulty, perfectly cured by one treatment.

MRS. WM. JENKINS, Unionville, Conn., troubled for over two years with chronic liver complaint and rheumatism, had a large lump on her side which was very painful; was unable to lie down. Cured by one treatment, and is as well as ever.

JOSEPH H. ELDRIDGE, formerly of the Hartford Police, more recently on Hartford and New Haven Railroad, was obliged to give up his business on account of a severe cough and bleeding, perfectly cured and can now do a good day's work.

LYDIA L. FULLER, of East Wallingford, Vt., had entirely lost the use of her limbs after a severe attack of diptheria, was restored by one treatment, and is as well as ever.

FANNY DAVIS, of Moretown, Vt., had been confined to her bed for more than five years—was not able to stand—after one treatment of less than an hour, was enabled to walk around the room, and is now quite well.

MISS HUTCHINSON, daughter of Judge Hutchinson of West Randolph, Vt., was troubled with fits, having some days from fifty to one hundred. She was unable to eat anything but liquids—was not able to stand. After one treatment she began to improve, until now, she is the picture of health, able to walk as well as any one, eats hearty and has no fits.

SOUTHWICK, Mass., July 21, 1863.

DR URANN,—Dear Sir:—I suppose it is ever a pleasure to you to learn the convalescent state of your patients; notwithstanding my long three years of almost absolute confinement to my bed, unable most of the time to converse with or see any company, and for over two years unable to feed myself—yet with this painful picture of human wretchedness which made life almost a burden, since your treatment of my spine, on the 7th day of June, I have been able to take my meals at the table, with my family, ride out daily, and converse freely with all; and without some new misfortune befalls me, I shall soon be able to interest myself in the labors of my profession, at least to preach one sermon a Sabbath. Without flattery, in my honest judgment, there is no better treatment in the hands of men for the Spinal Disease than the one which you honor, and as my heart beats with sympathy with all Spinal sufferers, I only wish they knew the wonderful utility of your treatment, and avail themselves of the same. Yours with respect and gratitude,
M. H. RISING.

DR. URANN'S TERMS
Are such that all can avail themselves of his treatment.

☞ Persons at a distance who are unable to visit the Doctor, by sending particulars of their cases, with one dollar enclosed, will receive advice and learn whether their cases can be treated at a distance. In all cases, state age and sex.

The properties of this Company consist of 643 acres, principally owned in Fee Simple, of the most desirable Oil Lands, situated mostly in Oil Creek, Penn., upon which there are three wells now down, capable of producing from 100 to 1000 barrels per day when completed, as they are located so near the great producing interests of the Empire, Noble, Sherman and Drake wells, on the noted creek. This Company offer inducement seldom met with. The capital stock is very small for the amount of valuable oil lands the Company possesses. Three engines are already at the wells. Our Agent at Titusville writes us that the well on the McKilhany farm has commenced flowing, which places this Company beyond a doubt of success. The Officers of this Company, in placing this property before the New England public, have full confidence that no properties yet offered are superior, or any out of which larger and more certain dividends may at once be expected. ARCANA WATCH.

An Elegant Novelty in Watches.

The cases of this watch are an entirely new invention, composed of six different metals combined, rolled together and planished, producing an exact imitation of 18 carat gold, called Arcana, which will always keep its color. They are as beautiful as solid gold, and are afforded at one-eighth the cost. The case is beautifully designed with Panel and shield for name, with Patent Push Pin, and engraved to the exact style of the celebrated Gold Hunting Levers, and are really handsome and desirable, and so exact an imitation of gold as to defy detection. The movement is manufactured by the well known St. James Watch Company of Europe, and are superbly finished, having engraved patents, fancy carved bridges, adjusting regulator, wind gold balance and the improved jewelled action with line dial and stainless hands, and is warranted a good time keeper.

These Watches are of three different sizes, the smallest being for Ladies, and are all Hunting Cases. A case of six watches will be sent by Mail or Express for $125 00. A single one sent in an elegant Morocco Case for $22 00; will readily sell for three times their cost. The property of this Company is located on "Coal Run Creek," Meigs County, State of Ohio, about 10 miles from Athens, containing one hundred and five acres of land. A large number of wells are successfully worked in the vicinity, some of which are paying handsome dividends.—This Company propose to commence operations at once, and entertain no doubt that at an early day they will be able to pay a handsome percentage on the investment. The known ability and commercial standing of the officers of this Company afford a sufficient guaranty that the affairs will be conducted in a manner to secure the confidence of those who are disposed to invest in it.

The tract of land adjoining the property of this Company has passed into the hands of capitalists, who have sent out an experienced superintendent to commence operations at once, and their first order for machinery was $15,000.0 Our property has been examined under instructions from Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, who pronounces the coal, which is in abundance, to be of the best quality, yielding 50 gallons of oil to the ton, and has no doubt, from the location and position of the property, that it will be found valuable in the production of oil. Most companies have to pay very high prices for their coal, all of which we save; oil can be manufactured from the coal upon the property, at a cost not exceeding ten cents per gallon, and it is proposed to commence the manufacture in connection with the sinking of wells. One dollar will buy a share of this stock, which is the par value, and all benefits derived from the lands, either by sales of oil, land or products of any kind, are to be divided among the stockholders, and in addition $200,000 worth of valuable, useful and desirable property will be given to the stockholders, as soon as all the shares are disposed of. The Company adopt this course for the purpose of disposing of their stock at the par value, rather than to sell it, as many companies do, at a subscription price, which is usually one half. Thus, it will be perceived that every stockholder owning ten shares, for example, will be sure to realize a handsome dividend when the property is divided; a plan which is entirely honorable, and in all respects perfectly legal.

The property to be distributed among the stockholders will be equal to any in the market, and will consist of the following described articles:

$5000 to purchase a HOUSE in Boston or vicinity.
$5000 in U. S. 5-20 BONDS, CERTIFICATES of $500 each.

Arrandale & Co., Manufacturers' Agents, 167 BROADWAY, NEW YORK,

Announce that all the above list of goods will be sold for One Dollar each.

In consequence of the great stagnation of trade in the Manufacturing districts of England, thro' the war having cut off the supply of cotton, a large quantity of Valuable Jewelry, originally intended for the English Market, has been sent off for sale in this country, AND MUST BE SOLD AT ANY SACRIFICE! Under these circumstances, ARRANDALE & CO., acting as agents for the principal European manufacturers, have resolved upon a GREAT GIFT DISTRIBUTION, subject to the following regulations:

Certificates of the various articles are first put into envelopes, sealed up and mixed; and when disposed, are taken out without regard to choice, and sent by mail, thus giving all a fair chance.—On receipt of the certificate, you will see what you are to have, and then it is at your option to send the dollar and take the article or not. Purchasers may thus obtain a Gold Watch, Diamond Ring, or any set of Jewelry on our list for ONE DOLLAR.

Send 25 Cents for a Certificate.

In all transactions by mail, we shall charge for forwarding the Certificates, paying postage and doing the business, 25 cents each, which must be enclosed when the Certificate is sent for. Five Certificates will be sent for $1, eleven for $2, thirty for $5 sixty-five for $10, and a hundred for $15.

AGENTS.—We want agents in every region, and in every town and County in the country, and those acting as such will be allowed 10 cents on every Certificate ordered by them, provided their remittance amounts to one dollar.—Agents will collect 25 cents for every Certificate, and remit 15 cents to us, either in cash or in postage stamps. ARRANDALE & CO.,
mhDlaw&W3m 167 Broadway, N. Y.

What the "Press" say of us.

GREAT GIFT DISTRIBUTION.—A rare opportunity is offered for obtaining watches, chains, diamond rings, silverware, &c., by Messrs. Arrandale & Co., 167 Broadway. They have an immense stock of articles, varying in value, and all are offered at one dollar each. The distribution is very easily done—you agree to take a certificate of a certain article, enclose the money, receipt, and are not required to pay your dollar unless you are satisfied with the article, which will cost simply be worth more than that from a dollar, may be $50 or $100. An excellent mode this of investing a dollar.—Sunday Times, N. Y. City, Feb. 19, '65.

Messrs. Arrandale & Co. have long been personally known to us, and we believe them to be of every worthy and honorable confidence.—N. Y. Scottish American Journal, June 11, 1864.

We have inspected, at the office of Arrandale & Co.'s Agency for European Manufacturing Jewellers, a large assortment of fashionable and valuable jewelry of the newest patterns. We also noticed a large quantity of silver plate, and understand that the whole stock of these imported articles are to be disposed of on a novel principle, giving great advantages to buyers, and affording lucrative employment to agents. We know the firm in question to be very respectable and thoroughly worthy of public confidence and recommend our friends to read their advertisement.—N. Y. Union, Sept. 3, 1864.

By Messrs. Arrandale & Co.'s arrangement, the advantages are secured to the customer, for he has everything to gain, and nothing comparatively to lose. He knows what he will get for his dollar, and if he need not send it if he is not satisfied.—N. Y. Weekly News, June 6, 1863.

EMPLOYMENT FOR LADIES.—The most eligible and profitable employment we have heard of for ladies is the sale of certificates for the "Great Gift Distribution" of Arrandale & Co. Some of our acquaintance has been very successful in this way, not only making her own purse, but also in doing a good turn to those to whom she sold the Certificates, as will be seen from one advertisement. Gentlemen can also be thus engaged.—N. Y. Sunday Mercury, Aug. 14, 1864.

In our columns, the reader will find an advertisement of Arrandale & Co.'s Gift Distribution Watches, Jewelry, and Silver-ware. In payment of that advertisement we received several sets of the jewelry advertised, and we are warranted in saying that, both in finish and quality, they quite exceeded our expectations. They turned out to be just what they had been represented.—Pike Democrat, (Lewistown,) Aug. 17, 1864.

The British Banner of Kingston, C. W., says, Nov. 26, 1864, one of our lady subscribers has been an agent for Arrandale & Co., and, by request from some twenty articles, sent as prizes for her agency, to this office for inspection, and without hesitation we can state that each and all of the articles were worth treble the amount of cost to the recipients, and some of them six times.

We have seen some very pretty specimens of Table and Tea Spoons, Gold Watches, Ladies' Chains, Rings, Bracelets, etc., which have been sent by Arrandale & Co., to this place for $1 each.—Angelica Reporter, N. Y. State, Feb. 15, 1865.

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We invite all those in want of the very best Stove in the market, to examine the

MAGEE COOK.

Also on hand an assortment of the different sizes —of the—

MAGEE PARLOR STOVE

with and without ovens, which are too well known to need any recommendation.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pots is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

SAN. COM. ANECDOTE.—From the Monthly report of the N. E. Women's Auxiliary Association,—a branch of that blessed munificent charity, the U. S. Sanitary Commission, which greatly as it blesses the soldiers, must bless the givers yet more—we copy below a touching incident. Miss Abby W. May, Chairman of the Association, says :

We have just been favored with a short visit from Mrs. Livermore of Chicago, who represents the Northwestern Branch of the Sanitary Commission. Twice she spoke in public, and we had opportunities of hearing her talk in private. Among many incidents she told was one that we must repeat, though much of its peculiar power is lost, since we cannot give the exact words of the original conversation. Mrs. Livermore said "I was about to go down to visit the army, and had given notice that I would take messages from friends at home, to such of the men as I might see. Note-book in hand, I sat, taking down names and precious words of remembrance, when a very poor and hardworked woman, with hands cracked and bleeding from the wash-tub, came up and said, 'you're going down to the army?' 'yes,' 'then you'll see Peter: and will you write down something for me, as for the rest of 'em?' 'Certainly, I will; but who is Peter?'

'Why he's my husband, and I want you to tell him that I am well, and all the children are well, and I have work to do, and kind friends have given us some fuel and some food, and we're getting along first rate. Tell him we think of him all the time, and we hope he is doing well, and we pray every day and every night that God will take care of him and bring him back safe. And tell him he mustn't fret about us at all.' 'But,' said Mrs. Livermore, 'are you really getting along so well? How many children have you?—'Six, ma'am.' 'Your clothes are thin: are the children well clad?' 'Pretty well, ma'am. When the days are very cold, I put the little ones to bed, to keep them warm: and that keeps 'em out of mischief too. We're hard getting fire enough, when fuel is so high?'

'And do you have enough to eat?' 'Not always, ma'am. But when we go to bed without any supper, it makes the next food we do get taste all the better.' 'And do you want me to tell Peter that you are getting along first rate, when you work so very hard, and don't have food or fire or clothes enough to keep you from hunger and cold?' At this the woman burst out eagerly, 'Why honey, why should I want to make my good man sad about me and the children? He has his great troubles at that end of the line, and we have our little troubles at this end of the line; and sure it wouldn't do either of us any good if we should fret him with our troubles. Yes, tell him we're getting along first-rate.'"

God bless the woman! She is bearing bravely, trials of which most us have no idea. And she teaches us the very lesson that in our abundance and prosperity we are so strangly slow to learn—she is teaching us to strengthen the hands and the hearts of our soldiers in the field.

A HINT ON CARPETS.—Of all the expensive things in a modern English house of the ordinary class, perhaps carpets are the dearest. In case of removal, they become almost useless, and have to be sacrificed at any price that can be got for them, because, having been cut and measured for one room, perhaps of a peculiar shape, they are useless in any other; for if the pattern could be matched, which it often can not, a bit of handsome carpet sewn on to a bit not so new would be out of harmony, and tell a story which the pride of poverty would rather were concealed.

The Persian and Turkish system of carpeting rooms is infinitely better and prettier than ours. The Persian carpets, especially those from Resht, are exquisitely beautiful. Their colors are brighter, the designs prettier, and they are far more durable than European carpets. They are made in strips usually between two and three yards long, and about one yard in breadth, to go round the sides of a room, with a square carpet, of any size preferred, for the center. They do not require to be nailed or fitted, and a sufficient number of them will of course carpet any room, however large or small. They have a neat and grand appearance, too. In Summer they are easily taken up, beaten, rolled, and put carefully aside by a single man servant; and in hot weather, why should we not more generally imitate Continental custom, by painting or polishing our floors? Floors painted or polished look far prettier in July sunshine than any carpets, which are then mere fusty traps to catch dust, harbor insects, and retain bad smells. Everything has its use and its seasons. The use and season of carpets are not in summer time. Where it is impossible to paint or to polish the floors of a house, the employment of oil cloth will found good economy in Summer, and far cleaner.—All the Year Round.

OUR HAIR.—Dr. Dio Lewis has the following suggestion in relation to preserving the hair.

God has covered the skull with hair. Some people shave it off. Mischievous practice. It exposes the brain. It exposes the throat and lungs—the eyes, likewise, say wise physiologists. Men become bald. Why? Because they wear close hats and caps. Women are never bald except by disease. Men never lose a hair below where the hat touches the head, not if they have been bald twenty years. The close hat holds the heat and perspiration. Thereby the hair glands become weak; the hair falls off. What will restore it? Nothing after the scalp becomes shiny. But in process of falling out, or recently lost, the following is the first: Wash the head freely with cold water once or twice a day. Wear a thoroughly ventilated hat. This is the best means to arrest the loss, and to restore what is susceptible of restoration.

WHAT IS A
FRENCH ROLL PAN?
IS A QUESTION OFTEN ASKED.
It is simply a nicely made
IRON PAN,
Or rather a series of Pans connected in one, of such peculiar form that all parts of the material contained in them receive an equal amount of heat, thus insuring a very
QUICK AND LIGHT BAKE.
For Sponge Drop Cake, Muffins, French Rolls, Corn Bread or Raised Flour Biscuit, these Pans are Invaluable.
IN these days of high prices, it is worth while to
ECONOMISE
in any way. We give below a receipt for making a Cheap, Wholesome, and
PALATABLE BREAD:
"Stir into a pint of Cold Water sufficient Graham Flour to make a thin batter, adding a little Salt. Heat the Pan thoroughly, grease it a little, pour in the batter, and bake about half an hour in a hot oven."
By using Sweet Milk, instead of Water, as above, and adding 2 Spoonsful of Sugar, biscuit can be made fit to set before a King. We have sold nearly a thousand of these Roll Pans in about one year, and the sale is still increasing.—Try one.

SATURDAY, APRIL 8, 1865.

THE REBELLION.

The brass band, formerly belonging to the 14th Virginia rebel regiment, who arrived at Washington Thursday, took the oath of allegiance. After the ceremony, they played a number of airs suited to their changed position, such as "Jordan is a hard road to travel," and "Ain't we glad to get out of the wilderness."

Major General Casey and staff left Washington Thursday, to commence the organization of colored troops in that vicinity.

3 hours after information reached the Navy Department of the capture of the steamer Harriet Deford, eight or ten vessels had started in pursuit of the pirates.

It is believed that since Richmond has fallen, we shall have little more trouble with the guerillas in front of Washington.

A despatch from Gen. Ord, announces that Gen. Russell, reported killed, is alive and sound.

The N. Y. Tribune's Headquarters Army of the Potomac correspondence of the the 4th, says the cavalry has been on the heels of the retreating rebel army all day, taking 2000 prisoners. It was thought Lee had only 25,000 men left. Gordon's Corps acts as rear Guard. The Ninth U. S. A. Corps is some distance in the rear of the cavalry, but the rest of the army is well in hand, and the cavalry under Sheridan is doing great service.

The Tribune's Richmond correspondent reports that it is said that the President will issue from that city a proclamation calling upon the citizens of the South to return to their allegiance.

The N. Y. Herald has information direct from Richmond that President Lincoln is there actually engaged upon the business of peace; that on Tuesday evening he had a private conference with Judge Campbell, who, with the advice and consent of Jeff. Davis, remained behind to see what could be done in behalf of his departing associates,—&c, &c.

Our fleet before Mobile, has been engaged in a fight with forts Spanish and Missouri.

Paris advices state that the rebel Ram Stonewall quited Ferol on the 21st, accompanied to sea by a Spanish Frigate. The U. S. gunboats Niagara and Sacramento immediately followed. The expectation of a fight caused immense excitement among the Spanish population, but the Stonewall, apparently finding no chance of escape, returned to port.

Gen. Sheridan telegraphs from Burksville Station, Thursday noon, that the rebels had made a stand there; and he continues:

I attacked them with two divisions of the 6th army corps, and routed them handsomely, making a connection with the cavalry. I am still pressing on with both cavalry and infantry. Up to the present time we have captured Gens Ewell, Kershaw, Bolton, Corse, DeBarre and Custis Lee, several thousand prisoners, 14 pieces of artillery, with caissons, and a large number of wagons. If the thing is pressed, I think Lee will surrender.

Gen. Humphreys telegraphs from Sailor's Creek, Thursday evening:

Our last fight, just before dark, at Sailor's Creek, gave us two guns, three flags, and a considerable number of prisoners, 200 wagons, 70 ambulances, with mules and horses to about one-half the wagons and ambulances. The road for over two miles is strewn with tents, baggage, cooking utensils, ammunition and materials of all kinds. The wagons are across the approach to the bridges. The enemy is in position on the heights beyond, with artillery. The bridge is partially destroyed, and the approaches on the other side are of soft bottom land. We cannot advance to-morrow in the same way as we have to-day.—and it is evident I cannot follow rapidly during the night.

Com. Parker has telegraphed the Secretary of the Navy that his vessels are blockading the Harriet DeFord in Indian Creek, which is between the Rappahannock and Potomac rivers. On the arrival of light draught steamers, she will be captured or destroyed.

A telegraph dispatch received in Boston after the issue of the last editions, on Friday evening, state that Lee with his whole army had been captured.

MEXICO.—No foreign country will receive the news of our recent victories with greater delight than Mexico. The moment our Rebellion is at an end, the war of the national party of Mexico against the foreign invader will be resumed with new vigor and enthusiasm. Juarez is offering to foreign volunteers very large bounties, which, together with the patriotic wish to aid in the expulsion of a European prince from the Republican soil of the American continent, will, soon after the termination of our war, place a very respectable army at the disposal of the President of Mexico.

We learn from a special correspondent that Gen. Jesus G. Ortega, whose name is familiar to the citizens of the United States as the heroic defender of Puebla, has arrived at Santa Fe, on an important mission to Washington. He has been received with the honors due to his high position, and his journey through the States will not fail to strengthen the sympathy which all political parties of the Union and all classes of our population feel in the triumph of the Republican cause in Mexico. Tribune.

ANOTHER DESERTER CAUGHT.—Freeman Jenness deserted from the 3d N. H. Regt. (Col. Jackson,) July, 1863: he subsequently enlisted in the navy at New York, and was discharged at Philadelphia some six months since. Having been reported to Capt. Hall, Provost Marshal, as a deserter, U. S. Detective Kent laid a plot for his capture. He was heard from last Thursday at Great Falls, having assumed the name of Charles Freeman. On Thursday evening, he was captured at Lebanon, Me. After riding some eight miles with the officers, not being ironed, he jumped from the wagon and escaped into the woods. He was re-arrested the following morning, at 3 o'clock, having walked about twenty miles. Police Officer Benj. Cheeny is entitled to great credit in assisting Mr. Kent in arresting the "jumper," having done so from a description given him by the detective.

— There is a cell in Castle Thunder, at Richmond, four feet eight inches high.—McCool, private in Harris' light dragoons, a man measuring six feet and half an inch, was kept in the cell eleven months and a half. McCool had a ball and chain on his leg all the time, the ball weighing thirty-two pounds, the chain ten pounds. The rain penetrates that cell, and on wet days McCool lay in the wet. Eleven months and a half passed, and he never once stood straight. He escaped five weeks once through a hospital window.

DAVIS NOW AND THEN.—A little over four years ago Jeff. Davis took leave of the United Staies Senate in the most arrogant and defiant speech, in which he informed the North that it they opposed secession with war, their rich fields and populous cities would become the prey of the Confederate soldiers. Last Sunday evening as he sneaked out of his capitol city, the most contemptible of fugitives, his mind must have recurred to his old threat with feelings of peculiar bitterness and humiliation.

NEARLY TWO THOUSAND OF REBEL GUNS CAPTURED IN EIGHT MONTHS.—The Secretary of War in his recent report stated that 1141 pieces of arms have been furnished to the Union army by the Ordnance Department during the fiscal year.

From August 8 to Feb. 22, we wrested from the enemy 1301 light and heavy guns. Add to this number six hundred captured by Sherman and Grant in their late movements, and we have 1900 cannon secured from the rebels in eight month's time, or 700 more than are required to meet the demands of our own forces during a year's time.

PRICE OF WHEAT.—The Milwaukie News says the wheat in store in Wisconsin amounts to six and a half millions of dollars, at former high prices, but the loss on wheat by the recent fall may be estimated at two millions of dollars. Notwithstanding this decline, the retail price still continues with scarcely any diminution. Flour is not only greatly lower at wholesale, but contracts, it is said, have been made for June delivery at rates two dollars below the prices only a few days since.

— At the last, while the rebel General Lee was in Petersburgh superintending the withdrawal of his troops, he was careful not to saw in what direction he was going. When asked by some citizens if they had better go to Richmond, he told them that that would do no good, as Richmond was also being evacuated. He acknowledged his inability to hold Virginia any longer, and seemed very much depressed.

— "Long John Abbott," lately sentenced to one year's hard labor in the Mass. State Prison, has been placed in the department of the contractor for iron work. He is now engaged in filing iron castings, in his new suit. There are plenty more just such fellows, too lazy to work elsewhere, who ought to be served the same way.

— A Grand National Poultry Show is to be held at Barnum's Museum, New York, under the auspices of the National Poultry Society, commencing April 24th, and continuing during the week. The exhibition will include all kinds of fowls, rabbits, &c. Over $500 cash premiums will be distributed.

— Among the celebrities who remained in Richmond is Roger A. Pryor, who was a short time since a prisoner in our hands. He was seen walking about town, seemingly content to be once more within our lines.

— The Boston Journal understands that Wm. Lloyd Garrison received a despatch from the Secretary of War, inviting him to visit Charleston, and take part in the celebration of the 13th inst.

— Sec. Seward not only had a broken nose, but his jaw and nose are broken, and there is some danger that erysipelas will supervene. His right arm was fractured close to the shoulder joint.

— The New York Herald's correspondent from Petersburg says:

The great explosions were caused by the blowing up of the rebel vessels in the James, below Richmond. Everything therefore is destroyed, even to the rebellion.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The Manchester Mirror says Col. B. F. Martin had $1000 stolen from his safe, at his paper mill, Wednesday night. The burglars entered the window by prying it up, and opened the safe with a key, and took out $1000 in bills as they were taken from the bank, small and large, to pay off his help. The bills were on different banks. They opened the safe and locked it when they left. It was an old-fashioned safe-lock, and of no account against burglars. There is no clue to the rogues.

—— A son of Mr. Reed Shedd of Cornish, about 14 years old, was drowned in the Connecticut during the recent freshet. He went to the river with his father to view the breaking up of the ice, remaining there after his father's return to the house. When his absence occasioned alarm, search was made, and one of his boots and a stocking were found near where his father had left him. Although immediate and continued search was made, his body was not found till ten days after, and near where he had fallen in.

—— G. Parker Lyon, Esq., for many years a well known publication and law bookseller of Concord, died on Thursday morning in the seventy-second year of his age.

—— The Concord Democrat is informed that Rev. Rowland Connor, of Kingston, this State, has accepted a unanimous invitation to become pastor of the First Universalist Society in Concord, and is expected to enter upon his labors sometime in the month of May.

—— Colonel Wright of New Hampshire, the great railroad reconstructionist, has just left Washington for Memphis.

DROP LETTER. Lexington, Mass., April 6. It is easier to destroy an old theory than to construct a new one equally good or plausible, and it is easier to point out a fault than to find means whereby to remedy it. Almost four years since it was my fortune to hear a salute of 800 guns fired in rejoicing over the fall of Fort Sumter, and as the great guns boomed forth the knell of Southern pride and arrogance, of Southern wealth and power, the lurid jets of flame and clouds of sulphurous smoke well typified the fierce and dark passions which had led men to attempt the disintegration of a country whose growth and prosperity had been the wonder and envy of all the world beside. The glorious news of Monday, announcing the downfall of all the bright hopes of those who lead the rebellion was worthy all the true demonstrations of joy made, and even more; but I doubt if warranted the charivari which assailed our ears on that night in this usually quiet village of Lexington—tin horns and tin pans, shot guns and willow whistles, shouts and yells, all combined to drive sleep from our eyelids, and to make a whole worthy a rebel wake over the deathblow to their cause. The propriety of blowing the fish trumpets after the walls of Jericho had fallen, I do not exactly see.

This disagreeable sort of applause is by no means confined to the sterner sex. A few days since I was a unit in the vast assemblage gathered to witness Edwin Booth's masterly representation of Hamlet, where I lost much of the actor's finest rendition through the ceaseless admiration of a couple of ladies (?) behind me. "Oh, isn't it splendid!" "Now he's going to say — " &c., broke in upon my ear each moment, until I wished they had been buried thirty years before "poor Yorick."

The manner in which our troops have used the rebel army of late reminds me of a little story. A boy named Frank Miller, scarcely 15 years of age, was a member of the same company in the Crescent Regiment as your correspondent, and was noted for saying very apt things. During the second day's fight at Shiloh, while our comrades were falling in scores around us, and just as Mrs. Lincoln's brother Sam had received his death wound, Frank convulsed all of us who were near him by saying: "I don't believe I like a soldier's life,—there's too much seasoning. They mustered us at New Orleans, and now they're peppering us at Shiloh." IOW.

— Rev. John Pierpont, now in Washington, was eighty years old Thursday. As a poet, as a philanthropist, as a reformer, he must surely rejoice that he passes into the ranks of the octogenarians with the sound of a victory in his ears, which realizes the poet's visions, and crowns the philanthropist's hopes, and compensates for all the reformer's struggles. A congratulatory letter, signed by a large number of old friends and former parishioners, was sent to him from Boston.

☞ The Boston Post's Washington correspondent, under date of April 6 says:

Rev. John Pierpont was surprised this evening, the 80th anniversary of his birthday, by the presentation of a gold watch, cane, and costly album, filled with portraits of his Boston friends, three hundred dollars in cash, and other testimonials. Poems were addressed to him by Bryant, Holmes, and C. J. Brooks of Providence, and congratulatory letters from Lydia Maria Child, George W. Curtis, R. H. Dana, Wm. Lloyd Garrison, Rev. Dr. Gannett, Henry Longfellow, and many others, including one signed by a large number of Mr. Pierpont's old Hollis Street Church parishioners. He read an original poem on his birthday without glasses, and worked as usual at the Treasury Department upon the Digest of the Treasury Laws during the day.

— Gold, Friday, 148.

— The pirates who took the steamer Harriet DeFord, professed to be bound to the West Indies; and proposed to take the negro crew thither.

— In Rhode Island on Wednesday, Gov. Smith was re-elected without opposition. Thos. A. Jenks and N. F. Dixon were re-elected to Congress by large majorities.

Local.

IN BOARD OF ALDERMEN, April 6, the petition for the removal of the Engine House No. 6, from the corner of State & Chestnut street, was referred.

The request of School Committee of Second District for an increased appropriation, was laid on the table.

Permission was given to Nathan W. Tarlton, to remove the house from the corner of Congress and Chesnut streets, to Cass street.

A vote was passed requesting the School Committees to instruct the teachers to remove from school all children who have not been vaccinated: and authorizing the vaccination, at public expense, of all such children whose parents are unable to pay.

The Appropriation Bill was reported, read, and laid on the table.

The petition for acceptance of Marlborough, Cornwall and McDonough streets, was referred to the Mayor, to get the opinion of the Solicitor.

NEWCOMB'S MINSTRELS.—The lovers of good music will not forget that this splendid band will hold forth at the Temple to-night. We clip the following from a late number of the New Haven Register:

Newcomb's Minstrels were greeted with a crowded house last night, such as is seldom seen in Music Hall. The receipts were nearly $600, and judging from the appreciation of the performance, it was all that the public expected. Such peals of laughter and shouts of applause we don't often hear at a minstrel concert. The Newcombs are old favorites here, and always give value received, which is a sure guarantee of success to them whenever they visit New Haven. The entertainment fully endorsed all that we have said of them heretofore. Hudson sang, "At Home thou art remembered," with exquisite taste. Rainer's song "Soft Love, the Stars are Beaming," was given with fine effect. The funny men were more than funny—their jokes were fresh and new, right up to the times.

☞ The Manager of the Old Folks Choir hopes to see at the Rehearsal on Sunday evening, every one who has ever taken part with the Choir, who can be present, and all other (young or old) singers who enjoy fine chorus music.

☞ According to a recent order from the Navy Department, all soldiers or sailors having been honorably discarged from the army or navy for wounds received in service, are to be employed on navy yards and all government works, in preference to those who have served their country at home. A large number of maimed soldiers have recently been taken on the Portsmouth Navy Yard, and we trust this business will go on until every one of these gallant fellows shall have been provided for; even should it be accomplished by the discharge of some loyal politician, who has never flinched at his post (on the Yard) for the last four years or more. There are a large number of such, at present employed there, we understand, and we think their places could not be filled better than by the employment of those heroes who have imperilled their lives for their country.

MUSICAL.—We copy on our fourth page, from the Journal, a column of musical miscellany, furnished that paper by one of the Directors of the O. F. Choir; and which will be found of much interest to the general reader, and particularly so to those interested in music. It shows much reading, and thorough acquaintance with our local music in days lang syne.

☞ The original Old Folks Concert Company, from Reading, Mass., are to give one of their popular Concerts at the Temple on Wednesday evening next. Father Kemp, who claims to be the originator of these pleasing Entertainments, being still the manager of the troupe, many will be curious to see and hear this popular and veteran musician. They are always sure of a big turnout, as this talented Company is emphatically a drawing card.

☞ The closing lecture of the course of Sunday Evening Lectures, will be delivered by the Pastor, at the Universalist Church, tomorrow (Sunday) evening at 7 1-2 o'clk. Subject—"The Flag and the Cross."

A collection will be taken for the relief of our soldiers wounded in the recent battles.

☞ Secure the substance of your tickets to the Fast Day Concert, ere the shadow of a chance to get them, flies. At the early Concerts of the Portsmouth Choir, hundreds at last failed to procure the tickets they desired; and in all probability it will be so this time.

☞ It is stated that all aliens employed on the Navy Yard are to be discharged.—About twenty boiler makers received a ticket-of-leave on Friday. Right.

☞ We understand that Cyrus T. Lane, of Candia, has been appointed Mail Agent on the Concord & Portsmouth railroad, vice Wm. Conn.

☞ S. D. Wingate, Register of Probate in the County of Rockingham, has resigned his office on account of ill health; and the Concord Monitor says Thomas Leavitt, of Hampton, will undoubtedly be appointed to fill the vacancy.

☞ Quite an extensive building is being erected at the Navy Yard on the site of the old Boat Shop near the Office Buildings, for the purpose of an iron foundry.

☞ See Auction column for sales to day, of Varieties, both at Mr. Wendell's and Mr. Adams' Stores.

A soft or green Quaker would be as great curiosity as a dissipated Hebrew; but not so great a one after all as to find the woman who did not prefer the J. Monroe Taylor Gold Medal Soap to any other the world can produce. Wife says it makes old clothes look as well as new, and a cross man the pleasantest and most lovely creature on the globe.—Try it, and our word for it, you will always patronize the Gold Medal Soap. 124

☞ A gem of a place—Thacher's new Apothecary Store, corner of Congress and Vaughan Streets.

☞ Save your rags and old papers! Every family can supply themselves with a good newspaper from the proceeds of such savings. Mr. URIAH BLAISDELL advertises to buy them.

GRAPES IN N. JERSEY. WE HAVE BEEN shown specimens of sacramental or pure juice Wine, prepared by Mr. Alfred Speer, of Passaic, N. J., out of the Portuguese Sambuco, a valuable grape which he cultivates in the country. In taste it assimilates to port with out its heating qualities, being absolutely free from spirits further than its own fermentation affords. Preference is given to it over all other wines in New York and other hospitals, as a tonic, gentle stimulant, diuretic and sudorific. Mr. Speer has been nine years experimenting in the production of this Wine, and the newest wine he sells is four years old.

A TRUE AIM.—It has not been the aim of the proprietor of Hunnewell's great preparations, advertised on our inside columns, to base a false reputation by long and unmeaning advertising, but a real one by true results, to which all who try them will cheerfully assent. See advertisement.

PETROLEUM OIL AGENCY.

The California Petroleum Company.

In the Summer of 1864, Professor B. Silliman, Jr., examined this locality, now owned by the CALIFORNIA PETROLEUM CO., the purchase of which he strongly recommended to his friends in New York.

The property covers an area of 18,000 acres in one body, on which are at present at least twenty Natural Wells, some of them the largest size. Artesian Wells can be put down, 25 miles in extent. The Ranch is an old Spanish Grant of four leagues, and perfect title.

WELLS, FARGO & CO. say that "those who wish to invest in this class of security need not hesitate a moment where to place their money;—here is a good, honest, reliable concern—one which in our judgment will pay."

Shares $40. Par Value $100.

Rensselaer Petroleum Comp'y.

The property consists of 100 acres, in fee simple, on Two Mile Run, near Oil City—a double lease of the Clapp Farm above Oil City, and four acres in fee simple on Tithole Creek, in the heart of the Oil Region.

Capital $300,000. Shares $3. Par Value $6.

Sheffield Petroleum Company.

This property consists of 225 acres on the Tionesta Creek—seventy-five acres in the same vicinity. This property is cut through by the ten mile run, a branch of the Tionesta, and the Sunbury & Erie Railroad. This property is considered of great value in the market.

Capital $300,000. Shares $1. Par Value $2.

Everett Oil Company,
OF BOSTON.

The property of this Company consists of 200 acres of land owned in fee simple, and two leases as follows: The land is located on Oil Creek, near Centreville Depot. The Oil Creek Railroad passes through this land. It has a river front of over one quarter of a mile. It is rich in oil.

Capital $300,000. Subscription price $5.

President Petroleum Company.

A few Shares of this valuable Stock can be had if applied for soon, at the original subscription of $5 per Share. It contains 5,400 acres, very valuable in Oil, Coal and Timber.

New York and Newark
PETROLEUM CO.

The property of this Company consists of five parcels of land situated in the very centre of the Celebrated Oil District of Pennsylvania (Venango County), and lays in the immediate vicinity of Oil City, the nearest being two miles and the farthest five; and within one-quarter of a mile of Allegheny River, one piece being on that river—The Company have a twenty years' lease for one-half of the Oil.

It is the interest of the Trustees to invest every dollar in sinking Wells and obtaining Oil, and not speculating in Stock. HAMILTON E. TOWLE is Engineer and Superintendent of this company.

Capital $500,000. Shares $1.

All the above Stock for sale at the AGENCY,

VERY NEAT!

Thacher's New Apothecary Shop,

Step in.

From the Portsmouth Journal.

The Old Folks Concert to be given on Fast night promises to be a big thing. There are to be about 200 performers present, 115 being singers of this city. The choir is in constant rehearsal, and the concert will doubtless show that native talent, in this direction, has by no means degenerated.

ASTRONOMICAL CLOCK.—In the store of Mr. John H. Carter, (with Mr. H. S. Bodge,) is a handsome indicator of passing time, so perfect in its movements that it is warranted not to vary 30 seconds in a year. It stands about seven feet, in a rich walnut case, its pendulum containing in four glass cylinders about twelve pounds mercury for the purpose of compensation. It requires winding up only twelve times within the year. It was made by E. Howard & Co., of Boston, and the cost is $400. A similar clock is used at the Observatory at Cambridge. This valuable timekeeper will be the Portsmouth standard.

The entertainment at the Temple on Thursday evening was upon a grand scale, and was very well received. The playing of the Band, the singing of Miss Cary and the performances of Mr. Day upon the piano forte, were a rare musical treat. Mr. Marshall and Mrs. Whipple gave literary entertainment which met the anticipations of the audience.

BIDWELL & PIKE'S THEATRICALS.—It will be seen by their advertisement that this company, who have been performing with much success in Portland, have returned to this place with an enlarged company, and are to perform at the Temple next week.

THE DUPLEX ELLIPTIC SKIRT.—J. W. Bradley's new patent duplex elliptic or double spring skirt, should receive the especial attention of the ladies, as it is one of the very best now in use, and is said to be the lightest, most desirable, comfortable and economical skirt ever made.

ADVENTURES OF PETER SULLIVAN.—On Sunday night last Peter with a dozen other Irishmen assaulted the Watchmen and rescued a prisoner. Peter struck one of the Watch with a stone and laid him senseless—the other Watchman fought against the drunken crowd until he was struck in the pit of the stomach by a large stone, which entirely disabled him; and when thus at the mercy of the rescuers he was struck with a club a heavy blow upon the head. Peter next comes into notice on Thursday afternoon. He had seized a horse and buggy which had been left standing by James Hurley, and was driving at a furious rate down Green street, when he was upset at the corner of Market-street, the carriage broken up, and Peter thrown out upon terra firma. Mr. Randall whose store is near by, coming to see what was the matter, remarked to Peter that he had broke the carriage perch. This irritated Peter and he seized the broken shaft and asking Mr. R. wh at business that was to him, dealt him a severe blow on the head, Sullivan and Hurley uniting in the assault. He then retreated to his house on Green-street, whence he was routed by Asst. Marshal Abbott, who gave chase and followed him to the edge of Martin's wharf. Peter jumped overboard and took refuge on a log in the water. Mr. Abbott soon followed him in a boat; and Peter soaked and chilled, was taken to the lock-up to await trial on Friday forenoon.

IN THE POLICE COURT.—Friday forenoon, Peter Sullivan was fined $10 and costs, $4,68 cts. for assault on the Watchman; and Sullivan and Hurley were sentenced to thirty days in jail and costs ($5,91 cts. each,) for the assault on Mr. Randall.

At the same Court, for brawl and tumult in the cars at the E. R. depot, Frank Stevens was fined $5,00 and half the costs, ($2,51 cts) and Samuel Woods $10,00 and half costs ($2,51 cts.)

U. S. COMMISSIONER'S COURT.

Lemuel Laws of Boston, was on the first instant brought before U. S. Commissioner W. H. Y. Hackett, charged with enlisting John Thomas, otherwise called William Moore, to desert from the military service of the U. S. The deserter jumped from the cars between this city and Concord a few days ago. Laws was ordered to recognize in the sum of $1200 for his appearance before the U. S. Circuit Court in this city in May next.

GREENLAND.—A warrant has been issued for another town meeting for the choice of town officers to be held on Saturday the 22d of April.

THE SEASON.—Some years there has been good sleighing on the first week in April. In 1780, on the 1st day of April the snow was from three to four feet deep. In 1861, April 2d, 13 inches of snow fell. In 1862, April 5th, 5 inches. In 1863, April 7, 3 inches fell. In 1864, snow fell on the 11th and 12th days of April.

On the 5th of April, 1865, we rode to Exeter in a chaise, on a dry and dusty road. Not ten rods of mud in the whole distance. No ice or snow visible in the fields. The farmers had commenced ploughing. April 6th, the mercury was up to 66. Ladd-street is now free from ice. It usually remains there until the 20th of April.

STATE REFORM SCHOOL.—Ex-Mayor Dearborn, who was present at the Exhibition Wednesday, says the School presented an excellent appearance, and the whole exhibi highly satisfactory to the large number of visitors present. Addresses were made by Gov. Gilmore, Ex-Gov. Berry, Senator Clark, F. Smyth and others. Hon. Horton D. Walker, President of the Institution was prevented by illness from attendance.

New Hampshire cannot complain of neglect at Washington, furnishing two European Representatives, with the Spanish Secretary of Legation. Mr. Hale's "where shall I go?" has, we trust, been satisfactorily responded to.

PÆAN FOR VICTORY.

Shout, shout! the tidings o'er
The land, from shore to shore,
All shall be free!
The Knights of Bondage bleed,
Rebellion's ranks recede,
Our arms triumphant lead
To victory!

All hail the glorious sight!
Columbia's martial might Traitors subdued!
Fair Freedom's valiant host
Has silenced Slavery's boast,
Along Secessia's coast,
And through her bounds!

God grant we soon may see
Enduring unity,
And sheathe the sword;—
Our Country's foemen felled,
Secession's spirit quelled,
The smoke of strife dispelled,
And Peace restored.

Then Union's banner bright
Shall herald Freedom's light
On shore and sea,
And Heaven's benignant rays
Illume the Nation's days,—
Our hearts ascribing praise,
Great God, to thee!

THE "GRAND" CONCERT.

While the programme contains the greatest variety, and music of acknowledged merit, the set pieces cannot fail to produce a pleasing effect. One of the Directors, of long and large acquaintance with musical authors, has kindly furnished us with the following notices of the set pieces, and authors:—

No. 5, 1st part,—Anthem, "Sound the Loud Timbral," by Avison. This sprightly and pleasing piece has been unusually popular, and it certainly possesses considerable merit. It should be performed in an animated style, yet not too fast; and strict attention given to the passages where Pia. and For. occur, or it will lose much of its effect. Mr. Charles Avison was an eminent musician and composer, and author of a celebrated treatise on musical expression. His works bespeak for him the real theoretic musician, and he was considered remarkable for the elegance and chastity of his music. He was organist of Newcastle, Eng., and flourished in the time of Handel, say about 1740, and died 1770. This anthem is an air selected from one of his Concertos, and arranged to the above words, and known as "Miriam's Song."

No. 10, 1st part, Chorus, from the "Grand Dittengen Te Deum," composed by Handel on the occasion of the defeat of the French by George II in the battle of Dittengen. Geo. Frederick Handel was born in Saxony in 1684, died 1759, and was interred in Westminster Abbey, Eng. At seven years of age he was placed under the tuition of a competent instructor; at nine he performed on the organ, and composed church music; at fourteen he performed in Berlin, and composed his first opera of "Almeria;" at sixteen he removed to Hamburg. In 1709 he visited Italy and Rome, returning to Germany in 1710, and afterwards went to England, where he wrote the greater part of his Oratorios, Concertos, Sonatos, and organ fugues. In 1741 he wrote the "Messiah," and although late in life afflicted with blindness, continued to play his music with the same vigor as ever. He spent his whole life in a state of celibacy, under times of temporary adversities, and frequent maladies of body, which sometimes extended to his intellect.

No. 12, 1st part, Anthem, by Pacita. This is a favorite in the parlor, choir, or orchestra. It was originally adapted to Italian words, "Viva Enrico," in 1800; and by Mr. Carr, organist and professor of music, adapted to English words, and brought out in a Concert at St. Augustine Church, Philadelphia, in 1814, and "Strike the Cymbal" has become an universal favorite.

No. 4, 2d part, Anthem, Denmark, a well known and favorite anthem. It maintains among anthems the same precedence as "Old Hundred" does among psalm tunes. Its first appearance was in the "Lock Hospital Coll," 1769. The author was Rev. Martin Madan. Was introduced into this country by Mr. Law in 1783. Mr. Law was a music master, and taught in Exeter, N. H. The writer of this notice has heard Holyoke's school of some 200 perform this anthem. Holyoke succeeded Law in Exeter. These schools performed it, noticing the Pia. and For passages. As performed now-a-days, it is not the same piece.

No. 6, 2d part, Anthem: "Child of Mortality," interspersed with beautiful solos, duetts, and choruses, by John Bray, of the old Federal Street Theatre, Boston, who is reported as an industrious operatic general. This was formerly a favorite, and was often performed at funerals. The only time the writer of this notice ever heard it in public, was at the old North Church in Portsmouth about 1825, when Rev. Dr. Putnam preached a discourse noticing the decease of one of Portsmouth's charming singers, Miss Mary Hill, a highly esteemed and popular member of the choir, when it was a choir; under the then popular teachers, Smith and Claggett. And this brings to remembrance the old singers, the Hills, Smiths, Elliot, Reding, Bartlett, Sweetser, Crane; Knight, who on that occasion sang better than I have ever since heard, the bass solos: instrumentalists, Pullmore and Knowlton, contra bass; Akerman and Ham, clarionetts; Drown, flute; Sanger, violin; Violincello, Jackson. These constituted the larger part of the old "Handel Society," of those days, the best drilled musical association ever in Portsmouth, under that severe disciplinarian Mr. Brierly. Any one I may have made will no doubt be noticed and corrected by "Uncle Toby," who was also one of that choir, and association. Truly,

"We've passed through many varied scenes,
Since youth's unclouded day;
And friends, and hopes, and happy dreams;
Times' hand hath swept away.
And voices that once joined with ours,
In days of Auld Lang Syne,
Are silent now,——and blend no more
In songs of Auld Lang Syne."

No. 10, 2d part, Anthem, for Easter Sunday, by Billings; the only anthem on this occasion composed by an old music composer in the days of our Fathers. I know of no reason why this anthem is neglected by the Episcopal church. Both the music and the words are appropriate to Easter Day. It is an anthem of merit, and I know of nothing more suitable for the occasion. It will be favorably received at this time, especially by the Episcopalians, who have so lately noticed the Crucifixion, and rejoice in the Resurrection of "our Lord who has risen indeed; Hallelujah."

Old Hundred, as arranged by Mr. Lawrence for all the voices, orchestra, and band, harmonized for an independent organ accompaniment, will of itself be worth ten times the price of a ticket to the Grand Concert. The mass of voices all on the melody, on an unusual key, supported by a combination of immense harmony—"chords piled on chords," will serve to convey to the audience the sublimity and manner in which Congregational chorals are performed in the "olden time."

It will be the Concert, although the solos and choruses from the Opera of "Amilie, or the Love Test," by Rooke, will be the Gem.

No. 11, 2d part, is from Rooke's admired "Opera of Amilie." The chorus (as performed in opera) is a hidden chorus, the score being written in five parts, having an independent Soprano. "Amilie," who in this scene is listening, hears the first chorus in the distance, "Rest, spirit, rest." At its close, she takes up the theme, to the words, "Rest, spirit, rest, Thou art fled, To realms of endless day, In heaven blest, By warbling choirs of seraphs led. Soar, spirit, soar away, Rest, spirit, rest." As she ceases, the full chorus repeats: at its conclusion, she again takes up the theme, "Soar, spirit, soar," in which, after one measure, she is joined by the full chorus alternately singing, Soar, spirit, soar, In heaven blest, Rest, spirit, rest, blest spirit, rest," to its close.

We recollect of no former Concert in this place that had such variety and character; nor can we doubt our citizens will manifest their approbation by a crowded house. We know it deserves success,—having cost much labor, time and expense.

The property of this Company is located on "Coal Run Creek," Meigs County, State of Ohio, about 10 miles from Athens, containing one hundred and five acres of land. A large number of wells are successfully worked in the vicinity, some of which are paying handsome dividends.—This Company propose to commence operations at once, and entertain no doubt that at an early day they will be able to pay a handsome per cent on the amount invested. The known ability and commercial standing of the officers of this Company afford a sufficient guaranty that the affairs will be conducted in a manner to secure the confidence of those who are disposed to invest in it.

The tract of land adjoining the property of this Company has passed into the hands of capitalists, who have sent out an experienced superintendent to commence operations at once, and their first order for machinery was $15,000. Our property has been examined under instructions from Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, who pronounces the coal, which is in abundance, to be of the best quality, yielding 80 gallons of oil to the ton, and has no doubt, from the location and position of the property, that it will be found valuable in the production of oil. Most companies have to pay very high prices for their coal, all of which we save; oil can be manufactured from the coal upon the property, at a cost not exceeding ten cents per gallon, and it is proposed to commence the manufacture in connection with the sinking of wells. One dollar will buy a share of this stock, which is the par value, and all benefits derived from the lands, either by sales of oil, land or products of any kind, are to be divided among the stockholders, and in addition $20,000 worth of valuable, useful and desirable property will be given to the stockholders, as soon as all the shares are disposed of. The Company adopt this course for the purpose of disposing of their stock at the par value, rather than to sell it, as many companies do, at a subscription price, which is usually one-half. Thus, it will be perceived that every stockholder owning ten shares, for example, will be sure to realize a handsome dividend when the property is divided; a plan which is entirely honorable, and in all respects perfectly legal.

The property to be distributed among the stockholders will be equal to any in the market, and will consist of the following named articles:

$5000 to purchase a HOUSE in Boston or vicinity.
$5000 in U. S. 5-20 BONDS, CERTIFICATES of $500 each.

The Best Ink in the World!
A CHEAP PRODUCT DISCOVERED.
A Substitute for Costly Galls, and a Writing Fluid produced that challenges Competition!
INK POWDERS
TO CARRY IN YOUR POCKET, FROM WHICH TO MAKE INK AT PLEASURE.
THE INK MADE in Three Minutes
Forty Cents will buy Powder enough to furnish a family for years.
FREEZING DON'T HURT IT.

An accident revealed to a Machinist, in Manchester, N. H., a secret result which by the aid of Chemistry has been used till the most beautiful writing fluid, better than anything imported or home-made, flowing freer, writing easier, handsomer, as lasting as time, not injuring the pen a whit, has been produced

It is put up in the form of a small powder, stands all climates, good for years, and can be converted into elegant black writing fluid in three minutes.

A company has lately been formed for the manufacture of these Powders, and although the Fluid has been before the public but a few weeks the most astounding testimonials have been received in its favor, all unsolicited. We select a few from the many.

The greatest qualities of these Ink Powders over everything else in the market are:

1st—It makes an ink of a beautiful, glossy, rich color, that every body will be delighted with.

2d—It flows freely, does not mud up the pen on the pen or corrode it a particle, and never fades, and will endure as long as the paper on which it is used.

3d—Its cheapness baffles all competition. Forty cents will buy enough to fill fifty common bottles that are retailed at 25 cents each.

4th—Convenience. Can be carried to the army, to sea, to the mines, to far off countries.

5th—No pipe to stop dry after using it, and a single steel pen will last with this ink fill the paper wears the point off. It is as harmless as water.

Testimonials.

To the American Ink Company:—I have tried your Ink Powders. They work to a charm. They make perfect ink in three minutes, the best ink I ever saw. It flows easily, does not gum up the pen, and is durable. I have cleared my inkstands of all other kinds of ink. JOHN B. CLARKE.

MELROSE, Mass., Feb. 1, 1865.

American Ink Company—Gents: I wish heartily to thank you for the beautiful Ink Powders you have given to the public. I have made Ink, for eight years past, from Prof. Ure's Recipe, (made of nutgall, Gallic acid, Gum Arabic and copperas) and have sold large quantities of it. Have supplied the schools in this town with it for two years, and every one using it gave it high praise. It is a good Ink, but my occupation is all gone now. Your Ink is the best article of the kind I ever used. This is no puff. Some in my inkstand froze up solid twice and it now flows just freely as at the first, and is not changed in the color a single shade. It is a beautiful black; it flows so readily that I can write one-quarter faster with it than with any other Ink. It ought to be introduced into every school in the U. S.

Yours truly, J. W. FOLAND.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 4, 1864.

To the American Ink Company: I have tried your Ink Powders, and I think, without any exception, it makes the best writing fluid I ever used. I would not be without. I remain yours, GEO. H. HOLMES,
Battery M, 1st Mass. Heavy Artillery.

Kewanee, Henry Co., Illinois, Feb. 20, 1865.

American Ink Company—Gents: Received the Powder that you sent, and to say that I am pleased with it is true, but does not express what I should like to say. The community have long wanted an Ink of which that could stand the test of freezing and that would not gum the pen, and several have been produced. Prof. Ure's was an excellent recipe, but was spoiled by freezing. I have frozen this to test it, and find that it is not affected as all.

I have introduced it into my school in this place, and had I a quantity of it, it would find a ready sale. Thanking you in behalf of the community and myself for such a discovery, I remain, very respectfully, your obedient servant,
GEO. W. PARKER.

Deering, March 1, 1865.

To the American Ink Company—This to certify that I have given your Ink Powders a trial, and I am happy to state it works to perfection. It has a superiority over all other Inks within my knowledge. And I would cheerfully recommend it to the lawyer, the merchant, or any person whose business requires any amount of writing.—It does not corrode, nor gum the pen, nor being frozen as before. Respectfully yours,
ALMON M. COREY.

Nashua, N. H., March 13, 1865.

American Ink Company—Gents: The Ink made from the powders you sent me is the best I ever used. There is nothing in that writing substance about it that there is to most kinds of Ink—it flows freely and works to a charm.

Yours truly, EZEKIEL W. FLANDERS.

Brooklyne, N. H., March 13, 1865.

American Ink Company—Gents: I received the Powder you sent me, and I recommend it to all those that have anything to do, as the best Ink I ever used. I have used J. Moor's Maynard & Noyes', D. J. Rideout's, and many others, but yours far excels any I ever used.

Yours respectfully, G. E. STILES.

This stock is bona fide, full paid, with no possibility of future assessments and no personal liability. The absolute value and actual cash cost of this property are so great as to preclude its being offered with the allurement of a reduction from a nominal par value.

It has been selected, at different times during the past year, by several old and experienced oil-workers and residents of Oil Creek, who are familiar with the history, progress and value of every well and piece of property in that region.—Several of the producing interests were originally acquired for the purpose of holding as private investments and sources of regular income.

These gentleman have, however, been induced to combine their various interests, with additional property, into one sound, good, and reliable company. Each of them will retain an interest as stockholders, and hold their stock as a permanent investment. Residing in the oil region, and directly concerned in the success of the company, they are pledged to look closely after its operations; thus affording a guaranty of watchful supervision, and faithful and energetic management possessed probably by no other oil company ever formed. Two of these gentlemen are on the board of Direction, and one Superintendent of the Company.

The stock is sold to pay for the property, and to furnish a working capital to open up the large and promising tracts yet waiting to be developed.

The managers start with the intention of paying dividends quarterly and from actual earnings only. Paying quarterly affords time to sell the oil produced to the best advantage, and is believed to be in all respects the soundest policy.

The dividends will be sound, good, and not only immediate, but regular, permanent and remunerative. We wish to avoid holding out any inducements not warranted by the same moderate and reasonable calculations that would be made in embarking in any legitimate business enterprise. It is safe, however, to assure subscribers of handsome quarterly dividends from the present wells of the company; which will moreover we confidently believe, be very largely increased by new developments to be rapidly made upon our extensive and valuable properties.

We invite attention to, and the most careful examination of, the following list of properties, lands, and leases, the locations of which are all shown upon the map; believing that none more valuable and promising have ever been offered upon so small a capital, and none that have given greater assurance of permanent value and large returns. We invite subscriptions to an investment, and guarantee the most energetic and skilful efforts to develop the property thoroughly, as well as careful and faithful management.

Summary of Properties.

Two tracts of good boring land, one hundred and one hundred and four acres respectively, in fee, situated south of Oil City, in Venango county, in the immediate neighborhood of the Adamantine, Lee, and other large wells just struck on the East Sandy and Alleghany rivers.

Important interests and Leases on the best and most carefully selected properties on Oil Creek,—on the Hassan Farm, Complainter Run,—Rynd Flats,—Cherry Tree Run,—Clapp & Hassan, Widow McClintock, Foster, and two lots on the celebrated Hyde & Egbert Farm.

In all, fifteen wells, five of them producing seven down from two to five hundred feet and still boring, and three just commencing, with room on the leases for several more wells.

Also a good Refinery, in complete working order, capable of refining 150 barrels per day, at a profit of one to five hundred dollars.

Also engines, tools, tubing, tanks, and improvements, the actual cash cost of which was $56,500, and worth to-day $75,000,—the whole comprising a property unsurpassed for present value and prospective increase.

THE MAGEE
COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber would especially call the attention of the public to the
MAGEE COOK STOVE,
as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and and-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We invite all those in want of the very best Stove in the market, to examine the

MAGEE COOK.

Also on hand an assortment of the different sizes
—of the—
MAGEE PARLOR STOVE
with and without ovens, which are too well known to need any recommendation.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING
FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, most and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire goes is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

THE CEMETERY.

"How beautiful the signification of the word Cemetery,—the sleeping place.—in its reference to the resurrection."

Carry me out from my door.
To bury me under the snow;
The star flakes silver my coffin-lid,
And the tears of affection dow.

Still one short journey more—
And still one earthly remove;
They call for me where my kindred lie,
And the people of my love.

When summer returns again,
The flowers will spring from the dust;
And in God's good time, to new life shall arise.
The forms of the sleeping just.

And I quietly pass the night,
While I await the glorious dawn,
And the trumpet-note, and the breaking light
Of the resurrection-morn.

—Amherst Cabinet.

A RETURNED SOLDIER. On Wednesday, Mr. Geo. W. Carr of Salisbury, passed through Newburyport on his way from the rebel prisons to his home. He is one of the few survivors of the National Guards, that left here under Capt. Wescott to join the Mozarts, in 1861, and no better or braver soldier ever buckled a knapsack to his back. In all the hard work of that regiment, he never shirked; in all their hard fighting, he was never absent from a battle, and was praised by his officers. In the battle of Williamsburg, in 1862, he was wounded while helping an injured comrade from the field, but as soon as he recovered he returned at once to duty, desiring no relief so long as an armed rebel remained on the field.

At the battle of the Wilderness he was taken prisoner, and for more than nine months suffered all the horrors of the rebel prisons, compared with which the Bastile of France or the dungeon in Naples, ought not to be reprobated. He was literally starved; his hair has fallen from his head; his flesh has disappeared from his bones; the strong man is reduced to the weakness of the infant; and he presents the picture of humanity in a state of collapse. A little bewildered as to the means of reaching his home, he left the cars, and was obliged to take the coach, but he was unable to lift his feet to enter it; and Capt. Dow, under whom he served in the National Guards, who happened fortunately to be at the depot, and another person, took him in their arms and lifted him to his seat.

There was not a person who saw this unfortunate man, who would not have volunteered to stand bangman for any rebel leader who may be taken. Of all the damnable barbarity that has been practiced upon humanity since the first day of the world, nothing exceeds the inhumanity of the rebels into whose hands our prisoners have fallen. The officers have been treated with tolerable care, but the privates have been murdered by inches. We can believe any tale of cruelty as relating to slaves, now when we see how they have treated white men.—Herald.

DAVIS AND HIS CONGRESS.—Before the rebel Congress finally adjourned, and after a day had been fixed upon for that purpose, Jeff. Davis sent in to them a special request that they should defer their adjournment for a few days, as he had a special message to lay before them, containing important business. They accordingly delayed going; but only to be made very angry over what was nothing more than an accusation on Davis' part, that the Confederacy was in its present peril merely because of their own delay and neglect in passing measures necessary for its defence. This sort of charge they could not stand. Accordingly a protest, or statement, was drawn up by the members of the Senate in committee, in which they gave the rebel President just as good as he sent.

They told him they had been dilatory about nothing whatever; that he had hesitated about recommending several measures when they were prepared to pass them; that they were much before him on questions of impressment, exemption, finances and currency, and even the arming of the blacks; and, unkindest cut of all, that they had even placed full military power in the hands of their ablest commander, General Lee, before Davis had ever hinted of so necessary a step! If he was not stung by such a taunt as this, then we confess he a skin tougher than that of a rhinoceros. With this parting shot the rebel Congress left Richmond, and abandoned Davis to his fate. They will probably never return there again. The places which have known them will probably know them no more forever. The legislative part of the Confederacy is at an end. The Executive is fast losing ground. All that now remains is to scatter and destroy the military part of the iniquitous scheme.—Dover Gazette.

We have received from Mrs. Henry Lyman of South Hadley what purports to be a turnip, though at a distance it looks like a range of mountains. We don't know the size of Mrs. Lyman's farm, but, if she intends to raise any more such, we conclude she had better remove to the western plains. It is a common red top flat turnip, and weighs 17 1-2 pounds—as much as two good babies.—Springfield Republican.

—Gen. Wm. H. Adams, a well citizen of Western New York, died in Albany on Friday. He was a man of great ability, and once of large enterprise and influence, and identified with the public works of the State. He was one of the original builders of the Erie Canal, and has been a canal man since the time of De Witt Clinton.

— Golden hair is now so popular in Paris that it is selling at 125 francs an ounce.

Spring Roll and Cog Wheel
WASHING AND WRINGING
MACHINES.
WRINGING MACHINES HAVE BECOME AN institution in the land. Thousands and tens of thousands have been sold during the last three years, and they all save an immense amount of labor and cost of material.
We now offer to the public a Machine that will WASH as well as WRING the Clothes. It is very heavy and strongly built—the Rolls are large and so fastened with screws as to be secure from turning on the shaft. The Cog Wheels give power, and the Spring Roll makes it do its work with ease and perfection. The Machine is secured to a bench, independent of the washer, and consequently there is no trouble of fastening it every time it is used.
To any person who wishes to obtain an article to do both washing and wringing in a Public House or Private Family, we say give this a trial. If not satisfactory, the money will be refunded.—Call and see it.

ARCANA WATCH.
An Elegant Novelty in Watches.
The cases of this watch are an entirely new invention, composed of six different metals combined, rolled together and planished, producing an exact imitation of 18 carat gold, called Arcanum, which will always keep its color. They are as beautiful as solid gold, and are afforded at one-eighth the cost. The case is beautifully designed with Panel and shield for name, with Patent Push Pin, and engraved in the exact style of the celebrated Gold Hunting Levers, and are really handsome and desirable, and so exact an imitation of gold as to defy detection. The movement is manufactured by the well known St. Imier Watch Company of Europe, and are superly finished, having engraved pallets, fancy curved bridges, adjusting regulator, with gold balanced and the improved adjusted action with jewels and skeleton hands, and is warranted a good time keeper.
These Watches are of three different sizes, the smallest being for Ladies, and are all Hunting Cases. A case of six will be sent by Mail or Express for $126 00. A single one sent in an elegant Morocco Case for $25 00; will readily sell for three times their cost. We are sole agents for this watch in the United States, and none are genuine which do not bear our Trade-mark. Address GIRARD W. DEVAUGH & CO.,

WHAT IS A
FRENCH ROLL PAN?
IS A QUESTION OFTEN ASKED.
It is simply a nicely made
IRON PAN,
Or rather a series of Pans connected in one, of such peculiar form that all parts of the material contained in them receive an equal amount of heat, thus insuring a very
QUICK AND LIGHT BAKE.
For Sponge or Drop Cake, Muffins, French Rolls, Corn Bread or Raised Flour Biscuit, these Pans are Invaluable.
IN these days of high prices, it is worth while to
ECONOMISE
in any way. We give below a receipt for making a Cheap, Wholesome, and
PALATABLE BREAD:
"Stir into a pint of Cold Water sufficient Graham Flour to make a thin batter, adding a little Salt. Heat the Pan thoroughly, grease it a little, pour in the batter, and bake about half an hour in a hot oven."
By using Sweet Milk, instead of Water, as above, and adding 2 Spoonsful of Sugar, biscuit can be made fit to set before a King. We have sold nearly a thousand of these Roll Pans in about one year, and the sale is still increasing.—Try one.

MONDAY, APRIL 10, 1865.

THE REBELLION.

A late despatch on Friday evening, from Washington, contradicts the report that Gen Robert Lee is taken. It was Fitz Hugh Lee. We have the army however, except small fragments, whose capture with Lee Sheridan reports inevitable.

Steamers are continually arriving at Fortress Monroe from Newbern, with prisoners captured by Gen. Sherman. The depot of supplies for Gen. Sherman's army is apparently about to be changed, as the quartermasters at Wilmington and Morehead City send back all steamers and vessels laden with stores, &c., to Fortress Monroe for further orders.

It is presumed from the latest advices received at Fortress Monroe, that Sherman has recommenced his northward march, and has in all probability left Goldsboro' in his rear.

A despatch however, received at Washington from Goldsboro', N. C., of the 4th inst., says no movement of Sherman's army had commenced. A flag of truce on the 3d revealed the fact that Johnston's forces are about twelve miles southeast of Goldsboro'.

Another special Washington despatch says Sherman's column is again in motion, and it is believed Johnston will not attempt to hold Raleigh, but retreat to the interior. A private telegram, received from the President, confirms the report of Sheridan's victory, and expresses the opinion that the rebellion is finished.

Intelligence has been received from the Upper Potomac that Hancock's column is in motion up the Shenandoah Valley towards Lynchburg. Should Lee manage to survive Grant's blows in front, Hancock will strike his rear.

The old railroad route from Washington to Richmond, via Fredericksburg, will be in operation in about three weeks. The time between the two cities will then be reduced to eight hours. A construction corps have already commenced work on the railroad.

The Navy Department has been informed of the capture, off the coast of Florida, of the British schooners "Sort," Mary and Conness. Their cargoes consisted of shoes, rum, cotton, percussion caps, &c. The vessels were sent to Key West for adjudication.

It is reported that the pirates who run the Harriet Deford into Indian Creek, Va., destroyed her after removing sundry articles of value.

Fredericksburg is filled with families from Richmond, and the country around swarms with rebel deserters on their way home.

Late Western Louisiana accounts represent great scarcity of breadstuffs about Alexandria and much suffering in consequence.

The scarcity of forage compelled the rebel cavalry to depart for Texas, and the infantry had also been withdrawn from Alexandria and was encamped at Natchilla.

The rebel troops at Brownsville have been removed to Galveston to await an attack from the U. S. forces.

An attempt has been made to burn Newbern, N. C. similar to that in New York: a great bridge at Newbern was fired in four places; also several large buildings filled with army stores &c.—all by phosphorus, and at half past 10 in the morning.—The fires were soon put out, and a rebel officer and several other persons are now in confinement on suspicion of having set the fires. A double guard has been stationed throughout the city to prevent like occurrences and to arrest suspicious persons.

The Times' Richmond correspondent says the destruction of property there by fire will amount to $10,000,000. It is positively asserted that Breckinridge gave the order to start the fire. Southside Railroad is being repaired at the rate of six or seven miles per day, and is already used to carry supplies to our army in the field. Mail communication with City Point was established at once. The city is perfectly quiet and the conduct of our troops admirable.

The Tribune's Washington despatch says the rumor that President Lincoln will offer a generous amnesty to the rebel rank and file gains credence in influential quarters. It is known that Secretary Seward was to meet the President at Richmond on the day of his accident by a summons from the latter.

Gen. Grant also telegraphed to the Secretary of War requesting that no one be permitted to visit Richmond for the present, while rumor asserts that commissioners, official or self-constituted, from Alabama, Georgia and North Carolina are in that city and in conference with the President.

A few days ago, steamer M. R. Cheek, with 180 bales of Cotton, was burned at the mouth of Buffalo Bay. Several expeditions have lately been out of Natchez, one of which, under Gen. Farrar, met with important success in the vicinity of Trinity, La., where a rebel camp was surprised and 30 prisoners captured; 40 horses were also taken in the camp.

Gen. Hancock, with infantry, artillery and cavalry, moved to head off Lee on the 4th inst. His troops were well equipped, and supplied for a long march.

Sec. Stanton says a telegram from Gen. Grant, dated Saturday noon, at Farmville, 16 miles west of Burke's Station, states that the enemy have been pushed from the road toward Danville and are now pursued toward Lynchburg, and that he is very confident of receiving the surrender of Lee and what remains of his army.

By Telegraph—Sunday noon.

Washington, April 8th.—A few additional details have been received from Richmond. On Thursday, the President paid another visit to Richmond, accompanied by Senators Sumner, Harlan and others. Mrs. Lee, wife of the General, is still in Richmond, having refused to go away. There is but very little doubt felt here of the capitulation of Lee or the capture of the remnant of his army. All advices, official and unofficial, lead to that belief. Lee's inability to make a stand at Burkesville, or retreat on the Danville Railroad to Danville, where he might possibly have formed a junction with Joe Johnston, is regarded here as virtually settling the question in favor of his surrender. Gen. Grant expressed that belief in his dispatch to day, in which he is very confident of Lee's giving up the strife. The Army of the Potomac is not more than 60 miles east of Lynchburg. Stoneman and Thomas are moving on that place from the Southwest. Hancock and his veteran troops will probably move rapidly enough down the Valley to occupy Lexington, nearly in the rear of Lynchburg, and thus isolate that place from any line of retreat. It is this statement of facts which causes jubilant feelings here and leads everybody to predict an early peace. It is said by those usually well informed, that President Lincoln will issue a proclamation of amnesty on the 14th day of April, and that in the event of Lee's surrender, he will at the same time issue a call for an extra session of Congress.

New York, April 8th.—Steamer Arago sailed for Charleston this afternoon with Gen. Anderson and some 300 other distinguished gentlemen. Four other excursion steamers also sailed for the same port, all crowded.

Gold closed at the Evening Exchange at 148 3-8.

GOLD.—The New York Commercial Advertiser says:

"Speculation in Gold is dull. The uncertainty about prospects of the war are now so much less than they have been, that there is less room for wide fluctuations in the premium than formerly existed. The comparative steadiness of the premium makes Gold speculation tame, and it is probable some prominent operators will turn their attention to other ways of employing their means.

A statement in a morning journal that the Government is buying gold largely, has given strength to the market. The Treasury is engaged in no such operation, directly or indirectly. It appears, however, probable that a combination of brokers has bought up a considerable amount, for the purpose of strengthening the Stock market, and enabling them to get well out of certain operations. Over $1,500,000 of California gold was brought in by the Costa Rica.

The same paper says:

A report has been current on the street that Secretary McCulloch has ordered the Savannah cotton to be sold for greenbacks. This is incorrect. Assistant Treasurer Stuart has received instructions to prepare Gold certificates, which will be sold to purchasers of cotton for greenbacks, at the rate current on the day of the sale of cotton, which certificates will be accepted by the Collector in payment for the cotton. Thus, while the sales will be on Gold terms, they will occasion no disturbance of the Gold market.

— The Journal of Commerce has an afflicted correspondent who thus expatiates: "In October last, I purchased 400,000 pounds of sugar at 16 c. a pound. On the 1st of January, it was worth 18 1-2 c. a pound, or $10,000 more than I gave for it; but I did not sell. In the month of March, I sold the lot of sugar at 10 1-2 c. a pound; paying me a loss of over $22,000."

If any one wants to cry for this victim, we stand back to give him a chance. Our grief can wait a century or so.

— Henry S. Foote, late of the rebel Congress, who arrived in New York the other day in an emigrant ship from Europe, has been ordered to be kept in confinement. He has violated some agreement with the State Department.

—Prices in Richmond have undergone a change already. Butter that was scarce at $25 a pound, is now plentiful at fifty cents. Eggs that were bid away at $35 a dozen, come out regularly at the beck of fifty cents; and other commodities in equal ratio.

— There are three Governor Smiths in New England, either in office or elect, to wit: in office in Vermont, and elect in New Hampshire and Rhode Island.—So says an item:—but our governor elect is Mr. Smyth.

—The Biddeford Union says that Mayor Shaw of that city, has presented a five hundred dollar clock to Rev. M. Tenney's new Pavilion Church.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The mills in Laconia propose to discharge part of their present help, instead of running on half time.

—— A telegram from Brig. Gen. S. G. Griffin to his wife in Keene, dated since the fall of Richmond, says he is well and unharmed —— The April term of the Supreme Judicial Court for Rockingham county, will commence its session in Exeter, on Tuesday the 12th.

—— On Friday, the 31st ult., a son of Prentiss W. Taylor of Hinsdale, eight years old, aimed a gun at an Irish girl, some ten years old, and shot her fatally in the head. The boy was apparently in sport.

—— Lieut. I. G. Wilkins, of Gen. Griffin's staff, has arrived in Manchester, on leave, having been wounded last Sunday in the attack on Petersburg.

— Mr. Abner W. Mayo of Freeman, Me., from six beans planted last spring, raised 3556. The smallest stalk produced 297 be and the largest 480.

—— John G. Saxe is announced as the poet before the literary societies of Dartmouth College at the next commencement.

—— A package containing $1000 in counterfeit fifty cent United States scrip was seized in Manchester, N. H., on Wednesday. It was sent from Boston, by Hill's express, directed to Joseph H. Britton, but the officers could find no such person in Manchester.

CAPTAIN MAFFIT A PRISONER IN MORO CASTLE. The New Orleans Times of the 23d has the following:

We have already given an account of the attempted destruction of the steamer Shooting Star at Havana, by Captain Maffit, of the pirate Florida fame. He was arrested and put in irons by our well known citizen, George E. Tyler, the owner of the Shooting Star. After Maffit's escape from custody, Mr. Tyler went to the Havana authorities and asked for his re-arrest. He was asked if he could identify Maffit as the man who attempted to destroy his steamer. Mr. Tyler said it would be found that his bands would show the marks of the iron bracelets that he had wrenched from his wrists. Maffit was thereupon arrested, and as was suspected would be the case, his bands were found to be much lacerated. Mr. Tyler had the pleasure of seeing the ex pirate safely ensconced in a cell of the Moro.

☞ We are "much obliged to ye," Mr. Charles W. Felt of Salem, Mass., for an engraving of your famous Type-Setting Machine,—which is a portderous yet delicate-looking, three-story concern, equal in appearance to a Hoe ten-cylinder press, almost. Yes, thank you, we will come up and take a look at the fearfully and wonderfully made critter, sometime, and your Salem editors too. Meanwhile, why can't you go to work and invent a machine editor and publisher, so a feller can leave business more than three hours at a time in these driving days. Whew!

☞ Gov. Fenton of New York, has appointed Friday the 14th (Good Friday,) to be observed as a day of Thanksgiving prayer and praise by the people of the State, for the recent victories achieved by the armies of the Union.—In New Hampshire, our Fast Day, Thursday the 13th, will probably have some odor of Thanksgiving about it, on the same account.

☞ The National Convention of Unitarians, at their session in New York city, chose Gov. Andrews of Massachusetts as their President.—Ex-Gov. Goodwin of New Hampshire was one of the Vice Presidents, and also one of the Committee on Antioch College. The resolution offerred by Rev. E. E. Hale, providing for the endowment of Antioch College by a fund of $100,000, and the raising of twice that sum as soon as possible, was unanimously adopted.

At the evening session, on Wednesday, a resolution offered by Rev. Samuel J. May, of Syracuse, commending the Universalists for their earnest and persistent opposition to one of the most abhorrent of dogmas, and recommending that a committee be appointed to unite the two bodies of Christians, was referred to the committee of twelve.

☞ The copperhead papers find it very hard to admit that the rebels are whipped, or that any great credit is due to our soldiers for bravery and skill. One paper encourages itself with the idea that General Grant has it not in his power to prevent the escape of the rebel army to the mountains.—An eminent copperhead here, was informed by a loyal man, one day last week that Richmond was taken. He replied, "that don't amount to anything!" Jeff. Davis is probably of a different opinion.

— While the Prince of Wales was witnessing the Chertley steeple chases on Thursday last, his Royal Highness had his pocket picked of a valuable gold watch presented by the Queen. The police's solemn joke is that the thief will henceforth take the title of Pickpocket of his Royal Highness the Prince of Wales.

— A profound dealer in statistics says: "Only 65 persons of 100 marry; of these 65, three are divorced, eight run away, fourteen live like cats and dogs, thirty are indifferent, and ten happy."

Local.

☞ Messrs. Bidwell & Pike open at the Temple to-night, with their Dramatic Company—a strong cast and a good bill, for particulars of which see their advertisements. This Company, nor the gentlemanly managers, need no introduction to a Portsmouth audience; but the troupe is now much larger and more complete than on any former visit. The tickets are very properly put at 35 cents for parquet, and 25 for gallery; though a few front rows of the gallery seats are perhaps about as good as any in the house.

☞ Mr. Head's quadruple Entertainment, Thursday evening, was a splendid success, so far as all the performances were concerned—but there was decidedly "too much of a good thing," the exercises occupying fully three hours. The Band played finely, and brought two new and capital pieces,—and their programme alone was worth the ticket. The thirty or forty gentlemen of the Philharmonic Society sang the Soldiers' Chorus, to the Band's accompaniment, we are told in good style; and we may as well add that this new and flourishing musical organization will perhaps appear before the public on their own account ere many months.

Mr. Marshall read and acted very finely indeed, especially the old standard dramas; and Mrs. Whipple did herself great credit in her ready recitation of the last battle of New Orleans, and also as Juliet in the balcony scene with Mr. Marshall—which, on both sides was a rare piece of acting. Our fair townswoman has vastly improved in elocution, since her first appearance in public, and the rendering of the poem named, it seemed to us was faultless. She was elegantly dressed also, and while we congratulate her on her great success on this occasion, we shall suggest that but for the unnatural and unfortunate elevation of voice into the head or falsetto tones, a few times, in Juliet, nothing more could have been asked for.

Mrs. Cary's sweet singing was received with even more applause than on her first appearance here; and she kindly favored the audience with two encore pieces; and notwithstanding the great length of the exercises, so delighted were her listeners that they actually almost forced her to appear again, late as it was. She is a charming songstress, and most agreeable little lady on the stage.

Mr. Day accompanied her finely on the piano, as usual with him; and his solo performances were well received—his own variations on Old Dog Tray being very beautiful, and skilfully executed. The new Hallet, Davis & Co. Piano is a superb instrument, and the rich, full, and bright yet mellow tone, was much admired. Nobody makes better instruments than these manufacturers, as years of experience have shown.

The stage was very neatly decorated and all the arrangements made in the thorough and tasteful manner which characterizes Mr. Head in all such matters. And but for the fact of having had so recently an entertainment so exactly similar, we are sure the house would have been full, even at the so-called high price—which after all was not a bit too high.

☞ On Friday before the Police Court Charles Ricker was arraigned for assaulting John H. Broughton. Fined $7.00 and costs, $5.74. Appealed.

Joseph E. Adams and John H. Broughton, were charged with assaulting Charles Ricker and were fined $3.00 and costs, $2.80. Appealed.——Albion Romney was found guilty of drunkenness and was subjected to the fine of $3.00 and costs $3.86.

☞ Two decrepit gentlemen, passed the meridian of life, on Saturday last, wandered into a house of ill-fame on Water street, where they were made insensible by potations of liquor, after which followed an abstraction of what money and valuables they possessed, amounting to upwards of 50 dollars. An innate desire to witness life in its different phases, doubtless incited them in the direction of Water street. The police have the matter in hand, and will probably secure the lost treasure. *

☞ Father Kemp's Old Folks Troupe will give a fine Concert on Wednesday night. The two O. F. Choirs announced to sing, are in no sense rivals; and the managers of both desire no chords but harmonious accord, and especially dislike discords. Mr. Kemp always sings Albert Laighton's beautiful Song of the Old Folks, to Auld Lang Syne, which was written for our Portsmouth Choir; and has brought it out at hundreds of concerts in all parts of the world, always with the greatest applause.—Both entertainments will beyond question be excellent, but they are very dissimilar, and we advise every reader who cares anything about good music of any description, by all means to attend both, and decide for themselves which is the better.

Remember, the Portsmouth Old Folks Concert is to be given East Night.

GOLD, at New York, Saturday, 150.

☞ Few people have an accurate idea of the expense of giving Concerts or other entertainments, especially in these times. Mr. Joy's recent Singing School Concert cost upwards of $150; though we are happy to say his receipts were sufficient to net him a handsome balance. Mr. Head's entertainment cost rather more; and we are sorry to know his receipts were considerably less than the expenses—not to mention a great amount of hard work and trouble. We understand that by favorable settlements, he was able to close the concern without actual loss, however.

The expenses of the Portsmouth Old Folks Concerts have always been $100 or more each, actual outlay, besides a great amount of work and expense thrown in by one and another interested. The Singing Books alone, during the ten years the Choir has been organized, have cost upwards of $300! Up to the present time, these have been nearly paid for by the receipts at the Concerts. The cost of the pending Concert will count up $200 or so. But as the Manager never designed or desired any pecuniary profit from "the dear old songs our fathers sang," but only mutually to enjoy and confer enjoyment in the good cause, there is not so much danger of disappointment in this case.

☞ Save your rags and old papers! Every family can supply themselves with a good newspaper from the proceeds of such savings. Mr. Uriah Blaisdell advertises to buy them.

The New Hampshire Petroleum Co. is organized with great care, under the management of some of the ablest financiers and most successful business men in the State, whose integrity is above reproach, and who cannot be led by excitement into speculations that have not to their minds a golden foundation. Their lands have been selected with great caution. Mr. N. R. Bates, of Titusville, who has been very successful the past year in selecting Oil Lands and boring wells, was known to some of the gentlemen prominent in starting this company as a man strictly honest, sagacious, and experienced in the Petroleum regions, and was solicited to aid in selecting the property farms. He did so. Col. B. F. Martin, Wm. P. Newell, Esq., and John B. Clarke, Editor of the Mirror, of Manchester, J. S. Fogg, Esq., of the firm of Fogg, Coughlin & Coughlin, 64 Pearl St., Boston, and Daniel E. Lancaster, 419 Broadway, New York, were appointed a committee to visit the farms spoken of. Early in February they looked over the lands selected by Mr. Bates, and became convinced that they were among the very best that could be had. The great Oil Basin seems to be situated between Oil Creek, East Oil Creek, and Alleghany river, and not twenty miles from one point to the other, and the Four Farms of the Company are within the Basin and on the same Oil Belt of the great flowing and pumping wells that have yielded the past year to the state of Pennsylvania, as Gov. Curtin says in his Message, fifty six million of dollars. The last of March, B. W. Harris, Esq., a well known lawyer of Boston and late District Attorney, F. H. Burns, Esq., a shrewd business man of Dover, N. H., and F. A. Wilcox, Esq., a lawyer of 76 Wall Street, New York, were sent out to see to the titles of lands, and make further examinations. They came to the same conclusion as the other, and the Four Farms were bought, which are thus described:

THE MATTISON FARM.

This Farm contains 84 acres and is near the confluence of Cherry Creek and East Oil Creek.—The lay of the land is beautiful for Oil; high lands on each side, Cherry Creek running directly through, and a rich undeveloped Coal vein on one side. Every inch of the land is valuable for Coal or boring wells, and there is no waste to it.

The oil belts run from east to west, or from north east to south west, and are from one to three miles wide. The Mattison Farm is two and a half miles in a direct line east of the great Oil Sats south of Titusville, from which innumerable fortunes have flowed. Here the Steele & Mead well flowed over 400 barrels per day—the Mountain 200—the Parker 200—and scores of wells are now being worked that yield from 10 to 60 barrels daily. Nine out of every ten worked on this flat are a success. A ten barrel well will sell for forty thousand dollars, and a sixty barrel will sell for half a million.

It is believed by good judge that every rod of the seventy-five acres of the Mattison Farm, all that is not good for coal, is equal to the Flat below Titusville, and that each acre will yield $12 per ton, and if the vein of coal should work well it would be a fortune in itself. It is splendid coal, burning freely as Cannel.

The average price of oil per barrel the last year was $10 at the works, the buyers furnishing the barrels. It costs a little less than $2000 to sink a well to the depth of 700 feet, and they go lower than that. It costs $20 per day to work it after it yields oil. G. P. Ball, of the Cherry Creek Farm Petroleum Company, says of this Farm Section:

"I consider all the lands located there, as being richer in Oil, and presenting geological features of a more perfect character, and than any other that I am acquainted with; and I have spent much time during the last few months in examining and boring wells in Venango, Warrango, Crawford and Warren Counties, in all of which I have made considerable investments.—Geologists of the Warren and other Oil Geologists of eminence, are of the same opinion regarding the lands generally throughout the valleys of East Oil Creek. If this Farm comes up to the expectations of Prof. Shepherd of Yale College, of Mr. Ball, of Mr. Bates, it will have pumping wells and flowing wells. The flowing wells would sell for large sums of money, and the pumping wells, if as good as those south of Titusville, would be of incalculable value. There is abundant room for thousands of 18 wells, and on this farm for over 900 wells. Just make computation of the cost of so many wells, and the yield and profit on the whole is so great, if they are as good as they are expected, if they only yield the minimum average of the Flat below that Oil Belt, and your income from this Farm alone is over one million of dollars. This Company do not expect any such results, but simply state facts, and let each person make his own figuring and reach his own conclusions.

THE PARKER FARM

Contains 100 acres, is heavily timbered, situated near the road to Enterprise, not far from East Oil Creek, and between Cherry Creek and where the Caldwell Creek empties into Oil Creek. They have lately sunk a well, right opposite this farm and struck oil. A single good well on this large farm would enable the Company to sell or lease the lands for great sums. The remarks about the location of the Mattison Farm, apply equally well to this.

THE BYLES FARM,

On Pit Hole Creek, contains 105 acres. It is about three miles east of Oil Creek, directly east of the Coquet Well that flows 100 barrels daily, the Jersey that flows 300, the Maple Shade and other noted flowing wells, and pumping wells without limit. This Farm is on the same Oil Belt and on the right range. There is great excitement at Pit Hole. The Frazer well is on it. It began to flow about the middle of January, and with its sucker rod in, and its pipe seven-eighths full of machinery, it has flowed 230 barrels per day ever since.—They have not dared to pull out the sucker rod for fearing they had not sufficient tanks to hold the oil. The tanks they now have will hold 3,200 barrels. Below this well, on the same Creek, another fine well has been struck, and above it is a spouting well, which, when bored low enough, will yield abundantly. A little farther north the same company, the United States, is putting down a well that looks already better than the Frazer well, and great expectations rest upon it. In sight of the spouting wells, and between the Frazer and the one which has raised so high hopes, is the Byles Farm, all low land, and very rod fit for a well. It is splendidly located. It abounds in sand rocks and oil indications. Mr. Bates thinks very highly of it, and has no doubt but we shall find on it flowing wells superior to any yet struck in that section. A single flowing well struck would enable us to sell the farm in small lots for ten millions of dollars. Land on high bluffs some ways removed from the Coquet well, leases for fifty years at the rate of $50,000 for strips twelve rods by sixteen, cash down.

THE DAWSON FARM,

On West Pit Hole, contains 25 acres, and is in the same wonderful oil region. It has oil springs on and around it, and many wells are now being bored near it with excellent show for oil. Mr. Bates is now sinking one close to it. In a letter dated March 25, 1865, he says: "My well is sinking as finely as it progresses, both in gas and oil, as any well has ever shown at the same depth on Oil Creek; gas at 90 feet; a good show of oil at 112 feet; at 140 feet gas is rising and roaring loudly."

Within rifle shot of this farm, sixteen years ago a well was sunk twenty-seven feet deep for water, and oil came in and spoiled it. We have no doubt that rich oil wells will be sunk on this Farm, and there is land enough, if they are rich, to make the Farm a fortune.

NOTES OF FORMER DAYS.

Collected and Collated by UNCLE TOBY.

Rev. Saml. Drowne, and George Whitfield, died 1770.

The Rev. Samuel Drowne died the 17th of January, in the fiftieth year of his age. He was much esteemed by his people, for his great integrity and zeal, in the discharge of his duties. He was pastor of the Independent Christian Society; and was grandfather to the late Daniel P. and Thomas P. Drown.

James McMasters and several other persons, having violated the non-importation agreement at Boston, and finding the popular opinion so strong against them that they could not sell their goods in that place, removed to this town, to dispose of them here. This occasioned great clamor among many of the inhabitants, at whose request a public meeting was held on the 11th of April, 1770, when it was, among other things, resolved that it would be highly unreasonable to suffer those persons that have been counteracting the good intentions of the neighboring governments, to come among us and sell their goods. And that those who encouraged, aided, or assisted them, should be esteemed enemies to the town.

Another meeting was held on the 12th July, at the request of a number of inhabitants, to see what resolutions the town would think advisable to adopt with regard to the late revenue acts, and whether they shall judge it expedient to continue the importation and sale of British goods. The subject was referred to respectable committee who reported at the adjournment on the 24th July; but the meeting was dissolved without acting upon it.

On Sunday morning, September 30th 1770 the Rev. George Whitefield died at Newburyport, in the 56th year of his age. On Tuesday, being the day of his funeral, all the bells in Portsmouth, tolled from eleven o'clock until nearly sunset, on the occasion.

Mr. Whitefield was born at Gloucester in England, in 1714. His father was an innkeeper, and he was designed for the same employment. "He was distinguished at school, for a retentive memory, and good elocution." As he approached towards manhood, he received some serious impressions, and began to think of qualifying himself for the ministry. About the age of eighteen he was admitted a servitor of Pembroke College, in Oxford; where he associated with young persons of the same habits and disposition with himself; which served to "cherish that religious enthusiasm, to which he was strongly addicted." He took the degree of Bachellor of Arts in 1736, and about the same time was ordained a deacon by the Bishop of Gloucester. He crossed the Atlantic in 1738, and arrived at Savannah, in Georgia, in May, where he determined to erect a seminary upon a charitable foundation, for the education of orphan children, which he called the orphan-house; and returned to England the next year to collect money for the purpose. He was admitted to Priest's orders in 1740, and being very popular as a preacher, he commanded large audiences, wherever he went. Many of the clergy refused him admittance into their pulpits; and but few of the churches, to which he had access, could accommodate the crowds of people, that assembled to hear him; which compelled him to preach in the open air. On these occasions he was sometimes treated with rudeness, but his peculiarly happy address, generally commanded respectful attention. In 1748, the Countess of Huntington appointed him her chaplain. "His labours were incessant." He spent a great part of his time, as an itinerant preacher, in various parts of England, Scotland and North America. He made seven visits to this country, and travelled from Georgia to Maine, preaching in every populous town he passed through to very numerous assemblies. The week previous to his death, he preached four times in Portsmouth* and on Saturday, at Exeter. As none of the public buildings in that place, could contain the people, assembled on the occasion, he officiated in the open air; and in the afternoon, rode to Newburyport where he intended to preach the next day. But Providence had ordered otherwise. He was much afflicted with the asthma, and it was supposed that his exertions the day before brought on the paroxysm, which put a period to his life and usefulness. Mr. Adams says, No clergyman ever possessed the power of oratory in a higher degree. His gestures were graceful, "his voice was strong and musical, his pronounciation clear and distinct, his imagination was lively, and his feelings were warm." These qualifications gave him a most absolute command of the attention and passions of his hearers.—He was easy, polite, and engaging in his manners, facetious and pleasant in conversation, and sometimes indulged in a vein of satire, where the occasion justified him. His heart was susceptible of the most tender and generous friendship, and he continually expressed his gratitude to the Giver of every good and perfect gift, for the many instances of kindness which he received from his fellow men. He never forgot the important business in which he was engaged, but embraced every opportunity that was offered to enforce the truths of religion, and the practice of virtue; guarding his hearers against depending upon the flights of imagination, and admonishing them that a holy life is the best evidence of a state of grace.

*Mr. Whitfield preached in both the North and South Meeting-Houses in Portsmouth, as Rev. Messrs. Langdon and Haven, the pastors, did not object, but favored his ministrations.

"Can you tell," asked a blooming lass of a suitor once, "what ship carries more passengers than the Great Eastern?" "Well, Miss, really I don't think I can." "Why, it is courtship," replied the maiden with a conscious blush.

The property of this Company is located on "Coal Run Creek," Meigs County, State of Ohio, about 10 miles from Athens, containing one hundred and five acres of land. A large number of wells are successfully worked in the vicinity, some of which are paying handsome dividends.—This Company propose to commence operations at once, and entertain no doubt that at an early day they will be able to pay a handsome percentage on the investment. The known ability and commercial standing of the officers of this Company afford a sufficient guaranty that the affairs will be conducted in a manner to secure the confidence of those who are disposed to invest in it.

The tract of land adjoining the property of this Company has passed into the hands of capitalists, who have sent out an experienced superintendent to commence operations at once, and their first order for machinery was $15,000. Our property has been examined under instructions from Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, who pronounces the coal, which is in abundance, to be of the best quality, yielding 80 gallons of oil to the ton, and has no doubt, from the location and position of the property, that it will be found valuable in the production of oil. Most companies have to pay very high prices for their coal, all of which we save; oil can be manufactured from the coal upon the property, at a cost not exceeding ten cents per gallon, and it is proposed to commence the manufacture in connection with the sinking of wells. One dollar will buy a share of this stock, which is the par value, and all benefits derived from the lands, either by sales of oil, land or products of any kind, are to be divided among the stockholders, and in addition $200,000 worth of valuable, useful and desirable property will be given to the stockholders, as soon as all the shares are disposed of. The Company adopt this course for the purpose of disposing of their stock at the par value, rather than to sell it, as many companies do, at a subscription price, which is usually one-half. Thus, it will be perceived that every stockholder owning ten shares, for example, will be sure to realize a handsome dividend when the property is divided; a plan which is entirely honorable, and in all respects perfectly legal.

The property to be distributed among the stockholders will be equal to any in the market, and will consist of the following described articles:

THE MAGEE
COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber would especially call the attention of the public to the
MAGEE COOK STOVE,
as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shovelling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We invite all those in want of the very best Stove in the market, to examine the
MAGEE COOK.

Also on hand an assortment of the different sizes —of the—
MAGEE PARLOR STOVE
with and without ovens, which are too well KNOWN to need any recommendation.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING
FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

NOTES ONLY FOUR YEARS OLD,—No. 4.—In 1861 the Richmond Whig said:

They are alarmed for Washington, but they have not yet begun to tremble for New York and Boston. As England and France knew that there would be no stable peace with the treacherous, knavish, cowardly and cruel Chinese, short of Pekin, so we know that there can be no lasting peace with Chinese counterparts on this continent until Confederate cannon overawe New York, and Confederate legions bivouac on Boston Common. Boston is the Pekin of the Western China; and "On to Pekin" is the watchword of Southern armies. Washington is a mere circumstance. * * * Our true goal is Pekin—the headquarters of the genuine Tartar horde, with their gongs and stink-guns. The military occupation of the Yankee capital can alone give indemnity for the past and security for the future. Then up with the universal shout "ON TO PEKIN!"

On this no comment is necessary; but it is quite certain that the rebel hordes have not yet bivouaced on Boston Common, which was to be the sine qua non of peace with our masters, the F. F. Vs, and with our Grand Master Jeff. D. But "The best laid schemes of mice and men gang aft agley."

The Richmond Sentinel, in one of its last issues, seems to have foreshadowed the fall of Richmond. It says "the vast interior is unconquerable. We will have to live in shanties, and to labor that we may live. We may be subjected for a time to lead the life that nine-tenths of mankind have ever led, and must ever lead. Such an ordeal will make men and women of many who are now but well-fed animals."

Well, says Uncle Toby, we don't know why you—the F. F. V's, should not labor as well as the other nine-tenths. But everybody may see that this is not the pro-slavery theory on which the Confederate rebellion was based,—but quite the contrary. One class was to rule and revel—the other to labor and obey. They made the war for this purpose, but it has proved a failure.

— The Boston Traveller gives the following on the uncertainties of trade in these times:—A Philadelphia merchant made by fortunate ventures during the last four years $750,000 on a capital of 250,000. He invested his million and borrowed a million and a half more, and on selling his stock a week or two since, his losses swept off his capital and something more; and he, from a millionaire became a broken merchant.

— Verdi has declined once more the Directorship of the Naples Conservatory, now held by the blind old Mercandante.—The composer of "Ernani" was offered a six months' vacation every year if he would accept the position, but even this did not tempt him.

— It is announced that Garibaldi's daughter Toresiti has just given birth at Caprera to a boy, who by his grandfather's desire, has been christened Lincoln, in honor of the "American President who has abolished slavery."

— The London Morning Star on the question of possible repudiation by the United States, asserts that the Washington Government is as incapable of repudiating its obligations as the Government of England.

— A good many of our dealers, if they had cavalry men on their backs, might be ridden into battle as tremendous chargers. —Lou. Jour.

— One of the newspapers calls Gen. Sherman "the hammer of God." There is no trip to that hammer.—Prentice.

— Valentine Perkins, an ossified man who has been ossifying for 41 years, died in Ohio lately.

— Many persons would make gold a god, but gold modestly declined.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
76 State street, opposite Kilby street,
Boston.
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Research made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered on all matters touching the validity or extent of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.
The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.
These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full descriptions of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakeable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.
During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

The properties of this Company consist of 648 acres, principally owned in Fee Simple, of the most developed Oil Lands, situated mostly in Oil Creek, Penn., upon which there are three wells now down, capable of producing from 100 to 1000 barrels per day when completed, as they are located so near the great producing interests of the Empire, Noble, Sherman and Drake wells, on this noted creek. This Company offer inducements seldom met with. The capital stock is very small for the amount of valuable oil lands the Company possesses. Three engines are already at the ground. Our Agent at Titusville writes us that the well on the McElhany farm has commenced flowing, which places this Company beyond a doubt of success. The Officers of this Company, in placing this property before the New England public, have full confidence that no properties yet offered are superior, or any out of which larger and more certain dividends may at once be expected. TUESDAY, APRIL 11, 1865.

SURRENDER OF LEE'S REBEL ARMY

On Friday, April 7, Gen. Grant, without relaxing his pursuit of Lee, sent the following letter:—

General: The result of the last week must convince you of the hopelessness of further resistance on the part of the Army of Northern Virginia in the struggle. I feel that is so, and regard it as my duty to shift from myself the responsibility of any further effusion of blood by asking of you the surrender of that portion of the Confederate States Army known as the Army of Northern Virginia.

Very respectfully, Your ob'dt servant,
U. S. GRANT,
Lieut. Gen. Commanding Armies of the United States.

To this Gen. Lee promptly returned this answer:

General: I have received your note of this date. Though not entirely of the opinion you express of the hopelessness of further resistance on the part of the Army of Northern Virginia, I reciprocate your desire to avoid useless effusion of blood, and therefore before considering your proposition, ask the terms you will offer on condition of its surrender. R. E. LEE, General.

In reply, Gen. Grant says, April 8:

Peace being my first desire, there is but one condition that I insist upon, viz., that the men surrendered shall be disqualified for taking up arms against the Government of the United States until properly exchanged. I will meet you, or designate any officers you may name for the same purpose, at any point agreeable to you.

On the evening of the 8th, Lee says:—

I did not intend to propose the surrender the Army of Northern Virginia, but to ask the terms of your proposition. To be frank, I do not think the emergency has arisen to call for the surrender; but as the restoration of peace should be the sole object of all, I desire to know whether your proposals would tend to that end. I cannot, therefore, meet you with a view to surrender the Army of Northern Virginia.

He then proposed a meeting to treat of peace.—To this, Gen. Grant of course would not consent for no treaty is possible without acknowledging rebel independence He therefore answered on the 9th:—

As I have no authority to treat on the subject of peace the meeting proposed for to-day could lead to no good. I will state however, General, that I am equally anxious for peace with yourself, and the North entertain the same feeling. The terms upon which peace can be had are well understood. By the South laying down their arms, they will hasten that most desirable event, save some thousands of human lives and hundreds of millions of property not yet destroyed. Sincerely hoping that all our difficulties may be settled without the loss of another life, I subscribe myself,
U. S. G.

Gen. Lee answered, immediately:—

I now request an interview in accordance with the offer contained in your letter of yesterday for that purpose.

In the mean time Gen. Grant had moved—and his final proposal to Lee was dated at Appomatox Court House, April 9:

I propose to receive the surrender of the Army of Northern Virginia on the following terms to wit:—

"Rolls of all the officers and men to be made in duplicate, one copy to be given to an officer designated by me, the other to be retained by such officers as you may designate. Officers to give their individual parole not to take up arms against the Government of the United States until properly exchanged, and each company or regimental commander sign a like parole for the men of their commands. The arms, artillery and public property to be paraded and stacked and turned over to officers appointed by me to receive them. This will not embrace the side arms of the officers nor their private horses or baggage. This done, each officer and man will be allowed to return to their homes, not to be disturbed by the United States authority so long as they observe their parole and the laws in in force where they may reside.

Gen. Lee's surrender is also dated April 9, and reads thus:

General: I have received your letter of this date containing the terms of surrender of the Army of Northern Virginia as proposed by you. As they are substantially the same as those expressed in your letter of the 8th inst., they are accepted. I will proceed to designate the proper officers to carry the stipulation into effect.

(Signed) R. E. LEE, General.

Thus has the rebel army in Virginia ceased to exist; and with it, in all sane minds, expires the last hope of the rebellion. There is yet work to be done; and our military and naval forces will pass on to clean out the remaining dens of treason, robbery and murder. This task will probably devolve on Gen. Sherman.

The U. S. War Department on Sunday night issued this order:

That a salute of 200 guns be fired at the headquarters of every army post and arsenal in the United States, and at the Military Academy at West Point, on the day of the receipt of this Order, in commemoration of the surrender of Gen. R. E. Lee and the Army of Northern Virginia to Lt. Gen. Grant and the army under his command.

"THANKS BE TO ALMIGHTY GOD for the great victory with which he has this day crowned you and the gallant armies under your command." This is the message of the Secretary of War to the Lieutenant-General, on receiving the electric tidings of Lee's surrender. Such words, appropriate to the act, and appropriate to the day, must find an echo in every patriotic heart. The intelligence is of such overwhelming importance and significance that it touches springs of solemn joy in the soul deeper and nobler than exultation. The hand of the Lord is seen shaping the destiny of the nation on the "Lord's Day."

The Transcript of Monday evening fitly remarks, "The lurid grandeur of those dreadful Sundays of the war, which have been signalized by terrible victories or terrible defeats, pales in the pure light of this beneficent Sabbath, in which the greatest of our victories was won, without the sacrifice of a human life, and over whose bloodless field rises the Star of Peace."

The whole people thoroughly understand that the rebellion falls, not so much with the fall of Richmond as with the capture of Lee's army.

Our victories near Richmond, Sheridan's victory on the rebels' retreat, and the surrounding by the Federal troops of the enemy on all sides save one—turned Lee's thoughts to peace, and under that cover he surrendered the whole of his army which remained!

Gen. Grant moved to the front of his lines to arrange the terms of surrender with his antagonist. We have no information that the negotiations were conducted under a tree, the same as at Vicksburg, when Pemberton surrendered to Gen. Grant, but the terms are similar to those granted Pemberton! The Lieutenant-General has now destroyed and captured two full rebel armies. The present is the only instance during this war it which an army has been "gobbled" in the field!

☞ Forney's Press has a report that Gen. Stoneman has cut the railroad between Danville and Greensboro', and Sherman has occupied Raleigh. Deserters from Johnston's army report at Goldsboro', that "Johnston expects Sherman will move direct to Weldon, so as to form a junction with Grant. It is thought Johnston will go to relieve Lee, and attempt to form a junction with him." Lee's surrender changes the programme entirely. Only one thing will Johnston probably do, viz: follow the example of his commander and surrender himself and his whole army. This he will be likely to do as soon as the news of the surrender of Lee reaches him. The rebellion as an armed force will then cease to exist—and the day is not far distant when we may welcome to our hearts and homes our brave and noble heroes who under God have won for us this glorious victory.

There is a report that Selma, Ala., was captured and burned a few days ago by Gen. Thomas' cavalry force.

— Seranus Swift, 91 years old, died at Manchester, Vt., last Friday. He graduated at Dartmouth, in 1794, and has for some years been the oldest graduate of that institution. He was Collector for the State of Vermont under Washington.

— Ex-Senator Pugh of Ohio declined to take the oath of allegiance prescribed by Chief-Justice Chase as a qualification for practising in the United States Courts. His grounds for refusal were that the oath was unconstitutional, thus setting up his judgment against that of the court, an action which he had always vehemently condemned in others.

— In the British Parliament, recently, Earl Russell informed the House of Lords, in referring to his course of the Liverpool rams, that he thought it beneath the dignity of England to be dragged into a war, contrary to principle and interest, "for the sake of protecting the profits of Messrs. Laird of Liverpool."

— Rev. William R. Alger, the pastor of the New North Church in Boston, has left for a visit to Europe, with the intention of being absent about six months. In his discourse last Sunday he mentioned one curious fact. He said that since his ordination, eighteen years ago, he had preached every Sunday. The numerous friends of Mr. Alger know that in addition to this scrupulous discharge of his pastoral duties, he has been one of the most industrious scholars of the country, and that his erudite and exhaustive "History of the Doctrine of a Future Life" only represents a portion of his intellectual labor

The late Dr. Risk, of Dalserif, being one of the moderates, did not satisfy, by his preaching, the Calvanistic portion of his flock. "Why, sir," said they, "we think you dinna tell us enough about renouncing our sin righteousness." "Renouncing your sin righteousness!" vociferated the astonished doctor, "I never saw any ye had to renounce."

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— We learn from the Religious News Letter, that Rev. L. Whiting of Dubuque, Iowa, well known in this State as former pastor at Portsmouth, was seriously injured in the head by a railroad accident at Cherry Valley, a few weeks since. He was confined to his house about four weeks, but has so far improved as to resume his pulpit labors.

—— Rev. J. L. Arms, who has been the stated supply of the Congregational church in Canterbury the past two years, closed his labors there on the 1st sabbath of March. Rev. Howard Moody, their former pastor, residing in the place, has been invited to resume his ministerial labors among them.

—— Rev. Lewis Goodrich of Pembroke, has removed to Stratham, to take the pastoral charge of the Congregational church in that place.

—— Rev. Geo. W. Tewksbury, stated supply of the feeble church in Gorham, is now soliciting aid in paying a debt upon their house of worship, erected about three years ago.

—— Rev. E. J. Hart has been dismissed, at his own request, from his pastoral charge of the Congregational church in Merrimack.

—— Brooks Shattuck, Esq., acknowledges the receipt of a donation for the Library of the State Reform School from the friends in attendance at the examination, amounting to $128.95.

SOME SHAKING.—Not the rebels, we don't mean them, for they have mostly got done shaking in their shoes, being about all shook out. But a blast of stone made by workmen at the New York Central Park, which was so loud, according to the facetious "Sulky" of the Spirit of the Times, as to "throw half a cart-load of stone through the roof of a sporting hotel near by, knocking one gent off his pins, another off his chair, destroying a demijohn of juniper-juice, and shaking the teeth loose from the landlord's upper jaw; and it is said shook the comb and gills off a fighting-rooster in the yard, and broke thirteen eggs a she-goose was sitting on." Also "in addition thereto, the Deacon passing near at the time, it shook him so that he lost the tune of Old Hundred, which he happened to have with him."—However, the tune must have been found again, for it is to be sung here at the Fast Night Concert, in a novel and grand style, for which see programme.

REBEL AFFAIRS seem to be in a General Lee-ky condition, and fast going to "Davi-es' locker."

Jeff's "last ditch" smells of sulpher.

Richmond and Petersburg have been Grant-ed to the Federal Government.

Nautical men see nothing discouraging in the Lee-way that our army is making.

"I'm a peace man" declared an excited orator.—Yes! a piece of a man indeed, and an exceedingly vulgar fraction at that," retorted the shrill voice of a woman from the crowd.

Our exchanged prisoners say that it has been demon-strated to them that "The pen is mightier than the sword."
YARD STICK.

☞ In these musical days, a brief extract from Mr. Winthrop's speech in Faneuil Hall the other night, at the mass meeting for rejoicing over the Union victories, will not be out of order perhaps, in reference to the splendid harmony of the full orchestra at the Fast Night Concert:

"Let the kettle to the trumpet speak, the trumpet to the cannoneer without,
The cannons to the heavens, the heavens to earth."

Faneuil Hall rejoices over the rescue of that Union and Liberty, of which it was the cradle. It is a moment for music, for singing Hail Columbia and the Star Spangled Banner—yes, and Old Hundred: for, oh, my friends, let us not forget, that it is a moment, above all other moments, for deep, devout, reverent thanksgivings to God, who hath at last given us this crowning victory.

RICHMOND ITEMS.—Four of the detective officers of the Confederate Government, who resigned and remained behind when the Government changed its base, have been arrested and committed to the Libby Prison. Their names are Charles, Jones, Siedd and Williams. Wiley, the turnkey of Castse Thunder under the Confederate regime, and Ezederick Schaefer, the Confederate bread commissary of Union prisoners, were also arrested and committed to the Libby. Many returned Union prisoners will remember these men.

Major Stevens, of 4th Mass. Cavalry, promptly emancipated over fifty colored men, women and children, whom he found starving in the county jail. One little girl only eight years old, when asked what she had been locked up for, said that she stole some bread to take to her mother, which was the charge on the jail records. Mayor Mayo sentenced these unfortunate negroes, and several of them have been whipped by his order.

The colored people have had a grand religious jubilee in the African church, to celebrate their emancipation. Rev. Prof. Barrows of Andover preached an eloquent sermon, and the singing was magnificently grand.

Local.

☞ A party of about half a dozen men, waited upon Mr. J. L. Foster, editor of the "States & Union" newspaper in this city, on Monday afternoon, and invited him to fling to the breeze the "Old Flag," which was understood to be stowed away in his office. He refused to perform this act of loyalty; and a large and excited crowd soon gathered about the establishment, some clamoring for the proprietor, others crying "clean out the office," and yet others to "hang him," "string him up," and other like threatening language.

In vain did Capt. Hall, the Provost Marshal, whose office is near, with his force—together with our City Police, endeavor to preserve order. The crowd, frenzied with the glorious Union news and the excitement of the day, would listen to nothing but the promise of the appearance of Foster, the editor, to throw out with his own hands the ensign of Freedom.

At last, this individual, pale with fear or rage, and well nigh overcome by the sight of about two thousand determined men, appeared at the window of his counting-room, and with apparent reluctance put out his flag, giving it a slight toss with his hand; which not satisfying the majority of the crowd, they instantly demanded from him a speech.

At this juncture, Capt. Hall appeared at the window, and stated that Mr. Foster was willing to comply with the demands of the "audience," if they would not molest him. But from some cause he (Foster) immediately disappeared, (it is said through a back door, taking his books,) which was the signal for a change of programme with the excited multitude.

In less time than we are occupied in writing this, the office was completely riddled of type, presses, press-boards, ink, paper, and everything connected with a printing establishment,—all thrown out of the windows into the street below. The mayor appearing shortly after, and reading the riot act, the crowd dispersed.

Thus occurred a disgraceful disturbance in our city, which even surpassed the draft riot some two years ago, and which might easily have been prevented, had the proprietor of the concern possessed as much shrewdness as traitorism. We will add that the ringleaders in the act, and in fact the few men who really took any active part at all, were all under the excitement of liquor. No prominent man took any part in it whatever. REP.

☞ No one regrets more than we, the riot in our city on Monday, and the tearing down of a newspaper press. In fact we hardly know which to regard as the deeper disgrace—the publication of such a sheet as the States & Union here, or its destruction. We give a statement of the facts of the case, as near as our reporter could gather them.

The office was worth $1500 or so probably, and we presume was owned by prominent "democrats" in this city,—who must of course pocket the loss, as it is always difficult or impossible to convict in such cases, even when cities or parties are legally liable. We have long feared some such catastrophe as this, in some time of excitement; but we have the satisfaction of knowing that never by any word written or spoken, have we encouraged, defended or excused any riotous act whatever.

The destruction of the office is no doubt the death of the paper—which is no loss to anybody that we can see, but the paid editor; it certainly is none to the community, nor even to any "party;" and it must always have been quite a bill of costs to the owners, whoever they were—and we should judge that they must be rather glad to be rid of it in just this way, considering all the circumstances of the times. Peace to its ashes!

Of course it was not the Provost Marshal's duty to keep the peace for the city; still we cannot but regret that he had not called a squad of armed men and done so. For, as we said in the case of the Greenland ballot-box smashers—when men begin to break up printing-offices, it is time to break their heads. But as our reporter states, (for we were busily engaged in our office all the while,) these rioters were half drunk, at least most of them; and in this view, the order of the Mayor, closing all the bars of the city, was a wise precaution against further possible disturbance.

☞ In the riot on Monday afternoon, a man named Charles Whitehouse of Dover, an iron-plater, employed on the Navy Yard, was struck on the head by a scuttle from the roof of the office of the States & Union, falling him to the ground, fracturing his skull, breaking his arm, and otherwise injuring him. It is said that the affair was purely accidental, having been occasioned by the hurry of a sailor to get the scuttle open, and not knowing but that it was hinged, throw it up with such force as to cause it to fall from the roof.

P. S.—Since writing the above, we learn that no bones were broken, and that the man is likely to recover. REP.

☞ Edward N. Anderson, Esq., of the Navy Yard, has been appointed Justice of the Peace in the County of York, Me.

☞ The glorious news of Monday, which proves that the Rebellion is about over—was received here, as everywhere, with the liveliest manifestations of joy. Vociferous cheers, the closing of the stores, clanging of bells, booming of guns, and running hither and thither of everybody, shew how deep was the gratitude, and how strong the hope and belief of Peace.

One of the most gratifying features was "that almost all men, of all parties, joined in the jubilee. Among others, we were glad to see that our old neighbor S. W. Moses, Esq., "former publisher of Gazette, hung out the stars and stripes, and closed his store.

A Union prayer meeting was called at the Stone Church, in the afternoon, in which nearly all the clergymen of the city took part.

The bells were rung again in the evening; the Band was out—at the head of a procession of citizens, and big guns again thundered forth their rejoicings, amid the lurid glare of bonfires and other fireworks, and quite a general illumination of houses.

The only drawback was the riot—for not even the satisfaction of knowing that the Stars and Bars is dead, can reconcile any law and order loving citizen to the manner of its death.

☞ After the reception of the news at the Navy Yard on Monday, the workmen were called together beneath the flag staff and gave three times three hearty cheers for the flag, besides promiscuous cheering for the heroes of the day, including Admiral Bailey, Capt. Murray, &c. The Admiral then informed them that in consequence of the welcome intelligence from Gen. Grant, work on the yard would be suspended for the remainder of the day.

☞ A sad accident occurred on Monday evening while the salute was being fired, by which one of the gunners, named John McGrath, was so badly injured in the hands that it is thought amputation will be necessary. It must have been the result of carelessness on the part of some one.

☞ Last Saturday noon a fine grey mare belonging to Mr. Wm. Rollins of Newington, while standing in front of Mr. Bailey's store, was taken by a precocious young scamp, who was caught some three hours afterwards, driving her at a furious rate. The horse was well nigh spoiled.—The boy is said to be unmanageable by his parents and teachers. If so, he and all others like him ought to be sent where they can be restrained.

☞ A new and nice place to buy Fish, is the store of Messrs. John Caswell & Co., near The Spring, as advertised elsewhere. Mr. Caswell is from Smith's Isles, absurdly called The Shoals; and all the inhabitants of that locality are au fait in fish matters, you know.

☞ Bidwell & Pike's Dramatic Company gave a fine theatrical entertainment last night — and announce for their last, to-night, a fine bill. They have a strong troupe, and make lots of fun. Go and see them.

☞ Dr. Urann, of whose practice in this city we hear of several remarkable, almost "miraculous" cures, will remain here—at the Franklin House—but a few days longer. See his advertisement.

☞ The Duet for Cornets, by the leaders of the Portsmouth and Epping Bands, at the East Night Concert, will be a rare treat. It occurs in the symphony of a grand anthem.

☞ We understand that Gen. Josiah G. Hadley, so long landlord of the Old Piscataqua House in this city, has leased the Franklin House here.

A household without the J. Monroe Taylor Gold Medal Soap always on hand, is like a garden without flowers or a family without children. We pity each and all alike, but have no sympathy with the family which does not enjoy the luxury of nice, clean, white clothes—provided this celebrated and more than excellent Soap can be obtained; for these luxuries can only be enjoyed by its use. So do not cease trying till you obtain it. 125

THE VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.—Liberty is one of the dearest blessings which our forefathers handed down to us. It was purchased by the blood of many a valiant revolutionary hero; has been gladdened by a Washington, a Jefferson, a Clay, and a Webster. But never still to the hearts of the people is that world-renowned remedy, known as Cops Cough Balsam. It cures like magic the most violent attacks of croup, and is indispensable in every family of children. Colds, sudden coughs, sore throat, hoarseness, and inflamed lungs, are instantly and surely cured by its timely use. No cough mixture has ever been known that equals it, which accounts for its great popularity with all classes. The young and the old—the rich and poor—physicians, druggists—and all who have ever tested it speak in the highest terms of its merits. We say to our readers—buy it and try it. It costs but 40 cents the bottle, contains twice as much medicine as you can obtain in any other way at the same cost, and all our drug stores keep it. apl1dawlm

$1 " " " " " $5000 "

Notes of all the denominations named will be promptly furnished upon receipt of subscriptions, and the Notes will be forwarded at once. This is now offered by the Government, and it is confidently expected that its superior advantages will make it the Great Popular Loan of the People.

Less than $300,000,000 of the Loan authorized by the last Congress are now on the market.—This amount at the rate at which it is being absorbed, will all be subscribed for within four months, when the notes will undoubtedly command a premium, as has uniformly been the case on closing the subscriptions to other Loans.

In order that citizens of every town and section of the country may be afforded facilities for taking the loan, the National Banks, State Banks, and Private Bankers throughout the country have generally agreed to receive subscriptions at par. Subscribers will select their own agents, in whom they have confidence, and who only are to be responsible for the delivery of the notes for which they receive orders.

DR. URANN,

PRACTICAL PHYSICIAN,

Who has made so many wonderful and instantaneous cures in Boston, New York Hartford, Springfield, and more recently in New Hampshire and Vermont, has taken

ROOMS FOR THE PRESENT AT THE FRANKLIN HOUSE,
PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

DR. URANN'S treatment is such that by it

are affected in one or two treatments, and many are entirely cured by one, as the following will testify:—

W. F. HOMES, 50 and 52 Federal Street, Bostod, for many years was troubled with Heart complaint so bad that at times he was unable to attend to his business; after one treatment he was able to run up stairs, work in his garden and attend to his business; has since gained 12 pounds.

Mrs. ELLEN COREY, of Cambridgeport, Mass.—Sciatica; so lame that she could not walk without assistance; after one treatment of fifteen minutes was well as ever, and could walk a mile free from pain.

Mrs. SARAH P. STILES, Lowell, Mass., had Fever Sores on both legs of twelve years standing; her right ankle measured eighteen inches, and was as blue as indigo; she could not move her foot; after one treatment it was reduced one-half, she could move her foot freely and is getting well rapidly, her left ankle all healed.

Prof. G. M. LARRON, 1 Dix Place, Boston, troubled with Spinal difficulty, was in much pain; relieved by one treatment.

Miss HANNAH COOT, Campton, N. H.—Spinal difficulties; was unable to walk but a short distance or do any kind of work; perfectly cured, and is now the picture of health.

Miss C. FROTHINGHAM, Boston, Portrait Painter, was troubled with great depression of spirits, at times was unable to attend to her favorite employment; was entirely cured, and she expresses herself, is "made over anew."

Mrs. J. BROWN, Boston, a severe cough and pains through her lungs, cured.

Capt. W. H. LAMPSON'S CHILD, Lowell, Mass. The child was pronounced by physicians as hopelessly idiotic. The child could neither walk or sit alone, and took no notice of anything. After one treatment he began to improve, and has so far gained as to be able to walk alone, can talk, takes notice of everything, laughs and sings, and appears perfectly well.

Mrs. HINCKLEY, wife of A. T. Hinckley, of State Arsenal, Hartford, Ct., troubled with hip complaint and contraction of the cords of the legs; could not get her heel to the floor within four inches; had to be brought down stairs in arms; after one treatment of twenty minutes was able to run up and down stairs with ease, and is now able to walk the streets.

Mr. J. TURNER, Hartford, Ct., troubled for many years with loss of memory; could not attend to business; had been under the best medical treatment in England with no beneficial effect; after one treatment was perfectly restored.

Miss MARTHA ST. JOHN, Simsbury, Ct., was confined to her bed from spinal difficulty and prolapsus uteri; had not been dressed for more than a year; in twenty minutes she was enabled to dress and walk out to one of the neighbors, a distance of about a half mile; she has since been to Hartford and to church, and is improving daily.

Mrs. HENRY LOOMIS, Southwick, Mass., troubled with fits and spinal difficulties, could not walk without much difficulty, perfectly cured by one treatment.

Mrs. WM. JENKINS, Unionville, Conn., troubled for over two years with chronic liver complaint and rheumatism, had a large lump on her side which was very painful; was unable to lie down. Cured by one treatment, and is as well as ever.

JOSEPH H. ELDRIDGE, formerly of the Hartford Police, more recently on Hartford and New Haven Railroad, was obliged to give up his business on account of a severe cough and bleeding, perfectly cured and can now do a good day's work.

LYDIA L. FULLER, of East Wallingford, Vt., had entirely lost the use of her limbs after a severe attack of diptheria, was restored by one treatment, and is as well as ever.

FANNY DAVIS, of Moretown, Vt., had been confined to her bed for more than five years—was not able to stand—after one treatment of less than an hour, was enabled to walk around the room, and is now quite well.

Miss HUTCHINSON, daughter of Judge Hutchinson of West Randolph, Vt., was troubled with fits, having some days from fifty to one hundred. She was unable to eat anything but liquids—was not able to stand. After one treatment she began to improve, until now, she is the picture of health, able to walk as well as any one, eats hearty and has no fits.

SOUTHWICK, Mass., July 21, 1862.

DR URANN,—Dear Sir:—I suppose it is ever a pleasure to you to learn the convalescent state of your patients; notwithstanding my long three years of almost absolute confinement to my bed, unable most of the time to converse with or see any company, and for over two years unable to feed myself—yet with this painful picture of human wretchedness which made life almost a burden, since your treatment of my spine, on the 7th day of June, I have been able to take my meals at the table, with my family, ride out daily, and converse freely with all; and without some new misfortune befalls me, I shall soon be able to interest myself in the labors of my profession, at least to preach one sermon a Sabbath. Without flattery, in my honest judgment, there is no better treatment in the hands of men for the Spinal Disease than the one which you honor, and as my heart beats with sympathy with all Spinal sufferers, I only wish they knew the wonderful utility of your treatment, and avail themselves of the same. Yours with respect and gratitude,

M. H. RISING.

DR. URANN'S TERMS

Are such that all can avail themselves of his treatment.

☞ Persons at a distance who are unable to visit the Doctor, by sending particulars of their cases, with one dollar enclosed, will receive advice and learn whether their cases can be treated at a distance. In all cases, state age and sex.

Morning Chronicle.

AN OLD EVENT IN MASSACHUSETTS.—In the winter of 1630-31 the Puritans were much distressed by famine. At this time of our great need the 22d of February was set apart, that they might, by fasting, humiliation and prayer, implore God's mercy toward his suffering people. But God's ear was not turned away from them, for before the day appointed arrived, the good ship Lyon, William Pearce master, which had been previously despatched to Ireland for provisions, and of whose safety doubts had been long entertained, rode into the harbor laden with provisions. The occasion being one of great rejoicing, the day of fasting was changed, by order of the Governor and Council, to one of thanksgiving.—Boston Trans.

We have noticed in our Gov. Gilmore's proclamation for Fast, that he begins by a reference of Thanksgiving,—very natural and proper when he wrote it, but much better now, as matters stand. We can give thanks for the past and present, and pray for more favors of the same kind, and for all others that we need.

☞ A copperhead organ thinks disbanding the armies on either side would "render coercion impossible," and secure a fair election in the South on the question of Union or Disunion. But we oppose to this assumption the most notorious facts: The "Border Ruffian" raids from Missouri into Kansas, whereby repeated elections in the then Territory were corrupted, and a most intolerable usurpation established, were the work of the class to which the copperhead would submit unqualifiedly our National existence. The lynchings, shootings, hangings, whereby the South was—during the winter of 1860-1—terrorized into acquiescence in secession, were not the work of armies, for none then existed throughout the South. Frederick Sumner—a New York mechanic—then settled in Northern Texas, testifies that the secessionists commenced killing Union men in his region before Lincoln's first election. Senator Clingman of North Carolina proclaimed in debate, (Dec. 1860) while responding to a suggestion of Gov. Seward that the difficulties between the Free and Slave States might yet be settled by amicable discussion, that

"A Senator from Texas told me the other day that a great many of these 'free debaters' were hanging from the trees of his country."

"But why not now have a fair vote and agree to abide the issue?"

We answer (says a loyal paper):

1. Because a fair vote cannot now be had—the Blacks, a party in interest, being allowed no voice in the matter. 2. Because the means of imbuing the South with true conceptions of our great struggle are not now available. 3. Because the losses, bereavements, rancors, of a terrible civil war are yet too fresh and potent. 4. Because the Rebel soldiers, though temporarily disarmed, would control the voting and the result. 5. Because we cannot in common decency admit the right of the White traitors to decide by their votes whether the Black Unionists shall henceforth be chattels or freemen. 6. Because the Rebels, having chosen their own ordeal and been beaten by it, it is not for their attorney to move for a new trial.

LOUISIANA.—The resignation of Governor Hahn of Louisiana, leaves Lieut. Gov. J. Madison Wells chief magistrate of that State—and it is a State—and it appears that the new King who has taken his place in the land knoweth not Joseph, or any other man of the abolitionist persuasion. Private advices represent that copperheads and secessionists are going into all the good places. Hugh Kennedy, formerly editor of the True Delta, who was once a Union man after his own desultory and uncertain fashion, but who since April 1861 has been one of the most bitter malignants, has become mayor of New Orleans, a position which will enable him to dictate the result of every election. Thomas Cottman of Ascension Parish is announced as about to succeed Alfred Shaw in the office of sheriff of the Parish of Orleans, Cottman was one of the signers of the secession ordinance. Cottman, Kennedy and Riddell (lately confederate Postmaster of New Orleans) are represented to continue the board of curators, to whose care the infant State government is to be entrusted for the present.—Newburyport Herald.

The above is a seasonable discovery,—and will doubtless put our President and Congress on their guard against hasty or crude restorations of rebel States. They need to be kept in order for some time to come.

Had the Savannah cotton been placed at once upon the market when the first heavy instalment arrived, it would have been worth 90 cents per pound, and to-day it is 45 cents, or equal to a loss of 100 per cent. On the round lot of cotton such a loss is equal to $9,000,000.—Daily Copperhead.

Well: so be it. Our Union Victories have knocked down prices as well as the rebellion. And if this is called loss is to fall on any body, why not on the U. S. government, as well as on the Manufacturing Companies?—The Government can stand it;—but stockholder of mills might suffer.

This stock is bona fide, full paid, with no possibility of future assessments and no personal liability. The absolute value and actual cash cost of this property is great as to preclude its being offered with the allurement of a reduction from a nominal par value.

It has been selected, at different times during the past year, by several old and experienced oil-workers and residents of Oil Creek, who are familiar with the history, progress and value of every well and piece of property in that region.—Several of the producing interests were originally acquired for the purpose of holding as private investments and sources of regular income.

These gentleman have, however, been induced to combine their various interests, with additional property, into one strong, sound, and reliable company. Each of them will retain an interest as stockholders, and hold their stock as a permanent investment. Residing in the oil region, and directly concerned in the success of the company, they are pledged to look closely after its operations; thus affording a guaranty of watchful supervision, and faithful and energetic management powerful (probably by no other) oil company ever formed. Two of these gentlemen are on the board of Direction, and one Superintendent of the Company.

The stock is sold to pay for the property, and to furnish a working capital to open up the large and promising tracts yet waiting to be developed.

The managers start with the intention of paying dividends quarterly and from actual earnings only. Paying quarterly affords time to sell the oil produced to the best advantage, and is believed to be in all respects the soundest policy.

The dividends will beyond question, be not only immediate, but regular, permanent and remunerative. We wish to avoid holding out any inducements not warranted by the same moderate and reasonable calculations that would be made in embarking in any legitimate business enterprise. It is safe, however, to assure subscribers of handsome quarterly dividends from the present wells of the company; which will moreover, we confidently believe, be, very largely increased by new developments to be rapidly made upon our extensive and valuable properties.

We invite attention to, and the most careful examination of, the following list of properties, lands, and leases, the locations of which are all shown upon the map; believing that none more valuable and promising have ever been offered upon so small a capital, and note that have given greater assurance of permanent value and large returns. We invite subscriptions as an investment, and guarantee the most energetic and skilful efforts to develop the property thoroughly, as well as careful and faithful management.

Summary of Properties.

Two tracts of good boring land, one hundred and one hundred and four acres respectively, in fee, situated south of Oil City, in Venango county, in the immediate neighborhood of the Adamantine, Lee, and other large wells just struck on the East Sandy and Allegheny rivers.

Important interests and Leases on the best and most carefully selected properties on Oil Creek,—on the Hassan Flats,—Cornplanter Run,—Rynd Flats,—Cherry Tree Run,—Clapp & Hasnan, Widow McClintock, Foster, and two lots on the celebrated Hyde & Egbert Farm.

In all, fifteen wells, five of them producing seven down from two to five hundred feet and still boring, and three just commencing, with room on the leases for several more wells.

Also a good Refinery, in complete working order, capable of refining 120 barrels per day, at a profit of one to five hundred dollars.

Also engines, tools, tubing, tanks, and improvements, the actual cash cost of which was $56,500, and worth to-day $75,000.—the whole comprising a property unsurpassed for present value and prospective increase.

The New Hampshire Petroleum Co. is organized with great care, under the management of some of the ablest financiers and most successful business men in the State, whose integrity is above reproach, and who cannot be led by excitement into speculations that have not to their minds a golden foundation. Their lands have been selected with great caution. Mr. N. R. Bates, the agent of the company, has been engaged the past year in selecting Oil Lands and boring wells, was known to some of the gentlemen prominent in stockdom, this company to be a man strictly honest, sagacious, and experienced in the Petroleum regions, and was solicited to aid in selecting the proper farms. He did so. Col. B. F. Martin, Wm. P. Newell, Esq., and John B. Clarke, Editor of the Mirror, of Manchester, J. S. Fogg, Esq., of the firm of Houghton & Coolidge, 64 Pearl St., Boston, and Daniel E. Lancaster, 419 Broadway, New York, were appointed a committee to visit the farms spoken of. Early in February they looked over the lands selected by Mr. Bates, and became convinced that they were just what they represented, and could be had. The great Oil Basin seems to be situated between Oil Creek, East Oil Creek, and Allegheny river, and the twenty miles in this region lies the richest, and the Four Farms of the Company are within the Basin and on the same Oil Belt of the great flowing and pumping wells that have yielded the past year to the State of Pennsylvania, as Gov. Curtin says in his Message, fifty six million of dollars. The last of March, Mr. W. Harris, Esq., well known lawyer of Boston and late District Attorney, P. H. Burns, Esq., a shrewd business man of Dover, N. H., and F. A. Wilcox, Esq., a lawyer of Wall Street, New York, were sent out to see to the titles of lands, and make further examinations. They came to the same conclusions others had, and the Four Farms were bought, which are thus described:

THE MATTISON FARM.

This Farm contains 84 acres and is near the confluence of Cherry Creek and East Oil Creek.—The lay of the land is beautiful for Oil; high bluffs on each side, Cherry Creek running directly through, and a rich undeveloped Coal vein on one side. Every inch of the land is valuable for coal or boring wells, and there is no waste. The oil belts run from east to west, or from north east to south west, and are from one to three miles wide. The Mattison Farm is two and a half miles in a direct east of the well known flats south of Titusville, from which innumerable fortunes have flowed. Here the Steele & Mead well flowed 400 barrels per day—the Fountain 200—the Parker 200—and scores of wells are now being worked that yield from 10 to 50 barrels a well. Not one out of twenty wells bored on this flat are a success. A ten barrel well will sell for forty thousand dollars, and a sixty barrel will sell for half a million.

It is believed by good judge that every rod of the seventy-five acres of the Mattison Farm, all that is not good for coal, is equal to the Flat below Titusville. Coal is selling in Boston at $13 per ton, and if the vein of coal should work well it would be a fortune in itself. It is splendid, coal, burning freely and clean.

The average price of oil per barrel the last year was $10 at the works, the buyers furnishing the barrels. It costs little less than $2 to make a barrel of the depth of 700 feet, and few go lower than that. It costs $20 per day to work it after it yields oil. G. Rathbone of the Hydes Farm Petroleum Company, says of this Farm Section:

"I consider all the lands located there, as being richer of Oil, possessing geological features of a more full and perfect character than any other that I am acquainted with; and I have spent much time during the last few months in examining and selecting Oil Territory in Venango, Crawford and Warren Counties, in all of which I have made considerable investments."—Professors MAYNARD and SHEPARD, Geologists of eminence, are of the same opinion regarding the lands generally throughout the valleys of East Oil Creek. If this farm comes up to the expectations of Prof. Shepherd of Yale College, of Mr. Bates, it will be a fortune, for it will yield the minimum average of the wells on that Oil Belt, and your income from this Farm alone is over one million of dollars. This of course, we not expect any such results, but merely state facts, and let each person make his own figuring and reach his own conclusions.

THE PARKER FARM

Contains 100 acres, is heavily timbered, situated near the road to the Junction, not far from East Oil Creek, and between Cherry Creek and where the Caldwell Creek empties into Oil Creek. They have lately sunk a well at the opposite side of the farm and struck oil. A single good well on this large farm would enable the Company to sell or lease the lands for great sums. The remainder of the location of the Mattison Farm, apply equally well to this.

THE BYLES FARM,

On Pit Hole Creek, contains 105 acres. It is about three miles east of Oil Creek, directly east of the Conquest Well that flows 500 barrels daily; the Jer sey that flows 300, the Maple Shade and other noted flowing wells, and pumping wells without limit. This Farm is on the same Oil Belt and on the right range. There is great excitement on Pit Hole. The Frazer well is on it. It began to flow about the middle of February, and with the rocker rod in, and its pipe seven-eighths full of machinery, it has flowed 120 barrels per day ever since.—Many have not dared to pump it out the rocker rod yet, fearing they had not sufficient tanks to hold the oil. The tanks they now have will hold 1200 barrels. The Byles Farm is well, on the same Creek, another fine well has been struck, and above it is a spouting well, which, when bored low enough, will yield abundantly. A little farther north the same company, the United States, is putting down a well that looks already better than the Frazer well, and great expectations rest upon it. In sight of the spouting wells, and between the Frazer and the one which has raised to high hopes, is the Byles Farm, all low land, and every rod fit for a well. It is splendidly located. It abounds in sand rocks and oil indications. We have thinks very highly of it, and has no doubt but we shall find on it flowing wells superior to any yet struck in that section. A single flowing well struck would enable us to sell the farm in small lots for ten millions of dollars. Land on high bluffs some miles removed from Mr. Coquet well, leases for fifty years at the rate of $50,000 for stripe twelve rods by sixteen, cash down.

THE DAWSON FARM,

On West Pit Hole, contains 23 acres, and is in the same wonderful oil region. It has oil springs on it, and many wells are now being bored near it with good prospects of success. Mr. Bates is now making overtures to it. In a letter dated March 25, 1865, he says: "My well is showing as finely as it progresses, both in gas and oil, as any well has ever shown at the same depth on Oil Creek; gas at 90 feet; a good show of oil at 113 feet; at 140 feet gas is rising and roaring loudly.

Within rifle shot of this farm, sixteen years ago a well was sunk twenty-seven feet deep for water, and oil came in and spoiled it. We have no doubt that which oil will be sunk on this Farm, and there is land enough, if they are rich, to make the Farm a fortune.

The property of this Company is located on "Coal Run Creek," Meigs County, State of Ohio, about 10 miles from Athens, containing one hundred and five acres of land. A large number of wells are successfully worked in the vicinity, some of which are paying handsome dividends.—This Company propose to commence operations at once and entertain no doubt that at an early day they will be able to pay a handsome percentage on the investment. The known ability and commercial standing of the officers of this Company afford a sufficient guaranty that the affairs will be conducted in a manner to secure the confidence of those who are disposed to invest in it.

The tract of land adjoining the property of this Company has passed into the hands of capitalists, who have sent out an experienced superintendent to commence operations at once, and their first order for machinery was $15,000. Our property has been examined under instructions from Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, who pronounces the coal, which is in abundance, to be of the best quality, yielding 30 gallons of oil to the ton, and has no doubt, from the location and position of the property, that it will be found valuable in the production of oil.

Most companies have to pay very high prices for their coal, all of which we save; oil can be manufactured from the coal upon the property, at a cost not exceeding ten cents per gallon, and it is proposed to commence the manufacture in connection with the sinking of wells. One dollar will buy a share of this stock, which is the par value, and all benefits derived from the lands, either by sale of oil, land or products of any kind, are to be divided among the stockholders, and in addition $200,000 worth of valuable, useful and desirable property will be given to the stockholders, as soon as all the shares are disposed of. The Company adopt this course for the purpose of disposing of their stock at the par value, rather than to sell it, as many companies do, at a subscription price, which is, usually one-half. Thus, it will be perceived that every stockholder owning ten shares, for example, will be sure to realize a handsome dividend when the property is divided; a plan which is entirely honorable, and in all respects perfectly legal.

The property to be distributed among the stockholders will be equal to any in the market, and will consist of the following described articles:

$5000 to purchase a HOUSE in Boston or vicinity.
$5000 in U. S. 5-20 BONDS, CERTIFICATES of $500 each.

The Chronicle.

THE CONFEDERACY AS IT APPEARS TO ITS FRIENDS.—"Druid's" last letter to the New York World seems to have been written in the gloomiest depths of the sacred secession woods. He gives up the contest, declares that the Confederate government no longer exists, that if Jeff. Davis calls his Congress together at any new point, it cannot or will not come, that the rebel leaders are perplexed and despondent, that the Confederate armies are demoralized, and that the South is practically subjugated. As Druid is a thorough secessionist, and has closed a career of falsehood by a reluctant confession of truth, we give the concluding portion of his dismal epistle:

In the meantime, no spectacle can be imagined more pitiable than the position occupied by the Southern people to-day. Without a capitol, without a government, with the majority of their able-bodied men killed or maimed for life, they are, to all intents and purposes, a conquered people. Yes, the South is conquered. Strange as it may seem, the South is virtually subjugated, and must accept from their conquerors whatever terms the latter see fit to impose. Thus, then, ends the war—or rather, perhaps, opens a new chapter in it, although the last. Certain it is, that from the moment of the capture of Richmond, the war assumed an entirely new character. Old things have passed away. We have no longer to fight a powerful and compact Confederacy of thirteen populous States, teeming with a population unanimous in their hatred to the North, and boasting large armies, intrenched behind extensive works.

All that we have to do now, is to fight the last army of the Confederacy, driven from their stronghold, and retreating dispirited they know not whither. It is in the power of the government now, to impose any terms they please upon the Southern people, to receive them back into the Union, or to break up their State organizations, and treat them as conquered vassals. This is so, because there is no longer any power in the South that can resist the government, in any measure which the latter may adopt.

☞ Many people condemn the bitterness with which the copperhead press has assailed our government, sided with the rebels, and blamed freemen and free principle as the disturbers of peace and destroyers of property. We join with the loyal in condemning the written treason: and we despise the meanness of those craven souls whose worship of the slave power outlives the power itself, and which has been vainly trying ever since last fall election, to set their idol in his place again, at Washington. They rechind us, (says Uncle Toby) of an old story. The Philistines had warred with Israel, and carried off the sacred Ark: to make the most of this trophy, they put it in their idol temple, near Dagon their god. Going in the next morning, the priests found poor Dagon lying flat on his face before the Ark. Then they took Dagon and set him in his place again: but when they arose the next morning, behold Dagon was fallen again on his face, and his head and be palms of his hands were out off on thet threshold; only the stump of Dagon was left to him. The poor creatures sent the Ark home again, and went on worshipping Dagon's stump. We pity their stupidity, as we do the like stupidity of the copperhead press and its supporters and managers today. An item which we cut from the Daily Copperhead, will illustrate these remarks:

It is proposed to make Richmond a depot of construction for the railroads of Virginia, which will be run under military rule, and which may soon extend their old connections to Weldon. It was foreseen by all except the stupid dolts at Washington, that Sheridan's late raids were really upon the Federal treasury. Lee saw it and quietly permitted the net-work of railroad leading north from Richmond to be destroyed well knowing that Grant would have to repair them.

Poor Lee! He very quietly permitted Sheridan to do what he could not prevent! —and the "stupid dolt" who wrote the item, tried in vain to exalt Lee, and to depress and undervalue Sheridan, Grant and our government. He worships the Stump of the Rebellion,—the rump of the slave power, with head and hands cut off! Could meanness and stupidity decend lower?

What is the longest, and yet the shortest thing in the world; the swiftest and the most slow; the most divisible and the most extended; the least valued and the most regretted; without which nothing can be done; which devours everything, however small, and yet gives life and spirit to all things, however great! Answer.—Time.

Two gentlemen having a difference, one went to the other's door and wrote "Scoundrel!" upon it. The other called upon his neighbor, and was answered by a servant that his master was not at home. "No matter," was the reply, "I only wished to return his visit, as he left his name at my door this morning."

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837,) 76 State street, opposite Kilby street,
Boston.
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.
The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.
These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakeable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.
During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twelve rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

The properties of this Company consist of 643 acres, principally owned in Fee Simple, of the most desirable Oil Lands, situated mostly in Oil Creek, Penn., upon which there are three wells now down, capable of producing from 100 to 1000 barrels per day when completed, as they are located so near the great producing interests of the Empire, Noble, Sherman and Drake wells, as this noted creek. This Company offer inducements seldom met with. The capital stock is very small for the amount of valuable oil lands the Company possesses. Three engines are already at the wells. Our Agent at Titusville writes us that the well on the McElhany farm has commenced flowing, which places this Company beyond a doubt of success. The Officers of this Company, in presenting property before the New England public, have full confidence that the property yet offered are superior, or any out of which larger and more certain dividends may at once be expected. ARCANA WATCH.
An Elegant Novelty in Watches.
The cases of this watch are an entirely new invention, composed of six different metals combined, rolled together and polished, producing an exact imitation of 18 carat gold, called Arcana, which will always keep its color. They are as beautiful as solid gold, and are afforded at one eighth the cost. The case is beautifully designed with Panel and shield for name, with Patent Push Pin, and engraved in the exact style of the celebrated Gold Hunting Lever, and are really handsome and desirable, and so exact an imitation of gold as to defy detection. The movement is manufactured by the well known St. Jimer Watch Company of Europe, and are superbly finished, having engraved pallets, fancy carved bridges, adjusting regulator, gold jewelled and the improved jewelled action with fine dial and silver hands, and is warranted a good time keeper.
These Watches are of three different sizes, the smallest being for Ladies, and are all Hunting Cases. A case of six will be sent by Mail or Express for $125 00. A single one sent in an elegant Morocco Case for $25 00; will readily sell for three times their cost. Portsmouth, N. H.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 11, 1865.

☞ We are indebted to Sergt. Maj. B. Stowe Laskey, 10th N. H., for a copy of the Richmond Whig of April 5th, which in giving more particulars of the Union troops taking possession of that city, says, "Capt. Kelley, 10th N. H., was in command of the skirmish line of the 2d brigade, (commanded by Col. Donohoe,) which was the first organized body of troops to enter the city. Capt. Kelley advanced his line of skirmishers through several of the streets of the city and halted in front of Jeff. Davis' mansion, and divided his command into squads and patroled the city until relieved by the arrival of other troops."

The Whig says "the visit of President Lincoln was the event of the day. He was accompanied by Adm. Porter, with an escort of army and navy officers, and was enthusiastically cheered by the populace and Federal soldiers all the way up the street. The President was on foot and walked rapidly, towering above the crowd, flanked on his right by Adm. Porter, on his left by his son Thaddeus. His black dress gave to his form a very commanding appearance. The President and escort moved up to the mansion of Jeff. Davis, late President of the Confederate States, and now the headquarters of Gen. Weitzel. The crowd surrounded the mansion, and sent up cheer after cheer as the President entered the doorway and seated himself in the reception room and reception chair of Davis. Three cheers for Adm. Porter were then proposed and given with a hearty good will.

GOLD in New York Monday night, 145; Tuesday morning, 146; noon, 147.

— The rebel Gen. Ewell after his capture said Gen. Lee long since wanted to take his troops westward and then disband them—but Davis would not consent.

— It is feared Sec. Seward's injuries have assumed a serious character. If the danger of erysipelas is passed, medical men fear that owing to his inability to take solid food, he cannot repair the waste of his vitality in time to meet the heats of the coming warm weather.

— A Washington dispatch says Judge Campbell and Mr. Hunter are soon expected in Washington, in connection with the business of restoration. Sec. Seward's condition is such as to make it necessary that the conferences on the subject should be held there.

— Large quantities of cotton and rice are said to be hidden on South Carolina plantations.

— We learn from Charleston, S. C., that bands of rebel guerrillas are hovering about Georgetown and Somerville, S. C. They number about 500. On the 5th, they made a dash into Somerville, captured a few negroes, and threatened to shoot all whites who had taken the oath. A U. S. force has been sent out from Charleston to clean them out.

— The N. Y. World's Washington dispatch says it was reported Monday night that Johnston had surrendered on the same terms granted to Lee.

— The N. Y. Herald's dispatch says there is the best authority for the statement that Kirby Smith and the rebel trans-Mississippi army are ready to surrender, and that the State of Texas is ready to come back.

— The burnt steamer Gen. Lyon had 103 women and 30 children on board, a number of whom were burned in the cabin. The whole number, including officers and crew, was 572, and of these only 99, so far as is known, have been saved.

—It has been ascertained, since Charleston was evacuated, that the rebels lost two of their own vessels—the Kanawan and the Marion—by the accidental explosion of their own torpedoes during the time of the blockade.

— It is supposed an extra session of Congress will be called by the first of June.

— Lee surrendered an army of about 25,000 men.

— The President has issued a proclamation closing all the Southern ports to trade, for the present.

— At Toronto, Canada, the raiders were brought before the Court and all discharged, excepting Young, who was committed for trial.

— Secretary Stanton expresses his belief that there will be no more heavy fighting. It is expected that Johnston will surrender. Special dispatches were sent to General Sherman on Sunday. There is reason to believe that Jeff Davis was at Danville on Saturday night, trying to join Johnston with the archives of the rebel Government and a large amount of specie.

— At Richmond, it appears by Admiral Porter's report, the rebels destroyed 6 of their war ships. Two which were unhurt, the Beauregard and Texas, have been put into our service. The Tredegar works and Naval Ordnance depot remain untouched.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Maj. Brown was buried at Fisherville, Concord, on Sunday, without military or masonic honors: but his friends filled the Baptist Church where the services were performed.

—— The Manchester Union learns by letter that the 10th Reg't N. H. Volunteers, commanded by Col. M. T. Donahoe, were the first to enter Richmond.

—— A well-known Copperhead of Sunapee said he hoped he should never live to see Richmond captured. He died Tuesday, 4th inst.—Mirror.

—— Rev. Noah Hooper, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Exeter, was visited by his parishioners on the evening of the 5th inst., and presented with the sum of $125. This was in addition to recent donations from individuals of $85 in money. They also left other valuable tokens of regard for himself and family, all of which are gratefully acknowledged.

REBEL ARMIES DESTROYED.—A year ago the rebel army of the Southwest numbered 70,000 men. Before the close of 1864, it was reinforced by 10,000. The battles with Sherman, and the final defeat and rout of this army by Thomas, at Nashville, destroyed it as an effective organization. Sheridan, in the Shenandoah Valley, kept on defeating and routing Early's force of 30,000 men which invaded Maryland last summer, until not even a corporal's guard was left to protect its fugitive general. To these two instances is added another still more glorious, by the surrender of the Army of Northern Virginia to the victorious Army of the Potomac.

— The Portland Press says that on Monday morning, when it was pretty evident that no more soldiers would be sent into active service, there was a great rush at the City Recruiting office, and fifteen men were enlisted in a very short time. But meanwhile a special meeting of the Council was held, and an order was passed repealing the order providing for the payment of bounties, to take effect at 12 o'clock at noon. This put an end to the enlistment business at once.

— A Washington dispatch says John C. Breckinridge was known to be with Lee on Friday, and hopes are entertained that he has been captured. Pollard, who took advantage of the escape of Richardson, has been arrested in Richmond and committed to Castle Thunder for treasonable language.

— The N. Y. Commercial says there has been an exodus of gold speculators during the last fortnight, and it would not be surprising to find gold confined to the regular broker's board soon.

— At Harwich, Mass., on Saturday evening last, Joshua B. Robbins and James Baker were killed by the premature discharge of a cannon, which they were loading in a careless and unskilful manner.

— Wall street singing the long metre doxology is a sign that gold will reach the "Old Hundred" in short metre. So says an exchange.

— Peace movements are in progress. The N. Y. Commercial's special Washington dispatch says orders are to be sent to our Generals everywhere, to open communication with the commanders of the rebels in their front, and offer the same terms which were accepted by Gen. Lee. No difficulty is anticipated except in Texas.

— A dispatch received at Cairo, April 10, announces the complete rout of Forrest's army near Tuscaloosa, Alabama, by Wilson's cavalry force. Many prisoners were taken. No dates or further particulars given. Buford with a small force is reported near Corinth.

— Boston paper of Tuesday says It is rather a novel spectacle to see a procession of the solid merchants of Boston, moving up State street, and cracking the welkin with the song of "John Brown" and its sonorous chorus. But it was witnessed today and nobody seemed to think there was anything wrong about it. Of course every face beamed with joy, with a few exceptions—very few—of those who see no glory in the vindication of the flag and the honor of our common country.

— "Now let the people plant corn," do their work willingly, pay their taxes, read their own papers, go to meeting on Fast day and Sunday—and cultivate the arts of Peace generally.

— Charleston, sure enough, is being sown with salt—the "salt of the earth"—salt that has not lost its savor. Yankee school teachers are as thikc as blackberries, and already fifteen hundred children have been gathered into the schools of the city.

We do not know but those rigid Union men who hesitate to admit to their party, copperhead sinners of recent conversion, are too strict and uncharitable, but they have a notable precedent for declining to open their doors to these new converts, and seem disposed to adopt it. It was in Bangor, we think, that a hardened offender and great scalawag, in a moment of alarmed contrition, applied for admission to the Methodist communion, but he was informed by the excellent gentleman to whom he made known his wishes that "the Church was full."—Portland Press.

OUR BOYS ARE COMING HOME.

Thank God, the sky is clearing!
The clouds are hurrying past!
Thank God, the day is nearing!
The dawn is coming fast.
And when glad herald voices
Shall tell us peace has come,
This thought shall most rejoice us:
"Our boys are coming home!"

Soon shall the voice of singing
Drown war's tremendous din;
Soon shall the joy bells' ringing
Bring peace and freedom in.
The jubilee bonfires burning,
Shall soon light up the dome,
And soon, to soothe our yearning,
Our boys are coming home.

The vacant fireside places
Have waited for them long;
The love-light inks their faces
The chorus waits their song;
A shadowy fear has haunted,
The long-deserted room;
But now our prayers are granted,
Our boys are coming home!

O mother, calmly waiting
For that beloved son!
O sister, proudly dating
The victories he has won!
O maiden, softly humming
The love-song while you roam—
Joy, joy, the boys are coming—
Our boys are coming home!

And yet—oh, keenest sorrow!
They're coming, but not all;
Full many a dark to-morrow
Shall wear its sable pall
For thousands who are sleeping
Beneath the empurpled loam;
Woe! woe! for those we'er weeping,
Who never will come home!

O sad heart, hush thy grieving;
Wait but a little while!
With hoping and believing
Thy woe and fear beguile.
Wait for the joyous meeting
Beyond the starry dome,
For there our boys are waiting
To bid us welcome home.

LOCAL ITEMS.

☞ The Alms House will be open from 2 to 5 o'clock on Fast Day, for any who choose to visit it.

☞ We are pleased to announce that arrangements have been made to have most of the members of Laurence's Orchestra, under the direction of J. W. Collins, former leader of the Cornet Band at Savannah, Ga., assist in the Grand Double Concert on Fast Day. Lovers of music will enjoy a rich treat in listening to duetts, &c., by Messrs. Tompson and Collins, on cornets.

☞ A day after the Fair—the article on our fourth page, respecting the late States and Union. However, it's nothing more than fair.

☞ "Time makes all things even"—at least, so the Stars and Bars man has always said. Well, he has defended every row and riot we have had, ever since he has been here—the draft riot, the assault on negroes, and the Greenland ballot-box smashers. Now the plague of rowdyism and riotous outlawry has come home to him; and does he like it, and think it "even"?

☞ The March Pay Roll of the workmen employed on the Portsmouth Navy Yard foots up $172,263.00; to be distributed among 2876 men.—This force will probably soon be diminished to a considerable extent, in view of the speedy close of the rebellion.

☞ The London Spectator, referring to President Lincoln's inaugural address, says:

No statesman ever uttered words stamped at once with the seal of so deep a wisdom and so true a simplicity. The "village attorney," of whom Sir G. C. Lewis and many other wise men wrote with so much scorn in 1861, seems destined to be one of those "foolish things of the world" which are destined to confound the wise, one of those weak things which shall "confound the things which are mighty."

NEW INVENTIONS.—New inventions are too often received with doubt as to their good qualities or ability to do the thing stated. Some doubts, says an exchange, "crossed the minds of sagacious old fogies eighty years ago when Ben. Franklin startled them out of their knee buckles by expressing a belief that the day would come when a machine would be constructed capable of spinning three, and perhaps four threads at a time! What if B. F. and his astounded hearers could take an inside view of a cotton factory of 1865? Who believed twenty years ago, that a machine could ever be made to sew? Fifteen years ago a sewing machine was a curiosity; today, it is a necessity in every family. Without the aid of these whirring busy bodies our suddenly raised armies in 1861, would have had to wait many months before they could have been suitably clothed. They were invented just in time to do the nation good service."

— A returned soldier, the proprietor of a blacksmith shop, in Simsbury, Connecticut, was recently called upon by a copperhead with a job. In the course of conversation the copperhead remarked that the soldier was a d——d fool for going to war. The next moment the copperhead was sprawling on the ground outside the shop, and the piece of work he had brought was flying after him.

— The Portland Press tells a long parsnip story, in a few words, viz.—Mr. Thos. Brown of Falmouth yesterday exhibited in our office a dozen or more parsnips raised on his farm in that town, each one being more than three feet in length.

Local.

☞ We are requested by a man who says he was there,—to correct our statement that the rioters who sacked the States and Union office were mostly drunk, as he says they were not. Well, they ought to have been, then, before committing such an outrage on the public, and crime against the community. Sober and sane men should not smash ballot-boxes nor printing offices. We are also told that Foster did not wave the flag from his window at all—only reluctantly took hold of it after somebody else had held it forth. No matter—that don't alter the case a bit.

We would not be understood as pitying, defending or excusing the parties who published the paper, a bit—they have courted their fate and richly deserve it: but we cannot, will not allow any breach of law and order to pass without our condemnation. We think the Provost Marshal ought to have closed the concern long ago—tho' of course nobody cared enough about the thing to do it. But when the pinch came, in Greenland and here, it were a pity indeed there was not somebody in authority who could squelch the rioters in both cases, as was done with our draft riot here a couple of years ago. Oh for a little pluck.

☞ We were pleased at receiving a call from Father Kemp, on Tuesday. He informed us, among other things, that he had given upwards of six thousand (6,000) Concerts, and has sung Albert Laighton's Auld Lang Syne (for which he expresses the highest admiration,) at nearly all of them. The Concert by his Choir this (Wednesday) evening, will be a splendid entertainment; and besides the choruses and Choir music, they give some beautiful quartets, solo singing, &c., and Miss Nichols is pronounced by all who have heard her, to be one of the finest ballad singers in the world. We be speak for them the full house to-night, which they are accustomed to everywhere, and which they so richly merit. This is their last Concert for the season, and Father Kemp said he would have sung elsewhere, had he in season known of our Portsmouth Concert for to-morrow night; but we told him we were glad of a chance to hear him, and invited him to stay, and hear us. Among Mr. Kemp's troupe is Mr. Charles Perry, of this city, the fine tenor.

Another chance: We are glad to announce also, that Father Kemp's Choir will favor the Children with an Afternoon Concert at the Temple, this day (Wednesday) at 3 o'clock. The tickets are only 10 cents, and every child in town ought to go, to hear the splendid music, and see the costumes our fathers and mothers wore: Washington, Hancock, Adams, and other celebrities. Tickets for adults 25 cents.

JOHN MCGRAW, a leather-worker in the ordnance department at the Navy Yard while assisting in firing salutes on Market Square, Monday eve, had both of his hands blown off, the gun being touched off while he had hold of the ramrod in the gun. The left arm was amputated at the wrist, and the right two thirds of the way from the wrist to the elbow, by Drs. Folsom, Goodwin, and Smart. The man is doing well. He has a wife and several small children.

☞ An earnest effort is being made by the Navy Yard friends of John McGraw, (the unfortunate individual who was so badly wounded on Monday evening,) to raise a liberal sum of money from the Yard employees, for the benefit of his family, who are thus suddenly deprived of his support. If the workmen respond to this worthy appeal with their accustomed liberality, a goodly amount can thus be secured.

☞ Mr. Jos. H. Foster has long been Agent for the Smith's Brentwood Nurseries—the "odor" of which as a business establishment, is as good as will be the fragrance of the beautiful specimen rosebush he kindly sends us to-day, when the buds open. Mr. Smith takes great care and pains in the putting up of Flower Seeds, and has also for sale a choice assortment of pear trees, vines and plants, as well greenhouse and bedding flowering plants. He is a practical cultivator, and in his statements purchasers may repose confidence, as in those of Mr. Foster his agent.

☞ Public Religious Services will be held at the Middle Street Church on Thursday (Fast Day) A. M. Sermon by the Pastor, Rev. Henry F. Lane. Subject—"The condition of National Success and of permanent peace."

DRY MEASURES.

Did the infallible Pontiff at Rome
Make a blunder,
I wonder,
In flattering Davis's hope's?
Or was it a "slip of the tongue" (Lapsus Lingue);
Oh, no! 'twas a bull of the Popes."

— The jewel-worded ransom of a race:
"Here's the dear old Flag, boys; and it never touched the ground."

— The "States and Union's" last issue—through the windows.

— Characteristic—the States and Union lies in ruins. YARD STICK.

☞ The Continental Harmonists of Portsmouth and vicinity offer on Fast Day (Thursday) one of their popular concerts, which has long been in preparation, and lately rehearsed in all its departments with great care; and we believe the lovers of music will enjoy the old tunes, properly brought out with their due "light and shade." Besides the old soul-stirring fugues and sublime chorals of the early American authors, are some of the most pleasing and popular Anthems of modern composers, as also choruses from the great masters. The choruses will be rendered with fine effect by the powerful mass of voices and instrumentation, unsurpassed by any former concert. The majority of pieces in the programme have great variety of solos, duetts, trios, semi and full chorus, which cannot but constantly interest, and please all tastes. It merits, and we predict will be a great success. HEARER.

A TRUE AIM—It has not been the aim of the proprietor of Hunnewell's great preparations, advertised on our inside columns, to base a false reputation by long and unmeaning advertising, but a real one by true results, to which all who try them will cheerfully assent. See advertisement.

The venerable Mrs. Partington once asked us if we believed that everything was foreordained before hand in advance. We were compelled to answer that sometimes we did and sometimes we didn't. She remarked that her son Isaac says he knows one thing was foreordained sure, and that is, that the J. Monroe Taylor Gold Medal Soap will supersede and run out every other kind of soap made. The old lady further remarked, that she believed so too, and was sure that there was no other so good, for she had tried it. 126

U. S. 7-30 LOAN.

By authority of the Secretary of the Treasury, the undersigned has assumed the General Subscription Agency for the sale of the Government Treasury Notes, bearing seven and three-tenths per cent. interest, per annum, known as the Seven-Thirty Loan.

These Notes are issued under date of June 15th, 1865, and are payable three years from that time, in currency, or are convertible at the option of the holder into

U. S. 5-20 Six per cent.
GOLD-BEARING BONDS.

These bonds are now worth a premium which increases the actual profit on the 7-30 loan, and its exemption from State and municipal taxation adds from one to three per cent. more, according to the rate levied on other property. The interest is payable semi-annually by coupons attached to each note, which may be cut off and sold to any bank or banker.

The interest amounts to

One cent per day on a $50 note.
Two cents " " " " $100
Ten " " " " " $500
20 " " " " " $1000
$1 " " " " $5000

Notes of all the denominations named will be promptly furnished upon receipt of subscriptions, and the Notes will be forwarded at once. This is

THE ONLY LOAN in the Market

now offered by the Government, and it is confidently expected that its superior advantages will make it the Great Popular Loan of the People.

Less than $300,000,000 of the Loan authorized by the last Congress are now on the market.—This amount at the rate at which it is being absorbed, will all be subscribed for within four months, when the notes will undoubtedly command a premium, as has uniformly been the case on closing the subscriptions to other Loans.

In order that citizens of every town and section of the country may be afforded facilities for taking the loan, the National Banks, State Banks, and Private Bankers throughout the country have generally agreed to receive subscriptions at par. Subscribers will select their own agents, in whom they have confidence, and who only are to be responsible for the delivery of the notes for which they receive orders.

PETROLEUM OIL AGENCY.

The California Petroleum Company.

In the Summer of 1864, Professor B. Silliman, Jr., examined this locality, now owned by the CALIFORNIA PETROLEUM CO., the purchase of which he strongly recommended to his friends in New York.

The property covers an area of 18,000 acres in one body, on which are at present at least twenty Natural Wells, some of them the largest size. Artesian Wells can be put down to depths of 1000 feet. The Ranch is an old Spanish Grant of four leagues, and perfect title.

WELLS, FARGO & CO. say that "those who wish to invest in this class of security need not hesitate a moment where to place their money;—here is a good, honest, reliable concern—one which in our judgment will pay."

Shares $40. Par Value $100.

Rensselaer Petroleum Comp'y.

The property consists of 100 acres, in fee simple, on Two Mile Run, near Oil City—a double lease of the Clapp Farm above Oil City, and four acres to fee simple on Pithole Creek, in the heart of the Oil Regions.

Capital $300,000. Shares $3. Par Value $6.

Sheffield Petroleum Company.

This property consists of 225 acres on the Tionesta Creek—seventy-five acres in the same vicinity. This property is cut through the ten mile run, a branch of the Tionesta, and the Sudbury & Erie Railroad. This property is considered of great value in the market.

Capital $600,000. Shares $1. Par Value $2.

Everett Oil Company,
OF BOSTON.

The property of this Company consists of 200 acres of land owned in fee simple, and two leases as follows: The land is located on Oil Creek, near Centreville Depot. The Oil Creek Railroad passes through this land. It has a river front of over one quarter of a mile. It is rich in oil.

Capital $300,000. Subscription price $5.

President Petroleum Company.

A few Shares of this valuable Stock can be had if applied for soon, at the original subscription of $5 per Share. It contains 5,400 acres, very valuable in Oil, Coal and Timber.

New York and Newark
PETROLEUM CO.

The property of this Company consists of five parcels of land situated in the very centre of the Celebrated Oil District of Pennsylvania (Venango County), and lay in the immediate vicinity of Oil City, the nearest being two miles and the farthest five; and within one-quarter of a mile of Allegheny River, one piece being on that river.—The Company have a twenty years' lease for one half the Oil.

It is the interest of the Trustees to invest every dollar in sinking Wells and obtaining Oil, and not speculating in stock. HAMILTON E. TOWLE is Engineer and Superintendent of this company.

Capital $600,000. Shares $1.

All the above Stock for sale at the AGENCY, No. 47 Congress Street, Portsmouth; where Maps, Drawings and Pamphlets are ready for distribution.

I am fully persuaded that all the above Companies are good, well managed, and must pay good dividends, and are the best investments now in the market.

Call and examine for yourselves.

JOHN S. HARVEY, AGENT.
Portsmouth, March 15, 1865.

Cleanse the Blood.

With corrupt, disordered or vitiated Blood, you are sick all over. It may burst out in Pimples, or Sores, or in some active disease, or it may merely keep you listless, depressed and good for nothing. But you cannot have good health while your blood is impure. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA purges out these impurities and stimulates the organs of life into vigorous action, restoring the health and expelling disease. Hence it rapidly cures a variety of complaints which are caused by impurity of the blood, such as Scrofula, or King's Evil, Tumors, Ulcers, Sores, Eruptions, Pimples, Blotches, Boils, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter or Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ring Worm, Cancer or Cancerous Tumors, Sore Eyes, Female Diseases, such as Retention, Irregularity, Suppression, Whites, Sterility, also Syphilis or Venereal Diseases, Liver Complaints, and Heart Diseases. Try AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, and see for yourself the surprising activity with which it cleanses the blood and cures these disorders.

During late years the public have been misled by large bottles, pretending to give a quart of Extract of Sarsaparilla, for one dollar. Most of these have been frauds upon the sick, for they not only contain little, if any, Sarsaparilla, but often no curative properties whatever. Hence, bitter disappointment has followed the use of the various extracts of Sarsaparilla, which flood the market, until the name Hood has become synonymous with imposition and cheat. Still we call this compound "Sarsaparilla," and intend to supply such a remedy as we believe the name from the load of obloquy which it rests upon it. We think we have ground for believing it has virtue which no other preparation of Sarsaparilla or of the diseases it is intended to cure. We can only assure the sick, that we offer them the best alterative which we know how to produce, and we have reason to believe, it is by far the most effectual purifier of the blood yet discovered by any body.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL is universally known to surpass every other remedy for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease, that it is useless here to recount the evidence of its virtues. The world knows them.

Prepared by J. C. AYER & Co., Lowell, Mass. and sold by Brackett Hutchings, Thacher, W. R. Preston, David Kimball, and all druggists. ditaw1y m25

Morning Chronicle.

Local.

☞ The Stars and Bars man didn't like it, that a Union Republican City Council should (we think very properly) declined longer to foster that copperhead print, by paying the city's money to advertise therein. It is a matter which we care nothing about, as our columns are running over with advertisements which pay perhaps double as much as almost any local business; but we don't see wh yve haven't as good cause to complain, in that our Weekly never received a cent of City pay for advertising. As to the policy of the matter, there are probably few if any people in the city limits, who fail to see either the Chronicle or Journal.

The poor fellow also has his growl over the City Printing—which really never paid profit enough to anybody to be worth much of a growl. He also mistakes, when he says the job has heretofore been given to the lowest bidder, for we believe it was never disposed of in that way—certainly it never could be to us thus, for we would not knowingly take a job lower than a fair price given by another office, if we never should get another without; and our general practice has always been to decline to bid for any work whatever. But the long usage in regard to the City Accounts has been, for the various proprietors of offices to meet and decide on a fair price for the work, and then draw lots for the job.

Last year, however, the Journal declined to gamble for it, (for reasons known to the printer only, and which concerned nobody else that we are aware of;) and after some discussion of the matter by the Aldermen's Printing Com., the job was given to the Journal—the proprietor of the Chronicle, as usual, declining to "cut under" the price agreed on, a single cent, to attempt to get the work. And so, we are told, the Committee then agreed among themselves to give it to the Journal last year and to us this year.

As to its being done cheaper, which the Stars and Bars says might have been—perhaps it could be, if the printer should st— "borrow" the Ink to do it with, and get his other stock in the same way.

P. S.—We were going to add to the above (which was written several days ago, and was in type before the sacking occurred) that we would suggest that the Committee might give it to him next year; but for the fact that his occupation of bolstering up the rebels being gone, it was probable that he and his delectable paper would soon be gone too. The riotous destruction of his office, on Monday, renders that suggestion effete, and in fact causes the whole article to seem rather out of place perhaps; and we would not give it place at all—thus kicking a dead dog—had the fellow ever shown the least appreciation of what constitutes a printer, an editor or a gentleman. As it is, we prefer to be right on the record.

About the middle of March, the N. Y. Tribune published a letter from Washington, professing to give the questions of Messrs. Hunter, Hall, Graham, Walker, and Orr—members of the Rebel Congress, addressed to Gen. Lee, and his answers. In these answers Lee said: "It would be a bad movement to evacuate Richmond, because the Virginia troops would not go to North Carolina;" that the Rebels "had not enough troops for the next campaign, and could not last till Midsummer;" that the Rebel army was "almost unanimous for peace;" that the cause of the Rebellion could not be saved, and that no human power could save it. This expose of the Tribune went to Richmond, and has never been denied. It was too important to be overlooked, and we are now, as we were before, disposed to believe it was authentic. The construction placed upon it by the Tribune itself, the National Intelligencer, and the Washington Chronicle, was clearly the correct construction.—Philadelphia Press.

It is not enough that you are praised by the good; you have failed somewhere in your duty if you are not cursed by the bad.

Grim, suffering with the colic, said his stomach would make a most brilliant illumination if it had a candle in every pain.

If you would find a great many faults, be on the lookout. If you would find them in still greater abundance, be on the look in.

MANCHESTER, N. H.,

Where Subscription Books are now open and all information may be obtained.

The New Hampshire Petroleum Co. is organized with great care, under the management of some of the ablest financiers and most successful business men in the State, whose integrity is above reproach, and who cannot be led by extravagant speculations that have not to their minds a golden foundation. Their lands have been selected with great caution. Mr. N. R. Bates, of Titusville, who has been very successful the past year in selecting Oil Lands and boring wells, was known to one of the gentlemen prominent in starting this company as a man strictly honest, sagacious, and experienced in the Petroleum region, and was solicited to aid in selecting the proper farms. He did so. Col. B. F. Martin, Wm. P. Newell, Esq., and John B. Clarke, Editor of the Mirror of Manchester, N. H. Fogg, Esq., of the firm of Fogg, Houghton & Coolidge, 64 Pearl St., Boston, and Daniel E. Lancaster, 419 Broadway, New York, were appointed a committee to visit the farms spoken of. Early in February they looked over the lands selected by Mr. Bates, and became convinced that they were among the very best that could be had. The great Oil Basin seems to be situated between Oil Creek, East Oil Creek, and Allegheny river, and not twenty miles from one point to the other, and the Four Farms of the Company are within the Basin and on the same Oil Belt of the great flowing and pumping wells that have yielded the past year to the State of Pennsylvania, as Governor Curtin, in his Message, fifty millions of dollars. The last of March, B. W. Harris, Esq., a well-known lawyer of Boston and late District Attorney, P. H. Burns, Esq., a shrewd business man of Dover, N. H., and F. A. Wilcox, Esq., a lawyer of 76 Wall Street, New York, were sent out to see to the validity of titles, and to make examinations. They came to the same conclusions the others had, and the Four Farms were bought, which are thus described:

THE MATTISON FARM.

This Farm contains 54 acres and is near the confluence of Pithole Creek and East Oil Creek.—The lay of the land is beautiful for Oil; high lands on each side, Cherry Creek running directly through, and a rich underlayer Coal vein on one side. Every inch of the land is valuable for Coal or boring wells, and there is no waste to it.

The oil bells run from east to west, or from north east to south west, and are from one to three miles wide. The Mattison Farm is two and a half miles in a direct line east of the great Oil Bells south of Titusville, from which immeasurable fortunes have flowed. Here the Steele & Mead well flowed 1000 barrels per day—the Fountain Rock—the Parker's scores of wells are now being worked that yield from 10 to 60 barrels daily. Nine out of every ten wells bored on this flat are success. A ten barrel well will sell for forty thousand dollars, and a sixty barrel well sell for half a million.

It is believed by good judges that every rod of the seventy-five acres of the Mattison Farm, all that is not good for coal, is equal to the Flat below Titusville. Coal in that section is worth $12 per ton, and if the vein of coal should work well it would be a fortune in itself. It is splendid coal, burning freely as Cannel.

The average price of oil per barrel the last year was $10 at the wells, they now furnish half the barrels. It costs a little less than $6000 to sink a well to the depth of 700 feet, and few go lower than that. It costs little more to work it after it yields oil. G. P. Ball, of the Cherry Creek Farm Petroleum Company, says of this Farm Section:

"I consider all the lands located there, as being richer in Oil, and presenting geological features of a more full and perfect character than any other that have come under my eye. I have spent much time during the last few months in examining and selecting Oil Territory in Venango, Crawford, and Warren Counties, in all of which I have made considerable investments.—Professors MAYNARD and CHEPMEND, Geologists of eminence, each of them agree in regarding the lands generally throughout the valleys of East Oil Creek. If this Farm comes up to the expectations of Prof. Shepherd of Yale College, of Mr. Ball, of Mr. Bates, it will have pumping wells and flowing wells. The flowing wells would sell for large sums of money, and the pumping wells, if as good as those south of Titusville, would be of incalculable value. There is abundant room for each one to 12 wells, and on this farm for over 900 wells. Just make computation of the cost of so many wells, and the expectations of Prof. Shepherd of Yale College, if they are as good, as they are expected, if they only yield the minimum average of the wells on that Oil Belt, and your income from this farm may be over one million of dollars. This Company do not expect any such results, but merely state facts, and let each one make his own figuring and reach his own conclusions.

THE PARKER FARM

Contains 100 acres, is heavily timbered, situated near the road to Enterprise, not far from East Oil Creek, and between Cherry Creek and where the Caldwell Creek empties into Oil Creek. They have lately sunk a well, right opposite this farm and struck oil. A single good well on this large farm would enable the Company to sell or lease the lands for great sums. The remarks about the location of the Mattison Farm, apply equally well to this.

THE BYLES FARM,

On Pit Hole Creek, contains 106 acres. Its about three miles west of Oil Creek, directly east of the Coquet Well that flows 100 barrels daily; the Jersey that flows 500, the Maple Shade and other noted flowing wells, and pumping wells without limit. This Farm is on the same Oil Belt and on the right range. There is great excitement on Pit Hole. The Fraser well is on Pit Hole, and is now about the middle of January, and with the sucker rod in, and its pipe seven-eights full of machinery, it has flowed 250 barrels per day since.—They have not dared to pull out the sucker rod yet, fearing they had not sufficient tanks to hold the oil. The tanks they have now will hold 2,200 barrels. Below this well, on Cherry Creek, another fine well has been struck, and above it is a spouting well, which, when bored low enough, will yield abundantly; a little farther north the same company, the United States, is putting down a well that looks already better than the Fraser well, and great expectations rest upon it. In sight of the spouting wells, and between the Fraser and the one which has raised to high hopes, is the Byles Farm, all low land, and every rod fit for a well. It is splendidly located. It abounds in sand rocks and oil indications. Notes thinks very highly of it, and has no doubt but we shall find on it flowing wells superior to any yet struck in that section. A single flowing well struck would enable us to sell the farm in small lots for ten millions of dollars. Land on high bluffs some ways removed from the Coquet well, leases for fifty years at the rate of $50,000 for strips twelve rods by sixteen, each down.

THE DAWSON FARM,

On WEST PIT HOLE, contains 25 acres, and is in the same wonderful oil region. It has oil springs on and around it, and many wells are now being bored near it with excellent show for oil. Mr. Bates is now sinking one close to it. In a letter dated March 25, 1865, he says: "My well is showing as fine as it progresses, both in gas and oil, as any well has ever shown at the same depth on Oil Creek; gas at 90 feet; a good show of oil at 112 feet; at 140 feet gas is rising and roaring loudly.

Within rifle shot of this farm, sixteen years ago a well was bored to a depth of 70 feet for water, and oil came in and spoiled it. We have no doubt that rich oil wells will be sunk on this Farm, and there is land enough, if they are rich, to make the Farm a fortune.

The property of this Company is located on "Coal Run Creek," Meigs County, State of Ohio, about 10 miles from Athens, containing one hundred and five acres of land. A large number of wells are successfully worked in the vicinity, some of which are paying handsome dividends.—This Company propose to commence operations at once, and entertain no doubt that at an early day they will be able to pay a handsome percentage on the investment. The known ability and commercial standing of the officers of this Company afford a sufficient guaranty that the affairs will be conducted in a manner to secure the confidence of those who are disposed to invest in it.

The tract of land adjoining the property of this Company has passed into the hands of capitalists, who have sent out an experienced superintendent to commence operations at once, and their first order for machinery was $15,000. Our property has been examined under instructions from Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, who pronounce the coal, which is in abundance, to be of the best quality, yielding 80 gallons of oil to the ton, and has no doubt, from the location and position of the property, that it will be found valuable in the production of oil. Most companies have to pay very high prices for their coal, all of which we save; oil can be manufactured from the coal upon the property, at a cost not exceeding ten cents per gallon, and it is proposed to commence the manufacture in connection with the sinking of wells. One dollar will buy a share of this stock, which is the par value, and all benefits derived from the lands, either by sales of oil, land or products of any kind, are to be divided among the stockholders, and in addition $200,000 worth of valuable, useful and desirable property will be given to the stockholders, as soon as all the shares are disposed. The Company adopt this course for the purpose of disposing of their stock at the par value, rather than to sell it, as many companies do, at a subscription price, which is usually one-half. Thus, it will be perceived that every stockholder owning ten shares, for example, will be sure to realize a handsome dividend when the property is divided; a plan which is entirely honorable, and in all respects perfectly legal.

The property to be distributed among the stockholders will be equal to any in the market, and will consist of the following described articles:

$5000 to purchase a HOUSE in Boston or vicinity.
$5000 in U. S. 5-20 BONDS, CERTIFICATES of $500 each.

SCOTT'S OPINION OF JACKSON.—The following extracts from the Autobiography of Gen. Scott will interest some of our readers :—

Establishing himself in Tennessee, after attaining manhood, in a region where civilization was but in the dawn, Andrew Jackson had the heroic characteristics suited to that condition. In the frequent strifes and conflicts among the settlers, his neighbors, he himself also at that period much of a bully, with a born talent for command, jumped in between the hostile parties, and at once, by words, silenced the feud, or became the partisan of one side and soon subdued the other. Elevated to the bench, though unlearned in the law, he knew well how to enforce order. A bully, in open court, knocked down an opponent. Said the judge—"Sheriff, seize that man, and place him at the bar to receive judgment for his contempt of the court."

The Sheriff soon reported—"May it please your honor, the offender is armed, and won't let me seize him." "Very well," replied the judge, "summon the posse."

After a time the sheriff again reported—"Sir, the man is on horseback, at the door; I have summoned everybody, and nobody dares to touch him." "Summon me, sir!" was the next order. The posse of one (the judge) soon wounded and unhorsed the offender, helped to take him up bodily, placed him at the bar, re-ascended the bench, and pronounced the merited sentence. This certainly was an effective way to civilize a rude, wild people—to break their necks to the necessary yoke of the law.

His Indian wars were well enough. But, at New Orleans, with fearful odds of British troops against him, he despaired not of success; poured his own great spirit into all around him; struck the advancing enemy a timely blow on the night of December twenty-third, that paralyzed him for the next sixteen days—a great gain—and then, owing in part to the stupidity of attacking strong intrenchments by daylight, won the crowning victory of the war.

In short, such was his antithetical character, that the future philosphic historian will be forced to say, "We scarcely can praise it or blame it too much;" for, without the charm of romance to distemper the mind, he took possession of a man's wife, (whom he made his own) and shot another man in a duel, leisurely and with great deliberation, after the latter had lost his fire. He invaded Spanish Florida, and took Pensacola and St. Marks, without a declaration of war by Congress, or instructions from the President, as well as without necessity; and then, at the door of the Senate, within the hearing of many of its members, threatened, on their adjournment, to cut off the ears of two principal committee men that had condemned his conduct toward a nation with whom the United States were at peace.

And prior to this period, at New Orleans flushed with the great victory of January the eighth, and knowing not for certainty, though not officially, that a treaty of peace between the United States and Great Britain had been signed at Ghent, he imprisoned a federal judge for issuing a writ of habeas corpus in favor of one of his (Jackson's) civil prisoners without the least color of the tyrant's plea—necessity. Yet this eminent man, of a double nature, was only immoral in the specified instances. In all else he was mild and temperate except when in passion—and even a professor of religion, though he entirely ignored the Christian injunction, "Let not the sun go down on your wrath."

It may well be maintained that, for his popularity with the multitude, he owed fully as much to his demerits as to his virtues and splendid services. Everywhere in the deep columns of his supporters the loud cry could be heard—"Washington is great, but Jackson is greater!" just as faithful Mussulmans shout at every turn—"God is great, and Mahomet is his prophet!" The enthusiasm in behalf of the American also partook largely of allegiance—bigoted idolatry; and it may be placed to his credit—to the bright face of his duality—that he did not profit by the circumstances, and intrench himself for life in the Presidency with remainder over to his heirs and assigns.

To which we will add what Mr. Everett said of Jackson:

Coupled with intelligence, the strongest will makes the strongest man. Gen. Jackson had more intelligence than we gave him credit for, but he was ignorant of almost everything which an American statesman ought to know. Still, by force of his indomitable will, and a fair stock of common sense, he ruled the country like a despot, in spite of Clay, Calhoun, Webster, J. Q. Adams, and others, the brightest minds in the land."
